GLADYS HARDESTY
Oakland, Maryland
vs.
LAWRENCE HARDESTY
Address Unknown
No. 5627 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to establish support payments for the minor children presently in the custody of the complainant.
The Bill recites that a Separation Agreement was entered into by the said complainant and the respondent on January 17, 1967; that custody of the four minor children was granted to the complainant; that the complainant is now unable to provide properly for the needs and maintenance of the said children on payments as made under said agreement and she seeks an increase of said payments.
It is thereupon this 3rd day of October, 1967, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ORDERED that the complainant, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 27th day of October, 1967, giving notice to the said absent respondent, Lawrence Hardesty, of the object and substance of the Bill of Complaint, and warning him to be and appear in this court, either in person or by solicitor, on or before the 27th day of November, 1967, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

A staunch Northern High School defense, aided by a hard driving rain, limited Mountaineer High to a total of seven yards rushing and gave only one first down as the Huskies waded their way to a 21-12 Tri-Valley conference victory last Friday night at Davis.

Gaining a foothold in the soft mucky turf was every player's major concern but Northern's offensive team took advantage of the opportunities handed them when the defense got control of the ball.

Dana Umbel drew first blood for the Huskies when he scored from four yards away and Wayne George ran in for the extra point.

Northern scored twice in the second period. Wayne George plunged across the Mountaineer goal line from two yards out and Larry Brenneman tore through right tackle and toted the ball for a 15-yard touchdown run.

Mountaineer got on the scoreboard in the second period also. Firl latched onto an eight-yard scoring aerial from Quarterback Robenstein, who also fired a touchdown toss to raise on the final quarter on a play which netted 60 yards.

In the third period Northern's defensive middle guard Loraine McGhee forced a fumble as Mountaineer was being contained deep in their own territory and a Mountaineer runner was tackled with the ball behind his goal line. Northern was awarded a two-point safety.

Northern's next game is on Friday at Masontown Valley, in Preston county.

U.S. placed fourth in U.N. popularity vote recently. France was in first place, followed by the Soviet Union and Great Britian.

Soldier Promoted

Carlton J. Sines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Sines, Route 1, Oakland, was promoted to Specialist Fourth Class, September 14, at Fort Ord, California, where he has been stationed since February of this year.

Sp-4 Sines, now serving as assistant company clerk to the 794th Maintenance Company, entered the Army in July, 1966, completed basic training at Fort Benning, Georgia and received advanced training in mechanics at Aberdeen Proving Grounds.

The 20-year-old soldier was graduated from Southern High School in June, 1966.

World Community Day Scheduled

The Annual World Community Day is scheduled to be held at St. John's Episcopal Church, Deer Park, on Friday, November 3, at 1:30 p. m.

The service is under the direction of the Oakland Area Council. Church Women United. Mrs. Paul Calderwood is the program chairman. Mrs. Eldon Shingleton is the public relations director.

Material Aid this year will be in two forms: (1) diapers and or receiving blankets, purchased locally and sent through Church World Service, along with 10 cents poundage money, to be used in layettes for Asian children. (2) Gift certificates for those who do not wish to sew. A gift certificate of $3.00 will allow the purchase by Church World Service of one of the following: a blanket, school kit, or a yards of fabric for Vietnam.

Local individuals and organizations are asked to bring or send these items to the World Community Day Service to be dedicated and processed.

The donations received on November 3 will be used for Christian Causeways - Direction Latin America and Training for Wives of Ministers of African Independent churches.

The public is invited.

New Jersey children "picketed" their parents for church non-attendance.

Commissioners Discuss Routine Business Matters

Several matters were brought up for discussion and action at recent weekly meetings of the Board of County Commisssioners.

At the September 18 meeting, Lewis Jones, attorney for Mrs. Leonard, made a complaint of conditions of the Sam Thomas Road. It was suggested that Mr. Thomas be contacted for discussion of the matter.

Application for the position of Fire Warden by Charles W. Clark was approved.

The Board met with Ward Barstow and Wilfred N. Shields, Jr. of the Maryland State Department of Health; Edgar A. Woods, of Allegany County Health Department; Charley B. Miller, of the Garrett County Health Department; Delegate B. O. Aiken; and Mayor C. C. Bender of Grantsville to discuss the problem of trash disposal. Allegany County is now using the land fill method near Frostburg for testing purposes. According to information available, there is no danger of contaminating of water supplies from seepage.

Because of laws now in effect or in the making, all communities will soon be forced to discontinue open burning of trash, thus this discussion of the possibilities of land fill-type of disposal.

At their September 25 meeting, the Board voted to return the right of way on the Davis-Barr Road to John O'Haver. This was done with the understanding that when the road is relocated, O'Haver will give a new right of way deed.

Dwight Stover, attorney to the Board, discussed the proposed sale of the old County Quarry property.

Woodrow Upole was awarded a contract to furnish coal for the Court House, Jail and County garage, while Edward Moreland was given a one-year contract for maintaining the four county dumps.

The name of Otis Riley was submitted for consideration for a position on the Welfare Board.

Willard Hawkins and S. R. Pagenhardt discussed the need of additional land for the Community College, and presented an option for the purchase of an additional 38.28 acres at $1,000.00 per acre from Claude W. and Daisy B. Wagner.

Books Presented

Books have been presented during the past few weeks in memory of James Spencer, Daniel A. Holland, Mrs. S. H. Jackson, David E. Bartholomew and Felix G. Robinson, at the Ruth Enlow library.

This month marks the tenth anniversary of the beginning of space exploration. A window display and a book exhibit of this theme include 'History of Rocketry and Space Travel' by Wernher Von Braun; "The Coming of the Space Age", by Arthur C. Clarke; "Americans in Space", by John Dille; "1001 Questions Answered About Space', by Clarke Newlon. These books and many others record the exciting events of this decade and offer forecasts of the future, according to Miss Edith Brock, librarian.

Amazing Stand . . .

A most amazing news article appeared in U. S. News and World Report for October 23 issue, concerning ways to reduce alcoholism. A Federal government report suggested: serve beer in college cafeterias; permit liquor advertisements to show alcohol being consumed by the whole family, including children in a family setting; urge that alcoholic beverages be made available to young persons at church gatherings supervised by adults.

Also recommended in the report was "increased emphasis on gregarious social drinking" to replace drinking in bars. The study recommended a legal drinking age of 18 throughout the country.

The most amazing statement of the entire report noted "Its findings are endorsed by the National Council of Churches".

Unless the report carried a lot of other statistics we know nothing about, the federal government and the council of churches are going off the deep end. And that's a real tragedy.

Seek Outstanding Area Youth Farmer

A program designed to bring about a better understanding of the problems and achievements of farmers in the area was announced by the Frostburg Jaycees.

This is the 12th year that the U. S. Jaycees has conducted the National O. Y. F. program and fourth year for Frostburg Jaycees. Joining as co-sponsors are Pargas, Inc., Ridgeley, and Garrett National Bank, Oakland, Southern States of Oakland, Friendsville, Accident and Grantsville.

Three of the winners in those four years have been Garrett County young farmers. The 1963-64 winner was Robert D. Buckel, Swanton Rd., who was runner-up in the State contest and 1964-65 year's local winner, Charles Mason Jr., near Oakland, was State winner and went on to the National contest in Biringham, Ala. Last year's local winner was Oren Bender.

Judging this year will be based on career progress, conservation practices and community service. Winner will be announced the latter part of November. Any farmer 21 through 35, interested in entering the O. Y. F. Contest may contact Mike Larkin, program chairman, Frostburg Jaycee, 689-8990.

Firemen Assist At Aurora Fire

Fire presumably from an overheated furnace about 2:45 this morning badly damaged the two-story frame dwelling of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Bogess, at Aurora, W. Va.

Apparently Oakland firemen were notified before the Aurora fire department, because the local company was the first on the scene, even though it was listed officially as an assist call.

The flames damaged the basement and went up to the first and second floors through a partition. Damage was estimated at $1,000 to $1,500 by Aurora firemen. Terra Alta firemen also were called.

Coal Co. Manager To Address Lions

M. M. Fitzwater, general manager of the Maust Coal and Coke company in Bayard, will address the Oakland-Mt Lake Park Lions club at its next meeting Monday evening in the Allegheny room at 6:15.

Mr. Fitzwater was previously employed by the Island Creek Coal company in Logan, W. Va., until moving to Oakland in the late fall of 1966. He and his wife reside in the former Lowell Loomis property on 4th street.

He will discuss changes in mining in the last decade and the effects that mining has on the local economy. A question and answer period will follow.

Lions club officers announced that the complete list of committee members for the Hallowe'en celebration would be published next week. The celebration is scheduled for Monday evening, October 30, in Oakland.

It was also announced that the club would sell fruit cakes on November 13, with proceeds going to the sight committee for helping those afflicted with partial blindness, etc. This is the 12th year for this event.

Pre-Sunrise Radio Service Is Begun

Radio station WFRB, Frostburg, was granted authority by the Federal Communication to inaugurate pre-sunrise service over the air.

This authority was granted primarily to allow the radio station to furnish school information and weather information throughout the year, starting at 6 a. m. The broadcast will be put on the air waves with a power of 500 watts, and increasing to 1,000 watts after sunrise.

Station officials said the difference would be negligible to persons within a 50 to 100 mile radius.

The authority was granted yesterday and the first broadcast was made this morning.

Jury Unable To Reach Verdict

Panel Dismissed In Rape Cases Against Three Allegony Co. Men

A Circuit Court jury was dismissed about midnight last night after deliberating over two hours in the case of three young men charged with raping a 16-year old Allegany county girl in the Mt. Savage area almost a year ago.

The jury filed in the court room about 11:30 last night and announced they could not agree but would make another attempt, but shortly before midnight appeared again to admit that the jurors were hopelessly deadlocked and were unable to reach a verdict.

The all-male jury retired to deliberate its verdict at 9:45 after hearing one hour and 45 minutes of closing argument by the opposing attorneys.

Tried yesterday were Dalton Blaine Garlock, 19, of Zihlman; and his cousins, Ronald Stephen Garlock, 19, and Robert Frank Garlock, 22, who are brothers, both of Huntingdon county, Pa.

The three counts of the indictment charged the three with rape, assault with intent to rape and assault.

Allegany County State's Attorney Donald W. Mason, his deputy, Paul J. Stakem, and Frederick A. Thayer III, state's attorney of Garrett County, who prosecuted the case, presented six witnesses. First was the girl who was only 16 years old at the time she contends she was raped on the night of October 23, 1966, near Mt. Savage.

She was taken to the Frostburg police station immediately after reporting that she was criminally assaulted and then was brought to Memorial hospital for examination and treatment.

Other state witnesses were a girl friend of the victim, Dr. Lester Kiefer pathologist at Memorial hospital; County Investi-

Ground Breaking Ceremony Held

The chilly, rainy atmosphere did little to dampen spirits at the ground breaking ceremony to improve the Crellin water system, which was held Wednesday afternoon. The ground breaking followed a ceremony at the First National Bank, marking the closing of a $11,500 loan from the Farmers Home Administration, made through the First National Bank of Oakland.

Chester J. Tyson, Jr., State Director of the Farmers Home Administration for Maryland, Delaware, and New Jersey, presented the check to Stanley DeWitt, president of the Crellin Improvement Association. In his speech, Mr. Tyson declared, "It is a real pleasure for me to participate in the closing of this loan to the people of Crellin. The occasion has special significance for several reasons; because it is the first FHA loan for a water system in Garrett County; second, it is the first FHA loan to a nonprofit association in Maryland; third, it is fulfilling a need as great as any of the loans in Maryland, Delware, and New Jersey".

The money will be used to make an addition to the Crellin pump house, to repair the water tank, to install new water lines from springs and wells, and to purchase new pumps and motors for the water system. Some 70 families will be benefited by the improvement.

James Manchin, State FHA director for West Virginia, was among those who attended the ceremonies. B. Beeson Snyder, who was recently promoted to the New Jersey office; and William H. Poffenberger, newly-appointed County Supervisor, were also in attendance.

Motel Manager Injured Monday

John Dragoo, 43, manager of the Point View Inn at Deep Creek Lake, was seriously injured Monday night when his motorcycle crashed on U. S. Route 219 just south of McHenry.

Mr. Dragoo, who sustained head injuries, was reported in guarded condition late Tuesday night. Later reports indicated he had spent a "fair' night.

Frank L. Bentz To Be F.F.B.L. Speaker

Dr. Frank L. Bentz, Jr., vice president of the University of Maryland for Agricultural Affairs, will be the speaker at the annual dinner meeting of the Farming for Better Living program, scheduled to be held in the Southern High school cafetoriuum on Thursday, October 26.

There are seventy-five farm families enrolled in the program, according to L. Bush Swisher, project manager, and most of them will be attending the dinner. Members of the Oakland Rotary club are also participating in the program, many of them with their wives and other farm friends who are not members of FFBL.

Special recognition is planned for families who have been participating in the program since its inception twenty years ago, according to Maurice Brookhart, FFBL chairman.

A native of Boonsboro, he received his B.S. degree from the University of Maryland in 1942, and the Ph.D. degree in 1952.

During WW II he served with the Army in the European theatre and was discharged in 1946 with the rank of Captain.

He worked with Agricultural extension, teaching and research in the department of agronomy. He began his administrative career in 1958 as assistant in the President's office. In 1961 he was given the responsibility for development of the building programs for the University. He was appointed to his present position in May, 1967.

Dr. Bentz has written numerous articles on agricultural extension. He is a member of the Advisory council for Higher Education Facilities Act to the Board of Public Works and is a member of a sub-committee of the Maryland advisory council for higher education. He is married and the father of three.

Represent Northern At State Chorus

Three Northern High school chorus students are presently attending the All-State Chorus Festival in Baltimore, where they will perform for the State Teachers Meeting.

This year's chosen students are all bass voices, belonging to Paul Maust, Philip Miller and Neil Gleoni. They will be directed by Dr. Gerald Mack from the Hartt College of Music, Hartford, Connecticut.

Three Excursions Bring Over 1500 to Moutain Top

A total of 1,567 persons and one bear attended this year's three Autumn Glory tours, to Oakland. Since "bears" are not allowed on buses, Smokey the Bear waited at the train station while the people were welcomed by the Southern High School Band, then loaded onto the buses for the trip to their first stop at Swallow Falls. County 4-H Clubs were on hand there to serve snacks to the tourists.

The group then trekked to Deep Creek State Park, where chorus members provided vocal entertainment.

From there, the group was split into seven parts, and taken to seven county-area restaurants for turkey dinners. This was a departure from previous years, when all people were served at Southern's cafetorium. After dinner, the groups were taken back to the train station, where Smokey bid them all farewell as they got on the train.

Another new facet to the tour other than the forester dressed as Smokey, was a Department of Forests and Parks photographer, who took pictures during the entire trip. These will be made into slides and woven into a program which will be put on file in the Annapolis library for public use.

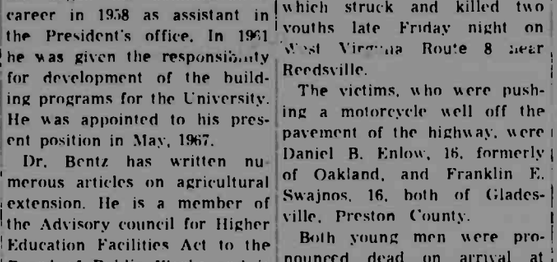
The program, a duplicate copy of which will be sent to the Deep Creek-Garrett County Promotion Council, will be used as an Autumn Glory report, and also will help promote tourism through showings at various places throughout the state.

Hit-Run Driver Kills Two Youths

West Virginia State Police and the Preston County's sheriff's deputies have been looking for the driver of a car which struck and killed two youths late Friday night on West Virginia Route 8 near Reedsville.

The victims, who were pushing a motorcycle well off the pavement of the highway, were Daniel B. Enlow, 16, formerly of Oakland, and Franklin E. Swajnos, 16, both of Gladesville, Preston County.

Both young men were pronounced dead on arrival at University Hospital, Morgantown.



Young Enlow was born June 2, 1951, in Oakland, a son of Bruce and Ellen (Frantz) Enlow. He was a member of the junior class at Newburg High School.

He was a member of the Seventh Day Adventist Church of Morgantown. Besides his parents, he is survived by four sisters, Ruth, Sarah, Elizabeth and Rebecca, all at home.

Young Swajnos was born April 23, 1950, at Clarksburg, the son of Joe and Christine (Jacobs) Swajnos. He was a senior at Newburg High.

The bodies of both youths are at the Bartlett Funeral Home in Grafton.

"Progress In Space" On Exhibit

The NASA exhibit, 'Progress in Space", has been loaned to the Garrett County Science Center and is now on exhibit at the Planetarium Center on Green St., in Oakland. It is one of NASA's prime exhibits which is designed to show U. S. progress in all areas of the space program including space sciences, launch vehicles, applications of satellities to everyday life, the manned space program and the cooperation between nations in an effort to learn more about the world in which we live. There are 36 panels depicting these areas of the space program. There are 10 models of satellites and 3 models of manned space vehicles in the exhibit. All of the models are 1 8 scale. The satellite models are perfect replicas of the actual satellites.

This exhibit has been set up at Cape Kennedy, Houston Manned Space Flight Center, NASA Space Flight Center in Greenbelt, The Smithsonian Institute, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, California Technical Institute, and the Seattle World's Fair.

Homemakers Hear Indian Speaker At Achievement Day

An International speaker from India, election of officers, and project reports were the main features of the Garrett County Homemakers Achievement Day, held Tuesday at the Western Maryland 4-H Center, near Bittinger.

Mrs. Jagadeeson Toola, who now resides in Cumberland, was the featured speaker. Her talk centered on culture and life in India.

Mrs. Reuben Fazenbaker, County Council President, presided at the morning meeting and conducted the election of a new vice president and secretary. Elected were Mrs. Jack Ferree, as vice president, and Mrs. Clayton Livengood, secretary. Mrs. Jonas Beachy, district directors, installed the new officers.

Morning devotions were given by Mrs. Bernard Merrill, New Germany Club, which was the hostess club for this year. Mrs. Ira Broadwater, president of the hostess club, brought greetings. Mrs. Andrew DeWitt accompanied group singing, which was led by Mrs. Paul Calderwood.

Remarks were given by District I Director, and Mrs. Paul Calderwood, State Citizenship and Civil Defense Chairman. The membership report for 1967 was given by Mrs. Wilson Bills.

The afternoon session was called to order by the County Vice President, Mrs. Ross Crowe. Project reports were given by chairmen: Clothing, Mrs. Carl Duckworth; Family life, Mrs. George Shawley; foods, Mrs. Everett Green; home furnishing, Mrs. Wilmer Friend; home management, Mrs. Melvin Schwing. Standing Committee Chairmen were introduced: citizenship and civil defense, Mrs. Harold White; community development, Mrs. H. G. Gortner; culture, Mrs. Harold Bittinger; safety, Mrs. Luke Bowman; international relations, Mrs. Bernard Merrill; music, Mrs. Andrew DeWitt; college

Community Center Dedication Sunday

Formal services dedicating the Jennings Community Center, four miles south of Grantsville, drew a capacity crowd Sunday afternoon, October 15. Built by the Highland Association, a benevolent, non-profit organization with headquarters at Grantsville, the new center is designed to serve all age groups, from pre-schoolers to senior citizens. The first program to get off the ground is the Full-Year Head-Start which opened on Monday, October 16 with 29 children enrolled. Other programs projected for the two-floor 34' x 54' building include classes in adult education, with emphasis on the Home Arts, handicrafts (woodworking, weaving, pottery-making, as well as a variety of recreational and community programs (films, slides, lectures, etc.)

L. L. Swartzentruber, manager of Country Rest Home, Greenwood, Delaware, presided at the dedicatory meeting. Alton Miller, president of the Highland Association, welcomed those present. Dr. Alta Schrock, executive secretary to the organization, gave a short history of work in the Jennings area which preceded construction of the center. The dedicatory address was delivered by Dr. Laban Peachey, president elect of Hesston College.

Gets Deer Early

Former State Senator Spencer W. Graham, who has hunted at various times over the past forty years and never succeeded in getting his buck, was rewarded in an unusual and expensive manner on Monday afternoon.

As he was returning to his home from Deep Creek Lake a large 8-point buck appeared "out of nowhere" and crashed into the front of Mr. Graham's Buick automobile. The buck apparently died instantly.

Mr. Graham was unhurt but the front of his auto was badly damaged. The buck was contributed to the Oakland Volunteer Fire department. Members assembled at the fire hall Monday evening and dressed the animal. It will eventually end up in the department's deep freeze and will be dispensed later at a deerburger feed.

Seminar Ends At Deep Creek Lake

Five Garrett County residents, along with representatives of almost all counties in Maryland, attended the Register of Wills Seminar which was held at Will O' the Wisp Motel last week.

Activities of the three-day Seminar began Thursday evening with a discussion of testamentary law, presided over by George Liebman, an assistant attorney general. Friday morning, George Bricker, assistant attorney general assigned to the Motor Vehicle Department, brought the group up to date on latest procedures of transfer of motor vehicles of deceased persons.

Friday afternoon, the group toured scenic areas of Tucker, Preston, and Garrett Counties, then returned to the Motel to prepare for the Seminar dinner.

Joseph Welch, Garrett County registrar, served as toast master at the dinner after which State Senator George R. Hughes, Jr. (Allegany - Garrett, R) discussed code home rule.

The seminar was adjourned Saturday at noon after a talk by William Grant, who reported on the progress made so far at the Constitutional Convention.

Others attending the seminar besides Mr. Welch were his wife; Mrs. Vernie Smouse; Alice May Cropp, deputy to Mr. Welch; and Rev. James Remley, who gave the invocation.

Library To Present Three Color Films

There will be a movie program presented at the Ruth Enlow Library, Monday evening, October 23, at 7:30 p. m.

The program will include three short color films: "Chartres Cathedral", "Dylan Thomas", and "Casals Conducts".

There will be no admission charge.

Commissioners Fail To Agree On College Site

Three Different Areas Are Mentioned At Monday Meeting

The junior college program became bogged down temporarily this week, when it was learned that the County Commissioners were divided on a site for the new facility.

It had been thought generally that the site had been definitely picked, approved by the Board of Public Works, that 32 acres of the land was under option from Gerald Glotfelty and Robert Glotfelty, in the McHenry area, that the 38 additional acres needed for approval by the Board of Public Works was available, and that preliminary work by architects had been completed.

But at a meeting Monday with the Comissioners, Board of Education and some members of the lay committee which selected the site originally, it was learned that the three commissioners had three different ideas about its location.

Hubert Friend favored the purchase of 160 acres of land known as the Yoder farm, located northeast of McHenry on the Bumble Bee road; Ross Sines favored the use of the White Face farm; and Allen S. Paugh agreed that the site ought to be where it was designated by the committee.

It was pointed out by Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools, that any change in the plans at this stage would mean a delay of another four to six months and he urged the original site be kept. Mr. Friend indicated he would not favor paying $1,000 an acre for the 38 additional acres needed to round out the acreage. The Yoder farm of 160 acres is available for $55,000, it was indicated, some 100

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

During World War 1 there was a popular song entitled "How You Gonna Keep them on the Farm After They've Seen Gay Paree?"

But the problem now is how to keep the nation's big cities from being further crowded by a constant inflow of unskilled and untrained labor from the smaller cities, towns and rural areas of the nation.

C. W. Harder

Alarmed over the increasing unrest and rioting in their bailiwicks, many big city mayors, as well as legislators whose constituents reside in the metropolises take the position that greater chunks of Federal money into the big cities will solve the problem.

Yet despite the millions that have been poured into the War on Poverty, firemen are still shot while seeking to stem fires set by arsonists, small business operations in the big cities are being looted and burned out of existence.

If it is true, and this perhaps has yet to be proved, that big city riots are due to unemployment, then the only gleam of common sense toward the problem has been advanced by Congressman Joe Evins, Tennessee, chairman of the House Small Business Committee.

His proposal is that special tax credits be given to the establishment of employment providing businesses in the rural areas, with the provision that such new establishment not replace either by location, or employment structure, any existing business operations by the same company.

There is a two-edged approach involved here. One is to encourage decentralization of the nation's business and employment and in affect, spread the available work around the country. Tied in with this is the factor of encouraging new businesses to start, thus creating more jobs. The other factor is that if work is available in the hinterlands, there would not be the constant migration to the crowded big cities in a fruitless search for job opportunities.

How far this proposal gets in Washington will be interesting to observe for it runs contrary to the long stand popular vogue, that any problem can be solved if enough billions are voted in tax money.

Congressman Evins' proposal does not call for the expenditure of one cent. Rather, in essence, it is a plan to let new enterprises get started by the device of permitting for a period of time the money that would go to taxes being used to supply jobs.

In other words, it is a plan to develop more geese to maturity to lay the golden eggs instead of letting the tax collector wring the necks of the goslings.

CAPITOL COMMENT

by

Charles "Mac" Mathias

Congressman, 6th District, Maryland

Steps Toward Reducing Crime

In recent discussions with constituents throughout the Sixth District, one of the topics which people have raised most frequently is crime. In major cities and small towns alike, citizens are apprehensive about the rising rate of crime throughout America. In Washington, too, there has been considerable debate about the causes and remedies for crime. Unfortunately, much of this debate has acquired a partisan coloration, so that challenges and charges — from all sides — have been answered by retorts and replies, while far too little actually gets done.

One of the most persistent challenges to law and order is organized crime. As I reported in a previous newsletter, organized crime poses both direct and indirect threats to our national health. It contributes to street crime, particularly to the large portion of street crimes caused by narcotics addicts desperate for money. By siphoning off billions of dollars from the slums each year through the numbers racket, loan-sharking and narcotics, organized crime undermines all of our efforts to help people escape from poverty. Finally, organized crime breeds corruption, and certainly contributes to a general disrespect for law and mistrust of public officials.

Since organized crime does not respect state lines, it must be attacked on a national basis. Last week, to back up recommendations which we made last August after long study, 22 of my House colleagues and I introduced a legislative package to strengthen the Federal fight against organized crime. This legislation includes:

1.) A resolution declaring the sense of Congress that the fight against organized crime should be centered in the Justice Department's Organized Crime and Racketeering Section, that this section should be raised to Division level, and that $100 million should be provided for a comprehensive attack on organized crime.

2.) A bill to prohibit the use of wiretapping and eavesdropping devices except by law enforcement officers under stringent controls and specific court authorization. This bill conforms to the dictates of the Supreme Court and the recommendations of the U. S. Judicial Conference.

3.) A bill creating a permanent joint Congressional committee on organized crime.

4.) A bill authorizing the Attorney General to take necessary steps to protect government witnesses in organized crime cases, and another bill to extend Federal immunity provisions in such cases.

5.) Two bills to prohibit the investment of illegally acquired and unreported income in legitimate and interstate businesses.

6.) A bill to provide for extended prison terms where a felony was committed as part of a continuing illegal business.

7.) A bill to abolish the rigid two-witness and direct evidence rules in perjury prosecutions.

Much of this package is based on recommendations of the President's Crime Commission and other groups long active in the battle against organized crime. I trust that the Congress will give prompt attention to these proposals, which should increase our ability to protect Americans against the illegal, insidious activities of organized crime.

Is Your Name CRAWFORD?

Do You Know That:

Crawford, an old and honored surname, is principally of English origin. It admits of a few derivations. According to some authorities on the origin of names, it stems from the Gaelic "cru" and "fuord", meaning respectively "bloody" and "ford, and therefore was bestowed in mediaeval times upon those who lived near the "pass or ford of blood' or in the locality where a battle took place. It is stated also that Crawford was the name applied to residents of Crayford, a town on the River Cray, England; and still again there are some who believe that the original spelling of the name was 'crodhfort' which signifies "sheltering place for cattle".

William Crawford (1732-1782) served as colonel of Virginia troops during the Revolutionary War. In 1782 he was summoned to take part in an expedition against the Indians of Ohio and was burned at the stake by them in Wyandot County, Ohio. Crawford Counties in Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and Pennsylvania are named for him.

"Crawford Family Records", published in 1914, as a genealogical account of the first American settlers and colonial families by the name of Crawford.

William H. Crawford (1772-1834) was U. S. senator from Georgia, Secretary of War in the cabinet of President Madison and Secretary of the Treasury in the cabinets of Presidents Madison and Monroe.

James Pollack Crawford (1855-1899), a descendant of Andrew Crawford who emigrated from Scotland in 1729 and settled in Norristown, Pa., was an industrialist of note who organized the Terre Haute Iron and Steel Company and was also identified with the coal mining industry of Indiana.

William Henry Crawford (1865-1944) was president, Allegheny College, Meadsville, Pa., for twenty-seven years.

Bryce Low Crawford is professor of chemistry and dean of the graduate school, University of Minnesota.

Joseph Paul Crawford, Jr., is senior vice-president, Chemical Bank New York Trust Company, New York City.

Stanton Chapman Crawford has been professor of zoology at the University of Pittsburgh for the past thirty-two years.

The GARRETT NATIONAL BANK IN OAKLAND

OAKLAND — ACCIDENT — BLOOMINGTON AND KITZMILLER

"The Bank with an Eye to YOUR Future"

The Big Test Case . . .

Is compulsory unionism unconstitutional? Does compulsory unionism in this country abridge the individual's rights? It appears that we are going to get a decision on these questions, at last.

In 1961, a case challenging the use of compulsory union dues for political purposes reached the Supreme Court. The Justices declined to review the case on constitutional grounds and remanded it to a Georgia Superior Court, which ruled that all money the plaintiffs had been compelled to pay in the form of dues, fees and assessments was to be refunded to them. Said U. S. Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black at that time: "There can be no doubt that the federally sanctioned union shop contract here, as it actually works, takes a part of the earnings of some men and turns it over to others, who spend a substanaial part of the funds so received in efforts to thwart the political, economic and ideological hopes of those whose money has been forced from them under authority of law. This injects federal compulsion into the political and ideological processes. . . ."

On September 22, in Southern California, 29 rank-and-file members of the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Worker (IAM) union charged in a suit that they had been forced to make dues payments to that union and that these dues are used to "propagate political and economic doctrines, concepts, ideologies and legislative programs" which the 29 oppose. The workers charge that they are being deprived of their civil rights guaranteed under the 1st, 5th and 9th Amendments.

How important is this test case? Well, unions collect something like $923 million in dues each year. Well-informed persons estimate that more than half of that sum goes for political purposes. That is a fabulous political war chest, amassed from compulsory dues—dues being used to get votes, and win elections for parties and candidates opposed by many dues-paying members, who are both voters and American citizens.

Reed Larson, Executive Vice President of the National Right to Work Committee, puts it this way: "Congress has passed law after law and our Courts have handed down decision after decision to protect the individual from being trampled upon by an ill-advised majority. It also guarantees the right of the worker to join a union. Isn't it about time we guaranteed the individual the right not to join a union without losing his job"?

Congress and the Court should have answered that question years ago, with a resounding "Yes" vote.—U. S. Press Association, Inc.

Credit Card Government

From the inception of credit cards as a way of life, the head of the household has faced the task of convincing the other members of the family that there is always an inevitable time of accounting when cold cash has to be paid for various purchases. This educational process has required considerable persistence, and the time element has varied from home to home. But eventually, the breadwinner had to win his point or go off a credit card basis, if he wanted to stay solvent.

On the horizon is a different picture. In this one, it is the younger members of the family that are beginning to register concern. Gradually, these youngsters are beginning to realize that they are the ones who will have to pick up the tab for the government's credit cards.

In only six of the past 37 years has there been a balanced budget, despite the highest peace-time taxes in history. In each of the other years, Uncle Sam has used his credit card—a promise to pay. Those promises, in total, were uncomfortably cramped under a national debt "ceiling" of $336 billion. Congress, charged by the Constitution with controlling the nation's purse strings, has been in an embarrassing dilemma. It has had to issue new credit cards to a delinquent debtor. Now it is debating a new "ceiling" of $365 billion. Facing a fiscal 1968 deficit next June 30 which even the President has admitted may reach $28 billion, it is questionable whether even that new level will accommodate the credit card spending.

Such a stratospheric total makes it obvious who is going to have to meet the payments of credit card government. It will be the generation of youngsters still in the classroom. And their children.

No parent reading these lines could pyramid credit card charges with the understanding that they'd be paid by his children when they reach adulthood. Still, parents have tolerated $336 billion in government credit card debt for their children to pay.

Is it really any wonder that the "younger generation" protests?

We're earning their disrespect by refusing to pay our own way. —U. S. Press Association, Inc.

Question

What does the word "carbohydrate" mean?

Answer

A carbohydrate is an organic compound which contains carbon, hydrogen and oxygen. Sugar and starch, for example, are carbohydrates. The word itself has come down to us from the Latin word "carbo" (coal) and the Greek word "hudor" (water.) Carbohydrates are produced by green plants making use of carbon dioxide, water and sunlight. Our word "carbohydrate" is a combination of the words (1) carbon, (2) oxygen and (3) hydrogen, and it is used to designate such combinations of these elements.

acres more than will be needed for the college. The cost of the site agreed on originally would cost approximately $62,000. Cost on this plan already has exceeded $5,000.

Mr. Hawkins also pointed out that the state had agreed to furnish $937,500 as its share, or three fourth the projected cost of the land and structure, indicating that the county's share would be one-fourth.

The lay committee which originally inspected various sites and approved the Glotfelty tract included Fred A. Thayer, Earl Opel, Walter Wachter, and Gordon Douglass. They reported they felt the White Face Farm was not suitable. They did not inspect the Yoder farm, not knowing at the time it was for sale.

Directors Elected

Three new directors to the board were elected. Donald Browning, Caryl Doe and Ira Whetsell, who will serve three years. Holdover directors are Cheston Browning, Victor Pritts, Oswald Vannucci, Fred Glotfelty, John Henry, Joseph Mechem, Ron Mills, Homer Bennett, Gilman Sylvester and Eugene Helbig.

President Cheston Browning announced that the full 18 holes would be played next spring. He said some work still must be done but that the new course would be ready when it reopens in April.

Club guests at the dinner included the mayor of Oakland, members of the city council, and Mrs. Dorothy Spencer Glotfelty. The Jimmy Spencer trophy was displayed. This trophy will remain at the country club and a replica given annually to the winner of the Western Maryland tournament. Names of the winners will be inscribed on the permanent trophy.

The board of directors will meet November 2 at which time officers will be elected. Dancing followed the dinner.

The majority of those attending the meeting Monday night were of the opinion there must be a definite commitment made so that the project would not be any longer delayed.

The college had received the backing of the majority of the voters at the special election in June, after which the Commissioners agreed by a resolution to provide the county's share of the cost of construction and operation. Mr. Friend pointed out however, they did not agree on a particular site Works were available, and that

There were those who felt the selection of the site was not the responsibility of the Commisioners. George D. Edwards, President of the Board of Education, said yesterday the Board was definitely opposed to any shifting of the site at this late date.

Due to the urgency of a definite decision, another meeting is planned early next week, if the commissioners come to no decision.

volvement in space and the benefits reaped from this involvement. It will be used to illustrate to the students in Garrett County schools the depth of the country's commitment in the space program and to emphasize the great value of the information daily gathered from the orbiting scientific instruments and the effects of this information on daily activities. The exhibit will also be used to show the students applications of the work they do in school to the on-going work of the space program in an effort to encourage them to set and attain higher goals for themselves.

Approximately 1250 students and parents have visited the new Planetarium for the Garrett County Schools during its first month of operation, according to Paul Frank, Director of the Planetarium program. Of this number about 200 have been adults representing service clubs and other community groups.

gator William F. Baker, Tfc. Bernard J. Chabot criminal investigator for state police and Trooper Walker D. Grose.

By stipulation a report from Dr. William L. Francis also of Memorial hospital was read into the record.

Earl E. Manges and John C. Sullivan attorneys for the three defendants called only Robert Frank Garlock to the stand.

Drawing of the jury was not completed until about 11:30 a. m. yesterday. Some 43 prospective jurors were summoned to the Court House at Oakland. Defense attorneyes struck 22 of them from the list and the prosecuting attorneys struck four. Fred E. Beachy was foreman of the jury.

Associate Judge James S. Getty presided at the trial.

The three were indicted in April by the Allegany County grand jury and the case was removed to Garrett County after the defense attorneys questioned whether their clients could get a fair trial in this county.

Dalton and Ronald Garlock were returned to Garrett County last week from Camp Hill, Pa.

Name Outstanding Community Youth

Joseph Hesen, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Hesen, Timonium, and a senior at Dulaney High School, was chosen as the outstanding boy of that community for 1967. The Pine Valley - Valley Wood Associations honored Joe at its recent community meeting and presented him with a citizenship award for "outstanding service to the community". The president of the associations commended Joe for his mature sense of responsibility for his initiative in helping to organize activities for teens in the community specifically the teen center, and for his assistance in the playground program for children throughout the summer. Joe is vice-president of the junior association. He is also an instructor in karate for the Baltimore County Bureau of Recreation. John Shoff, County Recreation Director made the presentation. Julie Koenig received the award for the outstanding girl. This was the first time the community had presented awards to its young people.

The Hesens formerly were residents of Oakland, and Joe is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Sincell and Mrs. A. G. Hesen.

Weather Changes Abruptly Yesterday

Old Man Winter sent the hibernators scurrying for their dens by dispatching a freezing foretaste of winter weather to the county yesterday and today.

This was quite a contrast with weather conditions during the previous week, last Thursday, for instance, brought clearing skies and 49-degree temperatures. Friday carried a warming trend, much appreciated since the mercury had dropped to 24 degrees Thursday night.

Saturday was another warm day, with clear skies. Sunday held to the same pattern of bright skies and warm temperatures.

Monday brought a slight change in the pattern by fetching cloudy skies. Temperatures rose from a low of 44 to the 70's. Tuesday also was cloudy, with temperatures again rising to the 70 degree mark.

Wednesday began with a 50-degree reading, but the mercury began to plummet around 11 a. m., hitting 35 around 5 p. m. The rain, which began as a mistiness, turned to snow about 6:30 p. m. Thursday's temperature was a cold 34 at 7:30, with a sleety rain falling steadily.

Two Are Injured In Car Crash

Two persons were hospitalized and another injured yesterday in a one-car accident at the intersection of U. S. Route 219 and 40 in Garrett County.

Admitted to Miners Hospital in Frostburg were Mrs. Minnie E. Stover, 47, Akron, Ohio, and Albert Muntzing, 85, Maysville, W. Va., both passengers in the car.

Clarence O. Stover, 53, Akron, Ohio, operator of the car and husband of Mrs. Stover, was treated and released at the same hospital.

The accident occurred at 10:45 a. m. during heavy fog.

Cpl. Thomas E. Ruppert said the Stover vehicle was traveling north on Route 219 and failed to stop at the interection. He said the car continued across Route 40 and went through the guard rails.

Mrs. Stover was admitted to the hospital with back injuries and Mr. Muntzing sustained a shoulder injury and laceration of the head. Both were reported in "good" condition last night.

Mt. Top YFC To Present Movie

Concordia Films production of "To Forgive A Thief" will be the featured presentation at the Mt. Top Youth for Christ Campus Life Rally this coming Saturday, October 21 at Southern cafetorium. The program, which will begin at 7:30 p. m., was to have presented Joe King, of Washington Bible College, as its speaker, but due to schedule conflicts, Mr. King has been rescheduled for December 16.

"To Forgive A Thief", a 30-minute color film, stars Roy Rogers, Jr. and contains a challenge for the present generation of teenagers.

The next Campus Life Rally will be presented at Northern High school on November 18. Featured will be a contemporary film, "Without Onion". Southern will host another rally on November 25, presenting the film, "I Hear A New Song."

Oakland Wires In 1883 Sent via Terra Alta

A number of records of 1883 and 1884 of the Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph company have been found by John Murphy, operator, recently transferred from the Oakland office to Terra Alta, and a number of interesting things relating to Oakland discovered.

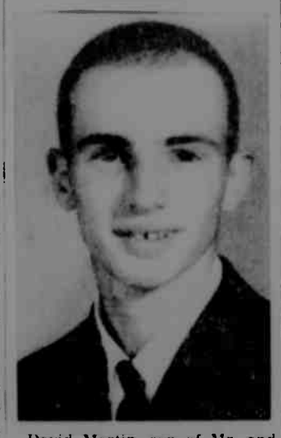
Many of the messages sent through the Terra Alta office, then known as Cranberry, W. Va., are private ones sent by a number of Oakland people, but others were news dispatches, sent to the Baltimore American concerning Garrett county elections, etc.

That the messages were sent through Cranberry, W. Va., disproves the thought that Oakland had not been without a telegraph office since the Baltimore and Ohio tracks were laid in 1852 until the closing of the office a few weeks ago. All messages from Oakland at that time were sent through the Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph Co. at Cranberry. There was no such organization known as the Western Union.

A dispatch sent in to the Baltimore American on November 7, 1883, concerning an election carried the following names: Republican candidates: A. F. Speicher and H. Wheeler Combs, house of delegates; W. P. Townshend, State's Attorney; David Wilson, county commissioner; D. Harrison Friend, Nathan Casteel, David Michaels, judges of the Orphans' court; Daniel Chisholm, county surveyor.

Democratic candidates: Eli Stanton, William D. Hove, house of delegates: John W. Veitch, state's attorney; Moses R. Hamill, sheriff; Andrew Mullen, Wright Thayer, Thomas Browning, county commissioners; William H. Barnard, Nelson McGettigan and Amos Broadwater, Judges of the Orphans' court; John T. Mitchell, county surveyor.

A message was received from the Wheeling Intelligencer, Wheeling, W. Va., on November 14, 1883, asking for 500 words on the crime. The crime referred to was the execution of John Smith, negro, for the murder of Josiah Harden, which took place on the spot where Oakland High school now stands, and whose bones were uncovered last year in excavating for the recent addition.



A notice from the B. and O. offices under date of February 10, 1880, makes a change in local classification of rates on ale, beer and porter.

From a dispatcher's train order book the name of J. A. Droege is found. He is at present president and general manager of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, and was at that time an operator at Piedmont, W. Va.

Trains Nos. 3, 1, and other odd numbers ran east in 1883, and even numbers ran west, according to the order book. Freight trains between Grafton and Cumberland ran faster at that time than at present, the book shows. Engines, however, were smaller and pulled shorter trains of cars.

Receives American Farmer Degree

David Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Martin, of Aurora, W. Va., has returned from Kansas City where he received the American Farmer degree, the highest award given by the FFA. The presentation was made on Wednesday, October 11, during the 40th National convention. David was one of six selected from his state for this degree.

The American Farmer degree is awarded only by the national organization at the annual convention. About one member per thousand per year, receives this degree. The American Farmer degree class is known as the "cream of the crop," representing those Future Farmers whose achievements in farming and in rural leadership have earned national recognition.

David received the gold American Farmer Key and certificate from the FFA, also a cash award to help pay his travel expenses to Kansas City.

David is a graduate of Aurora High school and is now attending Potomac State. He was accompanied to Kansas City by his parents, his sister and brother, Diana Sue and Tom, J. Roy Lipscomb, II, and Miss Helen Davis, of Washington, D. C.

Way to Streamline Legislature Shown

A 285-page report recommending longer sessions, higher pay and an over-all strengthening and streamlining of the Maryland General Assembly was turned over to legislative leaders last Friday.

The $20,000 study, which took the Eagleton Institute of Politics at Rutgers University one year to complete, is intended as a blueprint for turning the Legislature into "an equal and effective partner in state government".

The report contained 92 specific recommendations for improving the legislature. Among the more important were:

—Extending the sessions from 70 to 90 days.

—Increasing salaries to a minimum of $8,500 a year from the current $2,400, but eliminating the daily expense money now paid during sessions.

—A revamping of committees, particularly in the House of Delegates, and provision of year-round staff for the committees.

—Abolishing the Legislative Council, replacing it with between-sessions meetings of the major committees.

—Providing committees with full subpoena powers and the right to take testimony under oath.

A major section of the report dealt with the financing of the Legislature, an area in which the institute said Maryland is "making less of an effort to support than most states". It was noted that the cost of running the General Assembly in 1965 amounted to only $2.4 million, slightly less than 71 cents per resident.

espite the fact that "Maryland certainly has the ability to pay", it ranks 38th among the states in per capita financial support for its Legislature.

The study stressed the need for strong legislatures in an age dominated by chief executives and administrators, who often overlook many things that ordinary people have on their minds.

Chicago's birth rate is expected to increase 30% at the end of the month due to the 5 day blizzard there 9 months ago.

There's more to Wide-Tracking in a '68 Pontiac than meets the eye.

Wide-Tracking is performance.
Wide-Tracking is handling.
Wide-Tracking is security.
Wide-Tracking is one of the great American sports.

Driving a new LeMans may be even more satisfying than looking at one. The standard engine is an Overhead Cam that delivers 175 hp from regular gas. You can order a 215-hp high-compression version. Or go up to 265- or 320-hp V-8s. See your Pontiac dealer for a test drive and learn the difference between Wide-Tracking and plain ordinary driving.

Compact Proposed For Basin Activity

An advisory committee created two years ago distributed a proposed compact for development of the Potomac River on Tuesday.

As yet, the committee has not received any reaction from the governors of Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia, and, District of Columbia on the proposal. A final compact will be drafted after suggestions are received. It then will be up to Congress and the four state legislatures to create a Potomac River Basin Commission.

The new commission would not replace existing agencies; instead, it would coordinate the activities of the existing state and local agencies in carrying out the comprehensive water resources plan.

Grantsville Donors Donate 89 Pints

Eighty-nine units of blood were given during the blood-mobile visit in Grantsville last Friday, October 13th. Ninety-two appointments were scheduled: 61 kept their appointments and there were 17 walk-ins. There were 18 first-time donors and 45 units were given for replacements.

More than 150 hours of volunteer work were given by the following workers: Dr. Hughes, Miss Esther Steinhauer, Mrs. Elmer Maust, Mrs. Melda Georg, Mrs. Pauline Faucett, and Miss Donna Bowser, nurses, Idella Bender, Phyllis Miller, Lydia Yoder, Leona Maust, and Beulah Jane Bender, as nurses aids; lunch and canteen workers, Mrs. Oma Beachy, Mrs. Gearhart, Mrs. Grace Warnick, and Mrs. Walter Younkin; Checker, Mrs. C. C. Bender; Registrars, Mrs. Guy Frickey, Mrs. Tom Bender, Miss Viola Broadwater, and Sherry Kamp; Typist, Mrs. Audrey Tressler; Labelers, Mrs. Elaine Tressler, and Mrs. Mary Bennett; Hostess, Mrs. Herbert Buckel; Custodian, Austin Kamp; Motor Corps, Herbert Ringer, Clair and Blaine Folk, Kenneth Dice, Robert Wilt, and Olen Orendorf; Blood Donor Recruiters, Mrs. C. O. Bender, Miss Viola Broadwater, Mrs. Raymond Tice, Mrs. Webster Brenneman, Mrs. Edgar Harman, Mrs. Clyde Tressler, and Mrs. Orval Glotfelty; Chairman, Mrs. Jonas Beachy, and Co-Chairman, Mrs. George Bowser.

Miss Esther Opel became a 3-gallon donor; 2-gallon donors were Mrs. Kathryn Bowser, Miss Claudine Opel, Miss Fannie Miller, and Clyde Tressler. One-gallon donors were Edgar Harman, Blaine Miller, Edgar Rembold, and Harold Maust.

Soviet children will now begin military training at 16.

Your Federal Income Tax

The Republican, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service, Baltimore District, will publish each week in this column, tax information that will enable taxpayers to become more familiar with the Federal income tax laws. CLIP AND SAVE FOR FUTURE REFERENCE.

Questions and Answers

Q. I worked on a farm this summer and the foreman said I would have to pay an estimated tax this fall. Is that right?

A. Farm wages are not subject to income tax withholding and you may have to file an estimated tax return to put you on a pay–as-you-go basis. The next deadline for filing an estimated tax declaration or an amended declaration is September 15.

A declaration must be filed if your estimated tax exceeds your expected withholding by $40 or more and certain other conditions are met. More details on estimated tax and the forms needed to file a declaration may be obtained by calling your local IRS office.

Q. The exemption I claimed for my uncle last year is being questioned. What records do I need to show I am entitled to claim him?

A. You should be prepared to show that you provided more than one-half his support for the year, that his gross income was under $600, and that he did not file a joint return with another taxpayer for the year in question.

Your uncle must also be a citizen or resident of the U. S. or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Canal Zone or the Republic of Panama.

Q. I just got a letter from my stock broker asking for my social security number. He said if I don't give it I will be subject to a penalty. What is the penalty he's talking about?

A. The law that requires payments of dividends and interest amounting to $10 or more to be identified by the social security number of the recipient also imposes a penalty or $5 for failure to comply. This penalty can apply each time a payment is not identified on the report banks, corporations and savings institutions are required to make to IRS.

Q. Are tax disputes settled with your Appellate Division ever opened up again?

A. They are not reopened unless evidence of fraud, malfeasance, concealment, misrepresentation of facts or an important mathematical mistake is discovered. Taxpayers reaching an agreement with Appellate can do so with the assurance that aside from the reasons mentioned above, the agreement will be final.

Q. I got a small scholarship which pays my tuition costs for one semester. Does this have to be counted as taxable income?

A. Scholarships are generally not taxable. It would be advisable to check with your District Director.

Q. You made a mistake in my refund check. Who do I write about it?

A. You should write to your District Director. When any change is made in a refund as requested by the tax payer when he files his return, an explanation of the change is usually sent. When you receive this, if you have not already, it should answer the question you have about the refund.

Q. Is a trip to another city for medical treatment deductible?

A. It is if the trip is primarily for, and essential to, medical care and not taken for personal reasons. The transportation costs will be deductible but not the costs of meals and lodging unless they are furnished by a hospital.

Q. My boss stopped taking out for Social Security. Why?

A. Probably because the maximum has been withheld for the year. Social Security taxes are withheld on the first $6,600 of wages paid to an employee by the employer. If you have already received that amount from one employer no more will be withhold by that employer for Social Security for the rest of 1966. However, if you work for more than one employer during the year ,each employer will withhold Social Security taxes on the first $6,600 of wages paid to you. If your total wages for the year from which Social Security taxes were withheld exceed the $6,600 maximum, the excess withheld may be claimed as a credit on your income tax return.

Q. My neighbor is paying me $25 a week to look after her little girl while she is at work. Is this money taxable?

A. Yes it is. The income should be included with whatever other income you receive to determine whether your gross income was $600 or more. If you file jointly with your husband, the income has to be included with the return you file.

If you determine the nature of the services and provide them in your own home and the amount you receive from your neighbor totals $400 or more for the year, you must file a return and pay self-employment tax. That tax will help you build up retirement benefits under Social Security.

Q. I filed an amended return some months ago and I still haven't received the additional refund I have coming. What's the hold up?

A. The filing of an amended return presents unavaidable delays. Amended returns are considered claims, even are conamended return contains all the information called for, the amended return must be associated with the original return you filed. And if your original return had been pulled out of the normal processing cycle for any reason (it might be taken out for audit for example) the association will take longer. Even after the returns are associated, some amended returns will require an audit which further delays issuance of a refund.

For further information contact your local Internal Revenue Service office.

4-H Club Discusses Activity Items

Several activity items were discussed at the last meeting of the Monte Vista Senior Girls' 4-H club at the home of Linda Bell. Ann Feaster, president, presided.

Reports were given on the family dinner and the county council. Discussed were the citizenship tour, club goals and coming county events. Junior leaders discussed their duties with Mrs. William Sharps. Favorite 4-H activities were given during roll call. The next meeting will he held at the home of Regina Sanders on Monday, November 6.

Marine Undergoes Hospital Treatment

Marine Lance Cpl. Dale P. Layton, 20, a former resident of Oakland, is presently undergoing treatment at Bethesda Naval Hospital for wounds received while fighting in Vietnam.

Cpl. Layton was wounded in action September 5. He sustained wounds of the neck and leg and was awarded the Purple Heart Medal.

A 1965 graduate of Southern High School, he entered the Marine Corps in March, 1966. Prior to going to Vietnam in July, he served a tour of duty in the Mediterranean.

An account of his action along with photograph first appeared in The Republican on Sept. 28.

Fire Auxiliary Donates $1,000 To State Group

A donation of $1,000 was made by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Maryland State Firemen's association to the State firemen during the fall conference held at Cumberland. The auxiliary also collected $130 for the hospital fund and $172 for the Ways and Means committee.

The hostess group was the Allegany-Garrett Counties Volunteer Fire Department Auxiliary, with Mrs. Dolores Fatkin, Clarysville, president.

Revision of by-laws and fire prevention were among the items discussed. Officers reported on their activities. Over 300 representatives of 74 auxiliaries attended the session which included twelve past presidents. A spring conference is set for next April.

Aurora - Eglon

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Weimer, of Brookside, announce the birth of their second child, Todd Paul, born October 10, in Garrett County Memorial hospital. The mother is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lantz, of near Eglon. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Weimer, of Gorman.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Pennington, Cash Valley, attended memorial rites last Wednesday at Sugar Land church of the Brethren for Mrs. Pennington's brother-in-law, Dewey Phillips, 69, who died October 8, in Tucker County hospital. Services were conducted by the Revs. Earl Fike, of Parsons, and Mrs. Noah Waybright, Brookside. Interment was in the church cemetery.

A. W. Fike, of Eglon, left Sunday evening by rail for Ulysses, Kans., to visit his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fike. He also plans to visit his grandchildren, John Beckman and family and Gary Fike and family, also of Kansas.

Mrs. Roy Teets, Eglon, was taken Sunday to Garrett County Memorial hospital. She remains seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Selders, of Aurora, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. William Selders, of Morgantown, to Greensboro, N. C., where they spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Selders and family.

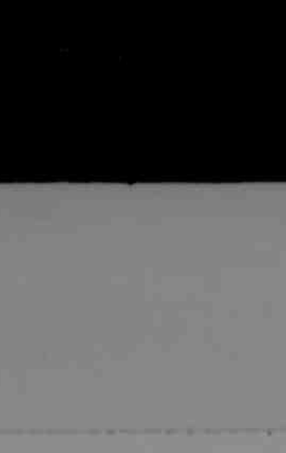
Dr. and Mrs. Jacob Huffman, Dayton, Va., spent the week-end with Mrs. Huffman's brother and sister-in-law, the Rev. and Mrs. Galen Fike, Eglon. They all were dinner guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Arnett, Rowlesburg.

The marriage of Erma Jean Rinehart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Rinehart, Stemple Ridge, and Cecil Kennedy, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Kennedy, Sr., of Ohio, occurred Saturday evening, October 14, in the Stemple Ridge church with the Rev. Frank Snyder officiating. A reception followed in the church basement. The couple will reside in Washington, D. C., where both have employment.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Myers returned to their home at Aurora from a visit with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Myers, of Houston, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyne Teets, of Arlington, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Alan Teets and family, of Woodbridge, Va., spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Teets, Eglon, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Myers, Aurora.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kight, Horse Shoe Run, are visiting their children in Brunswick, Ohio, and Michigan.



Mr. and Mrs. Armand Heckert and Barbara, Eglon; Mrs. Harley Kight, Thomas; Mrs. Hugh Nice, Rowlesburg; and Mrs. Michael Britton, Kingwood, visited for several days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Waldron, of Aliquippa, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fike and Miss Allie Fike, all of Morgantown, visited relatives in the Eglon area last Tuesday.

The Aurora Pioneer Sr. 4-H club met October 9 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Alexander, at Brookside. A Committee was appointed for P-TA devotions. County award medals were discussed. The officers met Saturday at the home of Mrs. Opal Myers for a planning meeting. The new officers were installed. Refreshments were served by the Alexanders.

The Lost Chord, a group of young folks from Maple Spring Church of the Brethren, furnished special music at the Bear Creek Church of the Brethren, Friday evening, October 13. Included were Krista Harsh, Neva Harsh, Mary Roth, Bitsy Teets, Anita Knotts, Mike Fike, Gary Roth and Bryan Holsopple. Local Dairymen Set Frederick Visit

A number of Garrett county dairymen and families plan to attend the open house program of the Maryland-West Virginia Bull Stud, Inc., near Frederick, on Thursday, October 26. George Shawley, Bittinger, artificial insemination technician; and Russell Bowser, Grantsville, chairman of the board, will be among those attending.

Featured speaker will be Dr. Hilton Boynton, of the University of New Hampshire Animal Science department. He will speak on "Sire Selection for High Producing Dairy Herds".

Dr. Boynton has developed an outstanding dairy herd. Under his supervision the University's Ayrshire and Jersey herds have records that rank at the top of their respective breeds. The Guernsey herd ranks in the top ten in the nation and cows from the Holstein herd have gained recognition nationally and in foreign countries.

He has judged all breeds at the National Dairy Cattle Congress and International Dairy show has judged at state fairs and in several foreign countries. He earned B.S. and M.S. degrees at Iowa State and his Ph.D. at Rutgers.

The program begins at 10. A chicken dinner will follow Dr Boynton's talk. In th afternoon officials will conduct a "Parade of Bulls".

A postmaster's supper was held Monday in the Memorial buliding, in Eglon.

J. Roy Lipscomb returned last week to his home on Mt. Top from the Broaddus hospital at Philippi, where he had been a medical patient.

Guests of Mrs. John Beckman, Aurora, were Mr. and Mrs. Junior Hutzell and children, of Elkins; Mr. and Mrs. Don Beckman, of Wyoming, Del.; and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Roth and family, of Eglon.

The Senior Class of Aurora High school will present a three-act comedy, "A Ready-Made Family" by Jay Tobias, on Friday evening, October 20, beginning at 8, in the high school auditorium. Included in the cast are Judy Crawford, Greg Lee, Bitsy Teets, Phyllis Bolyard, Linda Snyder, Mike Fike, Darlene Harsh, Eddie Roberson, Linda Fint and Darwin Snyder. The play is under the direction of Melvin Jackson. The public is invited.

Harry Slawter, Alfred Wotring and Mrs. Florence Wotring, all of Aurora, attended a meeting of Grand Lodge and the Rebekah Assembly last week at Parkersburg. Mr. Slawter and Mr. Wotring each received a jewel and were given a dinner in honor of their 50-year membership of the Elizabeth Lodge No. 151, of Aurora.

The Aurora P-TA met Tuesday evening, October 10, at the high school. Following the business meeting the guest speakers, Dr. Masters and Phil Spahr, discussed Project DAVE, and questions were answered concerning this project. Refreshments were served to approximately 60 folks.

Memorial rites were conducted one day last week for Mrs. Dalla Mae Harman, 92, in the Onego Church of the Brethren, near Seneca, by the Rev. Mauzy, of Petersburg. Charles Harman, Eglon, is one of her surviving sons. Interment was at Onego.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Baker and family, Deer Park, and Mrs. Evelyn Cochran and family, of Fairmont were Sunday guests of Mrs. Nina Wotring in her home at Brookside.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Armand Heckert and Barbara were Mr. and Mrs. Otis Sell, Philippi; Kenneth Lantz, AURORA .. ..Galley 2 .. Garfield Heights, O. and Gilbert Sell Aurora.

Mrs. Victor Kope of Brookside, entered University hospital, Morgantown, Tuesday, for examination and treatment.

The Eglon Mountaineer 4-H club met October 9 in the Memorial building at Eglon. Twenty-five members and nine visitors were present. The club plans to collect for UNICEF, October 23. The program included a poem by Neva Harsh, scripture by Krista Harsh and prayer by Mary Roth. The next meeting will be held November 13, at 7:30 p. m., in the Memorial building.

Roy Shillingburg was treated for several days last week in Garrett County Memorial hospital and has returned to his home near Brookside.

Mrs. Ralph Edwards moved her personal property from the late Dr. Miller residence at Eglon to the Robert Nines at Aurora, which is the former office building of the Bland Lumber company.

Firemen Called To Farm Home Last Thursday

The old adage, "Where there's smoke, there's fire", proved only partially true last Thursday, when Oakland firemen responded to a call from the Sunnyside home of Mrs. Bessie Canan, they found plenty of smoke, but no fire.

Mrs. Canan, who heard "crackling" sounds emanating from the basement, investigated and found that the furnace flue had exploded, allowing flames to graze along a beam in the basement. Neighbors were called and the Oakland Fire Department summoned.

Neighbors had the fire extinguished by the time firemen arrived.

Damage to the home was slight.

Oakland firemen were summoned again on Tuesday afternoon to the apartment of Robert Shahan, on West Liberty street, where a smoking kerosene stove was causing concern. There was no damage.

The building is owned by Homer L. Bennett.

Progress Along The Potomac

Autumn is an especially beautiful time in the Potomac Basin. This month thousands of people will be driving, riding and hiking in the mountains, down the valleys and along the C & O Canal to see the Basin at its best. So this is a fitting time to review whas has been done—and not done—this year to improve the Basin's recreational assets.

More than 2½ years have passed snce the President directed Interior Secretary Stewart Udall to prepare plans for making the Potomac "a model for the nation." Although the Federal task force's long-awaited report has not yet appeared, the Secretary recently did release a study by a task group of the American Institute of Architects. This AIA report called for drastic steps to centralize land use planning and development controls throughout the basin. Its recommendations, which were not specifically endorsed by Secretary Udall, included creation of a $250-million, Federally financed foundation to coordinate planning and design, and the imposition of land use controls on both banks of the Potomac and its tributaries for up to five miles from the river.

It seems to me that before granting the Federal Government such sweeping new powers, Congress should have clear evidence not only that such steps are necessary, but that those powers would be wisely and consistently exercised. Recent cases of Federal involvement in the Washington area have not been reassuring. For example, it was a Federal official—Transportation Secretary Alan Boyd—who threw the Three Sisters Bridge plan back into limbo recently. In another case, the Board of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts is now locked in combat with private developers of the neighboring Watergate complex over reopening zoning decisions previously made.

Another type of Federal performance record is now being written on the C & O Canal. For years a monument to Federal neglect, the Canal is now receiving more attention. The Paw Paw Tunnel area is being restored and developed into a major attraction. Superintendent W. Dean McClanahan and the Canal's rangers have worked hard to improve visitor services and to establish good communications with the many neighbors and friends of the Canal. A complete title survey is finally under way to fix the precise boundaries of Canal lands and resolve ownership disputes, some of which have persisted for decades.

Much of the impetus for this progress has come from private groups and interested individuals. This summer the five area councils of the Boy Scouts designated the entire towpath as an historical trail, and over 7,000 Scouts have hiked more than 64,000 miles this year to earn badges and emblems. Many area organizations have spent many hours developing and publicizing the Canal's tremendous scenic and recreational assets.

The C & O Canal will be the backbone of any major park project along the Potomac, and the policies and spirit established there will set the tone for the entire Basin. The reforms which I believe to be essential are incorporated in my bill, the C & O Canal Development Act (H.R. 7201). Under this bill, the National Park Service would be authorized to purchase—not condemn—small tracts of land for picnic and camping areas, boat landings, parking lots and other facilities. Access across the Canal for landowners and hunters would be guaranteed. The Park Service would be able to make agreements with landowners for mutually beneficial projects, and would be directed to cooperate with local governments, the state, and private groups. Finally, an advisory council would be established to give area jurisdictions a continuing voice in Canal management.

I am gratified by the great area support for H.R. 7201. If this bill can be enacted by the 90th Congress, the C & O Canal can become a demonstration of sensible, cooperative park development, and can serve as a real model for the Basin and the nation as a whole.

McCartney-Tasker Wedding Is Held

The marriage of Miss Ruth Eileen Tasker, daughter of Mr. Edward J. Tasker, of Mt. Lake Park, and the late Mrs. Tasker to James W. McCartney, son of Mrs. Ken C. Sherman, of Deep Creek Lake, took place on Saturday, August 19 in Bethel Methodist Church, Mt. Lake Park. Rev. James Remley, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The chancel was decorated with palms and was lighted with tall white candles in candelabra.

Mrs. Bessie Price played a program of nuptial music preceding the ceremony and accompanied Margaret Fulk, who sang "O Praomise Me". She also played the traidtional bridal chorus from Lohengrin and the Mendelssohn recessional.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of white chantilly lace with a nylon net yoke, featured with a full skirt with tiers of nylon net over satin, fitted bodice, mandarin collar and long pointed sleeves. A lace tiara trimmed with sequins held the shoulder length veil of Meline. She carried a cascade of white carnations with streamers.

Mrs. T. W. Stockslager served as her sister's matron of honor. She wore a dress of light pink lace with matching headdress and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. Misses Sheila and Sharon Tasker, sisters of the bride, served as bridesmaids. They wore matching dresses of powder blue lace with chiffon skirts and matching headdresses and carried bouquets of blue and white carnations. Linda Tasker, niece ofthe bride, and Sally McCartney, sister of the groom, served as flower girls. They wore white lace over powder blue dresses with matching headdresses. Steven Stockslager served as his aunt's ringbearer. Thomas R. Drexler, of Baltimore City, served as best man. James Tasker and T. W. Stockslager were ushers.

The mother of the groom wore a two-piece pink and white suit with matching accessories. Her corsage was an orchid.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church social room. The bride's table was centered with a four-tiered heart-shaped cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Barbara Alexander and Mrs. Della Martin, aunts of the bride, served punch. Mrs. Ann Stottlemeyer served the wedding cake.

The bride is a graduate of Southern High School, class of 1960. She was formerly employed by W. Dwight Stover, attorney. The groom is a graduate of North Union High School, Uniontown, Pa., class of 1961. He is currently employed at Bethlehem Steel in Baltimore.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs Benjamin A. McCartney of Uniontown, Pa., paternal grandparents of the groom; Mrs Lucy McCartney and family of Alexandria, Va; Mr. and Mrs Delmar Martin of Cumberland; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Turner, Uniontown; and Mr. and Mrs. James Lynn of Altoona, Pa.

The couple are now residing in Baltimore.

Cattle Truck Crashes On US 50

A trailer truckload of cattle destined for the Chicago livestock yards crashed on U. S 50 near Erwin, W. Va., Wednesday killing 30 head of cattle.

The truck driver, Raymond Peterson, of Duda, Illinois, was cut about the face and arms but was not hospitalized

Police said Peterson apparently lost his brakes while descending Cheat Mountain, could not negotiate a turn, and the truck flipped over on its side. State policemen and deputies from the Preston County sehriff's office helped round up a few of the 400-pound steers A six-man State Road Commission crew from Aurora built a corral from snow fences to barricade the surviving steers as they were removed from the double-deck trailer.

All cars sold after January 1, 1969 must have a shoulder harness seat belt combination.

The most beautiful phone in the world was made to be hidden.

Sounds crazy, doesn't it? The new Trimline® phone's stylish, sculptured shape cries to be seen—to be talked about. But if you're a little short on space, it's good to know that a compact Trimline phone will fit just about anywhere. Under a kitchen cabinet or in a niche between beds. Wherever you want it.

Easiest dialing ever, too. Because the dial is in the handset. It comes to you. And if you're making a series of calls, no need to hang up after each one. Just press the recall button under the dial. You're ready for your next call.

Trimline phones come with either Touch-Tone® push buttons or regular rotary dial. And both light up, to make it easier to read the dial.

Naturally, the Trimline phone costs a little more. You'd expect it to. But here's a bonus. Take your choice of five beautiful telephone colors.

Let us put a new Trimline phone in your home. Just pick up the phone and call the Telephone Business Office. Or ask your telephone man for the world's most beautiful phone.

Hide it if you can.

Magistrate Hears Criminal Charges

Four criminal cases were heard in the office of Trial Magistrate Robert Maroney in Oakland during the past week.

Two Bittinger men, Stanley and Larry Brenneman, were charged by Game Warden Leo G. Friend with possession of a deer in closed season. Each received a fine of $100 and costs.

In other cases before the Magistrate, Donald B. DeWitt charged Laura Annabell DeWitt with unlawful use of a telephone. She pleaded not guilty, and was declared not guilty by the Magistrate.

Charles E. Thomas charged Daniel Savage with disturbing the peace at McHenry, and also with using the telephone to convey obscene or indecent language to annoy said Charles E. Thomas. Savage entered a plea of guilty and was placed under a $200 peace bond for both counts.

Scouts Ready For Washington Trip

The 19th annual week-end trip to Washington, D. C., and surrounding area by approximately 100 local Senior Boy Scouts, Explorers, Senior Girl Scouts and adult scout leaders get underway this Friday morning with a departure from Westernport.

Traveling U. S. Route 50 through Winchester, Va., the group is scheduled to arrive in the Nation's Capital around 12:00 Noon.

First attraction on the trip, billed as an 'educational adventure' rather than simply a pleasure trip, is a visit to the Japanese Embassy. Dinner that evening will be at the National Girl Scout Service Center, Camp Rockwood, in Potomac, which is also accommodation's headquarters for the groups.

Saturday's plans call for a tour of the city of Washiangton including the U. S. Capitol Building. On Sunday the group will attend church services and tour Dulles International Airport on their way back to this area.

Deep Creek district scouts are participating.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read you Bible daily.

Have you been forgetting something lately? Have you been forgetting yourself?

Let's be completely selfish, for the moment, about this matter of going to Church. Let's look at it solely from your own point of view.

Will the Church offer you an escape from reality? Will it lead you into some kind of a rosy dream world? Will it be your own, personal panacea—a kind of spiritual crutch?

Emphatically no! What the Church will do is give you Faith. It will help you find the courage and strength to meet life's tests. It will bring you complete realization of one all-important fact: with God's love, it is never too late to begin again.

If you haven't been going to church you have undoubtedly forgotten yourself. Start going now!

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

DIVINELY DISTURBED!

Lesson for October 22, 1967

Background Scripture: Amos 3 through 6. Devotional Reading: Psalms 82.

If you've read Paul Wellman's The Chain, you will recall the two clergymen who are contrasted in their pastorates at St. Alban's parish. One is "Little Robbie," the pious, amiable pastor who is loved by all. There is also Father John Carlisle, his successor. Reminiscent of Christ himself, Carlisle did not hesitate to minister in the slums, to associate with sinners, and concern himself with the welfare of the disreputable.

Rev. Althouse

His pastorate was a disturbing one. His sermons upset his parishioners and his acts were no less cause for disquiet. He took away their comfort at St. Alban's and gave them a conscience. Yet, this disturbing man was the parish's salvation. He was not enjoyable, but he and his divine disturbance were necessary.

Jesus The Treat

Jesus was not enjoyable either. The scribes and Pharisees found him infuriating. The priests and Sadducees saw him as a disturbing influence. The Roman authorities watched him with distrust and apprehension. The respectable people were appalled at the people with whom he associated. The clever, the rich, the powerful: all found him to be a threat.

It does not take much imagination to realize that the Prophet Amos was a disturbing man too. He made people uncomfortable, hostile, angry. His prophecies wounded their pride, tore away their self-respect. These people resented Amos and we would not very likely be any more receptive to him today, for he had the power to disturb people . . . and who wants to be disturbed?

What we want are men like "Little Robbie," antiseptically pious and inoffensively amiable. Yet it is the John Carlisle's, the Amos's whom we need. For we need to be disturbed, divinely disturbed.

A Sick Society

There are many people today who do not see any relevance between the Gospel and social affairs, who believe injustice, integration, alcoholism, war and peace, poverty, etc., are not the proper concerns of Christians and their churches. Perhaps you will agree, but then what would you do with a prophet like Amos? His prophecies were directed not only to sick souls, but also to a sick society, a sinful social order: "But let justice roll down like waters, and righteousness like an everflowing stream". (Amos 5:24 RSV).

Amos was deeply disturbed because the righteous were afflicted, the needy were ignored, and the authorities accepted bribes. Furthermore, the people were complacent because they were so prosperous: "Woe to those who lie upon beds of ivory, and stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat lambs from the flock . . . who sing idle songs to the sound of the harp . . . who drink wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the finest oils, but are not grieved over the ruin of Joseph!" (Amos 6:4-6 RSV)

The "Fat Life"

What he described was the affluent society of the ancient world, a society not too different from our own in some respects. We might easily change a few words without doing violence to his prophecy: "Woe to those who are at ease in First Church (or whatever yours is called), and to those who feel secure in their suburban hide-aways, the respectable men of our communities."

Self-indulgent living, the evil that provoked the ministry of Amos, still calls for prophets today. Unless men like these can divinely disturb us, we too will face the consequences of that life. With affluence and prosperity there is always a "therefore." "Therefore they shall not be the first of those to go into exile and the revelry of those who stretch themselves will pass away." (Amos 6:7 RSV)

Such a message today may disturb us, but we need prophets to divinely disturb us, lest we too learn the hard way the consequences of the "fat life."

Teachers' Group Hears Rev. Walthall

Members of a teachers' honorary sorority of Monongalia and Preston Counties, Psi Chapter, Alpha Delta Kappa, met at Arthurdale Inn last Saturday noon for a dinner session and to hear the Rev. W. Shelby Walthall.

The rector of St. Matthew's Episcopal church, Oakland, gave an account of his travels in 1962 and 1966 through parts of South and Central America and his experiences along the Pan American highway. He showed colored slides and included historical facts and incidents of his journey. A question and answer session followed the lecture.

Miss Myra Carroll was in charge of dining room arrangements, and Mrs. Betty White, program chairman, was in charge of the program. Miss Barbara DeVaughn, president of Psi chapter, conducted the business meeting.

In attendance were Myra Carroll, Phyllis Core, Barbara DeVaughn, Martha DuBois, Mary Lou Hart, Kathryn Hartley, Julia Kovach, Jane Moore, Doris Snyder, Alta Stroup, Lorraine Swisher, Betty White, Mary Wildman, Dorothy Wotring, and the speaker.

GENERIC DRUGS ARE OFTEN TOO CHEAP

Before this "Miracle Drug Age," most prescription drugs were generic, which means that they can be manufactured by any supplier. Different makes all, as a rule, have the same name.

But they accomplished less. We then had no complicated hormones, antibiotics, or today's expensive researched drugs. The pharmaceutical firms that discover new drugs, brand them with their exclusive name and physicians prescribe that name on their prescriptions. We have no choice. We must dispense that exact brand. Sometimes other suppliers can make these new drugs and use their common or generic name. Only if we are absolutely certain a generic product equals the original, when a physician prescribes by the generic name we will dispense the lower priced medicine.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Little Ecstasies

Marcel Proust, a French writer, includes in his novels the high moments or "epiphanies" which denote a significant and illuminating happening that makes the story reach a high point. Average lives also have these choice, uplifting times, interspersed with the heart-rending moments, certainly, when human beings seem to catch a glimpse of eternal happiness. The moment suspended, when ourselves are not truly us, transfers us to a place where all earthly ties are removed. It is then that we hover for a moment on the brink of attaining what an artist like Michelangelo expressed inaudibly when warned that devotion to sculpture would take all of his life. "What more is there to life?" he asked himself. And actually it is a powerful question: what is the use of life without these enigmatic happenings which breathe of another nature of extreme joy or devotion?

For a country native, looking about our fair pleateau there must always be some like this:

how the Potomac is suddenly "there" at Kitzmiller when you take the highland route and descend to it; the silent, studied gliding of a buck through the glen, when you had just managed one glampse of his head;

the red trillium giving their sweetness to the lonely air in spring near Merrill's Bridge or on Manadier Ridge Road;

the far high looks of mountains and clouds as you descend from White Rock Road to Sang Run; the shiver running down your spine when a skunk ambles across the clearing behind the old barn;

the beautiful speech pattern of a car salesman at Grantsville who says "beautiful" so beautifully;

the inviting passes awaiting the hiker on McCullough's Path as he looks west from Route 219;

the locust smells at the large log pavilion as you sit by it some June;

the eager expression of a farm wife as she meets a small youngster at the bus stop in the evening;

the bright surprise of a spring coming out at the side of a dusty road, with ground pine hovering above water;

the full moon rising over lacy hemlocks at the water east of the New Germany valley; and the sagacious clearness of the eighty-year-old's description of lumbering days in Appalachian forests.

Open House Set At Fort Martin Power Station

AERIAL VIEW—The giant Fort Martin Power Station, largest in the entire Allegheny Power System, will be open to the public for a tour and inspection on Sunday, October 22, from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. Fort Martin is on the Monongahela River north of Morgantown and can be reached from Point Marion, Pa., or from Morgantown. Direction signs will guide the motorist.

An opportunity that comes once in a lifetime will be open to citizens on Sunday, October 22, when the giant Fort Martin Power Station, located on the Monongahela River north of Morgantown, is opened for public inspection during a seven-hour period.

Open house at the Fort Martin station is scheduled for Sunday, October 22, from 10 a. m., until 6 p. m. The public will not only have an opportunity to see the giant cooling towers, the largest in the world, but will be able to make a full tour through the power plant to see the most modern power generating plant in the Allegheny Power System.

The plant has been under construction since September 11, 1964. When finished it will have cost over $130,000,000. In its construction from 600 to 1100 men have been employed in the construction job.

The plant consists of two units, the first unit already finished and producing electricity. This is the portion of the station that the public will tour. The second unit, practically identical to the first, is scheduled for completion in October of 1968. The cooling towers are 30 stories high.

Fort Martin Power Station will produce 1,080,000 kilowatts of electricity from the two units. Each of the units turn out 640,000 kilowatts.

The station is jointly owned by the three operating companies of the Allegheny Power System: Monongahela Power, West Penn Power and Potomac Edison, and by Duquesne Light Company in Pittsburgh. It will be operated by Monongahela Power.

Metal Can Best Weapon Anti Rats

The old-fashioned, metal garbage can—properly used—still provides the best protection against the invasion of rats.

In tests, rodents have chewed through so-called "double-duty" plastic cans now on the market, reported sanitarians attending the University of Maryland's Rat Control Workshop last in College Park

"The public must play its part in deterrinfg rats', agreed University entomologists, Baltimore City Health Department officials, and U. S. Interior Department representatives, who appeared on the Oct. 10 program.

This means:

Tightly covering garbage cans

Using bird feeders only on raised platforms.

Immediately removing uneaten pet food.

Thoroughly cleaning cellars, attics, and storerooms.

Permanently sealing or ripping out "dead spaces" —such as in your houses' double walls and under basement floors, enclosed staircases, boxed-in plumbing, and closed platforms.

Raising all lumber, pipes and other stored material at least two feet off the ground.

Closing openings in house foundations.

Replacing broken windows. Screening basement windows with a ¼ inch-mesh hardware cloth.

Advise Inspection Of Heating Plants

Inspecting the home heating plant early in October pays off in safety and economy, according to Fire Chief, Harold L. Schell, of the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department. The nation just concluded national fire prevention week

"Owners and renters alike ought to make furnaces and heaters their first priority home chore; it pays off in dollars, comfort and sometimes in lives saved", Chief Schell, suggested.

Overlooked and forgotten units need a check just as much as equipment used every day, he warned. Individual heaters in usually shut-off rooms, water-heaters and incinerators sometimes go unnoticed in a routine inspection.

Smokepipes leading into chimneys should be removed and inspected, the chief said After the pipe is removed, the chimney should be examined. Sky should be visible by direct visual check, or by using a hand mirror in the same way a gun barrel is inspected.

The fire chief offered the following check list for an eight-step home-heating inspection:

1. Be sure the heater is vented to a good chimney.
2. Open cleanout door below stovepipe and make sure debris does not block vent.
3. Be sure chimney is clear all the way up.
4. Make sure vent pipe from heater to chimney goes up, not down.
5. Use a safety thimble where the smoke pipe enters chimney. Seal opening with cement or plaster.
6. Be sure there is a supply of outside fresh air entering the room where heater is in use.
7. Don't use cookstove for room heating

Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Coddington, Accident, announce the engagement of their daughter, Judy Kay, to Roy P. Sexton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey J. Linkous, Bridgeport, West Virginia.

Miss Coddington, a 1966 graduate of Northern High School, is presently employed as a secretary for the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Hyattsville, Md.

Mr. Sexton, a 1965 graduate of Northern High School, is employed with S. J. Groves and sons Construction Co., at Bridgeport.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Honored at Service At Lewistown, Pa.

Doctor and Mrs. S. E. Wicker returned home late Monday afternon from Lewistown, Pennsylvania, where they attended festivities of the Centennial Commemoration of the Institution of the Lewistown Commandery No. 26 of Knights Templar on Saturday and Sunday, October 14 and 15.

They were guests of honor at the Anniversary Banquet on Saturday evening and Doctor Wicker preached the Centennial sermon to the Sir Knights and their Ladies, also to the members of the Business and Professional Women's Club, who were beginning an observance of their National Week, which began Sunday in the Saint John Lutheran Church, where he was pastor for more than 16 years.

During his pastorate at Lewistown, Doctor Wicker was instrumental in organizing a chapter of the Order of DeMolay for boys and a chapter of the Order of The Rainbow for girls.

The service marked the beginning of his 51st year in the Ministry of the Lutheran Church. He was ordained by the Synod of West Virginia in Trinity Church, Wheeling, on Sunday evening, October 14, 1917.

U. S. battle casualties in Vietnam number more than twice the Saigon regulars killed, as the U. S. takes on more initiative in the war.

Southern Speaks

By Arnold Miller

Included In Program

Southern High has been included in a nation-wide program to establish norms for a new standardized test put out by the Harcourt Brace and World Corp.

The ALP (analysis of learning potential) will be administered to the eighth and tenth grades by the guidance department.

Schools To Close

Maryland schools will be closed October 19 and 20 to allow teachers throughout the state to attend the annual MSTA (Maryland State Teachers' Association) convention in Baltimore.

The All-State Chorus will entertain the group and the public with a concert at the Friday meeting. Miss Barbara Colabrese, music instructor at Southern, assisted the two representatives, Mary Ann Helbig and Harrison Stewart, in their preparations to join the State chorus.

Mrs. Elizabeth Randol, Home Economics instructor will be included as a panel speaker, on the topic of "Child Development", at one of the assemblies.

Group Attends Play

Fifteen members of the Southern Speech Association attended an educational performance of Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice" in Morgantown on Saturday, October 14.

The play was given by the West Virginia University Dramatics department.

Miss Teets, Mr. Kight, and Mr. Posey accompanied the group to Morgantown. Numerous other trips have been planned for this year.

Observes Field Day

Fifty-eight members of the Oakland Chapter, Future Farmers of America, attended the annual Western Maryland Forestry Field Day, October 18 at the 4-H Center ni Bittinger.

Topic for the day was Soil and Water Conservation. Men from the United States Department of Agriculture and the Garrett County Forest Service discussed soil and water conservation with the people who attended.

There was a water testing demonstration where water from different streams in Garrett County was analyzed to tell whether the streams are safe, and what may be causing them to be unsafe. Teams from Southern and Northern competed in a tree identification contest. The winner of this contest received a trophy axe that the school may keep until the next field day.

The officers and a few members of the Oakland Chapter also plan to attend the Region 1 Leadership Training Conference at Northern High School, October 23.

Subscribe to The Republican.

Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Martin, of Oakland, announce the engagement of their daughter, Louise, to Jerry Lee Cannon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Yost, Jr., of Oakland.

Miss Martin is a graduate of Southern High School, class of 1967 and is now attending Catherman's Business School, Cumberland.

Mr. Cannon is a graduate of Southern High School, class of 1966. He is now employed at Thomas Big Key, Oakland.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Southern Hi PTA Features Discussion

"Parent-Pupil Communication" was the subject for discussion at the second PTA meeting of the school year at Southern High School, October 16.

A large group of parents, pupils, and teachers, turned out to view the movie, A Message To No One, and to take part in group discussions which followed the film. Each group of eight to twelve persons was guided in discussion by a questionaire which accompanied the film.

Variety of suggestions was given in answer to the question, "What is the main barrier to communication and understanding in your family?" Examples of comments from the groups are as follows: limited time schedules, varying interests of the members of the group, lack of mutual respect, preoccupation with each individual's problems, lack of a good parental example, and decisions made in haste.

One suggested remedy was respect for all individuals regardless of age.

The program was under the leadership of the president, the Rev. Owen Stultz.

President Stultz also was in charge of the business session. Dr. Alvin Friend led devotions. As of last night 144 members were reported by the membership committee. Others joined following the program.

It was also announced that the Defensive Driving course to be taught by Tfc. Lloyd I. Dunton will begin October 23.

Principal Robert F. Rodeheaver presented the School Philosophy which was composed by a committee of Southern staff members. This will be used for the school's evaluation in March.

GLADYS HARDESTY
vs.
LAWRENCE HARDESTY
Address Unknown
No. 5627 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to establish support payments for the minor children presently in the custody of the complainant.

The Bill recites that a Separation Agreement was entered into by the said complainant and the respondent on January 17, 1967; that custody of the four minor children was granted to the complainant, that the complainant is now unable to provide properly for the needs and maintenance of the said children on payments as made under said agreement and she seeks an increase of said payments.

It is thereupon this 3rd day of October, 1967, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ORDERED that the complainant, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 27th day of October, 1967, giving notice to the said absent respondent, Lawrence Hardesty, of the object and substance of the Bill of Complaint, and warning him to be and appear in this court, either in person or by solicitor, on or before the 27th day of November, 1967, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Driver Improvem't Course Scheduled

The Maryland State Police, in conjunction with the National Safety Council, is continuing a drive for students interested in voluntarily enrolling in a Driver Improvement Course.

Various civic organizations throughout Garrett County are responsible for the graduation of approximately 1,000 students who have completed this course thus far.

The course costs each person a $1.00 fee for the entire eight hours. All material is furnished by the instructor. The final course of this year will be conducted from October 23 through 26, by Tfc. Lloyd Dunton in Room 113 of Southern High School. The classes will begin at 7 p. m. and continue until 9 p. m. on each of the four evenings. To enroll and complete the course, each participant must attend the first class.

The itinerary includes the following subjects, along with a brief description:

Who's to Blame—the magnitude of the traffic accident problem.

The Practice of Defensive Driving—definition of defensive driving, with a standard accident prevention formula.

How to Avoid a Collision with the Vehicle Behind—the five elements of defensive driving, including your responsibilities to the driver behind.

How to Avoid an Intersection Collision—the meaning of "Preventability"; the right of way at unregulated intersections.

The Art of Passing and Being Passed—the dangers of being passed; the art of passing. The Mystery Crash—the non-collision, run-off-the-road type of accident; control and loss of control of a vehicle.

How to Avoid Other Common Types of Collisions—how to avoid collisions with pedestrians, fixed objects, trains, bicycles and animals.

Keyser High school trounced Southern High of Oakland last Friday afternoon at Keyser by a score of 40 to 0.

Quarterback Ed Petit, scored two touchdowns and passed for two more, and teammate Marty Yerkey scored twice, to pace the Keyser attack.

The Golden Tornadoes featured 14 for 22 in the passing department. It was the third triumph for Keyser against two losses. For the Southern Rams it was the third loss against three victories.

Keyser scored initially in the first period on a one-yard push. In the opening moments of the second quarter Tettenburn caught a pass and went over. Later in the quarter Keyser scored again on a 10-yard run.

The Golden Tornadoes dominated the entire game, finishing with a total offense of 474 yards, scored again the third period and later in the same quarter on another sneak. Yerkey's 43-yard scoring run in the final period capped the scoring of the home team.

Southern picked up 69 yards in rushing but lost 54, giving the Rams a total of 15 yards.

The Highlanders will attempt to get back into the winning column this Friday evening when they play Bruce High of Westernport on the home gridiron.

Some 18,200 faced the draft for December.

21 Are Killed On State Highways

Twentyone persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the State Police. Seven of those killed were drivers, eight were passengers, and six were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in seven of the deaths, speed in ten, and "driver error" in eighteen.

"During the first months of 1967 there was some indication that the number of Maryland highway deaths would not approach 1966's record-high figure", commented Lt. Col. George Davidson, Chief of Operations of the State Police. "Recently, however, the fatality rate has been climbing steadily and so far this year seventeen more persons have been killed than for the same period last year.

"Also, there seems to be little hope that the next two months will show any improvement in the fatality picture".

Lt. Col. Davidson concluded: 'The record speaks for itself. The situation is not good and it certainly won't correct itself. It is up to each driver to assume his individual responsibility to promote highway safety. Improvement won't be achieved any other way".

To Participate In Trip To The Holy Land

Rev. G. K. Hixon of Davis, W. Va., will be a participant in the first Christian convention in a United Jerusalem this fall

Delegates will include about 500 Christians from throughout the United States and Canada, 200 of them clergymen, coming from all mainline Protestant denominations. They will meet Nov. 1-3 in Jerusalem.

Among the subjects discussed in convention seminars will be the prophetic significance of the Jews taking over Jerusalem, in light of the claim that this is a direct fulfillment of a prophecy from Old Testament times.

The three day convention will be part of a 15-day tour through the Holy Land.

The tour includes visits to Tel Aviv, the excavations at Megiddo, the shrines at Nazareth, the Sea of Galilee, Haifa, Gaza, Bersheba and Bethlehem, also Athens, Greece.

Gas Co. Gets Home Economist

This area's newest Betty Newton is really Claudette M. Thornton.

Betty Newton is the name the gas company has given her which designates her as the area's home economist.

Claudette is a native of Brooklyn, N. Y. She will be available as Betty Newton to help customers of Columbia Gas of Maryland in Cumberland, Frostburg, Oakland, Lonaconing, LaVale, Westernport and other communities in Allegany and Garrett counties.

As Betty Newton, Claudette will have tips on care and use of gas appliances, laundering, and clothes drying, food preparation and meal planning and hints on how to get more for your food dollars.

Among Betty Newton's community activities are cooking classes for youth groups, assistance to schools in care and use of gas appliances, and assistance for new residents and newlyweds.

Betty Newton will be available for club activities, too, to help build membership and aid financial growth.

Claudette is a 1965 graduate of Drexel Institute of Technology (Philadelphia) with a B. S. degree in home economics.

Before joining Columbia Gas, Claudette was an assistant dietician with Stauffer Foods Corporation. She was also a senior food supervisor at Drexel Institute.

Off Dead Center . . .

Perhaps the Board of Public Works for the State of Maryland will get the college site question off dead center next Wednesday when its members are expected to be in the county.

It is our feeling that the County Commissioners are stepping beyond their responsibilities in trying to pick the place, and there is no indication that an agreement can be reached by them as to the site. We feel that the site selection was carefully investigated before the committee members made a recommendation and placed what they considered the best property under option. Later when the Board of Public Works said additional acreage would be necessary before it could approve the site, the additional acreage also was made available.

The County Commissioners passed a resolution shortly after the voters had approved the establishment of a college on June 12, and moved unanimously to establish a junior college in the county. The resolution indicated an agreement to provide the necessary funds.

Now there is indecision among the Commissioners as to the site location and their lack of agreement has set back the program by several months. We hope the Board of Public Works can get this problem resolved and provide action in getting the program underway.

Three Enter Guilty Pleas To Assault

State Dismisses Two Other Counts On Which It Failed To Convict

Three young men were sentenced in Garrett County Circuit Court in Oakland last Thursday afternoon by Associate Judge James S. Getty after they pleaded guilty to assaulting a 16-year-old Allegany County girl almost a year ago.

The three had been tried Wednesday on an indictment which charged them with raping the girl but the jury was unable to reach a verdict and was excused by Judge Getty.

Earl E. Manges, who represented the three defendants along with John C. Sullivan, Thursday agreed to have the three plead guilty to the third count of assault after the state agreed to dismiss the first two counts of rape and assault with intent to rape.

Before passing sentence on the three defendants Judge Getty stressed the seriousness of the offense. He also pointed out that two of the defendants were arrested in Pennsylvania early this year and charged with assault with intent to ravish a girl there. They are serving time now in a correctional institution in Camp Hill, Pa., and Judge Getty said their Maryland sentences would not start until they have finished serving the indeterminate Pennsylvania sentences which range from two to seven years.

Dalton Baine Garlock, 19, of Zihlman, was sentenced by Judge Getty to a term not to exceed three years with the place of incarceration to be determined by the state commissioner of corrections. Judge Getty pointed out that the Zihlman youth had appeared in Juvenile Court about four times before these two more serious charges were placed against him.

Ronald Stephen Garlock, 19, of Huntingdon County, Pa.; a cousin of the Zihlman boy, was given a sentence not to exceed two years at a place to be determined by the state commissioner of corrections. He had no previous record before these two charges.

Robert Frank Garlock, 22, also of Huntingdon County, Pa., and a brother of Ronald, was given a one-year suspended sentence and fined $250 and costs. Judge Getty noted that he had no previous record and was not involved with the other two

Gets Schlorarship

Aleta Jane Savage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey O. Savage, 808 "L" Street, Mt. Lake Park, Md., was recently awarded a Spangenberg Scholarship for $100.00 at Eastern Nazarene College, Wollaston, Mass.

Miss Savage was graduated from Southern High School, Oakland, in 1962. She was a member of the Band, Future Business Leaders of America, and assistant treasurer of the Student Council. She was a member of the Honor Roll, and received the Typist of the Year Award and the First Year Student Council Gift.

At Eastern Nazarene College she is a senior majoring in Elementary Education preparing to become a teacher. She is on the Dean's List, is a member of the Zeta Society, and Phi Delta Honor Society, and has received the Grossman Scholarship and Honor Scholarship.

Eastern Nazarene College is a fully accredited four year Liberal Arts College, sponsored by the Church of the Nazarene.

Christmas Savings Checks at $200,000

Checks from Christmas Savings clubs from Oakland banks and their several branches will total over $200,000 this year, some fifty thousand dollars greater than the previous year.

Checks are to be mailed early in November to some 2,000 depositors of the Garrett National Bank in Oakland and the First National Bank of Oakland.

Both banks increased their total amount this year both in number of depositors and total money involved.

The Garrett National Bank hopped from around $76,000 to over $101,000 and from 825 to 1,113 accounts; and the First National Bank increasing from $77,000 to over $101,284 and from 847 accounts to 1,229.

Final payments for the year are due this week. Both banks are announcing that new Christmas Savings clubs for next year may be started at any time but that the official beginning will be the middle of November.

Depositors may make as little as 25 cents per week or they will be accepted for $10 per week. Both bank have shown increases almost every year since the custom started years ago. Distribution throughout the United States will total over $2 billion and will be paid to more than 16 million Christmas club members.

A survey has shown that the total will be used for Christmas purchases, saving and investment, taxes, year-end bills and miscellaneous items.

November 15 Is Contest Deadline

The Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club contest to find a phrase to be put directly under the "Welcome to Oakland" signs will close Wednesday, November 15. Chilrren 18 years of age or under are eligible to participate.

Judges for the contest will be Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Mrs. Fred Thayer, and Harry Stemple. The Mayor and Town Council have agreed to award a $25 savings bond to the winner.

Slogans should be sent to Raymond McCutcheon, president of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions, before November 15.

Nearly 14,000 American men have been killed in Vietnam.

Farm Bureau Leaders Named

J. Wm. Umbel President; Goldstein Addresses Annual Meeting

J. William Umbel, dairy farmer of the Friendsville area, was elected president of Garrett County Farm Bureau, at the thirtieth annual meeting of the organization, in Grantsville, Thursday, Oct. 19. Mr. Umbel succeeds Cecil E. Bittinger, who declined re-nomination.

Gary Fratz, near Accident, was elected vice president.

Directors, elected for three year terms, include Herbert Harmon, Accident area; Arthur Lewellyn, Friendsville; Harley Brenneman, Grantsville; William Fitzwater, Deer Park; and A. Otis Riley, Oakland-Red House area.

Delegates chosen to attend the State meeting, in Baltimore, in January, are Gary Fratz, Wayne Hamilton, Harry Hummel, Clark Schlossnagle, and Parker Warnick. Alternate delegates are Elwood Sanders and John Beachy.

Mrs. B. O. Aiken, elected last year for a two year term, retains chairmanship of the Women's Committee. Mrs. Herbert Harmon was chosen vice-chairman.

Directors, for a three year term, are Mrs. Merrell Wilburn, Mrs. Emerson Bishoff, Mrs. Robert O. Glotfelty, Mrs. Robert Dodge, and Mrs. L. F. Schenk

Delegate to the State Convention is Mrs. Walter Margroff, and Mrs. Robert O. Glotfelty is alternate.

A "slate" of resolutions was proposed, discussed, revised, and passed as goals, or guides, for action during the ensuing year. As a summary of the resolutions, Garrett County Farm Bureau recommended: 1. That Farm Bureau shall exert influence upon Representatives and Senators to give more support to the farmer in the marketplace 2. That Congress shall reduce subsidies which are causing surpluses; 3. That a list of welfare recipients be a matter of public record, and be available to the public, 4. That Garrett County Farm Bureau oppose any further commercialization of the Sabbath; 5. That Farm Bureau shall urge delegates to the Maryland Consti-

Telephone Office Is Moving Monday

The business office of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Maryland will move its business office to the corner of Second and Alder streets in Oakland, effective next Monday.

It will occupy the site that housed the First National Bank until about two years ago. The bank building was purchased a few months ago by George McLaughlin, who leased most of the lower floor to the telephone company with the exception of the area occupied by Helbig's Jewelry store, and an area for Mr. McLaughlin's CPA office.

The area to be occupied by the telephone company has been remodeled to make an up-to-date telephone business office. The present office is located in the Gonder building on Second street where it has been since May 27, 1961. Formerly it had been located in the Maryland Theatre building, and prior to that in the Fazzalari building.

G. C. Crabtree, manager of the local office of the telephone company, said the change had been made in order to provide its customers with enlarged and more convenient facilities for handling telephone business matters. He asked that as of October 30 customers should direct all inquiries about telephone service, payment of accounts and other business matters to the new location. The office will be open Monday through Friday from 9 to 5.

The office will serve customers in the Oakland, Friendsville, Accident, Bittinger, Kitzmiller and Blaine areas.

Judith Ann Simpson, Southern High senior, has been accepted for admission to West Virginia Wesleyan college, Buckhannon. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen A. Simpson, 38 Lake Park. She plans to major in English, ZONE WINNER—Kevin Liller, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Liller, Oakland, displays a local trophy and zone trophy, the latter one won last Saturday at Clarksburg, W. Va. He competed against 12 other zone winners. He now moves this Saturday for district competition at South Park, Pittsburgh, and if a winner there he will move on to Detroit. Kevin was a winner in the nine-year division at Oakland in the "Punt, Pass and Kick" competition conducted by Shaffer Ford Sales and under supervision of Donald Savage, car salesman. Savage is shown with Kevin.

No Agreement Yet On College Site

There still was no agreement on a college site by the County Commissioners this week, while members of the site committee were still of the opinion that the selection of the site was not the responsibility of the county's elected officials.

They pointed out that Commissioners' responsibility ended when they passed a resolution agreeing to provide the necessary funds for construction to add to the $937,500 which the state of Maryland has agreed to provide.

At a meeting on Monday there were two motions made by County Commissioners. Although the Commissioners refuse to make their actions public until minutes are approved one week later, it was reliably learned that one commissioner made a motion to accept the Yoder farm as the site, which failed for want of a second. Another motion was made to accept the site of the Gerald Glotfelty property and the Robert O. Glotfelty and Claude Wagner pieces, which had previously been picked by the site committee but this motion also failed for want of a second.

The third commissioner still favored the White Face farm property but did not put his desires in the form of a motion. He later told people he had learned that the hospital board, which owns the White Face Farm, would agree to sell. No price was quoted. It was stated last week that the White Face farm was not suitable for the acreage needed.

Maryland's Board of Public Works members are to come to the county next Wednesday in an attempt to resolve the location of the Junior college, it was learned yesterday.

There was come clarification of the acreage of the site originally agreed upon.

An option to purchase 28 acres from Gerald H. and Helen A. Glotfelty for the sum of $25,000. There was $500 paid

County To Return To Standard Time

Garrett County residents will lose that "extra" hour of daylight at 2 a. m. this Sunday morning, as the county returns to Eastern Standard Time. Residents are reminded to turn their clocks back one hour before retiring for the night, lest they find themselves arriving an hour early for church services on Sunday.

The county will join all other counties in Maryland for the return to standard time from the six-month period of daylight-saving time. Thanks to a law signed by President Johnson, any area using daylight time in 1966 must apply it from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October. Daylight time is now applied uniformly throughout the nation except in those states whose legislatures have exempted themselves from the ruling.

There will be no change in the Baltimore and Ohio train schedule until Sunday morning, November 5, it was announced this week.

The present time schedule: train 32, 3:01 a. m.; train 12, 5:38 p. m.; train 11, 12:33 p. m.; train 31, 11:07. When the area returns to standard time, the schedule for the one week will read 2:01, 4:38, 11:33 and 18:07 respectively for the four trains,

Child Undisturbed After Being Lost

Little Stephen Bittinger seems unaware of the excitement he caused Monday afternoon by taking a "walk" down one of the logging trails located off the Underwood Road. His aunt, Mrs. John McKenzie, with whom the two-year-old child is staying, discovered his absence, and began searching nearby places, thinking he had only gone out to the yard to play.

After approximately one-half hour of searching, other members of the family started looking. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Graham, their neighbors, also helped.

John McKenzie, Stephen's uncle found the child after he had been gone one and one-half hours, strolling along, unhurt and unfrightened.

Judge Hamill Hears Two Juvenile Cases

Eight male juveniles from the Table Rock area were tried in Juvenile Court before Associate Judge Stuart Hamill Tuesday on charges of malicious destruction of property. Seven of the youths, one aged 13, two, 14, two, 15; and two 16, pleaded guilty to the charge, while the one 17-year-old put in a plea of not guilty.

Deputy Sheriff John Evans, Jr., who investigated the case, told the court that some 40 windows had been broken out of the Table Rock Inn, located at the junction of Route 50 and the Table Rock road. The Inn is owned by Joseph Shockey, a Virginia resident.

Judge Hamill handed down a decision of probation without verdict in the case. The boys were placed under the supervision of the Garrett County Department of Juvenile Services for an indeterminate length of time. The youths were also ordered to obey their parents, attend school regularly, and assist in cleaning up the Table Rock Inn.

One 13-year-old female from Kitzmiller was also brought into Court on Tuesday on charges of violation of her probation. The girl had originally been placed on probation for being "ungovernable and running away from home".

She was placed on continued probation after a warning administered by Judge Hamill.

FFBL Banquet Set For This Evening

The annual Farming For Better Living banquet will be held tonight, October 26, in the Southern High School cafetorium. Members of the Rotary Club have been invited to attend, along with the regular members of the FFBL.

Frank L. Bentz, vice president of the University of Maryland for Agricultural Affairs, is slated to be the speaker. Mr. Bentz has written numerous articles on agricultural extension, and is active in the Advisory Council for Higher Education Facilities Act to the Board of Public Works. He is also a member of the subcommittee of the Maryland advisory council for higher education.

Special recognition will be given at the banquet to those families who have been members since the FFBL began 20 years ago, and a winning family for 1967 will be named.

The unemployment rate rose to 4.1 per cent in Sept.

1 Liquor Permit Revoked; Two Are Suspended

Two Cases Postponed As One Takes Appeal

One liquor law violator will have his license revoked for two years, two others will have their licenses suspended for twenty-one days and two decisions were postponed in two insances, according to information released by the Liquor Control Board of the county, following a meeting on Friday, October 20.

The decisions were unanimous in all cases by Stewart F. Stahl, chairman; Lewis C. Hutson and William D. Casteel, co-chairmen of the board.

The decisions involved the following:

Shirley A. Durr, Mt. Top Restaurant, Class "B" beer, wine and liquor license revoked for a period of two years, beginning November 1. Mandatory revocation of a license is required for a violation of Article 2B, Section 69, Annotated Code of Maryland.

J. P. Thayer, Thayer's Barn, class "B" beer, wine and liquor license be suspended for a period of twenty-one days, beginning November 1, for violation of the article 2B.

McCaffrey J. Smith, Stonehenge Inn, class "B" beer, wine and liquor license be suspended for a period of twenty-one days beginning November 1.

John C. Keister, Rustic Inn, decision postponed on this violation until Friday, October 27. Keister pleaded guilty to two charges of after hours sale of alcoholic beverages, and was fined $200 and costs on each conviction, hut one fine was suspended.

The hearing on the conviction of Donald Drees, who operates Don's Place, was postponed because of an appeal taken to the Maryland Court of Appeals. Drees had entered a plea of not guilty to an indictment which had three counts to it, including sale of beer to a minor, furnishing beer to a minor and permitting consumption of beer on the premises by a minor. A motion for dismissal of the first count was granted. Judge Stuart F. Hamill found him guilty on the third count and he was fined $50 and costs.

Dr. Elmer L. Hill Appointed Acting Health Officer

Dr. Elmer L. Hill, Deputy State Health Officer in Allegany County was appointed as Acting Deputy State Health Officer in Garrett County effective September 25, 1967.

Dr. Hill came to Allegany County in January, after 25 years in the U. S. Public Health Service, where he was serving as Chief of the Training Resources Branch.

A native of Texas, Dr. Hill spent his early life in Missouri and Kansas, where he earned a bachelors and masters degree in bacteriology, as well as his medical degree. He then attained his Masters Degree in Public Health at Columbia University.

The first of 10 different assignments during his 25 year career in the Public Health Service was as Health Officer in Orange, Texas. Other assignments included work in epidemiological research, and a variety of public health practices.

Woman Burned In Her Bed At Gorman Home

A woman was painfully burned and a room in back of Skeweris' Restaurant near Gormania damaged by fire Tuesday afternoon. The fire apparently was caused by a short circuit in an electric blanket.

The woman, Mrs. Hazel Marie Kyle, 50, wife of Charles Kyle, was in bed at the time and suffered burns to her back, chest and face. She was rushed to Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland where her condition was reported as fair.

The Gorman fire company answered the alarm and called the Oakland department to assist.

Preliminary Assessment On "Con Con" Given

Picture Given Of Constitutional Convention Activities

A preliminary assessment of what the final document, the new constitution of Maryland, will contain, is contained in a report this week from William W. Grant, the Garrett County representative to the Constitutional convention now meeting in Annapolis. His report follows:

The Constitutional Convention is scheduled to run for three months. With six weeks gone by, it is possible to make a preliminary assessment of what the final document may look like in general and its effect on Garrett County in particular.

The Convention was divided into committees which subsequently heard from hundreds of witnesses from all over Maryland and experts from all over the United States. The legislative Committee heard from the members of the General Assembly. The Local Government Committee heard from the mayors, county commissioners, and from special authorities such as the Metropolitan Transit Authority. The Judicial Committee heard from the Clerks of the Court, Registers of Wills, Sheriffs, State's Attorneys, etc. Other committees such as Executive, Finance, Election, etc., heard from witnesses in those fields. The bulk of the hearings have now been concluded and the actual drafting has been started, subject to being debated by the delegates as a whole.

The counties as now constituted will probably be retained as the basic unit of government, having all powers

Bank Resources Over $37 Million

The two bank statements reporting on the condition of the First National Bank of Oakland, and the Garrett National Bank of Oakland show an increase of more than two million dollars since October of 1966.

First National Bank showed resources of $21,972,602.60, an increase of one million, seven hundred thousand over the past year. The Garrett National had resources of $15,471,893.30, an increase of one million, four hundred thousand over the previous year.

Last week's statement showed First National bank with deposits of $20,103,216.07; a surplus fund of $650,000; undivided profits of $232,440.71; and reserves of $23,373.12. The Garrett bank had deposits of $15,471,893.30, surplus funds totaling $700,000, undivided profits of $115,394.93 and reserves of $71,851.39.

The First has branch offices at Friendsville, McHenry and Grantsville. The Garrett has branch offices at Accident, Bloomington and Kitzmiller.

There is a branch of the Liberty Trust Company of Maryland, Cumberland, in Grantsville The Trust company has resources of over $42 million but a breakdown of these figures showing the amount of resources at Grantsville is not possible. It was estimated the amount would be at least $6 million dollars, giving the county banks a total of $43 million dollars.

Receives Commission

David Burdock, a graduate of Southern High School, attended Frostburg College for three years, graduated from Pittsburgh Institute of Mortuary Science and was employed by Ruck's Funeral Home in Baltimore before entering the service. Lt. Burdock took his basic training at Fort Jackson, South Carolina, his medical training at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Texas and entered OCS at Fort Benning, Georgia.

Lt. Burdock completed school on October 5 and was awarded his second Lieutenant bars in the infantry at a ceremony in the 10 million dollar academic building on the base.

Attending the presentation were Mrs. Clarence Rollman and Miss Kay Morris.

Lt. Burdock reported on October 24, at Fort Knox, Kentucky for further duty.

Lions Conclude Hallowe'en Plans

The Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club has completed final plans for its annual Hallowe'en event. This year's parade, scheduled for Monday at 7 p. m., will follow the same route as last year. It will begin on Fourth Street, between Oak and Alder, then proceed on Oak to Third, and from Third to Second by way of Center street. The paraders will then circle the business district twice.

Various games and concession stands will be set up along Second street, which will be barricaded to all traffic other than pedestrian. Balloon vendors will be placed all along the parade route. The traditional cake walk with many cakes to be given out, will be featured again this year, after the parade.

Approximately 75 prizes will be handed out to the winners of the costume divisions. These prizes were put on display last Monday in the windows of the Monongahela Power Company.

Chairmen for the various committees include Robert Stanton, parade; Bob Gibson, cake walk; Courtney Tusing, finance; Tom Kuhn, popcorn; Charles Briner, publicity; Richard Davis, stands; Dave Cosgray, balloons; Tom Cain, prizes. Jim Crabtree and Paul DeWitt are co-chairmen of the lighting committee, while Art Calhoun and Bill Naylor head the food stand committee.

Although attendance varies from year to year, depending upon the weather conditions, the usual turnout is anywhere from 400 to 500 persons.

It was announced Tuesday that two $25 U. S. Savings bonds would be given away. They are being awarded by the First National and Garrett National banks.

Each contestant in the parade will be given a ticket before the parade starts and the savings bonds will be awarded at the conclusion of the procession, on Second street.

Game Commission Sets Doe Season For Mid-December

The Game and Inland Fish Commission has voted to have an anterless deer season throughout Maryland on December 15 and 16.

The Commission also voted to give Game and Inland Fish officials authority to cancel the season if the deer kill during the regular deer season is great enough.

The anterless deer season recommended by wildlife management specialists, has been controversial among hunters in Western Maryland.

The commission, after authorizing the season, approved a motion by H. E. Wibberly, Hagerstown, to require Bernard F. Halla, Game and Inland Fish biologist, to submit a report on the deer kill during the regular season by December 8 and to authorize the department to cancel the regular deer season if the kill is great enough.

The reason this anterless deer season was recommended is that wildlife managers feel there are more deer than the land can carry through the winter in healthy condition They feel there is a need to reduce the deer herd more than is being done through the regular deer season, and they feel that an anterless deer season is the way to do it.

Regular deer season is November 24 through December 2

In other business, the Game and Inland Fish Commission voted to keep fishing seasons the same as last year; to forbid the placing of bait or feed

Your Federal Income Tax

The Republican, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service, Baltimore District, will publish each week in this column, tax information that will enable taxpayers to become more familiar with the Federal income tax laws. CLIP AND SAVE FOR FUTURE REFERENCE.

Questions And Answers

Q. I own a small business and had to file several tax returns. I just got a refund check and I'm not sure what it's for. How can I find out?

A. This year refund checks are identified by class and period of tax. For example, refunds on individual income tax are identified as TAX REF while corporation income tax refunds are identified as CORP REF. This identification appears at the right of the check just under the amount. Employment and excise taxes are also identified.

The period covered by the check, either a year or quarter, is shown at the left of the check under the date the check was issued.

A close examination of your check, therefore, will show which tax it covers and the period involved.

Q. I am planning to set up a neighborhood service business during school vacation this summer. I will mow lawns, wash windows, etc. Will I be taxed on what I make?

A. You will have to file an income tax return if your earnings are $600 or more for the year. You also may be liable for self-employment tax if your net earnings from the jobs you do are $400 or more.

Keep a record of what you are paid and your expenses for equipment, supplies and so forth. This will help you determine whether you earned enough from this and other sources to be required to pay taxes.

Q. Whenever there's a big daily double payoff at the track you read stories in the paper about the IRS wanting the winner's Social Security number. Could you explain this to me?

A. Information requested from winners at the race track is the same as that asked for by payers of dividends and interest. The winner is required to properly identify himself so that the track can file an information return showing the amount paid and the name and the Social Security number of the taxpayer. This information can then be compared with what the taxpayer reports on his return.

Q. In a divorce, does it make any difference whether payments a man makes to his former wife are considered alimony or child support?

A. Yes it does from a tax standpoint. If the payments qualify as alimony they will be deductible to the payer and taxable to the recipient. If the payments are considered child support, they will not be deductible by the payer and will not be counted as taxable income to his former wife. However, they will count as support in determining who may claim the children as dependents.

Q. I have two minor grandchildren who have inherited some money from a great-uncle. The money is deposited in accounts in a bank and the bank, under a court order, is trustee of the accounts. The grandchildren may not make any withdrawals from the accounts until they are 21 years old. However, the children's father may ask the court for permission to make withdrawals for expenditures for their support. Is the interest credited to these accounts taxable before the children reach the age of 21?

A. Yes, the interest credited to these accounts is taxable each year, but not to the grandchildren. It is taxable to the trustee unless it is distributed to the children's father for their support, in which case it is taxable to him. However, if there is a separate trust for each child and if the interest income of each trust is $100 or less each year, there will be no Federal income tax to pay, since the trust is entitled to an exemption deduction of $100 and the trust would have no taxable income which could be taxed to it or to the children's father.

Q. Do you pay interest on refunds that are delayed in getting out?

A. Yes, the government pays interest on refunds that are not issued within 45 days of the due date or the date filed whichever is later. The interest is at a 6 percent annual rate, the same rate taxpayers are charged on unpaid tax balances.

Q. How does the average taxpayer make out when he takes a dispute he has over an audit of his return to a district conference?

A. In about 65 percent of district conference cases, the taxpayer is able to settle the dispute satisfactorily.

Q. Is there any tax advantage in having stock listed in both the husband's and the wife's name?

A. Yes there may be. If the stock qualifies, each owner is entitled to receive up to $100 in tax free dividends.

Therefore, if all stock is jointly owned, up to $200 in dividends may be excluded from income. However, if all the stock is owned by one spouse, the exclusion is limited to $100.

Q. Can I take any deduction for the exhibit I'm putting in for my store at the county fair?

A. Yes, expenses connected with your fair exhibit may be deducted as a business expense.

Lineman Of The Week

John Hoffman, senior student at Woodstown High school in New Jersey, was named lineman of the week recently in that town as the result of a football victory over rival Gloucester High 33 to 20.

The Kenny club in Camden had him as luncheon guest with his coach. Young Hoffman was a standout in the game.

A top student Hoffman is president of the Key club, active in 4-H club affairs and captain of the Chestnut Run Swim team. He will be 17 years old on Monday and is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hoffman, former Oakland residents. He recently was awarded a trip to Kentucky by the Kiwanis club of Woodstown. He expects to enter Penn State university next fall.

Important Hallowe'en Safety Tip

We agree! October 31st is a lot of fun for the kids who want to dress up for the big night in their Hallowe'en costumes. But why take the chance that this fun might turn into a fiery disaster when you can easily do something which will make these costumes at least fire-resistant? All you have to do is thoroughly mix 7 ounces of borax, 3 ounces of boric acid and 2 quarts of water and then dip the costume(s) in this solution. Granted, this will be bound to stiffen the material, but it will also give it definite fire-resistant capability. A little time and effort, true, but a lot of peace of mind for the loving trouble you've gone to.

All costumes sold by Englander's Pharmacy have been fireproofed by the manufacturer before acceptance by this store. However, for home-made costumes, non-fireproofed ones, it is urged that they be fireproofed.

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
President—National Education Program
Searcy, Arkansas

Would you believe that the custodians of America's national security have permitted Soviet Russia to draw ahead of the USA in H-bomb striking power capability? They have! Did you know that Russia has an H-bomb missile defense but that the USA Defense Department has blocked the deployment of our Nike-X defense system, which, in a nuclear war, could save perhaps 100 million American lives? It's the truth! Are you aware that the US has cut back on the manufacture of fissionable material (H-bomb power) while the Soviet Union has multiplied her production? This is true!

Would you believe that under our present defense policy, the Soviet Union by 1971 will have a deliverable H-bomb power three times greater than the USA? On the basis of unclassified information gathered by a distinguished group of military experts and nuclear scientists all the above unbelievable facts and conclusions have been published in a shocking report.

The carefully documented 103-page report is entitled: "The Changing Strategic Military Balance — U.S.A. vs U.S.S.R." It was prepared by the National Strategy Committee of the American Security Council, a private research organization, at the request of the House Armed Services Committee. The 18-member Strategy Committee included the immediate past heads of the most strategic military services in our nation, together with such well-known leaders as General Curtis E. LeMay, General Albert C. Wedemeyer, Admiral Felix B. Stump; and scientists such as Dr. Edward Celler, "father of the H-bomb".

Reading the report is a chilling experience. The 18 experts emphasized in their report that the statistics on armament which they amassed (with the aid of the Library of Congress) are unclassified. They had no access to classified information. Yet, they declared significantly:

"The preponderance of evidence points to the conclusion that the Soviet Union is succeeding in its massive drive toward strategic military superiority and that the United States is cooperating in this effort by slowing down its side of the arms race".

The summation of the report's presentation of statistical evidence justified the following observation: "For 1971, it appears that a massive megatonnage gap will have developed. (One megaton has the power of one million tons of TNT.) U. S. delivery capability is estimated to range between 6,000 megatons and 15,000 megatons, whereas the estimated high for the Soviet delivery capability is 50,000 megatons, and the projection of the established Soviet range-curve indicates a low figure for the Soviets of approximately 70,000 megatons". Thus Soviet Russia would have a destructive capability two or three times greater than the U. S. in three years.

On the basis of the Security Council report, the American people find themselves in a position of swiftly becoming vulnerable to a mammoth Soviet first-strike attack. Why? Because President Johnson, Defense Secretary McNamara and Secretary of State Rusk, undoubtedly influenced by policy advisors preaching "detent" with the U.S.S.R., have begun the unilateral disarmament of the USA as a "gesture" of good will towards the Kremlin bosses. The key foreign policy advisors have been Walt W. Rostov and Jerome B. Wiesner, both college professors who say that we should trust the Soviets and that by unilaterally disarming, the U.S.A. will induce the Communist juggernaut to cooperate for "peace".

Members Attend Agway Meet

Local members attended the third annual meeting of Agway Inc., in Syracuse last week. Agway President Jonathan Davis reported that membership in the farmer-owned cooperative has reached 99,009.

Attending the meeting from this area were Roscoe Swiger, Oakland; Raymond Bender, Accident; and Norman Bender, Salisbury.

A highlight of the meeting was an address by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

Also on the program was David J. Mosher of Greenwich, N. Y., recently named National Star Farmer by the Future Farmers of America.

Agway showed gains in feed sales, up 5,000 tons; petroleum products, up nearly 28 million gallons; hardware sales up more than $2 million; and farm chemicals, up $800,000.

Child Smashes Finger While Attending School

Twelve-year-old Boyd Johnson won't be playing any rough and tumble games for a while, after having a door slammed on his hand.

Boyd, a student at Southern High, was at school when the accident occurred on Wednesday, October 18. He sustained a badly smashed right middle finger.

The boy is a foster child of Mr. and Mrs. Walt Peterson, of Route 1, Oakland.

not specifically denied to them by the Constitution or specifically withdrawn from all the counties by the General Assembly. Local legislation would hereafter be enacted by the County government and subject to a referendum by the people of that county. This would be a reversal of the present practice where a County government has only those powers expressly given to it by the General Assembly and where the General Assembly is enacting local legislation. In addition, a mandatory referendum will probably be required before a county can be merged with another county.

The present Circuit Court for each county will probably be retained, but will be known as the Superior Court. The present Trial Magistrates' Court will probably be replaced by a Court with a full time judge, to be known as the District Court. Each county will have one or more District Courts. Since the number of Courts is based on population, Garrett County will probably only have one.

The make-up of the Legislature is undecided, since the U. S. Supreme Court decision of "one man, one vote" has caused an unworkable situation. Whatever their opinions prior to the Convention, probably a majority of the delegates now believe that every county needs to have one individual representative. How to give an individual delegate to one of the sparsely populated counties without giving ten unwanted extra delegates to Baltimore and the big suburban counties is the problem. The Supreme Court has already ruled out "weighted voting" and residential requirements.

The 1867 Convention provided for a number of state officers to be elected in each county, such as Sheriff, etc. The proposed draft by the Constitutional Commission eliminated all elective offices except the Governor. The new Constitution will probably provide once again for certain of these offices, but may have some of them, such as the State's Attorney, elected on a non-partisan basis similar to the manner in which Judges are now elected.

Magistrate Hears Two Criminal Cases

Only two criminal cases were up before Trial Magistrate Robert Maroney last week.

Harold Walter Crawford pleaded not guilty to charges of breaking and entering and grand larceny. Tfc. D. E. Tharp stated that Crawford forcibly entered the home of Nellie Rosenberger, in Finzel, and stole goods in excess of $100. Crawford was found guilty, and is being held for grand jury action. Bond was set at $500.

Annabell Tusing was charged by Charles A. Thomas with passing a worthless check for $4. That claim was settled October 20.

SWANTON

Makes Apple Butter

The Swanton Youth Fellowship had its 5th annual apple butter making last week. The group drove to Hancock last Thursday and picked the apples. On Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Rhodes they were peeled and cut, with the help of adults. Early Saturday two large copper kettles were placed over fires and the cooking and stirring began. Jars were washed, meals prepared, wood chopped. Each person took turns stirring. YF members after the evening meal attended a rally in Oakland and returned for pancakes, applebutter and cream. Approximately 16 gallons was the yield. This is sold for the Youth fellowship camp fund.

for the option. A second option fee of $500 was paid June 19, 1967. Option money paid was to be credited to the cost of each individual tract. An option for the Robert L. and Marion L. Glotfelty property of apporximately 5 acres was obtained on December 6, 1966. Purchase price of this was $1,325 per acre. The option of $100 was paid and renewed June 19 for $100.

The additional acreage required became available from Claude W. Wagner and Daisy B. Wagner, of 38.28 acres, for $1,000 per acre.

This makes a total of $69,875 for 71.28 acres, it was pointed out. Hubert A. Friend, county commissioner, also pointed out that the Yoder farm fronted on the Mosser road, and not the Bumble Bee road, which was an improved highway, and immediately adjoined the Wagner tract. The price on the Yoder farm of 160 acres was put at $55,000.

The next move has not been determined.

Mrs. Kyle operated the restaurant while her husband is employed by the DelSignore interests. The building is owned by Isadore Skeweris, and is located near Fort Pendleton, along U. S. Route 50. The damage to the one bedroom was listed as considerable.

Attempted Arson Charged

A second call as the result of a bed fire was answered by the Oakland firemen about 11:30 Tuesday night, when a bed in an apartment in a home on G street in Mt. Lake Park, was ignited. The apartment was occupied by Nelson Carper, 49. The mattress on the bed was damaged. Carper was arrested on a charge of attempted arson and at a preliminary hearing before Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney yesterday morning was held for action of the Grand Jury. On a charge of being drunk and disorderly the man was found guilty and sentenced to serve ten days in the county jail.

DIED

ANDREW J. THOMAS

Andrew J. Thomas, 89, formerly of McHenry, died Thursday, October 19 at the Oak Rest Nursing Home, Oakland.

Born in Preston County, W. Va., he was a son of the late Alexander and Sarah Ann (Fearer) Thomas. He was a member of the McHenry Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Surviving are three sons, Charles Thomas, McHenry; Burton Thomas, Akron, Ohio; and Jess Thomas, Ligonier, Pa.; a stepson, Claude Fike, Addison, Pa.; three daughters, Mrs. Lula Mimna, Mrs. Sarah DeWitt and Mrs. Faye Blair, all of Ligonier, 16 grandchildren and a number of great-grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Newman Funeral Home in Friendsville. Services were conducted Saturday at 2 p. m. from the McHenry EUB Church by Rev. George Simpson. Burial was in Sand Spring Cemetery.

Winter-Like Blasts Chill the Fall Air

Old Man Winter doesn't exactly have us in his spell, but he's lurking close enough to blow us some cold blasts of air every now and then.

Last Thursday began with 35 degree temperatures, and heavily shrouded skies which occasionally let fall some snow flurries. However, the "shrouds" disappeared during the late afternoon to let a watery sun peek out. Friday's temperature was a chilly 28, although by 1:30 the mercury had risen to 51. Skies were clear and sunny.

Saturday and Sunday both began with heavy frost, which soon melted under the warmth of the sun. Both days saw warm temperatures, although Saturday's were tempered with some breezeiness.

Monday dawned with a chilly 24 degree reading, due in part to the clear skies. At noon, the mercury had risen to a welcome 65, and later in the afternoon, the thermometer registered 8. Tuesday was a repetition of the day before, although the temperature only dropped to 28, with a high of 64.

Wednesday brought rain in the morning hours, with a 46 degree temperature. Clearing skies in the afternoon caused temperatures to drop; a reading of 43 at 5 p. m. was noted. Today began with strong winds and cloudy skies, with a just-above-freezing temperature of 33.

Legal Questions Occur in Trial Of Gary Miller

Two Allegany County Circuit Court judges are expected to decide today whether to admit a statement the state says Gary Lee Miller gave when he was questioned about the May 28 slaying of Judy Lee Ziegler.

Julius E. Schindler, representing the 17-year-old defendant, challenged the admissibility of a statement made by Miller after being questioned a second time by police authorities, which Miller had refused to sign. Schindler also challenged the procedure of the police, saying that although they had advised the boy of his constitutional rights, this warning was nothing more than "a ritualistic performance" and was absolutely meaningless when the boy was being held "incommunicado". The boy did not ask to see his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Miller, until about 8:50 p. m., on the Monday of his arrest.

Miss Amy Ellen Robinson, 54, who resides near the spot where the body of Miss Ziegler was found, testified that she had heard screams and a voice cry, "I'm going to die", on the night Miss Ziegler was murdered. She and Mrs. Mary Lou Thorpe, who was visiting in the area investigated about 9:30 a. m., after Miss Robinson had worried all night about the outcries she had heard. The ladies were walking along the Hoffman Road in the Butternut Hollow section near Eckhart when they saw the body. Dr. Benedict Skitarelic, deputy medical examiner, said death was caused by numerous crushing blows with rocks against the skull. There were also numerous lacerations about the head, neck and arms. Dr. Skitarelic testified that the girl had not been sexually molested.

Miller possessed a linoleum-cutting knife with a hooked blade, which was found at the scene.

State's attorney Donald Mason traced Miller's activities on the night of the murder, saying that he had been seen hitch-hiking to Frostburg on the day of the murder. About 10 p. m. he started back home and was seen walking along the Finzel Road and also later seen near the state line. About midnight, a Corvair similar to the one owned by Miss Ziegler stopped in front of a residence and picked up a person. A Corvair was also seen being driven along Route 40 about 2:45 a. m., this time operated by a male.

Miss Ziegler's car was later found submerged in the Elk Lick Rod and Gun Club Dam, a stick wedged between the dashboard and the accelerator.

CAPITOL COMMENT

by

Charles "Mac" Mathias

Congressman, 6th District, Maryland

Should Taxes Be Raised Now?

One of the great preoccupations of America in this autumn season is of course the President's request for an increase in Federal taxes. This request plagues not only the Members of Congress who will have to act on it initially, but also the businessmen and families who may have to pay additional taxes retroactively or make allowances for greater future tax deductions. All governmental officials, at every level, are also concerned, since the amount of Federal funds available for the programs they administer will be directly affected by the decision on taxes.

I would be less than candid with you if I did not report that those with expert economic knowledge — the economists, the bankers, the money managers, the economists and industrial leaders — who have testified before Congress on this question have stated almost unanimously that from a fiscal point of view the nation needs the surtax. This is not just a question of providing additional revenues to offset a massive deficit. It also bears on such complex questions as tight money, interest rates and the availability of credit, and the presence or absence of inflationary pressures in the economy. This is one side of the debate.

The other side of the debate is not so much a question of economics as it is a question of people. In my mailbag, day after day, I receive many letters from constituents protesting the tax increase. Recently I quoted in this newsletter the comments of one constituent whose husband had discovered that despite a salary increase, his net income had dropped this year because local, state and social security taxes have gone up. She and many other Americans are wondering out loud just where additional Federal taxes would come from, and this a very legitimate concern.

But an equally fundamental question now, in addition to where the additional taxes will come from, is where they will go — how the money will be used by this Administration. Having thought a great deal about this aspect of the current debate, I have concluded that the great national resistance to a tax increase is more than just a taxpayers' revolt on economic grounds. Rather, this resistance appears to be based to a great extent on public failure to comprehend and support the public programs which the government is now promoting. Thus the opposition to the surtax, an opposition which is persistent and extremely widespread, is a measure of the gap between the Administration's proposals and the American people's understanding of and support for those proposals.

Under these circumstances, I cannot help concluding that for the Congress to act now, in the absence of national support for a tax increase and public understanding of the need for and purpose of the surtax, would be extremely divisive and unwise. I feel that the country is too divided already, and that we need to promote unity rather than further fragamentation. Thus, notwithstanding the advice of the financial experts, I think that until there is a major change in the national atmosphere, the Congress should not act upon the surtax proposal.

Aurora - Eglon

The Rev. W. L. Teets, who was a patient in Garrett County Memorial hospital, Oakland, returned to his home at Eglon.

Theodore Rembold, of Aurora, is a patient in the Preston Memorial hospital, Kingwood.

Mrs. Zora Shipe, who had vacationed for the past six weeks at Niagara Falls, parts of Canada, in the Baltimore area and Winchester, returned Sunday to her home at Eglon.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Garold Stemple, Aurora, recently, were Mrs. Stemple's three sisters, Mrs. Lonnie Robinson, Miami, Fla.; Mrs. Pauline Gillis and granddaughter, Asheville, N. C., and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bertram and children, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Charged With Neglect

A former local man was remanded to the custody of the Commissioner of Correction for one year, in Allegany county on Monday on a charge of neglect of four minor children following a hearing in Juvenile court.

Judge Harold E. Naughton found James B. Coffey, 91 Henderson avenue, Cumberland, guilty of the charge. It was noted Coffey had made four previous appearances before the court.

The man formerly resided in Oakland.

Farm Bureau

tutional Convention to support the resolution which provides that no county shall have less than one member in the Maryland House of Delegates; 6. That there be regulations designed for control of commercial sprayer operators who apply herbicides and insecticides.

Although the annual membership dues have been increased by fifty per cent, the number of members enrolled this year has declined by only ten families. Officers of the organization express hope that a few more families may still enroll.

As Rankin Lusby, Executive Secretary of Maryland Farm Bureau, who served as chairman of the meeting, explained, the present expanded Farm Bureau program gives more advantages per dollar spent for dues than has been realized in many years.

Prayer was given by William Umbel. Mrs. Clark Schnossnagle, led singing with her daughter, Linda, at the piano.

Mrs. Aiken, also a State Director of the women's group, representing the four counties of Western Maryland, spoke for both her County and her State Organization. Mrs. Aiken, in reporting the activities of her committee, stressed the work being done with young people by introducing Bonnie Buckel, Youth Power delegate to a national congress in Chicago; Valory Durst, Garrett County's Dairy Princess; and Linda Schmidt, Garrett County Farm Queen.

Cecil Bittinger, president, discussed various activities in which Farm Bureau has been engaged.

The principal speaker, introduced by Mr. Aiken, was Louis L. Goldstein, Comptroller of the Treasury, who spoke on "Personal Observations on the Needs of Rural America".

Mr. Goldstein explained that the long continuing process of mechanization of American Agriculture has caused a tremendous reduction in the ural population. He stressed the fact that reduction in the rural population from farm to city has not only meant great loss of valuable persons from the rural area; but that in too many cases the rural person is not trained, or prepared, to accept life in the city. "What we need is an urban-rural balance that will prevent the cities from destroying themselves", said Goldstein.

"Appreciate your county, and take advantage of your educational facilities. Your State is offering to help you build the only regional community college, located in one county, that has ever been proposed in Maryland. By making our countyside a more inviting alternative to city life, we may be able to arrange so that our leadership will remain at home instead of drifting to the city. Our educational facilities must work toward training and retraining people to take advantage of the opportunities afforded them".

"The time is at hand when a concerted effort by energetic and visionary groups such as the Farm Bureau, and concerned citizens like yourselves must act in partnership to create, and grasp, these better opportunities for rural America".

"What we are is God's gift to us; what we make of ourselves is our gift to God", concluded Mr. Goldstein.

The Atomic Realities

Reports from Geneva that the United States and the Soviet Union are near agreement on a draft treaty for banning the spread of atomic weapons are more likely to confuse and mislead the American people than mark a solid gain for the cause of peace and freedom.

The draft treaty reportedly would bar the five nuclear powers from transferring nuclear weapons to nations that do not have them. It also would prevent the nuclear powers from assisting other nations in the production of nuclear weapons.

It is impossible to see what the U. S. would gain from such an agreement, though it is obvious that the U. S. would lose an important measure of freedom. One of the loopholes in the NATO defenses in Europe is that the West Germans, who provide the bulk of the ground forces under the alliance, are without nuclear weapons for self-defense. They face nuclear armed Russian troops in Central Europe. The draft treaty would keep the Germans in a secondary position forever, which has been a longtime goal of the Soviet Union.

The draft treaty is all the more futile because of the announcement by the French that they will not pay attention to it.

The real trouble with the treaty is that it diverts attention from the truly serious situation involving atomic defenses for the United States. The United States, by agreeing to end atmospheric testing of nuclear weapons, is behind the Russions in testing large-scale weapons. The Russions have considerably more experience in testing super-weapons, which apparently have been designed to knock out American missile installations. The Russians, also, while agreeing to the peaceful uses of space, have developed an orbital bomb known as SCRAG—a weapon for which the U. S. has no opposite number. Indeed, one of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's first moves in the Pentagon was to scrap the military's plans for space weapons.

The draft treaty on nuclear weapons also diverts attention from the problem of the Red Chinese atomic capability and from the consequent need for an anti-ballistic missile system. Mr. McNamara is fiddling on this question, asking for more and more "studies" while the Soviets deploy such a defensive system around their key cities.

It is known that the Soviet Union has maintained its rapid production of nuclear materials, while the Johnson administration has curtailed this production. At the same time, the overall destructive force of atomic weapons in the Soviet arsenal is growing, while the U. S. nuclear force is remaining constant. This summer, the last of 41 missile-firing Polaris submarines was commissioned, and the administration has no plans for additional expansion of this undersea fleet.

In summary, the Soviets' atomic weapons program is getting stronger all the time, while Mr. McNamara refuses to push for technological innovation in the defense field. In time, this failure will leave the American people dangerously exposed to the threat of Soviet atomic aggression.

The Johnson administration is striving to get an agreement with the Soviet Union. But of what value is a treaty with the USSR? The Soviets, in their almost 50 years in power, have never paid any attention to international agreements when it did not suit their purposes.

For more than 20 years, moreover, the U. S. has been trying to arrange for joint inspection of atomic research sites in this country and the USSR, and the Russians have persisted during these two decades in refusing to let Americans have a look at what they are doing. The secrecy of Russia under Kosygin is the same as in Russia under Stalin. The Russian Bear has not changed his nature with the passage of time.

Liberals insist on saying that the cold war is ended, but that's a cruel joke on the 500,000 Americans fighting in Vietnam. That war is continuing because of the massive Soviet sealift to Haiphong and because of Russian air defense missile and anti-aircraft artillery made available to North Vietnam. If that isn't evidence of cold war—or hot war—it is hard to see what the Great Society dreamers want as evidence.

It would be comforting if the Johnson administration tried to regain American atomic supremacy in the military field, instead of indulging in wishful thinking about the Soviets becoming peace-lovers who will sign treaties ending all threat of aggression. But such realism isn't characteristic of Washington these days.

For Law and Order...

Suppose a thug walked up to you, smashed you over the head, cruelly stomped upon you and robbed your inert body. Would you then say, through bloodied lips, "Now what have I done to cause that poor man's displeasure? Where have I failed?" Sounds ridiculous, doesn't it? However, this is, in essence, the attitude of our nation, state and city governments in dealing with the present-day rioters, looters and arsonists.

Although those involved are engaged in pure and simple banditry, including killing, looting and destruction, making a mockery of the law and order upon which civilization itself is based, a policy of ever-increasing coddling continues. Such coddling has, of course, only proved to be an increased incentive for the escalation of atrocities. Even the shooting of looters, a traditional and standard procedure, has been abandoned. Consequently, the morale of our police and militia has been irreparably undermined by the worsening policies of appeasement.

If a citizen threatens the President with bodily harm, he can expect to be speedily arrested and sentenced to a lengthy prison term, and justifiably so. Still, during the past few months, we have seen individuals travel freely about the Country, urging and advocating complete anarchy. Their open threats to the lives and property of law-abiding Americans have continually been publicly and brazenly announced, often to millions of TV viewers, and without resultant prosecution of any kind.

If and when these criminals are treated as such, their insidious ardor for destruction, murder and pillage will be dampened. Recently, rioting was openly threatened, and seemed imminent in one of our sizeable cities. The mayor thereupon announced that, if rioting did commence, there would be some dead rioters during the first few moments. The "long hot summer" suddenly cooled in that locality. Lives and property were saved.

There is but one solution to these collective crimes. They must be unhesitatingly crushed by the forces of law and order as would be done in the case of individual crimes by individual criminals. — Warren S. Woodward, Magazine Editor.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

I am very much disappointed in Mr. Friend and Ross Sines, members of the County Commissioners, as they held up the Junior College until the voters could vote on it. By a big majority it was voted in. The site was selected in the McHenry area. Now Mr. Friend and Ross Sines are you simply picking different sites to hold up progress on the college? Friend I notice he will not agree to pay $1,000 per acre for additional 38 acres needed. Now the sites each of them favor will require just about 1 mile of road to be built. To build the kind of a road that would have to be built would cost $100,000 per mile. To build the college at McHenry area no additional road would have to be built and the price between the 38 acres and a mile of road would be quite a saving on us taxpayers. I want to express my views on this matter and hope the voters will express their viewpoint too.

Sincerely Yours Truly,
Thos Wilson

Talks were given by Dianne Rodeheaver on "Why are Parents Necessary in 4-H"; by Doris Steyer on "What do most teen-agers want from their parents'. Demonstrations were given by Maxine Steyer on "The 4-H Club"; Harland Tichnell on "Motor Business".

A film on Safety was seen. Awards were given out by Harland Tichnell, to the members for what they had done in 4-H.

Women GOP Members Hold Meeting, Auction

The Garrett County Women's Republican Club held a meeting in the Accident Fire Hall on Monday night. A brief business meeting was held, at which time Mrs. Ethel Kelly, president of the club, reported on the 45th Annual Convention of Republican Women held at the Tidewater Inn, in Easton.

Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Leroy Hostetler represented the club at this meeting. On Friday, the keynote speaker at the luncheon was the Hon. Glenn Beall, Jr. Speakers at the banquet on Friday evening were the Hon. Roger Morton, Joseph Dukert, Charles Mac Mathias, and Gilbert Gude. The guest speaker was Thomas B. Curtis, U. S. Representative from Missouri.

A luncheon was held on Saturday honoring women members of the State Central Committee. The Hon. C. Stanley Blair, Secretary of State, was one of the speakers. Guest speaker was Miss Bertha Adkins, former Undersecretary of the Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare and former Assistant Chairman of the Republican National Committee.

An auction was held following the business meeting. Donuts and cider were served.

Potomac Lumber Submits Low Bid For Proposed Dam

The Potomac Lumber Company of Shaw, W. Va., Tuesday submitted the apparent low bid of $21,565.25 for test pitting for the proposed Bloomington Dam.

Only two bids were opened yesterday afternoon by the Baltimore District office of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers. The other bidder was the Phoenix Construction Company of Cumberland, which offered to do the work for $38,500.

A spokesman in the engineers' office said that the government had estimated the cost of the preparatory project to $20,957.

Lt. Col. J. A. Eagers, Jr., deputy district engineer, is expected to award the contract in about 10 days. Work to be done consists of performing all operations required to excavate nine test pits ranging in depth from 20 to 50 feet.

The Phoenix Construction Company currently is working on a project at the dam site which includes testing of materials on hand at a quarry to determine their suitability for use in construction.

Orginally planned to be located at Bloomington, just upstream from Luke, the big dam will be situated between the Mineral County communities of Shaw and Barnum. Test borings in the Bloomington area showed rock strata which would not be conducive to proper construction of a high dam.

UNICEF Collectors To March Tuesday

Huskies Defeated By University Hi

Northern High School Huskies lost to University High of Morgantown at Morgantown last Friday night by the score of 34 to 13. It was the first loss to the University high in four meetings with the Morgantown school.

Northern kicked off to University high in the opening period and in four plays the hosts scored with the help of Jim Williams, a 267-pound fullback. Northern couldn't move the ball and punted. Several plays later quarterback Simpson faked to Williams, kept and scored from 14 yards out. The extra point try was good. Northern received and two successive personal fouls moved the ball close enough for sophomore Clark Glotfelty to score on a four-yard run, Platter's attempt for the extra point was blocked.

University High dominated the second quarter allowing Northern just two rushing plays for a total of 9 yards. University High scored again from 13 yards out.

In the second half UHS scored on a 7-yard run and Northern scored in a 17-yard pass by Georg to Goehringer. A pass from George to Sisler won the extra point.

Williams was the workhorse for UHS carrying 18 times for 113 yards. The Huskies had 13 first downs to 11 for UHS. Northern gained 121 yards but lost 19 for a net gain of 102. The Huskies fumbled twice and lost one of them. UHS also fumbled twice and lost both of them. UHS was penalized four times for 50 yards while Northern was penalized twice for 30 yards. UHS completed two passes out of 11 tries for 25 yards. Northern completed six out of 16 tries for a total gain of 75 yards.

The Huskies will play their last home game of the season on Friday night when they meet Berlin High.

The House voted 177 to 130 to cut Government spending $5 billion this bookkeeping year.

College Students Study and Work On Haiti Island

Stanley C. Beachy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel D. Beachy, of Route 1, and Miss E. Louise Burkholder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray S. Burkholder, of Penn Alps, both of Grantsville, were two of nine college students who studied and then worked in Haiti last summer.

Their terms abroad combined work and service, with study in a pilot project which has led to the school's making a 14-week trimester abroad available to all students, beginning in the fall of 1968.

Stanley Beachy assisted in laboratory work at the outpatient clinic at Cap Haitien, and Miss Burkholder taught sewing classes, and helped at the cannery and nutrition center at Grand Riviere. Their fellow students taught music and English to handicapped children, assisted in a public library and a school, directed children's day camp activities, demonstrated agricultural techniques, and helped to re-train handicapped adults.

Students live in a home of a family of a host nation; they study art, government, religion, music, geography, anthropology, social customs, and biological specimens through field trips, seminars, readings, and lectures; each student is a vital member of a team of up to 20 students, led by a couple on the full-time faculty of Goshen College.

The experimental project last summer points to only one feature of the flexible new curriculum which will include a trimester plan and a new concept of courses, all of which will begin at Goshen College next fall.

In the new concept of courses each course will represent a definite proportion of the student's total work load. The normal load for a student will be four courses a trimester, with an absolute maximum of five.

Sophomores, juniors, and seniors will have the option of earning additional credit through in-depth study by prearrangement with professors.

To Give Piono Recitol

Bessie Ward Hinebaugh, along with Mr. and Mrs. James W. Sweitzer, Mrs. Paul Riley, and Miss Bonnie Browning will leave for Pittsburgh, Sunday, October 29, where Miss Hinebaugh will present her young piano student, James Barry Sweitzer in a "Students of the Month Recital", at the Pittsburgh Piano Teachers' Association, of which she is a member. Barry will play the 1st movement of Sonatina, Opus 20, No. 1 by Kuhlau, Little Neapolitan Tarentella by Schmoll, and a two - piano number, Minuetto by Mozart, with Miss Hinebaugh. The Recital will take place at the Horne's Music Center at 3 o'clock.

Passenger Hurt In Car Wreck

One man was admitted to the hospital and two were treated and released after a two-car crash late Saturday south of Keyser.

West Virginia State police said a car driven by Thomas M. Hickey, 30, of Kitzmiller, was headed north on U. S. route 50 when a southbound car driven by Charles O. Coleman, 42, of route 5, Cumberland, crossed the highway in front of him at the intersection of U. S. route 220.

Both Hickey and Coleman were treated and released at Potomac Valley hospital, Keyser. A passenger in the Hickey car, Frank K. Foster, 41, of Union avenue, Baltimore, was admitted with severe lacerations of the face and other injuries. He was in satisfactory condition.

Trooper J. I. Plybon of the West Virginia State Police said a charge of failing to yield the right of way had been lodged against Coleman.

Observe Fiftieth Wedding Event

A fiftieth wedding anniversary celebration was observed by Mr. and Mrs. Darwin R Hauser, of Oakland, in a far western setting, the trip to the west coast being an anniversary gift from their children.

Mr. and Mrs. Hauser were married June 27, 1917, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Scherr, by Rev. Ernest Hauser. Mrs. Hauser was the former Nora Martha Hardesty, of Stemple Ridge.

They flew to California by jet from Pittsburgh and were in the far west for three weeks.

A small reception was held in the couple's honor by Mrs. Robert (Maxine) Kessler, of Billings, Montana, one of their five daughters. Their other daughters are Mrs. Frank (Josephine Gelly, Jr., San Diego, Cal.; Mrs. Robert (Evelyn) Foster, Orange, Cal.; Mrs. William (Margaret Ruth) Couch, Belleville, Ill.; and Mrs. Michael (Beatrice) Rhodes, Mt. Lake Park. A son, Leroy Henry, died in infancy. There are 13 grandchildren and three great grandsons. Mrs. Rhodes and Mrs. Couch were unable to be present for the occasion.

Co. Commissioners Have Light Agenda

The County Commissioners faced a relatively light agenda at their October 16 meeting.

The Commissioners arranged a meeting with Mr. O'Keefe of the State Department of Civil Defense; George Comp, County C.D. director, and Thomas Sluss for Wednesday evening, October 25. That meeting was held in the Civil Defense office in the County Jail basement.

Charley Miller, County Sanitarian, reported complaints of junk accumulation at Bloomington. Mr. Miller also discussed the expected rat problem when open burning of trash is discontinued, and the sewerage problem at Deep Creek State Park.

Mrs. Lewis Jones and Mrs. Clint Englander presented their views on the proposed operating budget for the Ruth Enlow Library, before the meeting was adjourned.

House investigators blame ammunition not designed or tested for the M16 rifle for the rifle's malfunctions problems.

Parallel lines always converge at the same point on the horizon. If we stand in the center of a highway, and look straight ahead, we discover that the lanes seem to disappear at one central point. The artist must deal with this curious fact when he paints a canvas. We call it perspective. It is the way our eyes see the picture. If we stand at a different position, the scene changes, and the vanishing point is moved to a new place on the horizon. By changing our position we change our perspective.

This is true of life. How we look at our afflictions and our troubles is very largely determined by our inner attitude. In a very real way our ideas about God will determine our perspective.

The Church can help you to place all areas of life in balance. Many people today are confused and disturbed because they see things in the wrong perspective. Visit your church this Sunday and see if the world doesn't look better next week!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

WHAT GOD HATES

Lesson for October 29, 1967

Background Scripture: Amos 4:4-5; 5:21-24; 8 through 9.

Devotional Reading: Psalms 119:33-40.

It seems strange to think of God hating anything or anyone. What or who could possibly provoke so extreme a response from the God whom Christians characterize as "our Father"?

Rev. Althouse

If you were asked to guess what God hates, what kind of what would you think? Profanity, impiety, irreverence? Would you nominate the backslider, the atheist, the communist?

According to Amos, it is none of these:

"I hate, I despise your feasts, and I take no delight in your solemn assemblies" (Amos 5:21 RSV).

What a shocking statement! God hates the time-honored worship practices of his people! There can be no mistaking this:

"Even though you offer me your burnt offerings and cereal offerings, I will not accept them, and the peace offerings of your fated beasts I will not look upon. Take away from me the noise of your songs; to the melody of your harps I will not listen" (Amos 5:22-23 RSV)

Noise Of Our Hymns

Can you imagine how stunned were the people of Israel when Amos delivered this prophecy? The feasts, the solemn assemblies, the various offerings, the joyous songs, the melody of harps, all these they had assumed were pleasing to the Lord, the right way to worship. It is as if today God were to say to us: "I hate your holy seasons, and I take no delight in your Sunday services. Even though you offer crisp dollar bills and make three-year pledges, I will not accept them. Take away the noise of your hymns, to the melody of your pipe organs and robed choirs I will not listen!"

"But God," we cry, "that's the way we've learned to worship. If that isn't what you want, what do you want?" Surely the people of Israel must have responded in somewhat the same way. What did God want?

Amos had a ready answer: "But let justice roll down like waters, and righteousness like an everflowing stream" (Amos 5:24 RSV). There we are: what God wants from us above all else is justice and righteousness.

For Those Less Fortunate

But what do you mean by "justice and righteousness"? Well, says Amos, for example: stop trampling the needy, stop oppressing the poor, stop making money your chief goal in life, stop cheating in your business and work, stop exploiting the weak, stop fattening yourself at the expense of your fellowmen (Amos 8:4-7). In other words, seek justice and practice righteousness for those less fortunate than yourself.

Amos also mentions those merchants who are so eager to resume their trade, that they can hardly wait for the end of the holy days (for commerce was forbidden then). Today they would no longer have to wait. Not only are many stores open on Sundays and holidays, but we have also found ways of exploiting holy seasons for personal profit. The world could not afford to lose the Christian Church: Christmas and Easter are much too profitable.

Forgotten By Monday

Let us make no mistake, however; God does not hate our worship per se. What he hates and despises is worship which is insincere and hypocritical, which has little or nothing to do with how we respond to the needs of our fellow men. As the jingle has it:

They're praising God on Sunday,
But they'll be all right on Monday;
It's just a little habit they've acquired.

God hates worship that is little more than a "habit" that is forgotten by Monday. If our worship is to be acceptable, then, as someone has put it: "The channel of ritual must be filled with the waters of justice and righteousness."

HOW TO KNOW A MEDICAL QUACK

Quacks not only take your money, but also steal some of the precious time when early diagnosis and treatment of a disease can prevent much later danger.

Any person who guarantees a quick cure, uses a secret machine or formula, advertises testimonials of his cures, tells you surgery or x-rays do more harm than good, or claims the medical profession is persecuting him is a quack. The more he tells you that the physicians are afraid of his competition, the more certain you can be of his quackery. Beware of such fakers. Voltaire said, "The quack was born when the first knave met the first fool."

Northerners Plan U. N. Trip

Several activities are being planned by members of the senior class of Northern High School, including a trip to New York and the United Nations.

The trip to New York is set for November 9. Seniors who make the trip will pay $45 to cover transportation and hotel expenses. Students will return on Sunday, November 12.

There will be a tour of the United Nations, Empire State building, Chinatown, and a boat trip around Manhattan Island.

They will also witness a performance in Radio City music hall by the Rockettes and see a movie.

In addition to the senior trip an evening of fun and games is planned for December 1 in the school cafetorium.

FHA Loan Funds Still Available

Farmers Home Administration loan funds are available to meet immediate needs for Operating Loans to farmers in Garrett and Allegany Counties, according to William H. Poffenbarger, County Supervisor.

The loan funds are allocated to each County Office at the beginning of each Fiscal Year.

The loan funds may be used to finance current operating expenses, purchase livestock and equipment, feed, seed, and fertilizer; and refinance debts in some cases. The maximum loan is $35,000. The interest rate on this loan is five percent.

A farm and home budget is prepared with each applicant for a loan. The amount of the loan and the repayment terms are dependent on the operation. Loans for current operating expenses are usually repayed within a year, while loans for other purposes may be scheduled for periods of up to seven years, Mr. Poffenbarger explained.

He also pointed out that money can finance full-time as well as part time farmers as long as the farming program is a sound one and the applicant needs the farm income to maintain a decent standard of living.

Each loan is reviewed by a County Committee of three farmers who determine that the applicant is eligible and proposes to operate a family-type farm. They determine that the operation is likely to be a successful one and the farmer cannot secure his financing from a bank or cooperative credit source at terms he can repay.

Farmers Home Administration loans for the two counties are processed through the FHA Office at U. S. Route 219 North, Oakland.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Charles A. Barkman, who passed away four years ago, October 28, 1963.
Just four long lonesome years.
Dear.
Since God called you home.
Darling.
You are not forgotten, Loved One.
Nor will you ever be as long as life and memory last.
We will remember you, Darling.
We miss you so, our hearts are still sore.
As time goes by we miss you more each day.
Your loving smile, your gentle face.
No one can fill your vacant place.
Sadly missed by his Wife Betty, Daughter Carol Ann and Granddaughter Baby Carol.

Adams Bestows Awards At Tree Farm Program

John Adams, chairman of the Maryland Forest Industries Committee and forester for the Western Maryland Railroad, an Oakland resident, presented awards at the American Tree Farm System's program held October 16 in Prince Frederick.

Mr. Adams made the presentation of the Tree Farm Certificate and the official Tree Farm sign to Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Goldstein for their outstanding forest conservation practices on their 600 acre woodland property. Mr. Goldstein is Maryland's State Comptroller.

Nearly 100 of the state's top conservationists, public and private foresters, and leading industry executives were on hand for the awarding of the honors to the Goldsteins.

Overseas Mailing Deadline Listed

Christmas mailing date to assure on-time delivery of parcels to members of the armed forces overseas have been announced by the Post Office Department.

The period from October 16 to November 11 has been designated as mailing dates for parcels by surface transportation.

The term "armed forces overseas" includes personnel of the armed forces, members of their families, and U. S. civilians employed overseas who receive their mail through an APO or FPO, New York, San Francisco, or Seattle.

Articles should be packed in boxes of wood, metal, solid fiberboard or strong double-faced corrugated fiberboard. Fiberboard should be wrapped in heavy paper. Each box should be well tied with strong cord.

Sufficient cushioning material must be used, or the box will become crushed. It is suggested that a slip showing the list of contents and the address of sender and addresses should be enclosed in the parcel.

Also stressed was the matter of legible and complete addresses.

Matches of all kinds and lighter fluid may not be mailed to overseas military personnel, and cigarettes, other tobacco products, coffee and various other items are prohibited in parcels addressed to some military posts.

Domestic rates of postage are applicable, and postage must be fully prepaid.

Lions To Operate Concession Stand

Operation "Swift" accounted for 600 enemy dead and tons of ammunition and weapons captured.

Library Receives 2 Identical Gifts

A gift of two identical collections of thirty new phonograph records has been received by the Ruth Enlow Library and prepared for circulation in the libraries in Oakland and Grantsville. This is the second gift from CBS Records. The first collection, which was donated two years ago, has been enjoyed by library patrons.

News reports called our attention to a double feature in the sky last week—a meteor shower and a total eclipse of the moon. Cloudy weather may have caused most of us to miss this show, but interest in skywatching is steadily growing in Garrett County. Readers who want to learn more about astronomy will find helpful books at the library, including several new titles, "The Telescope Handbook and Star Atlas" by Howard, "Naked-Eye Astronomy" by Moore, "The Telescope and the World of Astronomy" by Riemer and "The Universe" by Asimov, among others.

"Red Giants and White Dwarfs" by Jastrow tells the story of the universe according to present theories in a clear and simple style. "Windows to Space" by Pickering describes "the two huge windows through which men look into space": telescopic astronomy and radio astronomy. The first few chapters in this book contain an excellent history of astronomy.

Lists Homecoming Events

Southern's Girls' Athletic Association is carrying out weeklong plans for the annual Homecoming celebration which begins for the public with a thuse and bonfire on Thursday night, October 26, when the names of the Homecoming Queen and King will be revealed.

At the thuse football players will be introduced and a series of activities will be led by the cheerleaders.

Throughout the week the varsity cheerleaders have designated different days for various fun activities. Monday was slogan day - "Smear the Vikings". Tuesday was treat day for the football players when they received candy for more energy for Friday night. Wednesday was mystery day when the students attempted to find the Viking doll which was hidden in the school.

Today is slave day, when students will carry the books for football players. Friday will be spirit day. Students and members of the faculty will show their spirit and support for the team by wearing red and white. Each students will have a badge to display.

A Homecoming parade, sponsored by the student council, will begin at 6:00 p. m. Friday evening in downtown Oakland. Each club, class, and association entering floats will vie for prizes. The Homecoming Queen, Princesses, and cheerleaders will ride in the parade.

To add to the festive occasion, the Petersburg band will perform at the half time show along with Southern's band.

The Southern Rams will meet the Petersburg Vikings in the Homecoming contest on Southern's field Friday night following the parade. Going into this game, Southern has a record of three wins and four losses.

The Homecoming dance will be held Saturday night in Southern's gymnasium.

Two Americans and one Swede received a Nobel prize for their research on human eye functions.

Fire Destroys Caton Residence

The Clifford Caton family suffered almost a total loss of their possessions early Saturday morning when a fire gutted their home in the Finzel area.

The fire of undetermined origin leveled the residence occupied by Mr. Caton, his 15-year old daughter, and his 12 year-old son. Officials of the Frostburg Fire Department said the family trio had only the clothes on their backs, with the only household articles saved being a sofa and desk.

Frostburg received the alarm shortly after 3:30 a. m. Saturday and, despite arriving at the scene in nine minutes, were unable to do anything but prevent the flames from spreading. There reportedly was no insurance on the home or possessions.

Firemen responded to the alarm with three pieces of equipment and 18 men, and Clarysville Department, which was notified when the Frostburg company saw how advanced the fire was, sent 10 men and two pieces of equipment.

Fire officials said a similar fire was responded to about a year ago to a Caton family in the same area. That residence also was gutted, but it was not known if the families are related.

Two of the trucks from Frostburg had to be pulled out of soft ground after the fire was extinguished, officials said.

An appeal for clothing and furnishings for the Caton family has been issued, fire officials stated.

Fred Phelps and Danny Wade scored two touchdowns each in leading Coach Tom Oglebay's Bruce High School gridders to a 34-13 decision over the Highlanders of Southern High School last Friday night in a Tri-Valley Conference football game at Oakland.

The outcome of last night's game gave Beall High School the conference title with a 2-0 record. The Mountaineers and Southern were tied for the lead prior to Friday night's contest. Teams were required to play a minimum of two games to qualify for the championship this year but the minimum will be raised to three in 1968.

Southern battled the Bulldogs to a 6-6 draw in the opening period but the Westernport eleven pushed over four tds in the second and third periods to up their season record to 3-3-1.

Wade scored in the first period on an eight-yard run but Southern equalized by a 45-yard gallop by Richard Browning.

Phelps Breaks Tie

Phelps broke the deadlock in the second period by reaching paydirt on a 10-yard run and Wade slammed over from the one to make the score 20-6 at intermission.

Boggs' pass interception and 30-yard run produced Bruce's fourth touchdown in the third period and later in the same quarter Phelps ran 14 yards for the Bulldog's final six-pointer.

Martin Tichnell booted four extra points after touchdowns in the second and third periods.

Southern scored in the final period on a 10-yard dash by Vaughn Winters. Browning snared a Jack Alvarez pass for the extra point.

Beset By Injuries

Southern played without the services of six starting players who are on the injured list. Two boys suffered broken wrists in the Keyser game on Friday, October 13.

The Garrett countians' overall record is now 3-4.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Many economists have long decried as uneconomically sound the principle of pegging wages to the cost of living index as is done in the auto industry. The viewpoint of this school is that wages should be pegged to productivity.

C. W. Harder

Although this position has apparently not permeated Detroit, at least one union, the International Garment Workers Union got part of the message.

However, there seems to have been only a partial understanding of this economic principle, or perhaps too broad a definition has been attached by the garment workers union to the term productivity.

For in a new contract just entered into with the New York area suit makers, there is a provision that any time a male worker becomes a new father, the employer shall pay him a paternity bonus of $150.

Obviously, this is pegging pay to production, but it can be wondered if this is precisely what the economists have in mind as production.

In addition, it is also quite possible that this may lead to further demands from many union leaders.

It was not too long ago that the grocery clerks union in Los Angeles negotiated free psychiatric services for its members paid for by the employers. It is possible that this will be the next demand of the garment workers' union which will be based on a real proved need.

For after all, most mental doctors from Freud on claim that mental problems are created by emotional disturbances, and insecurity in arriving at decisions.

Thus, the new paternity bonus, in this age of The Pill can conceivably result in substantial psychiatric trauma among the male members of the lady's garment workers union who presumably must be married to qualify for the paternity bonus.

Obviously, it can be suspected that there will be the agony of decision over the question of what shall it be—the paternity genus or The Pill? Many nervous and mental breakdowns have been created by agonizing over decisions on far less minor questions.

Visiting Simon Swartzentruber were the Clarence, Menno and Pete Yoder families, of Springs, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Kurtz, of Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Eli Summers and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Reinbold, of Springs, Roy Kinsingers, of Meyersdale; Mr. and Mrs. Simon Yoder, of Kentucky; John A. Yoder and Henry Swartzentruber, Elwood Beckman and Mrs. Phebe Slabach.

A crowd of young folks attended the husking bee at Uria Garber's on Friday night.

Misses Anna and Celesta Schlabach had as dinner guests, on Sunday, Misses Mary Sue Yoder, Lovina Garber, Lydia, Rachel, Amelia, Frannie and Mary Yoder, Sara, Rhoda and Marie Yoder, of Guthrie, Ky., in whose honor the dinner was given. The latter three accompanied their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Yoder, who are on tour through Virginia. Mr. Yoder preached at the Amish church on Sunday.

Alpha Kauffman was home from Harrisburg, Pa., over the week-end.

Robert Beckman and children, of Washington, and Melvin Harsh and family, of Eglon, were guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Osborne Beckman, Lynn Dale, this week-end.

Newton Beckman and family and Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Beckman were at McCoole, on Sunday with Cortney Beckman, who is critically ill.

Irene and Edward Petersheim and their mother, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sisk spent an evening last week with Miss Miriam Schrock, on her 14th birthday.

Mrs. Mattie Ridings, Mrs. Edna Mason and Mrs. Charles Wilkins, of Gormania, spent a day last week with Misses Anna and Grace Lichty.

Mrs. Jack Durst and son John, of Oakland, visited Mrs. Noah Schrock, on Monday.

We put our old bus in a new box.

If there was anything the old bus didn't need, it was more room on the inside.

Which brings us to the first thing you should know about the new box.

There's more room on the inside.

In fact, the Volkswagen Station Wagon has almost twice as much room inside as conventional station wagons.

On the outside (which is a little bigger too) we replaced the 13 little windows with 8 big ones. And one of them is a wrap around windshield.

What next?

A wraparound bumper to help you step up into the driver's compartment through wider front doors.

As for the 2 side doors, they're not there anymore. We replaced them with a single sliding safety door. It locks when it's open and locks when it's closed.

An aisle through to the back is now standard equipment. (After all, what's a bus without an aisle?)

If you'd rather do without the charm and convenience of an aisle, it'll cost you.

But you'll get 2 more seats (total: 9) for your trouble.

Only Volkswagen would give you fewer windows. Fewer doors. Fewer seats.

And call it an improved wagon.

Eight Boy Scouts Attend Camporee

Two Boy Scout Troops took part in the Boy Scout Camporee last week-end, held at the Hideaway Hill campsite between McHenry and Accident. The two troops, No. 31 and No. 93, were each represented by four boys and two leaders.

The boys did all their own cooking, cleaning up, etc. "Camporee" patches will be given out later to those who participated.

The weather was chilly for camping out in tents and one Scout remarked before leaving for the comforts of civilization, "I'm not cold at all . . . just frozen".

IN APPRECIATION

I wish to thank my friends for the many, many cards and flowers I received while I was a patient at the hospital. I also extend thanks and appreciation to the friends and neighbors, who so graciously did so many acts of kindness at my home during my absence.

Lloyd Brenneman

To Observe All Saints' Day November First

All Saints' Day will be observed by St. Matthew's Episcopal church on Wednesday, November 1, at 7:30 p. m., with Holy Communion. The Rev. Thomas P. Staup, vicar of St. John's church, Deer Park, will assist the rector, the Rev. W. Shelby Walthall.

After the service Mrs. J. Raymond Yetter, Diocesan Custodian of United Thank Offering, will meet with members of the parish in the community room of the First National Bank and will speak of the general convention which she recently attended in Seattle, Washington.

She will speak about the new arrangement soon to take place in the Episcopal Diocese of Maryland of the Episcopal Church Women.

Nineteen Killed On State Highways

"In preparing the weekly survey of fatalities on Maryland highways, we find it quite difficult to avoid repeating ourselves", said Lt. Col. George Davidson, Chief of Operations of the State Police. "No matter from which angle we try to approach the problem, we are faced with a deadly repetition of the causues of highway accidents.

"Alcohol, speed, and driver error - violations of the rules of the road and the laws of common sense, are a continuing pattern. Most of the errors are simple mistakes, one which could have been easily avoided had the operators been driving defensively.

"It is the duty of police agencies to enforce the laws and also to warn motorists concerning their driving responsibilities. Then it is up to the drivers to assume these responsibilities. Unless this is done, they'll just have to listen to us preaching pretty much the same old story week after week'.

Nineteen persons were killed on Maryland highways last week. Thirteen of those killed were drivers, two were passengers, and four were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in eight of the deaths; speed in eight; and driver error in fifteen.

The Price is Right for These Satisfied "Total Electric" Families

Compared with Anything . . .
Electricity Still Is Your Biggest Bargain

Thinking about building or remodeling? Take it from these four families, or from more than 3,000 other Monongahela Power customers who are heating with electricity: Electricity gives you the best for your money. You can choose from several systems . . . ceiling cable, baseboard or wall units, heat pump or electric furnace . . . each gives you steady, clean, quiet warmth. The average bills quoted below are typical in this area and represent the whole cost of electric service for all its uses in the modern home.

When F. C. Jean, chairman of the Department of Electrical Engineering, WVU, decided to build an all-electric home, The Coal Research Bureau, School of Mines, asked him to keep a detailed record of costs. The results: Total electric bills including heating, run $26 per month. The home (1,500 square feet) is completely modern. Ceiling cable permits better use of space in living areas.

Helen M. Pavlich, Route 5, Morgantown, who converted this 1,000 square foot rental home to electric baseboard heating, says "I appreciate the dependable operation of my heating system . . . and the cost has been most reasonable. The monthly bill for all electricity used in the home is $26.76.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Williams, Kingwood, converted this home to baseboard electric heating. Says Mrs. Williams: "I was never comfortable until we had electric heating installed". And he adds: "I feel free to leave our home two or three days at a time knowing the heating system will take care of itself". Average actual cost for all electricity: $23.98 per month.

It gets mighty cold at Accident, Md., but Mr. and Mrs. W. D. (Dan) Walter, Sr. are satisfied with the performance of their electric heating system (ceiling cable) and with the cost. In their eight-room house they have two food freezers, refrigerator, range, dishwasher, water heater, deep well pump, washer, dryer, two TV's and a lot of small appliances. Total electric bill: $26.21 per month.

An Attractive Gift for You . . .

You will receive a Honeywell "Weather Secretary" just for letting one of our electric heating specialists come to your home and give you an estimate on the cost of electric heating. It doesn't cost you a penny to find out.

vs.
LAWRENCE HARDESTY
Address Unknown
No. 5627 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland
ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to establish support payments for the minor children presently in the custody of the complainant.
The Bill recites that a Separation Agreement was entered into by the said complainant and the respondent on January 17, 1967; that custody of the four minor children was granted to the complainant; that the complainant is now unable to provide properly for the needs and maintenance of the said children on payments as made under said agreement and she seeks an increase of said payments.
It is thereupon this 3rd day of October, 1967, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ORDERED that the complainant, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 27th day of October, 1967, giving notice to the said absent respondent, Lawrence Hardesty, of the object and substance of the Bill of Complaint, and warning him to be and appear in this court, either in person or by solicitor, on or before the 27th day of November, 1967, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Hymn Festival To Climax Progr'm On Reformation

The 450th anniversary of the Reformation will be climaxed with a hymn festival on Sunday evening, October 29th, beginning at 5:30 o'clock, in St. Mark's Lutheran church, Oakland, it was announced by Rev. Wm. Ernest Fox, pastor.

Three items are planned for the event, first a Fellowship supper in the Assembly room for members and friends of the church served by the Lutheran Church Women, second, the showing of a documentary filmstrip 'Life with Luther', shown by the audio visual committee, Mr. and Mrs. William E Sharps, and the sound filmstrip, "Martin Luther"; and a brief dramatization, "Luther's Coat of Arms" by members of the Luther League; then the anniversary hymn festival in the church sanctuary open to all interested persons, with three choirs participating, the Adult choir, the Youth choir and the Children's choir. The choirs and congregation will sing ten hymns of the Reformation, with Mrs. Donald R. Sincell as organist. Leaders will be Robert J. Ruckert and Dr. Jack E. Liller, members of the worship committee.

The hymn festival is a service of praise and worship. The printed program was prepared by the churches associated in the newly formed Lutheran Council in the USA. Choirs will sing selected verses of the ten hymns, alternating with verses sung by the congregation. Some of the hymns are to be accompanied by trumpets as well as organ. Brief highlights of some of the hymns will be presented.

An offering will be taken to apply to the total benevolence apportionment.

The special services committee include Edward Bowser, chairman, Mrs. Donald Taylor is youth choir director, with children's choir leaders being Mrs. W. E. Fox, Mrs Jack Liller, Miss Kimberly Liller. Trumpet players will be Edward Bowser and Lester Bittinger.

Others participating are the Lutheran Church Women, Mrs. J. S. Cooper, president; Mrs Harry Friend, Mrs. Nordeck Shaffer, Mrs. Willard Hauser, Mrs. Carrie Shaffer, Mrs. James Lemmert, Miss Ellen Turney, Mrs. Jerome Moyer.

Luther League participants include Miss Geneva Rentchler, Dana Liller, Larry Groves, David Sharps, Larry Rentchler, Lisa Hinebaugh, Susan Yost, Jeff Moyer, Kevin Moyer.

Food Chairmen To Give Demonstrations

The food chairmen of the Homemaker Clubs will be giving demonstrations in Convenience Food for the month of November.

With 30 million women now in the work force and who are combining careers with homemaking, they are in need of easy to prepare meals, announced Mrs Freda Denison, Extension Agent, Home Economics.

A solid meal used to be described as "meat and potatoes". In the light of modern times nutrition knowledge and weight watching, we don't need the potatoes and meat in this form.

The modern cook knows that convenience foods, in all their ready-to-cook, ready-to-serve and ready-to-mix forms, are the biggest boom to time saving and work saving.

A recent study shows that convenience foods in meal preparation can save the cook 10 hours a week at little extra cost over the same meals prepared from foods in natural form.

The following clubs will be meeting

Nov. 1, Grantsville Homemakers, 1:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. John Folk.

Nov. 2, New Germany Club, 1:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Forrest Beachy.

Folksinger Joan Baez received a 10-day sentence for her part in pacifist demonstrations at a California induction center.

Silver Lining . . .

Two weeks ago, we wrote of the amazing stand recommended in a government report and endorsed by the National Council of Churches, on ways to reduce alcoholism by serving beer in colleges, and showing alcohol acceptable to the entire family, etc.

This week there is one silver lining on these stands. The report urging that youth be permitted easier access to alcohol, but in carefully controlled settings, is still being studied by the National Council of Churches, but the council stressed that it had not endorsed the report as was stated in the U. S. News and other publications. This is fine.

The council however did recommend that others study the report issued by the cooperative commission on the study of alcoholism.

We believe it is still tragic that the federal government report would advocate the sale of beer in colleges, permit liquor ads to show alcohol being consumed by the entire family including children and make it available to young persons at church gatherings.

Bank Promotions Announced

Richard G. Stanton

Burton W. Lytle

Three promotions in the personnel of the First National Bank of Oakland, have been announced by George K. Littman, president.

The Board of Directors recently elected Richard G. Stanton as an assistant cashier, effective immediately. At the same time the board appointed Burton W. Lytle as manager of the Friendsville office, and Mrs. Lois Lear as manager of the lake office at McHenry.

Mr. Stanton has been manager of the Friendsville office of the First National for the past four years and has been associated with the bank for seven and one-half years. He formerly was with the National Bank of Fairfax, Fairfax, Va., as a teller for some two years.

A native of this county he is a son of Mrs. Melvin H. Stanton Sr., of Bittinger, and the late Mr. Stanton, and is a graduate of Northern High school. He is married to the former Juanita Buckel, of New

Ill Child Dies In 1-Car Crash

Was Enroute To Philippi Hospital Last Thursday

A service for Christine Elaine Upton, 5, of Oakland, who was killed Thursday in a one-car accident on W. Va. Route 92 near Fellowsville, was conducted Sunday, October 29, from Mt. Vernon Methodist Church near Philippi, Rev. William Eskew officiated. Interment was in Mt. Vernon Cemetery.

The child, who had previously become ill after eating poisonous berries found near her home in the Loch Lynn area, became ill again Thursday morning and her mother, Mrs. Virginia Louise Upton, and sister were taking her to Philippi for medical treatment when the car her mother was driving veered out of control, plunged over an embankment and crashed into several trees before bursting into flames. All three occupants were thrown from the car.

Police said Mrs. Upton and her daughter, Mrs. Judy Gank, were admitted to Philippi Hospital with minor injuries.

Born May 11, 1962 at Philippi, Christine was also the daughter of Lloyd William Upton.

Besides her parents, she is also survived by one brother, Charles William Upton, at home, maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Cayton Bolyard, Philippi; and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Upton, Moatsville, W. Va.

The body was taken to the Stemple-Forman Funeral Home in Philippi.

Hap, A Postman's Friend

By Carol Canan

"Neither rain, nor snow, etc.," can stop delivery of the mail. Neither can they stop the Oakland postmen's friend Happy, from going along on the rounds with her two friends, Joe Peck and Tom Bittinger.

For nine years now, Happy, a mixed-breed dog, has followed a postman on his daily rounds with never a day off even for maternity leave, (thanks to the foresight of her owner.) So familiar has she become to many area residents that they have bones, dog biscuits or candy waiting for her when she appears. Happy or Hap, as she is usually called, now realizes at which home she can expect food, and usually trots to the back door for the expected treat. Should none be immediately forthcoming, she politely "speaks' once or twice, by way of reminder. If there is still

Miller Guilty Of First Degree Murder Charge

Judges Announce Pre-Sentence Investigation Before Sentencing

Gary Lee Miller, 17, of near Pocahontas, Pa., was found guilty of first degree murder Monday afternoon by Associate Judges Harold E. Naughton and James S. Getty at the close of a four-day trial in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Before announcing the verdict in the crowded courtroom, Judge Naughton issued a warning that no outbursts would be tolerated. Should any difficulty occur, he warned, he would hold any demonstrative spectator in contempt of court.

As a consequence the crowd remained completely silent when Judge Naughton announced that he and Judge Getty had found the small Pennsylvania boy guilty of "willful, deliberate and premeditated murder" of Judy Lee Ziegler, 20, who also lived near Pocahontas. Her body was found on an old dump near Eckhart on the morning of May 28.

Judge Naughton announced that a pre-sentence investigation and report will be requested from the State Department of Probation and Parole.

Under a first degree murder conviction in Maryland, Judges Naughton and Getty are limited to either a life sentence or death penalty.

Closing argument by the three attorneys in the case took one hour and 16 minutes. The judges then left the bench at 3:24 p. m. and returned with their verdict at 3:43 p. m., just 19 minutes later.

Paul J Stakem, deputy state's attorney, cited two Maryland cases where a person had been convicted of premeditated murder substantially on circumstantial evidence.

He concluded with an assertion that the chain of circumstantial evidence corroborated the essential points of the statement which Miller made on the night of May 29 and then refused to sign. He said there was more than ample evidence to find the boy guilty of first degree murder.

Mr. Schindler contended that the state sought to put a boy, who was only 16 years old at the time Miss Ziegler was killed, into the gas chamber. He emphasized that the burden of proof was upon the state.

Arguing that circumstantial evidence is only as strong as its weakest link, Mr. Schindler

National Legion Head To Address Pig Roast Group

When members of Proctor Kildow Post No. 71, American Legion, hold their 30th annual Pig Roast on Friday evening, November 10, at the Legion Home, they will have as principal speaker Paul Griffith, national commander of the legion.

Griffith was elected to his present office from Pennsylvania but is now a resident of Potomac, Md. This is the first time that a national commander has ever been a visitor to the Oakland post.

A social hour is scheduled for 6 o'clock with the banquet to follow at 7. Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill will be master of ceremonies.

Also planning to attend the function are Stanley King, department commander of Maryland; and Lonnie Marsh, Oakland, senior department commander, along with Robert Sykes and Robert Harvey, junior vice-commanders; Don Burkhardt, department adjutant and department committeemen.

James Sharpless, post commander, said a full turnout of district and post officers was expected. He pointed out that Proctor Kildow post has had an outstanding growth the past four years with the membership jumping from 150 to 452 last year. The post is shooting for 500 members for 1968. Mr. Sharpless also stated this was the first time in history that Proctor Kildow post has had a senior vice commander. He has the endorsement of the area for department commander for 1968-69.

Mrs. Skidmore New Draft Board Clerk

The appointment of Mrs. Joyce Skidmore, of McHenry, widow of Alan Skidmore, as local board clerk of Selective Service board No. 47, Oakland, effective October 23, was announced this week by Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill, chairman of the board. Mrs. Skidmore succeeds Mrs. Helen Bittinger of Mt. Lake Park, who resigned several weeks ago but who remained in the position until her successor was named. Several applicants had taken the qualifying test. Mrs. Bittinger had been connected with the draft board for about seventeen years.

Mrs. Skidmore is a daughter of Mrs. Emma B. Frantz, of Friendsville, and the late James Frantz, and is a sister of Sheriff James E. Frantz. She is a graduate of Catherman's Business School in Cumberland.

James H. Cunningham, a field supervisor with the State Selective Service board, has been in the county for several days assisting Mrs. Skidmore in getting acquainted with her duties and expects to remain here for a few weeks. He has called a meeting of the local draft board for Friday afternoon, November 17, at 1 p. m. Other members of the board in addition to Judge Hamill are Jesse Walker, Kitzmiller; and George H. Hanst, Oakland.

The board announced a call for November 14, when five individuals will be inducted into the service. They are Gary Alvin Trickett, Oakland; James Albert Cesnick, formerly Oakland, now of Baltimore; John Wesley Minnick, Alexandria, Va., formerly of Gormania; Roger Linn Garlick, Baltimore, formerly of Accident; and David Charles Tichnell, Swanton. They will report to the Fairmont induction station on that date.

Twins 2, Dead, Mother Burned In Basement Explosion

The twin two-year old sons of Mr. and Mrs. Kurt J. Lindstrom, were killed Tuesday afternoon and Mrs. Lindstrom badly burned when an explosion rocked the basement of their home in Vienna, Va.

Mr. Lindstrom, 27, is an assistant football coach at Fairfax High school. Mrs. Lindstrom 25, is the former Patricia Powers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Powers, of Mt. Lake Park, and granddaughter of Mrs. Victoria Ingram, of Oakland.

Douglas and Michael Lindstrom were the couple's only children. Mrs. Lindstrom was listed in satisfactory condition in Fairfax hospital with burns about the face, ankles and neck.

Fairfax county fire inspectors said the explosion was caused when a two-gallon gasoline can was overturned in the basement where Mrs. Lindstrom was doing laundry and the twins were playing. The gasoline apparently had been left in the basement after it had been used for household purposes. Inspectors said the fumes from the spilled can apparently filled the room and exploded when they reached the pilot light of the gas hot water heater.

The basement utility room has no outside entrance. Mrs. Lindstrom groped her way through dense smoke to a case-

Distilled Spirits Money Distributed

Checks aggregating $800,728 to the twenty-three counties and Baltimore City as a share of the state's distilled spirits tax collections for the first quarter fiscal year 1968, have been mailed by Louis L. Goldstein, state comptroller.

The amount is distributed on a basis of 50 cents for each gallon of distilled spirits delivered to retailers.

The report showed there were 5,048 gallons delivered to Garrett county and the amount received $2,524. This was a decrease of 3.59 percent over the same period of fiscal 1967. Four counties showed decreases, Garrett, Caroline, Dorchester and Kent. All others showed increases.

Presenting the Purple Ribbon for winning the 1967 Garrett County Farming For Better Living program is James McHenry, right, extension agent, Garrett County, looking on from the left, L. Bush Swisher, FFBL director, Monongahela Power Co., Fairmont, W. Va.; George Bishoff; and Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Bishoff. The award was presented Thursday night at the 20th annual FFBL banquet held at Oakland.

State Road Crews Ready To Battle All Winter Snows

Veteran State Roads Commission crews are ready for any storm which could be expected for this time of year, and within an hour could be ready for any eventuality, reports a maintenance engineer for District 6.

Snow removal equipment is in top shape; chemical and abrasive spreaders are on trucks; and adequate supplies of abrasives and chemicals are stockpiled where experience has shown they will be needed.

SRC forces in District 6, which includes Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties, are ready to put about 25 snow plows to work within minutes. Each county has a snow blower, which can be attached to a front-end loader for use when roads begin drifting during blizzards.

About November 15, the District 6 office will place its radio net which broadcasts expected weather changes, on a 24-hour service. At present, the radio station is being operated only during daylight hours.

County Also Preparing

The Garrett County Roads Department, too, is making preparations for the coming of winter. Some 32 trucks are ready for the snow plows and the plows themselves have been conditioned and are ready for the road.

Also ready to roll are the eight graders, five payloaders, five bulldozers, and two snowblowers used by the County Roads staff.

The county has approximately three-fourths of the necessary snow fences erected, no small task since most of the 700 miles of county roads are to be protected by snow fencing. The balance of the job will take approximately two weeks to complete.

With an eye to slippery road conditions, the county has ordered 400 tons of bulk salt to aid in keeping roads bare. The salt is due to arrive next week.

Education Week Is November 5 - 11

The week of November 5-11 has been set aside this year as American Education Week, with the theme, "How Good Are Your Schools?" This is a special time for parents and other members of the community to visit their schools and to appraise the educational program of those schools.

Parents and other interested citizens are urgtd to take this opportunity to visit Southern High School any time during this week, however, Tuesday and Thursday have been designated as special days with activities that will be of interest to parents.

The activities for American Education Week at Southern are being planned jointly by the Student Council and the Future Teachers of America.

Moves His Office

The insurance office of C Harold Holsopple has moved from the former Fazzalari building, corner of Third and Alder streets, to 131 North Third, formerly the site of the Kisner Barber shop.

The new office has been renovated and parking facilities made available.

Homecom'g Queen

Louise Fike was named Homecoming queen at ceremonies at Northern High school last Friday night when the Northern Huskies defeated Berlin High school 18 to 7. She and her court were also honored on Saturday evening at the homecoming dance sponsored by the Senior Dance club, under supervision of Mrs. Vonda Yunker, adviser.

During intermission the queen and court had an honor guard of members of the football team. Over 200 attended.

Distribution Of Income Taxes

A distribution of income tax revenue totaling $4,623,237.73 was made to the counties, Baltimore City and the incorporated cities, towns and taxing areas of the state it was announced by Louis L. Goldstein, state comptroller.

The distribution covered the balance due for the year 1966 with a small portion being from delinquent collections.

The figures showed Garrett county receiving $8,798.45, and municipalities receiving $3,583.02, for a total distribution of $12,381.47.

Mr. Goldstein said this would be the last major distribution of income tax revenue under the formula under which the subdivisions received .68 percent of all ordinary taxable net income and 1.70 percent of all investment tax income.

Under Chapter 142, Laws of 1967, income tax distributions will be made from the local income taxes as imposed by the 23 counties and Baltimore City. Municipalities will receive their distributions directly from the counties wherein they are located and this will be on the basis of .37 percent of the taxable net income of their residents.

Injured In Fall From Tractor

Randy Rodeheaver, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rodeheaver, sustained face and head injuries Monday evening when he was thrown from a tractor that was preparing to hook up to a float to be used in the Halloween parade.

A patient in Garrett County Memorial hospital Randy was said to be in satisfactory condition. The tractor was being operated by Billy Buchanan. He slowed the vehicle when approaching an intersection and the tractor halted suddenly pitching the youth forward. He sustained facial cuts from projections on the tractor and the wheel of the tractor struck the back of his head.

Northern High Jr. Chorus Planning Musical Comedy

The Northern High school junior chorus will present a musical comedy, 'The Prince and I', on Friday evening, November 17, at 8 o'clock in the Northern High school cafetorium, it was announced by Mrs. Lucile Sines, director.

Patty Ault and Steve Myers will assume the leading parts with Dottie Sines and Steve Reese holding the second spots.

The story concerns Princess Potami and Prince Thai of Khyam, who are being educated at a university in California. Called home when the king suddenly dies they become involved in a plot of Thai's uncle who wants to usurp the throne and turn the country into a communist stronghold. Prince Thai and guerrillas loyal to him are able to act just in time to save the government.

Rehearsals are now being held regularly to prepare for the presentation. Other characters include Geraldine Glass, Dorothy Mosser, Louise Bowser, Lanny Savage, Ronald Slagle, Jim George, Randy Thomas, George Tasker, Gary Bowser, Marvin Kolb, Randall Wiley, Lee Coddington, Charles Rinker, Gary Hinebaugh, and Randall Wiley. Those assuming lesser parts will be announced.

Two Miners Hurt Last Week In Separate Mishaps

Two county residents were hurt last week in West Virginia coal mines. Both men are suffering from broken ribs.

Dale Sanders, of Crellin, was injured October 27 when a slab of rock fell on him while he was at work in a Chapel Coal Company mine near Kingwood.

Mr. Sanders was taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where he remains a patient with 12 ribs broken from his spine and a lung injury.

A Mt. Lake Park man was injured in a mine accident last week. Clyde Liller, 41, an employee of North Branch Coal Company, of Bayard, suffered several broken ribs and a shoulder injury in his mishap which occurred Thursday, October 26 at 6:30 a. m.

Mr. Liller is listed in satisfactory condition at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Sells Laundromat

DeCorsey E. Bolden announced the sale of his Southern Laundromat and the apartment building which houses it, known as Southern Enterprises, which became effective on Saturday, October 29. The sale was to Frank Ray Mattingly and his wife Betty, and his brother, Owen Mattingly and wife Dora. Owen Mattingly presently is owner and proprietor of the Oakland Coin laundry, located adjacent to the Dairy Queen, Omar street.

The Southern Laundromat and apartments are located just off Mt. Lake road. Mr. Bolden said he was retaining the Car Wash business located near Southern High. He and his wife plan to move from the apartment house to a new home almost complete, on East High street, adjacent to the property of Harry B. Buckley.

G. E. Bishoffs, Son George FFBL Winner

Is Twentieth Family Selected In Farming Program In County

Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Bishoff and their son George, who operate a farming enterprise near Friendsville, were named the 1967 Garrett County Farming For Better Living winners. The award was presented Thursday night at the annual FFBL banquet held at Southern High School cafetorium, Oakland.

The Bishoff farm consists of 279 acres and their chief operation is that of their dairy cattle. There are 38 Holstein cattle in the herd with 25 heifers being raised for replacements. The dairy herd is averaging 12,456 pounds of milk per cow per year.

The seventy-five farm families enrolled in this year's contest completed their project booklets and most of them were present for the banquet as guests of the sponsors and county business and professional persons. Joining with them again this year were members of the Oakland Rotary club.

Gift certificates contributed by county business people were distributed to each enrollee and L. Bush Swisher, project chairman of the program sponsored by the Monongahela Power company, announced the winning family. The extension service is co-sponsor of the project.

In addition to the purple ribbon the winning family will receive further recognition at the regional round-up in Morgantown early in December.

Maurice Brookhart, chairman, and the gift committee members were in charge of distributing awards and ribbons. Over 100 businessmen from all over the county contributed cash and merchandise to make the banquet awards possible.

For the sixth year the banks of the county provided special

Appeals Pending By Liquor Violators

Shirley A. Durr, of Mt. Top Restaurant on Rt. 40, west of Grantsville, whose license for a class B beer, wine and liquor permit was revoked by the county liquor board last week, has entered an appeal in the case and is scheduled to be heard Friday by the board.

The decision for revoking the license came after officers had found two bottles of whisky and one of vodka on the premises. None of the bottles had the county liquor stamp on it, the board stated.

Under the Garrett County liquor law whisky sold in licensed places must come from one of the county liquor dispensaries, located at Oakland and Grantsville.

Two other hearings are scheduled Friday morning before the liquor board in Oakland. Both involve Rustic Inn, west of the Garrett line. John C. Keister, licensee of the Inn, had his hearing postponed from last week because his attorney was out of town.

A hearing on an application by new licensees for Rustic Inn are to be held Friday. Applicants are John Paul Burzenski, vice president, Nancy C. Burkholder, secretary, and Anita E. McDonald, treasurer. Keister had pleaded guilty to two charges of after hours sale of alcoholic beverages and was fined $200 and costs on each conviction but one fine was suspended.

Another hearing on an application for a Class D beer license will be held Friday. Maple View Inn, Inc. wants to obtain a permit for the Inn near Deer Park where Ronald Welch has been the licensee.

At its last meeting the board denied a Class D beer permit for Edward Bosley of Old Mill restaurant in Gorman. A petition protesting the awarding of the license was presented containing 79 names of residents. A delegation of fifteen residents also appeared at the hearing.

ment window, ripped out the screen and climbed out. Her cries for help attracted neighbors who called an ambulance and firemen.

Sgt. James L. McLaughlin, Vienna police department, first on the scene, said Mrs. Lindstrom was dazed and hysterical. Thick smoke in the basement thwarted his rescue attempts. Firemen arrived and quickly quenched the blaze. Fire damage was confined to the utility room. Patrolman Herbert McWilliams pulled Douglas from the basement but the child was dead on arrival at Fairfax hospital. Causes of death were listed as multiple burns and suffocation. Both twins had been knocked backwards by the explosion. Michael's body was removed about two hours after the fire was out.

Lindstrom is in his fourth year as a health and physical education teacher at Fairfax high school. He played football at George Washington university in 1962 and 1963. Mrs. Lindstrom was a graduate of Southern High and Potomac State.

The GARRETT NATIONAL BANK
IN OAKLAND
BLOOMINGTON KITZMILLER ACCIDENT
"The Bank with an Eye to Your Future"

THE LIONS CLUB Halloween Parade, held Monday evening, drew a record crowd to watch the variously-costumed paraders march. Shown above are a few of the 500 persons who came to participate.

THE GROUP ABOVE is apparently too busy at present to heed Guy Wm. Hinebaugh's, (alias Oakland Hippie No. 1), slogan. The instrumentalists are part of Southern's Senior Band.

Hallowe'en Event Is Well Attended

The annual Halloween Celebration held Monday night in Oakland by the Oakland-Mt Lake Park Lions Club, brought the largest crowd ever to this annual affair. There were over 500 Paraders, with a total of 65 receiving prizes. The weather was moderate. Southern High School had its Senior and Junior Bands in the parade in addition to the Mt. City Band. The Club grossed over $1,000.00 and the net will go into the special fund for Eye Care as well as other projects sponsored by the Lions.

The crowd milled around the business district until 10:30 when two bonds were given away plus a portable television set. The latter was awarded to Playford Ryan, Oakland. Bonds were awarded to Clara Sisler Johnson, Route 1, and Jerry L. Canon, High Street.

The following Lions will man the refreshment stand at the Southern High football field this Friday. This is the last game of the year and Terra Alta will be the opponent. They are: Jim Crabtree, Wayne Johnson, Jim Nordeck, Jim Hesen, Tom Thayer, Jim Simms, Cot Callis and Ray McCutcheon.

Plans are being discussed at this time with the Rotary Club to install an Electric Scoreboard on the field next year.

The next meeting of the Lions Club will be held on November 13th at which time the members will canvass the area for the annual Fruit Cake sale. The club has 500 cakes for sale at the same price as last year, $3.00.

Optimist Club Meets

Oakland Optimist Club met last Thursday evening, Oct. 26, at The 135 Drive-In restaurant. Plans are being made for Youth Appreciation Week, set for November 13-19. The membership contest was won by Ward Ashby's team. The rifle match held on Oct. 23 was won by the Cumberland Optimist rifle team. The next rifle match will be held November 6, between the Whetsell rifle team of Keyser and the Oakland Optimist rifle team at the Oakland Armory rifle range.

Blue Cross Rate Boost Is Refused

Maryland Insurance Commissioner Newton I. Steers, Jr., denied a proposed 26.2 percent increase in Blue Cross rates during the past week-end and in a novel move, suggested a method to slow down climbing hospital costs.

Mr. Steers suggested that Blue Cross establish a ceiling on payments for daily hospital costs and refuse to reimburse its subscribers for any costs higher than the maximum daily rate.

He said daily hospital rates are rising at a "too rapid" pace.

Mr. Steers said his suggestion would "create an incentive for patients to go to hospitals which offer lower rates.

"It may induce hospitals to maintain rates and it may at least depress the dizzy spiral we are now ascending".

The commissioner said the Blue Cross request 'does not appear justified". He said compounded with a 14.8 per cent increase which was granted last spring, the new request would have amounted to a 44.9 per cent hike over "rates in effect just six months earlier".

Twenty Killed On State Highways

Twenty persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the Maryland State Police.

Nine of those killed were drivers, five were passengers, and six were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in six of the deaths, speed in eight, and "driver error" in fifteen.

"Sometime or other almost every motorist is faced with the problem of a flat tire, an overheated motor or a mechanical defect which necessitates his pulling the car over to the side of the road", said Lt. Col. George Davidson, Chief of Operations of the State Police. "When this occurs, it is essential that the operator take necessary safety precautions.

"Above all, he should be sure that he is as far as possible off the traveled portion of the road, especially if he plans to do the repair work himself, and a flare or other device should be set up to warn approaching motorists. Other specific precautions may also have to be taken, depending on the nature and location of the disablement. If this is done, many lives will

Leaves For Vietnam

Army Private David W. Lewis, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lewis, route 1, Oakland, following a 19-day leave here with his parents will leave Friday for Oakland, California, where he is scheduled to be assigned to South Vietnam.

Lewis entered the service June 12 and took his basic training at Fort Bragg, N. C. He completed an eight weeks field artillery course October 12 at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, where he received training in operation and maintenance of the 105mm and the 155mm towed howitzers. He also received instruction in firing the M-60 machine gun, the M-79 grenade launcher and the 3.5 inch rocket launcher.

PHARMACY PHACTS from Clinton W. Englander

Question

I've always heard that you shouldn't drink milk and fruit juice at the same time. On the other hand, I've done this and had no trouble whatsoever, so what's the story on this?

Answer

Do you remember that it wasn't too long ago that tomatoes were called love apples, and many amateur "experts" thought they were poisonous? Well, this old wives' tale about not drinking milk and fruit juice together fits into the same category for most people. The reason for this is when milk you've drunk reaches your stomach it is normally curdled or coagulated by an enzyme in the gastric juice which is called rennin. This first step in your digestive process is not reacted on by other foods or liquids which are eaten simultaneously. While no flat rules can be made, because of allergies which can enter into the picture, the average, normal person should have no problems where the drinking of these two liquids together is concerned.

Educators Attend Cumberland Meeting

Lewis A. Dominick, Jr., Matthew Stieringer and Robert Rodeheaver were among the educators present at a meeting of the Maryland Sub-Committee on Education of the Appalachian Regional Commission, held at the Ali Ghan Shrine Club in Cumberland, October 24.

A proposal to train teacher aides was discussed, and it was the conclusion of the committee that the use of teachers aides contributed to overall effectiveness of the teacher and the development of the individual students.

The present your son wants least...

He'd rather have a football, or a new bike. He'd never ask for insurance. But it's something he really needs.

Just like a money tree, State Farm's Junior Protector Policy can grow with your son to give him cash for college . . . for emergencies. Or, it can keep growing when he has a son, too. And, guaranteed insurability allows him to expand coverage in the future. Call me today.

Have you been mistaking it for a station wagon?

This seems to be the standard first impression of our anything-but-standard Squareback Sedan.

People just don't expect to see a sedan running around with a small steamer trunk and 6 suitcases inside.

Or a stack of water skis. Or 4 passengers and 2 TV consoles.

It's more the sort of thing they'd expect of a station wagon.

Which of course fits in perfectly with our plan.

We designed the Squareback for people who sometimes wish they had a station wagon. Just by squaring off the part that goes to waste in most sedans.

What we got was over 40 cubic feet of storage space with the back seat folded down. Twice as much as conventional sedans.

Not to mention the unconventional space up front. In the trunk. (The engine is where any respectable VW engine should be. In back. Underneath it all.)

So after you finish sliding your dozen valises into the back and a couple more into the front, just keep repeating

"It's a sedan. It's a sedan. It's a sedan"

Miller Guilty

contended that not one of the 41 witnesses called by the state actually saw Gary Miller get into Miss Ziegler's car along the Finzel Road on the night of May 27.

The defense attorney pointed out that the boy was taken into custody at the Meyersdale High School, where he was enrolled, about 2 p. m. May 29 and his parents did not get to see him until about 9 p. m., some seven hours later. He also cited the absence of fingerprints and blood samples among the exhibits offered into evidence by the state.

State's attorney Donald W. Mason pointed out that a statement the boy made on May 29 and then refused to sign was corroborated on 46 points by other witnesses called by the state.

He said young Miller had been accorded all of his constitutional rights and was ably represented by his court-appointed attorney. Finally, he asked for a verdict of guilty of first degree murder.

The state had presented 41 witnesses Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week before Mr. Mason rested his case.

Mr. Schindler called 12 witnesses, some of whom had testified previously. The boy himself declined to testify after his rights were explained to him in open court by Mr. Schindler.

Chief among the defense witnesses was the boy's mother, Mrs. Virginia Miller, who testified the boy was "home in bed" at 3:10 a. m. May 28 when she arrived home. She had not seen him after 5:30 p. m Saturday, May 27, until her return nearly 10 hours later.

Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill of Oakland had sentenced Miller to a term not to exceed four years in December, 1965, after a Garrett County jury found him guilty of raping a 22-year-old Salisbury, Pa., woman on July 12, 1965, in the county.

Witnesses at the trial in November of that year had testified that Miller admitted lying in wait for the woman in the back of her auto in Frostburg, then threatening her with a knife and ordering her to drive to the Finzel road where the attack took place. The woman was finally able to break away in the New Germany area where police were notified and the arrest made. This trial was conducted before a jury which found him guilty of rape and assault with intent to rape, with a recommendation "without capital punshment".

Knights of Pythias Plan Ladies' Night

Members of Garrett Lodge No. 113, Knights of Pythias, are planning to observe their annual Ladies' night program on Thursday evening, November 9, at 7:30 o'clock, at Castle Hall, Third street, Oakland, it was announced.

This marks the seventy-eighth anniversary of the founding of the local lodge. Grand lodge officers are being invited in addition to Pythian Sisters and members of several adjoining Pythian lodges. An appropriate program is being arranged. A large attendance of the membership, their wives and other guests is anticipated. There will be door prizes.

Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the program.

NORTH GLADE

The revival meeting which was announced to begin on October 29, was postponed and will begin on Sunday, November 5, at 7:30 p. m., according to Rev. Edgar Cole, pastor.

New Forms Needed For Student Classification

Under new selective service regulations which went into effect July 1st, it is necessary for a registrant, in order to receive a student classification, to have two affidavits submitted to his draft board, it was announced here this week by James H. Cunningham, field supervisor for the state selective service office.

He pointed out that one of the forms is 209 which comes from the registrant's school, and the other is a completed selective service form No. 104. This is a new form which the registration must sign himself and is obtainable at his school or any local board office in the country. If these forms are not on file in the draft board office the registrant cannot be classified as a student, it was stated.

Eisenhower observed his 77th birthday Oct. 14th.

Germany and they are the parents of three daughters, Rebecca, Amy and Laura. He is a member of the Friendsville Methodist church and a past president of the Friendsville Rotary club. He also served as scoutmaster in Friendsville and was active in community projects. Mr. Stanton and family have moved to Oakland and reside at 106 West Pennington St.

Mr. Lytle has been associated with the bank for the past four and one-half years, nearly two years of which were spent in the U. S. army. Prior to that he was a junior accountant with Oksner, Welch and Breslauer, certified public accountants, Washington. He is a graduate of Northern High School and Morgantown Business school. He also attended Benjamin Franklin university, Washington. He is married to the former Linda Knight, Confluence, Pa., and they reside near Friendsville.

Mrs. Lear has been employed at the Lake office since it was established in May, 1963. She is the wife of Jack Lear, member of the faculty of Northern High and football coach there.

Debaters Compete In Tournament

Southern, the only school invited from Maryland to participate in the Annual Wheeling College Invitational Debate Festival, brought home four wins from the October 28 four-round event.

Competing with high schools from West Virginia, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and New York, Southern's debate team had an even record in the tournament with four wins and four losses.

Affirmative team, Judy Simpson and Cyndy Mayle, defeated St. Edwards High School, Cleveland, St. Wendelin High School, Pittsburgh; Central Catholic High School, Wheeling; and St. Thomas District High School, Braddock, Pa.

Dennis DeBerry and Jim Jones, debating the negation, lost to Central Catholic High School, South Hills Catholic, and Canevin High School, Pittsburgh; and St. Mary's High School, McKees Rocks, Pa.

Judy and Cyndy were tied for sixth place among the affirmative speakers. Southern's record is now 7-7.

recognition to members of the program and former county winners for some special phase of farming.

The awards included: to Mr. and Mrs. Parker Warnick, Barton, superior achievement in woodland management; Mr. and Mrs. Oren Bender, Accident, dairy production; Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Hamilton, Red House, beef production; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lichty, Oakland, home life and family health; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buckel, Swanton, superior in FFBL achievement.

Some 225 persons attended the dinner. Speaker was Dr. Frank Bentz, assistant president of the University of Maryland. Musicial entertainment was provided by the Monte Vista 4-H club sextet.

As a result of the 100 percent completion the power company will provide a $25 award to be presented to the county 4-H council for improvement of the 4-H club program in the county.

A sideline to the dairy operation for the Bishoffs is their maple syrup business. They find it interesting and profitable making syrup and have established a good market for the syrup. They never have any trouble finding a ready market for all the syrup they produce.

The Bishoffs have 90 acres in pastureland and another 67 acres in meadow which supplied them enough feed and silage for the year. They fertilize and lime whenever necessary according to tests and have adequate water supply on the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Bishoff have two sons: John who works off the farm, but helps in his spare time; George who works the farm full time. Mr. Bishoff has been farming for 37 years and has a B.S. degree in Agricultural Education. Mrs. Bishoff holds a B.S. degree in Home Economics.

Mail Dog

no response, she philosophically gets back to her real business ...accompanying the mailman.

Happy's real owners are Mr. and Mrs. Don Browning of Fourth Street. She first came to them as a stray pup, and was quickly adopted by the entire family. When Don was postmaster, the dog made it her job to accompany him to and from work, and liked the place so well she decided not to leave even when he resigned.

Contrary to the usual postman-dog relationship, Happy serves as the postman's friend and protector. She has been severely bitten several times by unfriendly dogs, and has been hospitalized at least twice for injuries suffered while "on duty".

Although still plenty spry enough to meet either Mr. Peck or Mr. Bittinger downtown each day to follow them on their route, she is actually more than old enough for retirement; chronologically, age 10 or thereabouts, she is the human age equivalent of 70. Only her tendency to rest an hour or more in the post office before going home in the evening betrays her age, however, as she continues to shadow her friends, the postmen.

The Bishoffs plan to improve their farm operation as much as possible. They will continue to try to do a good job of farming.

Emerson Bishoff was one of the organizers of the Garrett County Maple Syrup Association and they still sell the syrup under that name. He also was one of the earliest farmers to have their farm laid out on a contour cultivation pattern provided by soil conservation specialists.

The former county winners over the past nineteen years also were presented with gifts from the power company.

Appeals

A hearing on the conviction of Donald Drees, who operates Don's Place, was postponed because of an appeal taken to the Maryland Court of Appeals.

Drees had entered a plea of not guilty to an indictment on three counts including sale of beer to a minor, furnishing beer to a minor and permitting consumption of beer on the premises by a minor. Judge Hamill granted a motion for dismissal of the first count. He was found guilty on the third count and fined $50 and costs.

Troop 97 Holds Meeting

Girl Scout Troop 97 met Tuesday night, October 31. Kathy Bigler, Judy Sherwood, and Susanne Schunck spoke on their trip to Camp Rockwood in Washington, D. C.

Plans for raising money for a trip to Williamsburg were made. The girls are also planning to offer a free baby sitting service on PTA nights at Center Street and Dennett Road Schools. Parents wishing to make use of this service may bring their children to the school on these nights.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sharps traveled to Bridgewater College last week-end to pick up their son Rob and Roger Stultz to bring them home so that they could attend Southern's Homecoming events. Rev. and Mrs. Owen Stultz returned the two boys to schools on Sunday.

Nine Births Occur

For at least the third week in a row, boys outnumber the girls born in Garrett County Memorial. Six boys and three girls made up this week's birth tally.

On October 28, a son to Mr. and Mrs. John David Doerr, Accident.

On October 29, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ray Deckman, Mt. Lake Park; a son to Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Kirkwood Knotts, Star Route, Oakland; a son to Mr. and Mrs. Gary Lee Rodeheaver, Hanover.

On the 30th, a daughter, to Mr. and Mrs. George Arlington Moon, Deer Park; a son to Mr. and Mrs. John Edward Wilson, Mt. Lake Park; a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dart Friend, Crellin; a son to Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Callers Stewart, Deer Park.

On November 2, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Joy Dale Sweitzer, Mt. Lake Park.

The hospital discharged 31, and admitted 41 during the past week. Census this morning stood at 48.

To Observe 50th Event

The daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bowman are arranging an open house on Sunday, November 5, at the residence at Red House, in honor of the 50th wedding anniversary of the couple. Friends and relatives are invited.

There will be a movie program at the Ruth Enlow Library on Monday evening Nov. 6, at 7:30 p. m. Three short movies will be shown.

The Investure Ceremony for Brownie Troop 88 will be held Monday November 6, at 4 o'clock in the Scout Hall in Oakland. Parents and friends are invited.

Visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Hanst, over the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. John Hanst and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Hanst, Baltimore; and Mr. and Mrs. James S. Burks and daughter, Summersville, W. Va.

The Junior Women's Civic Club will hold a fashion show this evening in St. Paul's Methodist church social room for prospective members. The club has "imported" clothes from Frostburg shops and wigs from Cumberland for the event. Some 80 persons are expected to attend.

James DeBerry, sophomore chemical engineering student, Oakland; Richard King, sophomore agriculture major, Oakland; and Kenneth Sisler, sophomore occupational accounting major, Friendsville, were named on the dean's list at Potomac State college, scoring 3.250 or higher.

Point View Inn has been plagued by another fire, this one occurring last week. The fire, described as very small, was contained in the basement and employees were able to douse the flames with a fire extinguisher, without having to ask aid from the Fire Department. Damage was described as very slight, according to an employee.

France has again blocked Britain's attempts to join the Common Market.

To Participate In State Meet

Mrs. Jonas Beachy, left, of the Bittinger Homemaker club, district 1 director, and Mrs. Paul T. Calderwood, Deer Park club, right, state committee chairman for citizenship and civil defense, will participate in the Maryland State Council of Homemakers clubs' annual meeting November 15 and 16 at the National 4-H center near Washington.

Mrs. Reuben Fazenbaker, county council president, will also make her report at the meeting.

District 1 includes Allegany, Carroll, Frederick and Washington counties in addition to Garrett.

Mrs. Calderwod will give the state report for the year. Mrs. Freda Denison, extension agent, home economics, will also attend the sessions Convenience foods were demonstrated with some recipes for the holiday season by Mrs. Denison at a meeting at the Gas company kitchen in Oakland on last Thursday afternoon, by foods chairmen of the various Homemaker clubs of the county. In the photo are, left to right, Mrs. Howard O. Jones, Mrs. Sadie Gnegy, Mrs. Howard W. Jones, Mrs. Robert Dodge, Mrs. Martha Green and Mrs. Max White.

Foods chairmen of the clubs will be giving food demonstrations on convenient foods during the present month. Other chairmen not included in the photo are Mrs. Margaret Bernard, Mrs. Nellie Glotfelty, Mrs. Clara Weeks, Mrs. Evelyn Nice and Mrs. Mary King.

Clubs are scheduled as follows:

Circle 1 will meet at 7:30 with Mrs. J. Stuart Cooper as hostess. Mrs. Carlton Bowser will be leader.

Circle 2 will meet with Mrs Clarence Spear as hostess, for a covered dish dinner. Leader will be Mrs. Jerome Mover.

Ruth circle will meet at 1:30 p. m., with Mrs. Merle Willard as hostess. Mrs. John A. Sharps will be leader.

Circle members will bring their money for the Lutheran Church Women's magazine at this time.

Figures Do Lie Sometimes

Most of the time one hears the statement that figures don't lie—but they did last week in listing the resources of the Garrett National Bank in Oakland.

The story of the resources of Oakland's two banks just shorted the Garrett National bank by some $1,625,977.23. The figure given was the deposits which totaled $15,471,893.30. The figure for the bank's resources should have read $17,097,870.53. The Republican regrets the error.

Wesley Schaible, bank president, said that final figures on the amount of Christmas Savings to be paid out early in November had reached $101,322.75, as of the close of business on Saturday.

Police arrested 32 Haight-Ashbury hippies as truants.

GRANTSVILLE

Week-end visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Resh and relatives were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Y. Resh, Cleveland, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Crowe and Billy and Mark Resh, Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Resh and children, of Clairton, Pa.

Mrs. Donald Hetrick was chosen among the top five district managers as Studio Girl salesman.

The Sweet Clover 4-H club met at the home of Mrs. Donald Hetrick to make hard-tack to sell. They held a skating party at Salisbury, Pa., on Sunday. The next meeting will be held on Friday, November 3, at the Community building, Jennings.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. William H. Brewer, Arlington, Va., at Sibley Memorial hospital, Washington, on Friday, October 13. Mrs. Brewer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Resh.

Local Civic Club Continue Three Christmas Projects

The Civic Club of Oakland met Tuesday at the American Legion home. Mrs. John O. Durst presided.

It was decided to continue three Christmas projects from the previous year. The first is to place artificial Christmas trees in the nursing homes. The second project is giving gifts to patients in the nursing homes who have no family. The third is to furnish table decorations for the Christmas party at the Green Street School.

A report was given on the second annual charity ball, showing approximately $500 to be given to Garrett County Memorial hospital as net proceeds from the dance.

Mrs. E. I. Baumgartner asked that anyone who has gifts for the Springfield State Hospital patients to leave them at the Library or at her home.

Books are being collected for the House of the Good Shepherd Library. Anyone having books to contribute may contact Mrs. C. W. Englander.

A flower arrangement was given to Mrs. Florence Maurer as a door prize.

Luncheon arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Clayton White, chairman, Mrs. Thomas Kight and Mrs. C. Raymond McCutcheon.

Following the business meeting the club went to the Planetarium and Science Center, where Paul S. Franks gave an orientation talk before viewing the stars in the planetarium.

The program was arranged by the Education committee with Mrs. Frederick Thayer, chairman, Mrs. Eva Ream, Miss Rosalie Pendergast and Miss Ellena Pendergast.

Some 42 members and 5 guests attended. Guests were Mrs. O. T. Graser, who was a former president of the club, Mrs. Aza Stanton, Mrs. Leo Helbig, Mrs. Sally Millet, Mrs. Eugene A. McClelland.

Tree Rustlers Warned About Pinching Pines

W. A. C. Irwin, district manager of the Department of Forests and Parks, recently commented on the rash of complaints his office has received about unknown persons entering Garrett and Allegany counties and removing pine trees, which have been planted in a reforestation program, and transporting them to other areas for use in Christmas and floral decorations for commercial purposes.

Mr. Irwin warned that there is a law against such transportation of trees and boughs, and asked landowners and residents in the counties to report to him or the State Police any suspicious activities in the transportation, cutting or digging up of trees and boughs.

Southern High's Junior High football team chalked up a victory over the Northern High Junior High football team by beating them Tuesday by a score of 19-14.

The little Highlanders controlled most of the game, and the win kept them undefeated, as they now have a 2-0-2 record.

Southern started the game with a series of plays ending in a 13 yard run by halfback Benny Shaffer. The extra point was missed. The second TD was made in the first quarter on a 15 yard pass from quarterback Terry King to Pete Cosby, with Shaffer making the extra point.

Southern made its last touchdown in the first half when Cosby scored again, this time running 50 yards after intercepting a Northern pass.

The third period of play was a seesaw battle with no score.

The Northern Puppies broke loose in the fourth quarter when Meyers ran the ball 11 yards for a touchdown. McKenzie added the extra point. A 15 yard run by McKenzie tallied another touchdown for the Huskies, who also added the extra point.

This was the second meeting of the season. Southern winning the first 7 to 6. The little Rams are undefeated through 2 years of play.

Wants Road Improved

The County Commissioners were petitioned by Charles Lee at their October 23 meeting for an improvement to the Seldom Seen Road. Mr. Lee told commissioners he would like to see the road improved enough that the school bus could travel over it. Mr. Robert R. Martin, Superintendent of Transportation to the County School Board, appeared to explain his department's position on the road. The Commissioners have promised to investigate the matter.

Oakland Now Is Using Dog Pound

Oakland now has its first dog pound to go along with its full-time dog warden. The pound, located at the edge of the town parking lot, is a 10' x 12' metal building constructed by Community Project workers with material furnished by the city. Work was completed October 26. Inside are six wire cage stalls to keep the dogs separated.

Thus far, Ellis (Dish) Cogley has caught approximately ten dogs. Mr. Cogley has a tranquilizer gun he can use to subdue vicious animals, although as yet he has not had to use it.

Lose A Dog?

At present, Mr. Cogley has two dogs impounded. One, a light brown male mixed breed, stands about 24 inches high and was wearing a collar when found. He was picked up in the Fourth Street vicinity. The other is a black, white, and tan predominantly Beagle male, picked up along Center Street. Persons wishing to claim their dogs must pay a $2 fee plus $1 for each day the dog has been impounded.

If after the 48 hour waiting period, no one has claimed a dog, Mr. Cogley will give the dog to anyone who promises it a home.

Apple Butter Makers At Work

Apple butter makers were at work again this year to provide several months' supply for a number of local families. Several women, men and children gathered last Friday evening and Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Sincell, in Mt. Lake Park, for the seemingly endless job to help preserve a dying art.

Friday they cut up nineteen and one-half bushels of apples, which provided 12 bushels of cored, peeled and quartered apples. The fire was lighted under large copper kettles at 3 o'clock Saturday morning. The workers stirred without ceasing from that time until about 5 p. m., when they realized some 34 gallons of seasoned apple butter. In the photo above are State's Attorney Fred A. Thayer, Michael Belmont, director of purchasing for Westinghouse in Pittsburgh, a Deep Creek Lake summer resident; Mrs. Robert Ruckert, to the left in the background, and Mrs. Thayer, about center background, practically obscured by the steam arising from the two kettles of apple butter.

The Southern High Rams were unable to generate any driving power against the Petersburg Vikings in last Friday's Homecoming game on the local gridiron and lost 32 to 0.

Gary Michael scored three touchdowns for the Vikings, two on passes from Quarterback Gary Stump. Stump tallied twice himself. Stump put the Vikings ahead by scoring from the five and two yards away in the first and second periods. Tie touchdown passes to Michael came in the third and fourth periods. Michael had scored earlier in the third period. Michael also booted a pair of extra points.

A stout Viking defense yielded 38 yards along the ground but caught Coach Bolding's runners for 44 yards in losses. Petersburg picked up 301 yards rushing.

The Highlanders were equally unsuccessful along the air lanes. Only one of their five passes was caught and that by a Petersburg defensive safety. Southern was forced to punt six times. The Vikings punted once. Both teams lost a fumble.

The Rams will attempt to get back into the victory column when they meet Terra Alta high school on Friday night on the local gridiron.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Clarence A. Uphold, who passed away seven years ago, October 31, 1960.

You have gone, but not forgotten,
By ones who loved you so,
We still hear your footsteps,
And see your smiling face.
We know that some day, we will see you again,
Where everything is so peaceful and quiet.
You parted from us so fast,
There were no good-byes.
Sorrow is such a sad thing,
But we're all aware,
That in your place in heaven you'll rest forever more.
Sadly missed by

Heads Region 3 In Scout Program

Edwin H. Gott, president of United States Steel Corporation, was elected chairman of Region Three, National Council, Boy Scouts of America at the Region's annual business meeting at Norfolk, Va., last Friday.

Mr. Gott will direct the activities of the nation's fourth largest scouting region with 450,000 registered members in 16,000 units. Included are the states of Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, District of Columbia, three counties in West Virginia surrounding Martinsburg and seven counties in North Carolina around Elizabeth City. Approximately 1,800,000 boys of Scout age live in this area.

Region Three's new chairman served from 1964 to 1967 as president of the Allegheny Trails Council of the Boy Scouts, which covers Southwestern Pennsylvania. In recognition of his service, he received this year the Silver Beaver, one of scouting's highest awards.

In accepting the new position, Mr. Gott expressed his deep conviction that while the development of young people is a very rewarding experience, it is also an obligation which American businessmen should assume in fulfilling civic and community responsibilities.

"The whole aim of scouting", he said recently "is to put boys in close association with men who know where they are going. Men who can map a straight route to self-reliance for youngsters to follow. For young boys, scouting extends leadership from boyhood to responsible, productive manhood. This is assuming, of course, that responsible men accept their opportunity to help today's youth".

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Every fall when the leaves turn red, I pay a visit to New York City. There's magic there for me. A pulse of excitement rides the autumn air and no matter what I'm doing, riding the bus on the avenue or browsing in a bookstore, I'm invigorated.

I see exciting plays, visit art galleries and indulge in my love for museums. Shopping in large department stores intrigues my woman's heart. Each year I save some time to sit on a bench and watch the people go by.

I return home refreshed for another year—determined to work harder at my typewriter and improve my work. I am inspired to perfect my craft.

Church-going does the same thing for my inner life. An hour of meditation and worship sends me home with a fresh outlook and a firm resolve to reflect God's love more clearly in the coming week. I am inspired to perfect my life.

Your church is the key to a full life.

THE HARD WAY

Lesson for November 5, 1967

Background Scripture: Hosea 1 through 3, 8 13.
Devotional Reading: Psalms 46.

Someone has noted the inconsistency of the woman who prays for patience, but complains when she is sent an inefficient cook! Her problem is shared by all of us: we want to learn the hard things by some easy, painless method.

Rev. Althouse

Painless learning, however, is a rare luxury. Parents sigh when children refuse to take their advice, yet they may remember that no one could tell them much about anything when they were that age themselves. Most of us, it seems, must learn the hard way.

Law Of Readiness

Educators speak of the "law of readiness." This means that people are more likely to learn when their experiences have prepared them and made them receptive. When his muscle development has progressed far enough, a child is ready to learn to walk. When a school child's mind has learned to deal with abstractions, we say they are ready to learn higher forms of mathematics.

Many of the greatest lessons of life are also dependent upon the "law of readiness." Certain things can only be learned when experiences have prepared us to receive them. Parenthood can be studied as an academic subject, but we cannot really learn all we need to know until we have become parents. Often, this seems to be "the hard way."

A young teenager seems headed for trouble. A number of people try to get him back on the right track, to keep him from making a tragic mistake. But he will not listen and in time he is sent to prison for a serious crime. There in his loneliness, he begins to understand the tragic waste of his life and vows to be a new person when at last he is released on parole. He has had to learn "the hard way."

Why? Why?

It was infantile paralysis, says a biographer, that taught Franklin D. Roosevelt the quality of patience. It was a hard lesson for this restless, dynamic man, but from this tragedy he learned a lesson which was to be of inestimable value in his continuing career.

Thus it may be for many of the most necessary lessons: compassion, love, forgiveness, humility, the meaning of life and death; all of these seem to be learned best "the hard way."

Why should this be so? Why should God afflict us in order to teach us something? Why is pain so necessary?

We need to realize that God does not knock us down in order to pick us up. We manage to get down in the depths quite by ourselves. Yet, though he does not send tragedy to us, he nevertheless can use it to accomplish his purpose. God can squeeze a blessing out of the mess we make of our lives.

What's The Lesson?

It is not a matter of God being ready at last to teach us, but of us being willing at last to learn. Often this happens only when we have reached the "bottom of the pile." When we have been stripped of our pretenses, shown our inadequacies, and demonstrated our need for resources beyond our own, then we may be ready.

Hosea was a prophet whose greatest insights and understandings came, not in visions, dreams, or from scrolls, but from the depths of his own personal tragedy. God was able to use his marital troubles to reveal to Hosea something he wanted him to learn. How much better had Hosea been able to learn some other way. But for him, as for most of us, it had to be "the hard way."

Dr. Paul Tournier, the famous Swiss physician, suggests that when we are ill, we ought to ask ourselves what God might want to teach us through our illness. So it may be with other adversities. Whatever our difficulties, let us ask what blessings God might squeeze from them, what lesson he might teach us "the hard way."

EYE SYMPTOMS MAY BE WARNINGS OF DANGER

They may indicate the eyes themselves need help or that conditions in the body are causing problems which are doing them serious harm. Eyesight is too important to neglect any signs of abnormal vision.

A sudden, severe pain in the eyes spreading over the head may be a sign of glaucoma, which can destroy vision in hours. Watch out for recurring dimming of vision, halos around lights, distortions of objects, double vision, excessive tears and blinking, red eyelids and unequal pupils. All these are symptoms which almost demand the immediate attention of a physician or ophthalmologist. When medication is needed, we can fill any prescription.

Educators Inspect Proposed Sites For Junior College

Three representatives from the State Department of Education, one from the Department of Public Works; Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools, and the three county commissioners, Allen S. Paugh, Ross Sines and Hubert Friend, inspected all three proposed sites for the junior college yesterday.

No decision was reached by the state educators but they said they would write an official recommendation within a week.

The Glotfelty and Wagner site, the Yoder farm and the White Face farm were the three areas inspected. Each commissioner has a different site to recommend.

Recommendation Would Eliminate County Delegate

A committee recommendation that calls for a bi-cameral legislature of no more than 140 members sitting for a maximum of 150 days a year, went to the constitutional convention yesterday.

The idea of at least one delegate per county was abandoned, which, if adopted would eliminate Garrett County altogether from having any represenation in the legislature.

Weather Moderate

Moderate temperatures were the rule, rather than the exception, for the past week. Last Thursday was the chilliest, the thermometer only rising 10 degrees for a high of near 44. Friday had a 54 degree high.

Saturday brought clearing skies, with temperatures about the same. Sunday the warming trend set in, with sunny skies and temperatures near the 60s.

Monday began with 24 degress, and clear skies. A high of 62 was noted. Tuesday was partly cloudy, with a moderate temperature of near 61.

Wednesday also brought mild weather, with a 50-56 degree mercury range. A drizzle began falling about 4 p. m., which developed into a full-fledged rain before morning. Thursday dawned with the promise of party cloudy skies, and another conservative mercury reading of near 60.

Revival Is Planned

There will be revival services held at the Pentecostal Holiness church at Corinth, W. Va., beginning Sunday evening, November 5, at 7:30 p. m. There will be special singing each evening and all are welcome. The pastor is Fred V. Friend.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Annabelle Broadwater, who passed away one year ago, November 4, 1966.
God saw the road was getting rough
The hills were hard to climb.
He gently closed her loving eyes
And whispered, peace be thine
Her weary hours, her days of pain
Her weary nights are passed.
Her ever patient worn out frame
Has found sweet rest at last.
Sadly missed by her

The Northern High Huskies will conclude their season on Friday November 3 at Morgantown when they tangle with St. Francis High school. They hope to make it win number six against three losses.

Last Friday night at Homecoming game the Huskies defeated Berlin High 18 to 7, after trailing 7 to 0 at the end of the first quarter.

Northern scored touchdowns in the second, third and final periods, in sewing up the victory but failed to make any points after touchdown.

Berlin High scored on a 48-yard pass play to take the lead early in the contest but touchdowns by Larry Brenneman, Gary Reichenbecher and Clark Glotfelty put the game on ice for the Huskies.

Brenneman scored Northern's first TD on a run up the middle from the three. A five-yard pass from Wayne George to Reichenbecher produced the second score and Glotfelty went off tackle for the final six-pointer. The Huskies tried two extra points on passes and one on a kick.

Police Protection Fund Distributed

Checks totaling $7,241,748.38 have been mailed to the 23 counties and Baltimore City to provide the first quartely distribution for state grants to subdivisions and the state aid for police protection fund. The checks were sent by State Comptroller Louis Goldstein in accordance with Chapter 142 of the Acts of 1967, as amended by Chapter 1 of the extra session of the General Assembly of June, 1967.

Of the total amount $3,961,536 will go to provide more adequate police protection to the subdivisions and municipalities of the state by contributing to local expenditures for police services.

Each subdivision receiving payments out of the fund is required to make distribution to its municipalities in amounts as set forth by the law.

The distribution included for Garrett County, $6,558 for state aid for police protection fund and $34,177.40 for state grants to subdivisions.

Train Schedules Will Be Revised

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad announced today that it has asked various state regulatory agencies for permission to reshape its passenger train service to meet conditions resulting from sharp declines of passenger and mail revenues.

David A. Watts, Jr., director of passenger services, said the changes planned by B & O will involve rescheduling of some trains, combining of others, addition of service in some areas, and the discontinuance of some trains no longer needed by the traveling public.

Included in the plans:

(1) A new daytime service ("The Allegheny") between Washington and Pittsburgh, will offer an early-morning departure from Washington and a late-afternoon departure from Pittsburgh.

(2) Between Washington and Cumberland, the "National Limited" will be combined with the Washington-Chicago "Capitol Limited", making lounge and dining car facilities of that train available to "National" passengers. West of Cumberland, the "National" will operate as a separate train, serving Clarksburg, Parkersburg and Cincinnati.

(3) An improved service for longer-distance commuters in the Washington area will be stopping at suburban stations offered by "The Potomac Flyer", and at Brunswick, Harpers Ferry, Martinsburg and Cumberland.

All stations currently served by B & O will continue to have scheduled trains under the new plan.

"Our new plan, designed to cope with the diminishing demand for passenger train services, provides more convenient departure and arrival times", Mr. Watts said. "Removal of the mail has afforded increased flexibility in scheduling".

"We will place greater emphasis on the market potential of the shorter-distance passenger, with trains scheduled to give improved service to patrons making trips of less than 500 miles", he added.

Supreme Court Decisions Impede Police Officers

Three Maryland law enforcement officials agreed that recent decisions of the Supreme Court have impeded police prosecution and afforded additional protections for the criminal to the disadvantage of the innocent.

The three officials—Francis B. Burch, Attorney General of Maryland; Colonel Robert J. Lally, Superintendent of State Police, and George J. Helsinki, deputy States Attorney for Baltimore City, voiced their opinions after a television examination of crime, the problems of law enforcement and the application of justice against a background of the Supreme Court rulings.

Maryland officials reveal that hundreds of criminal confessions and statements previously admissible in evidence prior to the rulings of the Supreme Court now would be inadmissible. As a result, they say, admitted criminals now often go free because of the restrictions placed upon the peace officers and the courts by the Supreme Court rulings.

Mt. Top AIB Study Group Organizes

Thirty-eight bankers from seven area banks of Maryland and West Virginia met Wednesday night, November 1st, at the Community Room of The First National Bank of Oakland for their first of twenty-one classes in a course entitled, "Principles of Bank Operation". All future classes will be held at Southern High School, Room A-116, from 7:00 to 9:00 p. m., each Wednesday.

"Principles of Bank Operation" is an accredited course offered through the American Institute of Banking, educational wing of the American Bankers Association. The course is designed to teach interested bankers the "whats" and the "whys" of basic principles and operations of commercial banks, and will serve as a refresher course for more seasoned bankers. It is one of many courses offered by the Institute in keeping with their leadership in the field of on-the-job educational programs offered to ambitious bank employees who are interested in furthering their knowledge of banking and the opportunity for advancement in the field of their choice.

Institute courses are offered only to employees or directors of banks. Students who satisfactorily complete the course and pass the final examination will receive credit toward certificates issued by the National Office, such as the Pre-Standard Certificate, the Standard Certificate and the Advanced Certificate. Other courses in Commercial Law, Economics, Effective English, Accounting and other areas of banking will follow this one.

The Mt. Top AIB Study Group is the first such group to be organized on the mountain top. The closest active chapter is in Fairmont, W. Va.

Courtney R. Tusing, Vice President and Assistant Trust Officer of The First National Bank of Oakland, was chosen as the group's first chairman. He will also teach the course on "Principles of Bank Operations". Tusing came to the mountain top in February, 1966, from the Bank of Charles Town, W. Va., where he was Vice President and Trust Officer. He has been in banking seventeen years and holds an A.B. degree in Economics from Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Class of 1947. In 1966 he completed the requirements for graduation at the Stonier Graduate School of Banking as a Trust Major, a three-year course co-sponsored by Rutgers, The State University at New Brunswick, New Jersey, and the American Bankers Association.

All area bankers were invited to attend this study class. Students enrolled for this year include:

Mrs. Betty Maxson, Miss Jean Lomanto, Miners and Merchants Bank, Thomas, W. Va.; George Kirk, Jr., Duane E. Kelley, Dorothy F. Cale, James C. Hollis, Ruth V. Stockman, Miss Linda Metheny and Miss Karen B. Kelley of the First National Bank, Terra Alta, W. Va.; Howard Metheny and Kenneth Frankhauser of The Terra Alta Bank, Paul E. School Bus Inspection Set For November 6, 7

The second scheduled school bus inspection of the school year will be conducted Monday and Tuesday, November 6 and 7, it was announced by Robert R. Martin, supervisor of transportation.

Mr. Martin said serious consideration should be given to the use of engine heaters to assist in cold weather starting. He said special emphasis also should be given to sanders, winter tires, condition of chains, cooling system, heaters and defrosters, and other factors which affect starting and running.

He listed the following schedule:

Monday, November 6, Northern High, 9 to 11; Friendsville, 11:30; Grantsville, 1:15 p. m.

Tuesday, November 7, Southern High, 8:30 to 11; Rahrbaugh's 12:30 p. m.; Bloomington, 1:30 p. m.

"A CLOTHES DRYER THAT DOES MY IRONING? RIDICULOUS!"

Show us a lady who doubts a gas dryer can do her ironing and we'll show you a lady who wonders why everyone's excited about new Permanent Press clothing.

Somebody should tell her that most of the Permanent Press labels say these garments must have the gentle tumble-action of an automatic clothes dryer to pop out the wrinkles and snap back the creases.

Permanent Press clothing for the whole family and dozens more no-iron wonders are waiting for her to see the light.

A penny-a-load gas dryer is waiting for her, too. Ready to team up with Permanent Press to do most of her ironing—and to do it for about one-fifth of what it costs to run an electric dryer.

DIED

RALPH K. JENKINS

Ralph K. Jenkins, 87, Grantsville, died Wednesday, October 25 at Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland after a lengthy illness.

Born in New Germany, he was a son of the late William and Louise (Durst) Jenkins. He was a retired farmer, whose wife, Anna V. (Stephens) Jenkins, preceded him in death.

Surviving are three sons, Roy Jenkins, Frostburg; Ray and Robert Jenkins, both of Grantsville, four daughters, Mrs. Edna Wampler, Frostburg; Mrs. Ruth Lavengood, Swanton; Mrs. Alcy Housel, Cumberland; and Mrs. Lula Smith, Winchester, Va.; 21 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Newman Funeral Home in Grantsville. The body was taken to the New Germany United Church of Christ, of which he was a member, on Saturday at 1 p. m. Services were held there at 2 p. m., with Rev. Ernest Rumbaugh, pastor, officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery.

The family had requested that expressions of sympathy take the form of donations to the Church of Christ Memorial Fund.

MRS. ROY SHANHOLTZ

Mrs. Susan Shanholtz of Elk Garden, died Saturday, October 28 at Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, shortly after being admitted.

A native of Fayettesville, Arkansas, she was a daughter of Theodore Earll, and the late Suzanne (Austin) Earll. She had resided in this area the past seven years. She is survived by her husband, Roy R. Shanholtz, Jr. and a son, Walter R. Shanholtz, at home.

The body was taken to the Pritts Funeral Home in Kitzmiller. A funeral service was held Tuesday, October 31, from the Elk Garden Methodist Church, with Rev. James Johnson officiating. Burial was in the Kalbaugh Cemetery, Elk Garden.

MRS. WILLIAM KNOTTS

Mrs. Delphia M. Knotts, 91, died Thursday, October 26, at her home in Kitzmiller after a brief illness.

Born in Corinth, W. Va., she was a daughter of the late David and Nancy Jane (Davis) Williams and was the widow of William Loman Knotts, who died in 1934.

She was a member of Daughters of America, Blaine, and Church of the Latter Day Saints.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Tina James and Mrs. Excavia Sharpless, both of Kitzmiller, and Mrs. Lona Ellifritz, Deer Park; a son, Hugh W. Knotts, at home; 19 grandchildren and a number of great grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Sharpless Funeral home in Kitzmiller, before being transferred to the home of her grandson, Conrad James Kitzmiller. A funeral service was conducted Sunday, October 29, from the residence by Elder Grailey of the Church of the Latter Day Saints. Interment was in the IOOF Cemetery, Elk Garden.

MRS. HARRY R. BEEGHLY

Mrs. Elmina Beeghly, 65 of Water street, Oakland, died Thursday, October 26, at her home.

Born March 15, 1902, in this county, she was the daughter of Mrs. Clara (Pike) Sisler, Oakland, and the late John Sisler.

Besides her mother, she is survived by her husband, Harry R. Beeghly, Sr.; two sons, Harry R. Beeghly, Jr., Oakland, and John W. Beeghly, Deal; one daughter, Mrs. Clara Johnston, Mt. Lake Park; three brothers, Monroe Sisler and Arnold Sisler, both of Gormania, and Carl Sisler, Clarksburg, W. Va., and seven grandchildren.

She was a member of the Eglon Church of the Brethren and the Tops Club.

The body was taken to the Leighton-Durst Funeral Home where a funeral service was held Sunday by Rev. Donald D. Matthews. Interment was in Mortner Cemetery.

DEER PARK

Dr. Rolf Ammann is a patient in Garrett County Memorial hospital.

Mrs. Leona Propst is a patient in Garrett County Memorial hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Ashburn and family, Hagerstown, were recent guests of Mrs. E. C. Clatterbuck.

Mrs. Madelyn Kemp is a patient in the Medical Center, Morgantown.

Harry Lesher is ill at this writing.

Magistrate Hears Seven Charges

Seven cases made up the criminal docket for the past week in the office of Trial Magistrate Robert Maroney, at Oakland

Marion Wolfe received a one-year sentence to the House of Correction for non-support of Rita Wolfe and their two minor children, aged three and one year, since October 15, 1965 Wolfe's sentence was suspended provided he pays $25 a week toward their support.

Nelson Carper was charged by Mrs. Loretta Savage with maliciously and willfully attempting to burn property belonging to Frank Warren, Jr., in Mt. Lake Park. Carper is being held for the action of the Grand Jury, with his bond set at $500. Mrs. Savage also charged Carper with being drunk and disorderly on October 24 in Mt. Lake. Carper pleaded not guilty to the charge, but was found guilty, and committed to the Garrett County jail for 10 days.

John Durr charged Alvin Lewis with assault on October 22 at Swallow Falls. Lewis forfeited bond of $26.75.

Donna Coleman charged Robert Coleman with assault and battery on October 25 at Swallow Falls. Coleman pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to 30 days in the Garrett County jail. His sentence was suspended provided he be of good behavior.

Jesse Franklin Turner was charged by Arley Willett with being drunk and disorderly on October 27 four miles west of Gorman. He forfeited bond of $25 and costs.

William Rishell charged Charles Rishell with being drunk and disorderly on October 27 at Loch Lynn. He pleaded guilty to the charge, and was fined $25 and costs

Civil Defense Leaders Hold Meet October 25

The Board of County Commissioners, Thomas Sluss, and Harold Adams met with Colonel Elbert O'Keefe of the State Department of Civil Defense on October 25 in the C.D. office. Also present was Sheriff James Frantz.

The main matters discussed were disaster reporting and shelters. A film concerning shelter planning was shown to the group, which pointed out the many factors to be considered when constructing a community shelter.

George Comp made a statement to the effect that a full-time Civil Defense Director is needed for Garrett County.

West Md. Office To Open in Nov.

The State Planning Department will officially open its Western Maryland Regional office on Monday, November 6, Richard A. Schaub of the Department's staff will be assigned to the new office which is located at 100 W. Washington Street in Hagerstown, Md.

Mr. Schaub is a graduate of Loyola College in Baltimore and has received additional graduate training in planning from the Johns Hopkins University.

Mr. Schaub will render State technical services to such agencies as the county planning commissions in Allegany and Washington counties and the local planning commissions in Cumberland, Hagerstown, Frostburg, and Westernport.

He will also be available to provide direct planning assistance to Garrett County and to smaller communities that do not have planning staffs. In this respect, Mr. Schaub will be helping communities to become eligible for Federal funds under requirements set up by the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The requirements state that in order to qualify for Federal planning assistance, communities with 25,000 or more population must have a full-time planning director and localities under 25,000 population must have at least a part-time staff responsible for carrying out planning programs.

World Community Day To Be Observed Friday

World Community Day will be observed this Friday, November 3, 1:30 p. m., at St. John's Church, Spiscopal, Deer Park.

The main speaker will be the Reverend Vaughn Taylor, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, Red House, with Mrs. Jay Bell, Oakland, as soloist. The public is invited to attend and to bring diapers and receiving blankets as material aid for Asian children.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 91. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., NOVEMBER 9, 1967 PER COPY 10c NUMBER 37.

Out on a Limb . . .

The recommendation last week by a constitutional convention committee to reshuffle the legislature in such a way that would eliminate the practice of having at least one delegate from each county, would create a tyranny of the worst sort and leave Garrett County as well as several other counties out on a limb, with no representation whatever in the legislature.

Each county in the state is a political entity, that conducts its own business, has its own officials and is an important section of the state as a whole. How can a committee preparing a new constitution disregard the political makeup of the state to such an extent that it would simply place a regulation in the constitution that would forever keep any one area from having representation in a state legislature?

We know that a decision of the supreme court declared it was mandatory to have a one man—one vote representation, which many persons have taken exception to, but the court couldn't have been thinking seriously about the areas they are excluding.

Which is worse, partially unequal representation or no representation at all? It was said long ago that taxation without representation was tyranny. We now say that running the state's legal affairs and business affairs without representation from each county would produce a situation of real tyranny in very short order. The more populous areas would stifle the sparse sections.

Just this past year Garrett County had its lone senator taken away and members of the House of Delegates reduced from three to one. Now if the committees planning the constitution have their way they will take away that lone delegate. That is strictly opposite to the democratic process and if allowed to stand is indeed tragic.

Some all-inclusive plan must be worked out.

Fourteen Teenagers Held For Juvenile Court Hearing

"It is now 11 o'clock p. m. Do you know where your children are?" A number of Oakland area parents might have been astonished if that question had been asked them personally last Friday evening, because they could not have answered correctly unless they would have said "No." Authorities indicated some of the parents didn't seem to care.

They were due to find out a little later, however, when parents of a number of teen agers were called and informed by Sheriff James E. Frantz that their son or daughter was in the lobby of the county jail and that they had been picked up for causing a disturbance at the home of one of the offenders. They were asked to come and get them.

Apparently a boisterous party had been in progress for some time when the city police and the sheriff were alerted. There were a number of cases of beer in the home and the officers reported some bedrooms being occupied.

Fourteen young men and women were involved in the case which got on the juvenile court docket on Tuesday afternoon. There were various charges, having alcoholic beverage in possession, consuming alcoholic beverage, immoral conduct, disturbing the peace, encouraging or tending to cause a condition being within the jurisdiction of the Court six minor children. Another charge was encouraging minors under 18 to engage in conduct which tends to make them delinquent, specifically

Note to County Correspondents

A midweek rush of county letters from correspondents throughout the area has been swamping the type-setting machines at The Republican office, on Wednesdays causing complications in making up the newspaper on Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning.

Correspondents should aim to get their material into this office whenever possible no later than Tuesday.

Janna Naylor Gets Drake Award

Miss Janna L. Naylor was the guest of honor and recipient of the Nathan Drake Award at the annual Nathan Drake banquet held Tuesday, October 31, at the University of Maryland.

Janna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Naylor, Jr., Oakland, was presented with the award by the Alpha Rho Chapter of Alpha Chi Sigma. Each year, the award is presented to the most promising junior majoring in chemistry.

Dr. J. Weismiller from the National Institute of Health was guest speaker. Members of the family attending the banquet were Janna's father, Arthur E. Naylor, Jr., and her grandparents and uncle Mr. and Mrs Milton L. Yingling and Ronald K. Yingling of Adelphi.

Janna will also be among those recognized at the Honors Convocation to be held November 16 in the auditorium of the J. Millard Tawes Fine Arts Center, at the University.

Deer Park Firemen Place New Equipment Truck In Service

Deer Park firemen have placed a new equipment truck in service. The truck was ordered early in the summer, arrived in September and was made ready for service this week. Firemen built racks, shelves and other items in the truck to handle equipment before it was ready.

William Clatterbuck, department chief, said the new truck replaces a station wagon type truck that had been used by the department for several years. The new truck provides much needed additional space, he said, and will be operated on every fire or emergency. It carries firemen's coats, boots, helmets, gas masks, resuscitator, stretcher, power saw, portable light plant and lights, hand lanterns and other tools used in emergencies.

He said other items also had been ordered and when the truck is completely equipped the cost will reach $6,000. Most of the money has been raised through various department activities and the annual truck fund campaign.

There are two other pieces of equipment, one a 750-gallon pumper with an 800-gallon booster, and a 500-gallon pumper with an 800-gallon booster.

Clatterbuck also announced the annual shooting match at the Firehouse on Thanksgiving day begining at 1 p. m. with 12, 16 and 20 gauge shotguns to be used. Shells are to be furnished. Dressed turkeys will be given as prizes. Free coffee will be served.

Finance Report For County Is Listed Today

Receipts Of $3,457,423.11 Noted During Fiscal Year 1967

The annual financial report for the county for the fiscal year July 1, 1966 to June 30, 1967, shows receipts of $3,457,423.71 with expenditures of $2,995,067.61. Cash on hand June 30 amounted to $462,356.10.

Receipts included real and personal property tax, public utilities, of $1,661,095.10, interest on deliquent taxes amounted to $9,442.83, state tax collections, $93,065.53.

Monies from other sources totaled $38,635.90, with cigaret tax of $70,596.01; income tax, $99,047; beer tax, $74,636.20; auto license fees, $49,389; state forestry department, $17,157.80.

Monies on hand and receipts for special accounts amounted to $1,018,522.10 which included a school building fund of $146,801.19 and gasoline tax, $550,249.24.

Among the disbursements were orders paid from the general fund amounting to $1,832,873.95; state tax remitted $92,666.15; and discount on taxes of $69,732.53.

Some $125,269.53 went to the school building fund and $174,084.17 on area vocational school building fund. A special section on the report from the Liquor control board showed a gross profit of $107,081.71, with a net profit of $58,956.82 after $48,405.51 in expenses were deducted. Of this amount $56,715.86 came from the Oakland dispensary and $2,240.96 from the Grantsville dispensary.

There was a statement of indebtedness in connection with construction of county schools, $1,590,355.80, with payment on principal amounting to $167,897.64 and interest paid amounting to $42,034.97.

There was also a statement of indebtedness in connection with construction of the Garrett County Memorial hospital which showed notes outstanding $52,400, as of July 1, 1966 and payments of $52,400, plus $1,506.49 in interest.

The report appears in full in today's issue.

Youth Appreciation Week Is Planned

Youth Appreciation Week is being observed in the area November 13 through 19, it was announced by the Oakland Optimist club which is sponsoring the event, Herbert McRobie, president.

Chairmen of the observance are Bernard Burns and Joseph Mechem. This is the tenth year for the celebration throughout the nation and the second for the Oakland club. Purpose is to give public recognition to the overwhelming majority of teenagers who believe in and practice juvenile decency. Optimist clubs have been giving a helping hand to youth since the organization was founded 49 years ago.

The Oakland Optimists actively sponsor Cub Scouts, a boy for Boys' State, junior rifle club every Monday, an oratorical contest, bicycle safety week, and a week-end camp-out.

The club also will name a boy and girl of the week at its meeting tonight, to be honored during Youth Appreciation Week. There are four nominees in each class.

The Loar auxiliary of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital will meet in the Board Room next Thursday, Nov. 16, at 7.30 p. m.

1,153 Voter Names Removed From List

The names of 1,153 citizens have been removed from the voting books, because they have not voted within the past five years, it was announced this week by the registrars in the office of the Board of Supervisors of Elections.

They were removed because they had not voted at a primary, general or a special election within the five calendar years, 1962-67. Notices were mailed to these 1,153 persons on November 1.

A breakdown of figures showed that 684 Republicans, 467 Democrats and two declined were removed from the registry books. A further breakdown of the figures showed 335 were Republican males, 349 were Republican females; 261 were Democrat males, 206 were Democrat females, one male declined and one female declined.

Of the two who declined one was a Republican female from Sang Run, and the other a Republican male from Mt. Lake Park.

According to the Registration and Election Laws of Maryland, Article 33, Section 3-20 if a registered voter has not voted at least once at a primary, general or special election within the five preceding calendar years, it shall be the duty of the board of permanent registry, unless cause to the contrary be shown, to cause the registration of such voter to be cancelled as provided in this article, by removing the registration cards or forms of said voter from the original and duplicate files. A notice of such action and the reason therefore shall be sent to the last known address of such voter; notifying such voter to appear before such board at a date specified in such notice, not earlier than one week or later than two weeks from the date of mailing such notice, and to show cause why his name should not be removed from the registry. A voter whose registration has been cancelled under this section shall not thereafter be eligible to vote except by registering again as in this article provided.

All removed voters who desire to vote in the forthcoming elections must re-register at the office of the Board of Supervisors of Elections located in the Knights of Pythias building, 12 S. Third Street, Oakland. The office is open daily from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Monday through Friday.

State Report Lists Garrett Projects

A recent report prepared by the Maryland Department of Economic Development, called the "Appalachian Maryland Development Plan", listed various Garrett County "potential programs and investment opportunities".

Potential for Garrett County was listed as the Bloomington Dam and Reservoir between Garrett County and Mineral County, W. Va.

Garrett County projects were listed as improvements of Rt. 219, intereceptor sewer, improvement of vocational courses in county high schools; a junior college for the county; additional land for the Little Youghiogheny watershed and recreation project.

Common to Garrett, Allegany, and Washington counties are highway, water and sewer improvements; land stabilization, conservation, and erosion controls; and improvement of educational standards. The report said top priority must be given to Corridor "E" which would link three Appalachian counties to Interstate Rt. 70 at Hancock.

Stocking Complete

The fall stocking program was completed recently by the personnel of the Wildlife Management division of Maryland Game and Inland Fish commission. The "one shot" operation involved 22,500 rainbow trout and the fish were stocked in the following streams in quantities indicated:

Deep Creek Lake, 10,000, Big Yough river, 1,000; Savage river and dam, 3,000; Bear Creek, 1,000. Some 7,500 went to streams in eight other counties.

The complete report appears in today's issue.

Speech Association Plans Two Nights Of One-Act Plays

The Southern High School Speech Association will present two performances of three one-act plays, one to be given on Friday, November 17 and one on Saturday, November 18.

The plays, produced under the direction of Michael Posey, all consist of only one act, a unique idea in Garrett County. Also new, two of the plays are of the simplified realism variety; that is, they make use of a minimum number of "props" and rely almost totally on verbal content to deliver their message.

Play No. 1, Ionesco's "The Lesson", is described as a humorous drama about a professor and a student. The cast includes Randy Overdorff, Susan Bonicce, and Harriett Geroski.

The second play, "An Overpraised Season", concerns itself with the problems of teenagers and adults. Its cast consists of Carol Skiles, Kim Frederick, Sherry Frantz, Jim Jones, Jack Alvarez, and Chris Reckart.

The third play, "The Storm", has been referred to as an unusual story about the complex emotions of a man seeking revenge. The cast will be Bruce Paugh, Barbara Snyder, Bill Buchanan, Patty Cogley, and Leah Stoner.

Advance admission tickets are 75 cents for adults, 50 cents for children. They may be purchased from any Speech Association member. Tickets sold at the door will be $1.00 for adults and 75 cents for children.

National Guard Group Observing 20th Anniversary

Members of Company "C", 1st battalion, 115th armor, of the Maryland National Guard at Oakland, are observing its twentieth anniversary on Saturday, November 11.

There will be a dinner at 7 o'clock followed by a dance at the armory at 9:30. The dinner is being held at the American Legion home.

Captain of the guard unit is Mahlon W. Yost, a charter member of the unit. He assumed command September 25, 1962. First Lieut. James A. Hurley is executive officer, while Second Lieut. Ralph K. Hare, and Second Lieut. Donald E. Smith are platoon leaders. Non commissioned officers include First Sergeant Robert S. Brown and Supply Sergeant Donald H. Hinebaugh. There are 51 members on the roster, as of November 14. Only two charter members are still serving with the unit, Captain Yost and Sergeant Hinebaugh. They enlisted in the unit when it was organized November 14, 1947.

An anniversary program of some 28 pages is being printed for the event which contains a complete company history, and photographs of their officers, their home on Eighth street, and some of their activities.

One Hospitalized After Car Wreck

One person was hospitalized and several others given emergency treatment at Garrett County Memorial hospital as the result of a two-car accident on Liberty street, Saturday evening about eleven o'clock.

Admitted as a patient was Mrs. Nancy Lou Fazenbaker, wife of Guy William Fazenbaker and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Wolfe, who had just come from the wedding of Sharon Wolfe and William Beitzel, where Nancy had been matron of honor.

The Fazenbaker car struck the automobile driven by Lincoln Clinton Baird, of Upperco, as the former was attempting to make a "U" turn near Bartlett street. Passengers in the Baird car were Mrs. Edith Byers, of Finksburg, and Emma Winterstine, of Homestead.

Mrs. Fazenbaker sustained a cut over the right eyebrow which required 49 stitches to close the wound and was painfully bruised. Treated and released from the emergency room of the hospital were Mr. Fazenbaker, Mr. Baird and the other two women. Mr. Baird suffered some cracked ribs and bruises.

The Baird auto was damaged on the left side. Some $600 damage was inflicted on the Fazenbaker car. The latter had started from a parked position. He was cited by city policeman on a charge of failing to yield the right of way and is scheduled for a hearing November 27.

Collide On Bridge

Two persons collided on the overhead bridge across the railroad tracks on South Third street about 7 o'clock Saturday evening. They were Jefferson J. Lohr, and Frank Leslie McDaniel, both of Oakland. Lohr was traveling north on Third and McDaniel was heading south and was on the bridge when Lohr drove up. The bridge was slippery and city police termed the accident unavoidable. No one was injured.

County Teachers Will Banquet Saturday Evening

The Garrett County Teachers' Association will hold its annual banquet this Saturday evening at 6:30 p. m. in the Southern High School cafetorium. Nearly 150 teachers from all parts of the county are expected to attend.

Speaker will be Albert Ringer, High School Supervisor, who will give an illustrated talk on European educational systems and facilities. Mr. Ringer will be speaking from first-hand observation as he toured various European countries only last winter.

Chairman in charge of arrangements for the dinner is Miss Patricia Filsinger, a teacher from Dennett Road School.

City Tax Rate Is 90c Per $100 Again

The Mayor and Town Council of Oakland again fixed the city tax rate at 90 cents per each $100 of assessable property at the regular meeting held November 6 in City Hall.

This tax rate is expected to bring in some $55,000.00 in revenue during 1967-68.

The budget for the fiscal year 1967-68 was approved. Estimated receipts are expected to total $173,030.85, with $55,000.00 from taxes; $48,330.00 from general items; $50,671.80 from the water department; and $19,029.05 from the police department. The balance on hand July 1 was $16,253.68. Receipts from every source are expected to reach $189,284.53.

Expenditures for the year are expected to total $192,588.00 which will leave a deficit of $3,103.47. The Mayor and Council passed a resolution to borrow $10,000.00 to keep operating un-

Hearing Held On Extras Controversy

In an opinion given in the Circuit Court this week by Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill, the judge allowed Fred W. Tennant and wife some $3,000 of the $6,000 amount which they had claimed against Mr. and Mrs. Carroll E. Miller for extras in the construction of the Starlite motel completed recently at the north edge of town.

Tennant had filed a bill of complaint against the Millers for failure to pay the amount Tennant had claimed due him. Tennant had constructed the 17 motel and residence unit at a contracted price of $109,000, and Tennant had filed a mechanic's lien against him for $15,543, which he claimed was due.

The amount of the extras performed amounted to $6,239.96, according to Tennant and there was controversy over the extras. After hearing the case Judge Hamill announced $3,000 of the amount as legitimate claims. A written opinion is to be filed.

Condemnation Case

A condemnation case is to be heard in the Circuit court today, State Roads commission vs. Blaine Joseph Friend, for 11.51 acres of property along 219, between Northern High school and Keyser Ridge.

The SRC had offered $3,500. A review board had awarded $3,850, and an appeal was taken on the latter figure.

UNICEF Marchers Net $302 Thus Far

The Oakland Area UNICEF Drive has been termed a success. Although the drive was postponed because of inclement weather, $302.45 has been collected to this date. Of this amount $29.00 came from the Swanton area, collected by the Swanton E. U. B. Youth Fellowship and $56.00 was collected in the McHenry area by the E. U. B. Youth group there. This is the first time that the drive has been held at McHenry. In Oakland around 55 young people from the various churches canvassed the town and returned to the St. Paul's Methodist church for refreshments.

The UNICEF drive was sponsored locally by the Oakland Area Council, Church Women United. Anyone missed on the canvass may send contributions to the Council treasurer, Mrs. Edward Callis, 211 Dundee St., Mt. Lake Park.

Mrs. Irvin T. Hughes, Mt. Lake Park, was chairman of the drive.

AAUW to Feature Debate on Tuesday; Open To Public

A debating team from West Virginia university, Morgantown, will feature a meeting of the Garrett Branch, American Association of University Women next Tuesday evening which has been thrown open to the public.

The meeting is scheduled for rooms A-117 and A-118, at Southern High school beginning at 8 o'clock. Officers of the branch said they hoped the debate would appeal to the high school students as well as the adult community.

Debaters will include Martha Poland, Peggy Anderson, Eileen Prodirio and John Moore. Peter Borsay, their coach, will accompany the group to Oakland and will serve as judge. The topic will be, "Resolved: Teen-age values are not different from traditional values. They are merely a restatement of older values in new terms".

The theme for the year is Testing Values in a Changing Society.

Mrs. Richard Travis, president, has announced that the executive committee would hold a meeting following the debate. Mrs. John Doppel and Mrs. James Hutchinson make up the program committee in charge.

Gnegy-Clary Vows Exchanged Oct. 7

Wedding vows were exchanged October 7 between Miss Marjorie Elizabeth Clary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight V. Clary, Shady Acres, Mt. Lake Park, and Robert Lee Gnegy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gnegy, Star Route 219, Oakland, during a double ring ceremony performed in the Deer Park Methodist church.

The candlelight service was performed by Rev. Elden Shingleton, pastor of the Oak Park Church of the Brethren, before an altar decorated with white flowers, candelabra and palms. Mrs. Samuel Moore, pianist, accompanied Pleasant Thrasher, Flora Haines, and Vonda Arnold as they sang "Wonderful Love", "Joy and Peace", "When We Walk with Jesus", and "O, Master, Let Me Walk With Thee".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white lace over taffeta and a shoulder-length veil. She carried a white Bible decorated with a white orchid and streamers.

Mrs. Janet Beane, Sebring, Ohio, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of blue lace over taffeta with matching veil. Larry Wagner served as best man for Mr. Gnegy.

A reception followed the ceremony in the Church social room. Cathy Gnegy, sister of the groom, and Cynthia Friend, cousin of the bride, registered the guests. The ladies of the W.S.C.S. served the wedding cake, ice cream and punch.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Southern High School and are employed by Rolyans, Inc., Oakland. Mr. Gnegy is a member of the United States Army Reserve.

The couple is now residing at Pleasant Valley.

To Attend Service At New City In Howard County

Several persons from St. Matthew's Episcopal church, plan to go to the new city of Columbia, in Howard county on Wednesday, November 15, by chartered bus. They will attend the United Thank Offering Presentation service of the Diocese of Maryland.

The Rt. Rev. Harry Lee Doll, D.D., bishop of the Maryland diocese, will be celebrant at Holy Communion at 11 a. m. Speaking will be the Rev. David K. Leighton, archdeacon of the diocese, on the subject of the cooperative ministry of that city. A tour of the city also will be made.

Miss Coral McRobie, custodian of the United Thank Offering of St. Matthew's church, will present the offerings of the Church Women of the local parish. United Thank Offering Sunday was observed last week when the Church Women presented their Blue Boxes.

The bus is scheduled to leave St. Matthews Church at 6 a. m., returning to Oakland around 8 p. m. Cost of the trip is $6. Persons desiring to go may contact Miss McRobie.

Twenty Are Killed On State Highways

Twenty persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the State Police. Six of those killed were drivers, nine were passengers, and five were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in seven of the deaths, speed in seven, and "driver error" in eighteen.

"In seriousu accidents investigated by the State Police last week, seven persons were killed and twenty-four persons received extensive injuries", commented Lt. Col. George Davidson, Chief of Operations of the State Police. "It is interesting to note that seventeen of these persons had seat belts available, but in no instance were they in use.

"Had these seat belts been buckled up and in use, however, investigators are of the opinion that three lives could have been saved and twelve persons would have received less serious injuries".

Lt. Col. Davidson concluded: "Every week a study of the accident picture strongly supports the use of seat belts as a life-saving device. For several years now we have done everything possible to inform and encourage motorists to have seat belts installed in their cars - and then to use them. Regrettably, we find that our advice is being ignored. While this is certainly a very frustrating situation for us, it's much more tragic for those who heard the advice and failed to heed it".

Asks Retention of Main Provisions Of Constitution

Maryland Farm Bureau, the farmers' organization within the state, calls for a new constitution similar to the present one which governs Maryland.

It supports these main features:

(1) a bicameral or two-house legislature.

(2) a limited legislative session, preferably one of 70 days.

(3) retention of elective office for state comptroller and attorney general, as well as clerks of courts, sheriffs, state's attorneys and register of wills.

(4) referendum petition provisions to refer a law to a vote of the people if signed by qualified voters equal to three percent voting in the last gubernatorial election.

(5) mandatory assessment of farm land based on its value for agricultural use.

(6) maintain the voting age at 21 years of age.

(7) retention in the General Assembly of the power to tax, but provide that it may delegate this power to political subdivisions.

Observe 50th Event

Mr. and Mrs. Ogilvie Halsey of Deep Creek Lake, near McHenry, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, Oct. 29th. It was also the birthday of their son Edwin.

A dinner party was given by the children at Cornish Manor, after which a tiered wedding cake was served. Five of their six children and their families attended. They were Richard, Roger and Johnny at home; Edwin W. Halsey and wife Aldona, and their sons Edwin Jr., and Michael; also their daughter, Mrs. Barbara Wood and son James Patrick, of Weirton, W. Va.; Mrs. Sylvia Baden and daughter Susan, Bladensburg. Their son Kenneth, his wife and four children of Madison, Wis., were unable to attend.

Others attending were Mrs. Florence Rounds and daughter, Dorothy, Getty Green and Ray Kight. The Halseys were married in 1917 in Cleveland, O., where Mr. Halsey was stationed at Camp Sherman before going overseas in W.W. I. He was born in New York City and his family was living at that time in Nyack, N. Y.

Mrs. Halsey, Nee Blanche J. Green, has lived most of her life in Garrett County and has been in business at her present location for the past 25 years.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my husband, who passed away November 14, 1961.

Loving memories have never died and aren't forgotten.
I have had a hard road to travel, dear, ever since you have been gone.
Every day that passes I keep you deep in my heart.
Sadly missed by wife and children.

Heads Christmas Seal Campaign In Area

Karl R. Feise, LaVale, has been named Chairman of the 1967 Christmas Seal Campaign, according to Glenn K. Davis, President of the Allegany-Garrett Tuberculosis Association.

Mr. Feise urged all residents, to whom the seals are mailed, to make prompt returns, pointing out there are few, who realize how much good is accomplished with the seal money.

Some 78% of all returns remains for use in the two-county area, 15% is earmarked for the Maryland TB Association, and the remaining 7% goes to the National Association for projects such as research. Locally money pays for visits of the Mobile Chest X-ray Unit, for transportation of indigent patients to TB hospitals, clothing prior to admission to such institutions, monthly allowances to hospitalized TB patients, tuberculin testing, health education and research.

The seals were mailed today.

Rustic Inn Applicant Obtains License

At a meeting last Friday of the Board of License Commissioners of Garrett County the board approved a beer, wine and liquor license for Rustic Inn, Inc., Star Route, Frostburg.

Application for the class "B" license had been made by John Paul Burzenski, vice-president; Nancy C. Burkholder, secretary; and Anita H. McDonald, treasurer.

John C. Keister, who had operated the Inn previously, had turned in his license.

Shirley A. Durr, Mt. Top restaurant proprietor, asked the board to reconsider the revocation of a class "B" license for a period of two years. The board ruled that the decision would stand, effective November 1.

Question

I've always heard tuberculosis referred to as "TB", but have never known where the word "tuberculosis" came from. Can you tell me?

Answer

Just bear with me for a moment while I explain how tuberculosis attacks the body and you'll understand why this disease is called by this name. When tuberculosis germs attack the lungs, the body's white blood cells immediately attack them in turn. If the body's resistance potential is good, its white cells destroy some of the tuberculosis germs and go on to make small protective walls around other small groups of the germs, stopping their negative effectiveness. A small, walled-up mass of TB germs is called a "tubercle." The name of the disease is derived from this term. It's entirely possible to go through life with tubercles in your lungs without ever being sick. But, for your own sake, it's always best to have a TB checkup and know if danger does exist.

Dovis Eastern Stor Has Grand Visitation

Esther M. Meadows, of Charleston, W. Va., worthy grand matron of West Virginia, Order of Eastern Star, made her grand visitation to the chapter at Davis, W. Va., on October 10 and was guest of honor at a banquet at the Blackwater hotel in Davis.

During ceremonies she was presented with a corsage from the Rainbow Girls and a money corsage and the Silver March for her project for the year, "Cancer Research", from the Davis chapter.

Attending were members from Elkins, Huntersville, Parsons and Oakland lodges, in addition to members from the Davis order. A program was presented in honor of the worthy grand matron. Anna Layton Reall and Ruby Kline sang "The Lord Is My Shepherd" and "Thy Will Be Done". Some sixty persons were in attendance.

A ninety yard touchdown drive climaxed by Dana Umbel's five-yard run enabled Northern High School's Huskies to score a come from behind victory over the Trojans of St. Francis High school Friday night at Morgantown by the score of 19 to 14.

The Trojans were leading 14 to 13 at the close of the third period in their homecoming game when the Huskies exploded and went ahead to register their sixth triumph against three losses. The victory gave coach Jack Lear a 7-year record of 30 wins and as many losses at Northern High.

St. Francis drew first blood when a 30-yard pass from Pukawsky to Balkier produced a TD in the first period. The Trojans made it 12 to 0 in the second quarter when Foster went over from the two.

Northern's first score came in the second period on a 10-yard aerial from Wayne Georg to Terry Goehringer.

The Huskies forged a point ahead in the third quarter at 13-12 when George slammed over on a one-yard sneak and then passed to Terry Goehringer for the conversion. The lead, however, changed hands again when a bad snap from center into the end zone gave the Trojans a two point safety.

Northern piled up 128 of its total of 261 yards rushing in the final period.

Deputy Sheriff Completes Police Training School

Oakland Deputy Sheriff Harland E. (Bruce) Ream was among the 11 graduates of the first Maryland Police Training Commission School for Garrett and Allegany counties. He received certificates for completion of the 160 hour basic course, and the Standard First Aid course.

Deputy Ream commuted to classes in Cumberland from September 25 until October 25, when the class was graduated.

The course consisted of 12 categories, some of which were crime and delinquency causation; police patrol procedures and investigation of crime; court procedures; constitutional law and civil rights; and emergency medical skills. Included in the latter was a crash course in how to deliver a baby.

Law officers from Frostburg, Lonaconing, Cumberland, and the B & O also attended the school. Instructors included members of the Maryland State Police Academy, the FBI, Cumberland State's Attorney Donald Mason, and a representative of Spring Grove Hospital, who lectured on how to handle the mentally disturbed.

Knights Complete Plans For Fete

Plans have been completed for the annual Ladies' night program of Garrett Lodge No. 113, Knights of Pythias, scheduled for this evening, November 9, at Castle Hall, on Third Street, Oakland.

The occasion also will mark the seventy-eighth anniversary of the founding of the local lodge. A number of grand lodge officers and members of surrounding lodges have been invited.

Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the program.

More babies are born from 9 a. m. to noon than any other part of day.

til the tax money comes in.

Collections for the month of October totalled $24,478.60, with $10,916.56 from water receipts; $369.87 from taxes; and $5,155.59 from general items. Expenditures for October came to $12,486.66, leaving a balance of $11,991.94 as of October 31.

The balance sheet for the Town of Oakland Cemetery listed $9,279.32 as income and $3,188.89 as expenses, for a profit of $6,090.43.

In other business before the meeting, an ordinance was approved to amend Sect. 5, water supply bonds of the 1960 ordinance, which provided that the unused portion of the Water Supply Bonds be deposited in the Water System Improvement Fund account. The new ordinance okaved a transfer of $5,000 from the Water System Improvement Fund to the Wilson Run Public Watershed Association.

The Mayor and Town Council hired a policeman to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Roger Lewis, who resigned in October. Effective November 16, Daniel F. Otto, of Swanton, will be the new Town policeman.

A street light change was approved for Center Street school. The lights' candlepower will be increased and the light itself will be turned around on the pole to enable children to use the playgrouund after dark.

It was the concensus of the council that the water running down the alley behind the H-P Store and Proudfoot's from private water ldrains is not the Towns responsibility.

Bicameralism Is Backed By Unit

A committee recommendation that called for a bicameral legislature of no more than 140 members sitting for a miximum of 150 days a year was read to the Maryland Constitutional convention members last Wednesday.

The provision also urged single member districts in both the house and senate. In a memorandum accompanying the formal proposal, the committee said it had adopted bicameralism for five reasons:

Bicameralism works in Maryland; it offers greater opportunity for differing citizen interests to be represented in the legislature; it will insure that issues are viewed from varying perspectives: it permits legislators to play differing roles and each house to operate under different rules of proceduse; it is more responsive to the public will and offers more time for citizens to learn what is happening at the legislature.

On membership the committee said it had "constantly searched for solutions that would permit each county to have one delegate but keep the membership of the house of delegates within readonable bounds.

"The unpleasant reality which the committee finally had to face was the fact that, for each county to retain at least one delegate, the House of Delegates would have to have 192 members following the reapportionment in 1970 and 227 members following the reapportionment in 1980. The committee thus reluctantly came to the decision that a House of Delegates of 227 members in 1980 would simply be completely unworkable and, therefore the "at least one delegate per county principle would have to be regretfully abandoned".

The committee said it wanted to do everything possible to end the rush of bills at the close of the present 70-day session.

"The committee was very disturbed by the fact that in both the 1966 and 1967 sessions of the General Assembly, 80 percent of the bills were passed in the last 14 days of the 70-day session", the memorandum read.

Temperature Below Normal For Week

Temperatures in the area have been below normal during the past week, and judging from the snow flakes that fell, Indian summer can be declared officially gone.

Last Thursday brought a high temperature of 61, although the mercury had dropped to 46 by 4:30. Friday saw a high of 54, with mostly cloudy skies. Saturday brought the start of snow, with flurries off and on all day; temperatures were in the 20 degree range. There was a blinding snowstorm Saturday night but was of comparatively short duration.

Sunday was a repeat of Saturday, with temperatures again in the 20's. Monday brought fewer snow flurries, with temperatures huddled around the 20 degree mark. Tuesday dawned with an icy 18 degree low and clear skies; high for the day was 32.

Wednesday sprinkled snow occasionally, although it managed a high of 32 and a sunny sky by late afternoon. Thursday began with a slight warming trend; the temperature read 37; and skies were cloudy.

Curtiss Breeders Hold Two Meetings

The Curtiss Artificial Breeders Association sponsored two meetings during the past week. The first meeting was held in the Community Room of the First National Bank in Oakland on Monday evening. Approximately 40 persons were in attendance to view sildes of various bulls, and to receive production records information on dams and daughters of the bulls.

Guest speakers were Danny Weaver, advertising and promotion manager from Chicago, Illinois; and Jack Miller, District manager. Representative in this area is John Mellinger, Swanton.

The second meeting, held in Grantsville in the Sportsmen's Lodge, attracted some 125 persons.

Don't "Waste" Your Life Insurance Dollars

Have you provided the BEST possible protection for the beneficiaries of your life insurance?

The method of payment often determines the amount of protection that they will receive. Proceeds paid outright are easily dissipated. Proceeds paid in fixed-amount installments may be inflexible and not take INFLATION into account.

But proceeds paid into a LIFE INSURANCE TRUST can give full and lasting protection for the family.

Our booklet, "Make the Most of Your Life Insurance" describes how . . .

Financial Security can be assured . . .

Investment worries can be eliminated . . .

Tax savings can be achieved

Find out how a life insurance trust can be the "keystone" to your estate plan. Just clip and return the attached coupon. No obligation.

Mathias Enters Naval Hospital November 2

Rep. Charles Mathias, Jr., R-Md., entered Bethesda Naval hospital last Thursday, November 2.

An aide said the congressman would be in the hospital about ten days for treatment of a hernia of a vertebral disc.

The condition probably developed from a back injury or strain, it was stated. The aide said doctors described the condition—called herniation of an intervertebral disc—as a common orthopedic problem. He said there was a good chance that rest and therapy would correct the condition.

Loyalty Oath Termed Unlawful

The U. S. Supreme Court has declared Maryland's loyalty oath unconstitutional but there was uncertainty in Maryland whether the entire law fell also.

The Maryland branch of the American Civil Liberties Union appealed to the Supreme Court a year ago that the law violated the free speech and free association provisions of the first amendment. A three-judge federal court in Baltimore had ruled the law constitutionally valid.

The Ober law, enacted in 1949, required applicants for state and local government jobs and candidates for public office in Maryland to swear that they are not trying to overthrow the government by force or violence.

The Supreme Court's 6-3 decision by Justice William O. Douglas stressed a provision of the oath that persons must swear they are not engaged in such an attempt "on one way or another. The continuing surveillance which this type of law places on teachers is hostile to academic freedom".

A spokesman for Maryland Atty. Gen. Francis Burch, said a study of the opinion would be made immediately to determine whether it strikes out the entire law.

Arson Investigation Underway At Hopemant

An investigation was made last Thursday to determine if arson was involved in a fire which broke out in the porch roof of the security building at Hopemont State Hospital late Wednesday.

The fire caused about $500 damage to the Conley Building

Willard Moore, assistant commissioner of the Department of Public Institutions in Charleston, said officials were trying to determine whether 12 prisoners ordered to the hospital by various courts were involved in the fire.

The building also is used to house penitentiary inmates being treated for tuberculosis who are located on the ground floor. The patients housed on the second floor near the fire were removed to the first floor.

A fire occurred several months ago in a cottage at the facility, causing $2,000 damage.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The Background of Integrity

There are millions of men in this world whose word is trusted—whose handshake is a binding contract—whose integrity others accept without question.

We've come a long way from the days when a strong man and a stout club were the social graces.

And this growth in man's capacity for integrity has paralleled his growth in religious expression.

Of course, the cynics will point to men and nations who still live by the code of the cave man. Must we believe that the clock of progress has turned . . . is running backward?

The sound, the sensible, the sincere still feel the strength of God's Bible in every handshake. With their children they are finding new spiritual opportunity and hope in the churches they cherish.

Are you with them? Are you, too, pushing forward the frontiers of faith?

The last thing you'll do on earth is create a debt for someone else to pay. Could your family afford the doctor and hospital bills, funeral expenses, attorney's fees, court costs and current bills? Or would the money have to come from the insurance you had figured would pay off the mortgage? Or from the kids' education fund? A Woodmen of the World "Cleanup Fund" is a far better answer; a life insurance plan for the special purpose of paying your final expenses. Call today. YOUTH APPRECIATION WEEK

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the overwhelming majority of the youth of the United States and Canada are constructive, responsible citizens who receive altogether too little recognition of their achievements, and

WHEREAS, the men of Optimist International have dedicated themselves to promoting community-wide recognition of our fine young people during Youth Appreciation Week each fall, and

WHEREAS, the citizens of Garrett County have indicated they wish to join the Optimists in expressing their pride of our youth and their approval of the many fine things they are doing to improve both themselves and our community,

WE, The Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County therefore proclaim November 13-19, 1967, as Youth Appreciation Week in Garrett County with the sincere hope that every adult will not only stop to think about the many plus qualities of the younger generation, but actively recognize the individual and collective attributes and achievements as many young people as they can possibly reach, so that our citizens of tomorrow may fully realize that we are confident in their ability to build and govern the bright world of the future.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

SUBTLE IDOLATRY

Lesson for November 12, 1967

Background Scripture: Hosea 4, 8 through 10. Devotional Reading: Mark 12 [illegible] 34.

A patient in a hospital for the mentally ill thought of himself as a "God-maker." In his locker he kept a block of wood, a cube whose surfaces had been painstakingly smoothed and edges carefully squared. When some one came to see him, he would take it from his locker and display it, saying: "This is my God. I made him. I worship him daily."

Rev. Althouse

One of his doctors tried patiently to explain to him that man does not create God, but God creates man. When at last the man grasped this, he began to recover his sanity.

A Thing of Wood

The prophet Hosea grieved over the national madness of the people of Israel. It too was the result of idolatry. "My people inquire of a thing of wood, and their staff gives them oracles." (Hosea 4:12 RSV) The people of Israel found strangely beguiling and fascinating the idols of their pagan neighbors. Though they did not formally renounce their loyalty to the God of Abraham and Isaac, they proceeded to make idolatry a part of their lives too.

Why? For one thing, a god made by our own hands is really an extension of ourselves. To worship a man-made thing is to worship man and his powers of creation. It is a matter of human pride: "See what I have made!" It is but the visible representation of something in ourselves that we desire to make dominant.

This is why pagan idols often represent a sexual motif. The idol is revered by those who long to set free all restraints on their sexual drive. Similarly, a god of war is worshipped by those who desire to give free reign to their own violent impulses. Idolatry is actually the worship of something within ourselves, something that takes the place of God.

Infidelity and Decay

Hosea had been a lesson for his nation in the fall of his own wife. She had become attracted to another man, had broken her vows to Hosea. In time, she became a prostitute, going from one man to another. Eventually, no longer attractive enough to be a harlot, she sold herself into slavery. When at last Hosea redeemed her from slavery, she is hardly the same woman either physically or spiritually. Infidelity has made its mark upon her.

The prophet saw the same process at work in the nation of Israel. The moral decay had begun with their allurement to the worship of idols. As Gomer's infidelity had broken her marriage relationship with Hosea, so the unfaithfulness of Israel was destroying her covenant relationship with God. Like Gomer, the people of Israel sold their heritage for sensual and material pleasures.

When the inner life of a nation or person deteriorates, there are outward signs. As the prostitute's body becomes prematurely old, so an unfaithful nation begins to show the outward signs of the decay within. "There is swearing, lying, killing, stealing, and committing adultery," observed the prophet.

Even More Dangerous

This is not ancient history! Today, as then, idolatry is an ever-present danger for the people of God. Our idols are even more dangerous because they are more subtle. We do not call them "gods" or build temples for them, yet these are the things, the man-made objects that we let become foremost in our lives, that motivate us, that receive the wonder and adoration that should belong to God alone. Have you never noticed the adoring, loving care people lavish upon man-made things?

The lure of other gods is no less a problem for us than the people of Hosea's day. Man-made things are still god's greatest rivals. The subtle idolatry of today's society is still the greatest threat to man's sanity.

CAPITOL COMMENT

by

Charles "Mac" Mathias

Congressman, 6th District, Maryland

A Modern State Constitution

One of the most important events in the recent history of Maryland is now taking place in Annapolis, where our delegates to the Constitutional Convention are drafting a new state constitution to replace the century-old document on which the Free State's present government is based.

Last week it was my privilege to testify in Annapolis before the Committee on the Legislative Branch, and to discuss with that panel some of the questions involved in building the constitutional foundation for a strong, effective legislature.

One house or two? One proposal which has received considerable attention was to create a unicameral (single-house) legislature, instead of the bicameral legislature (Senate and House of Delegates) which the State has had for so long. This idea has been debated in several states as one possible way to increase legislative efficiency, cut down costs, and make the workings of the legislature more sensible and rational.

I opposed such a change. Bicameral legislatures are traditional in America, and this is a tradition which has generally served as well. In the early days of the country, the upper house was considered as the forum for counties or other subdivisions, while the lower house was for popular representatives. Even now, despite the influence of reapportionment based on "one man, one vote", the bicameral system can best preserve diverse perspectives and protect all points of view especially those of numerical minorities.

Equally important is the function of a two-house system as a safeguard against precipitous or unwise legislative action. As Benjamin Franklin once remarked, the best way to cool a cup of coffee is to pour it from the cup into the saucer, and the best way to refine legislation is to "cool" it by pouring it from one house to the other. Such tempering will be increasingly important as issues become more numerous and complex.

Good representation. Many of the other questions on which I testified involved the basic challenge of securing good representation for all citizens. These problems ranged from ways to reapportion legislative seats reasonably after each new census, to the types of qualifications which should be required for candidates and what level of salary should be maintained to guarantee that all qualified persons could afford to serve in the General Assembly.

A brief constitution. My overall recommendation to the Committee was to keep the constitution as short and comprehensible as possible. On practical grounds, we have seen that including detailed provisions in a constitution leads either to frequent amendments, or to a document which becomes obsolete and restrictive. To maintain maximum flexibility, I urged that many specifics, such as the length of sessions and the precise rules of procedure, be left to each legislature to fix—and, when necessary, to change—by law.

On philosophical grounds, a constitution for the body politic, like the physical frame with which human beings are endowed, has certain standard characteristics which can be observed, measured and weighed. But with a constitution, as with people, the weight and size may not be indices of the quality of performance of which it is capable, nor of the spark of genius glowing within.

Constitutions, like people, must endure periods of boredom and inactivity as well as moments of crisis and danger. I hope that Maryland's new constitution will be tough and flexible enough to meet the daily challenges, lean and spare enough to conquer the distances as well as the sprints, and compact and finely drawn enough to be recognized, understood, and appreciated by all.

School Systems Improvements Told To County Parents

A report on the improvement of the public school system in Garrett County over past years has been released to parents of school children by the Board of Education.

The board lists some of the salient fact concerning the schools that it feels parents should know.

Both high schools are fully accredited. Enrollment is about 5,300 pupils with a professional staff of 252. School population growth is chiefly in the Oakland area. The county is said to have the best system of school transportation in the state but also the most costly. Total cost this year was $450,000. Per pupil expenditure other than transportation, is lowest in state.

Within past two years following new facilities have been provided, vocational shops, new library, agriculture center at Southern; vocational shops, head room, new cafetorium, outdoor education center at Northern; new planetarium for all students at Oakland; three additional classrooms for Dennett Road, improvements to library and home economics departments at Northern.

Vocational shops, agriculture center, outdoor education center and planetarium have been paid for largely by state and federal funds.

Planned are new home economics and business education departments for Southern; enlargement of agriculture shop to include greenhouse for Northern; eight-room addition for Dennett Road to take care of overload at Center Street, Loch Lynn, Red House, and Swan Meadow. A state grant of $188,000 is anticipated for this project.

The board has a request from County Commissioners to borrow $100,000 from state school construction fund for addition to Bloomington school, sum to be repaid over 15 year period at cost less than 1½ cents on tax rate. State to add to this amount some $85,000 as a grant. Next building improvements to be at Grantsville, Friendsville and Accident.

Under Title 1 the county receives approximately $200,000 annually for special programs for underprivileged. It provides special tutors, outdoor education, field trips, special projects, extra equipment, school nurses, dental care and in some cases, food and clothing. All county schools participate in this with exception of Southern, Dennett Road, Bloomington, Yoder and Swan Meadow. Under federal formula, ones named are not eligible.

Federal NDEA funds of some $22,000 for instructional materials and equipment to be provided this year with county providing 20 percent of amount. All schools share in this. The total was $35,000 last year. Through NDEA and Title 1 and II funds all schools are equipped with visual aids, maps and instructional materials.

Schools also get about $7,500 from Title II in federal money to supplement annual appropriation of $12,000 for library books. Some $20,000 of library books purchased each year. Libraries developed in all schools and for first time a traveling librarian was employed for some elementary schools.

Total school budget for 1967-68 is $2,724,400. School board rented St. Peter's school for first public supported kindergarten for $2,350 annually. 1967 Legislature provided for public support of kindergarten on half day basis. Some 95 pupils now enrolled. Other areas will be added when facilities are available.

Textbooks supplied to all children in all grades. Annual cost of textbooks about $22,000. To date some 1,500 parents and children have visited planetarium. This year county will provide 35 percent of cost of operating schools, state 65 percent.

School board employs 32 full or part time custodians and maintenance workers. Most of maintenance work, repair and updating of old buildings has been done over the years by maintenance workers and school custodians during summer months, at substantial savings. One special education school serves needs of fourteen handicapped children.

Present school board members are George D. Edwards, president; Clinton W. Englander, vice-president; Mrs. Fred Thayer III, Willard L. Hawkins is county superintendent.

DIED

MRS. WILBERT TEETS

Mrs. Alta Lena Teets, 71, of Eglon, died Wednesday, November 1 at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland, where she had been a patient two weeks.

Born in Eglon, she was a daughter of the late Henry and Stella (Fike) Mosser and was a member of Maple Springs Church of the Brethren.

She is survived by her husband, Wilbert Loy Teets; two sons, Ross and Roscoe Teets, Eglon; a half-sister, Mrs. Ida Shillingburg, Aurora; and five grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Hinkle Funeral Home, in Davis. Funeral services were held at the Maple Springs Church November 4, at 2 p. m. Rev. Galen Fike officiated. Burial was in Eglon cemetery.

MRS. ALONZO D. CUMMINGS

Mrs. Rosala Maude Cummings, 60, RD 1, Gormania, near Table Rock, died Saturday, November 4, in Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where she had been a patient three days. She had been in failing health for a year.

Born in Stemple Ridge, W. Va., she was a daughter of the late William and Virginia (Fint) Knotts.

Surviving are her husband, Alonzo D. Cummings, five daughters, Mrs. Helen Newell, Mars, Pa; Mrs. Jean Noel and Miss Erma Cummings, both of Oakland; Mrs. Vonda Shreve and Miss Neomia Cummings, both of Gormania; three sons, Keith, Kenneth, and Allen Cummings, all of Gormania; three sisters, Mrs. Mary Hardesty and Mrs. Zella Cummings, both of Aurora; and Mrs. Grace Knotts, Davis, and five grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Minnich Funeral Home, in Oakland. Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Monday from the Stemple Ridge Methodist Church, with interment in the church cemetery.

The family requested that expressions of sympathy take the form of contributions to the American Cancer Society.

COURTNEY H. BECKMAN

Courtney Henry Beckman, 82, of McCoole, died Monday, November 6, shortly after being admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital in Keyser.

Born near Oakland, he was a son of the late George R. and Elmire (Wonderly) Beckman. His wife, Stella Lee R. (Gower) Beckman, preceded him in death. Mr. Beckman was a retired employe of the Luke mills of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company and was a member of Local 676, United Paper Workers.

Surviving are three sons, Franklin E. Beckman, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Willis E. Beckman, McCoole; and Leo C. Beckman, Westernport; a daughter, Mrs. Gordon Ternent, Louaconing; two brothers, Isaac Beckman, Oakland, and Alonzo Beckman, Tunnelton; 12 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Boal Funeral Home, Westernport. Services will be conducted today at 2 p. m. at McCoole Presbyterian Church by Rev. Raymond W. Gau, pastor of Piedmont Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Philos cemetery.

MRS. IRVIN ROUZER

Mrs. Sara F. Rouzer, 75, of Pennsville, Pa., died Tuesday morning, October 31, at 2 o'clock in the Golden Age nursing home, Brownsville, after an extended illness.

She was born May 29, 1892, in Oakland, a daughter of the late George B. M. and Anna Frantz Friend, and had lived in the Connellsville area since 1912. She was a member of the First Methodist church, the Fidelis Sunday School class, and the Pearl Behanna circle of the WSCS. She also was a member of Connellsville chapter No. 247, Order of Eastern Star.

Surviving are her husband, Irvin Rouzer; a son, Dr. Alvin V. Rouzer, Vienna, Va.; three grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. John (Hazel) Moon, Mrs. Milton (Mary) Riley, and Mrs. Wade (Carrie) Meese, all of Oakland. A son Wayne Henry, died in 1928.

The body was taken to the Brooks funeral home where the funeral service was conducted on Thursday, November 2, at 2 p. m., with Rev. R. A. Nelson officiating. Interment was in Hill Grove cemetery.

WALTER HOYT

Walter Hoyt, of Milford, Dela., a former resident of Oakland, died Sunday, November 5, at his home as the result of a heart attack. He was 68. His wife, the former Regina Helbig, was buried here the latter part of November last year.

He had been a resident of Milford for the past 25 or 30 years where he was employed by the Caulk Dental Manufacturing company until ill health forced his retirement.

He was born in Thomas, W. Va., and was graduated from Muskingum college, in Ohio. Mr. Hoyt in his younger years was a professional basketball player and was a star center for a number of years with the old Keyser Collegians. He later came to Oakland and coached an independent team here and played in the early 1920s.

Surviving are two sons, Lt. Col. Charles Hoyt, now stationed in Okinawa; Wayne D. Hoyt, of Baltimore; a sister, Viola, residing in Lewisburg, W. Va., and a brother, Ray Linn, of Ellendale, Dela.

His funeral services are being conducted today in Milford, and interment will be in that city.

PTA Council Will Meet November 15

The Garrett County council of Parents and Teachers will hold its initial meeting of the school year on Wednesday, November 15, at 7:30 p. m., in the library at Northern High School, it was announced by Paul Mateer, president.

Following a brief business meeting, there will be a panel discussion on the increase in teacher salaries. Panelists will be Clinton Englander, Mrs. Herbert Leighton and Wayne Johnson.

The council's theme for the year is to unite the Parent Teacher associations from all schools in the county to work for the teacher salary increase. The meeting will be open to the public. Representatives from each PTA are urged to attend.

Council officers for the coming two years include Mr. Mateer as president; Mrs. Herbert H. Leighton, first vice-president; Robert Glotfelty, second vice president; Mrs. Smith Lantz, secretary; Mrs. Lois Mosser, treasurer.

Mrs. Herbert Leighton was the county's delegate to the Board of Managers' meeting of the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers, held recently in Baltimore.

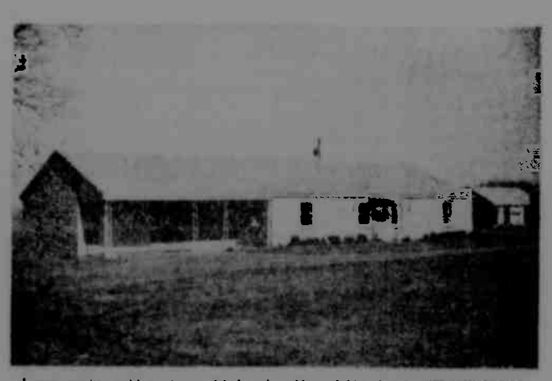
The Price is Right for These Satisfied "Total Electric" Families

Thinking about building or remodeling? Take it from these four families, or from more than 3,000 other Monongahela Power customers who are heating with electricity: Electricity gives you the best for your money. You can choose from several systems . . . ceiling cable, baseboard or wall units, heat pump or electric furnace . . . each gives you steady, clean, quiet warmth. The average bills quoted below are typical in this area and represent the whole cost of electric service for all its uses in the modern home.

Compared with Anything . . . Electricity Still Is Your Biggest Bargain



When E. C. Jones, chairman of the Department of Electrical Engineering, WVU, decided to build an all-electric home, The Coal Research Bureau, School of Mines, asked him to keep a detailed record of costs. The results: Total electric bills including heating, run $28 per month. The home (1,500 square feet) is completely modern. Ceiling cable permits better use of space in living areas.

Helen M. Parlett, Route 5, Morgantown, who converted this 1,800 square foot rental home to electric baseboard heating, says "I appreciate the dependable operation of my heating system . . . and the cost has been most reasonable . The monthly bill for all electricity used in the home is $26.76

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Williams, Kingwood, converted this home to baseboard electric heating. Says Mrs. Williams: "I was never comfortable until we had electric heating installed". And he adds: "I feel free to leave our home two or three days at a time knowing the heating system will take care of itself". Average actual cost for all electricity: $43.98 per month.

It gets mighty cold at Aurora, W. Va., but Mr. and Mrs. W. D. ("Doug") Webster, Sr., are satisfied with the performance of their electric heating system (ceiling cable) and with the cost. In their eight-room house they have two food freezers, refrigerator, range, dishwasher, water heater, deep well pump, washer, dryer, two TV's and a lot of small appliances. Total electric bill $28.91 per month

An Attractive Gift for You . . .
You will receive a Honeywell "Weather Secretary" just for letting one of our electric heating specialists come to your home and give you an estimate on the cost of electric heating. It doesn't cost you a penny to find out.

Southern High School's Highlanders lowered the curtain in their 1967 football season last Friday evening by downing Terra Alta High school at Oakland by the score of 20 to 0.

Coach LeRoy Bolding's gridders recorded their fourth victory against five losses.

After a scoreless first quarter Southern scored on a 55-yard pass play executed by Pat Flanagan and Jack Alvarez who also booted the extra point. In the third period Alvarez scored from the one and also converted on a run

A two-yard run by Dave Monsnagle concluded the scoring in the last quarter Sophomore Rich Browning was the leading ground gainer while Seniors Randy Shaffer, Andy Cosby and Mike Foley played outstanding roles in the victory

Twenty-seven of the 32 players who suited up for Southern in last nights game are expected to return next season.

Sweet Clovers Meet

GRANDMA HAD NO SECRET MIRACLE FORMULAS

Sometimes we all like to kid ourselves into believing Grandma's secret formulas for home treatments could cure anything from bunions to galloping consumption. We all know better, though. A lot of old recipes were alcohol with some herbs to make them smell and taste like medicine.

It took centuries to sort out the handful of useful medicines like belladonna, digitalis, opium, ipecac and quinine from among the many totally useless concoctions. Now, we have many drugs which can be depended upon to accomplish a desired result. We have them in stock.

Constable's Sale

By virtue of a writ of fierl facias, issued by Robert M. Maroney, a Trial Magistrate of the State of Maryland in and for Garrett county, and to me directed, at the suit of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Margroff against the goods and chattels of Joseph Cuppolo, Jr., I have seized and taken in execution all the right, title and interest, both at law and in equity, of the said Joseph Cuppolo, Jr in and to the following property, to-wit:

One Philco Television Color Set, 1 Sunbeam Portable Mixer; 1 Portable Radio, 1 Hamilton Beach Hair Dryer, 1 Electric Kenmore Iron, 1 Artone Stereo and Records; other household furnishings and clothes

And I hereby give notice that on November 10, 1967 at the hour of 11 o'clock A. M., at Cove, four miles north of Accident, Garrett County, Maryland, I will offer at public sale, to the highest bidder, for cash, the property so seized and taken in execution, to satisfy said claim and costs

William Lee, Constable

Concert Group To Open 9th Season

The Tri-State Community Concert Association will open its ninth season with a performance of Rossini's "The Barber of Seville" in English by the Goldovsky Opera Theater's touring group in the Fort Hill High School auditorium at Cumberland at 8:15 p. m. Thursday, November 16.

A number of residents of Oakland and elsewhere in Garrett County are season subscribers to the series which will offer five concerts during the 1967-68 season. The annual membership campaign was conducted in May.

This will mark the fourth appearance in Cumberland by the Goldovsky opera group under sponsorship of the Tri-State Community Concert Association.

Will Roy, bass-baritone, will sing the role of Don Basilio in "The Barber of Seville" to be presented Thursday, Nov. 16.

PTA Will Sponsor 2nd Driving Class

The PTA of Southern High School will again sponsor a defensive driving course to be given to interested persons on four consecutive Wednesdays begining November 15, and concluding December 6.

The course will be held on the second floor, Rooms A-208 and A-209 in Southern High School. Tfc. Lloyd Dunton will again be the instructor of the class, which will meet from 7 to 9 p. m. on each of the indicated nights.

A valid driver's license and a $1.00 fee is all that is necessary to join the group, although to obtain credit, a person must attend the first session.

School Children Tour Garrett Co. As Class Project

Twenty-five Howard County school children, aged nine and ten, spent Nov. 1, in Garrett County as part of their class project. They are currently studying the state of Maryland, and as there was little information on Western Maryland they decided to see it firsthand. The children were accompanied by Robert Wilson, an instructor at Lisbon Elementary school, and also by four parents.

The group made Starlite Motel in Oakland their resting place on Wednesday night after taking a tour of Swallow Falls and the Deep Creek Lake area.

The group had dinner that evening at Faulkner's Restaurant where Lynn Beckman, Chairman of the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council, gave an informal talk on Garrett County in general, its industries, tourist attractions, and historical significance. Mr. Beckman reported that the children were very receptive, and seemed interested in all facets of the county.

Thursday the group toured an Amish school before returning to Howard County.

Collateral Forfeited In Motor Cases

Seven persons were issued summons from the office of Trial Magistrate Robert Maroney for motor vehicle violations last week. All seven chose to forfeitt collteral and costs.

Howard Merl Bender, Cumberland, $7 for exceeding the posted truck speed limit.

Stephen Ray Harvey, Mt. Lake, $12 for exceeding the 50 m.p.h. speed limit.

William Nathan Berry, Akron, O., $12 for operating his vehicle in a reckless manner.

Loyal Sherman Brooks, Oakland, $7 for operating his vehicle in a reckless manner, and $17 for exceeding the posted speed limit.

Paul Junior Lewis, Crellin, $7 for operating without a motor vehicle license, and $25 for failing to stop after striking an unattended vehicle.

Attends Refresher At Bethlehem, Pa.

Thomas D. Crogan, director of Mt. Top Youth For Christ has returned from a 4 day "Fall Refresher" Institute of Youth for Christ International, Eastern Area held at the Hotel Bethlehem, Bethlehem, Pa. The Institute was designed to share new ideas and concepts with the local staffs. Fifty men from across the East participated.

The instructors at the 4 day institute were: Dr. Robert A. Cook, President of the King's College, Briarcliff Manor, N. Y.; Charles Jones, President of Life Management Services, Inc.; Frank Miller, Director Mason-ton-Dixon YFC, Hagerstown, D. Carey Polan, Director Washington Co. YFC, Washington, Pa.; Willie Foote, Vice President Southern States YFC and Earl W. Schultz, Jr., Vice President, Eastern Area YFC who also served as the Dean.

When Dr. Cook stated, "We need to make the Word of God relevant to daily life and we need to make Jesus Christ relevant to daily life", this was indicative of what the local program is doing to reach teens with this message.

Tonight three bus loads of area Teens will journey to Hi-Lan Roller Rink for the monthly activity of Mt. Top Youth For Christ. The next rally will start at 7:30 at Northern High School, November 18th., presenting the film: "Without Onion". Southern High will host a rally on November 25th., 7:30, using the film: "I Hear A New Song". The Crestmen will be in the all musical rally December the 2nd, at Northern High.

World Community Day Is Observed

In a world torn apart by hunger and war, 32 persons representing 13 churches of 6 denominations were issued a challenge by Mrs. Thomas P. Staup to the theme, "Who Shall Separate Us?"

Thus began the local observance of World Community Day which was sponsored by the Oakland Area Council of Church Women United, on Friday, November 3, at St. John's Episcopal Church, Deer Park.

Others participating in the service included the program leader, Mrs. Paul Calderwood, the speaker, the Rev. Vaughn Taylor; soloist, Mrs. Jay Bell, organist, Mrs. Robert Garrett; registrations and scripture readings, Mrs. Paul Miller and Mrs. Zeddock Miller, ushers, Mrs. Frank Mattingly and Mrs. Eldon Shingleton.

An offering of $22.63 was received to be used for Christian Causeways — Direction, Latin America and Training for Wives of Ministers of African Independent Churches. Material Aid of Diapers and Receiving Blankets was received along with gift certificates for clothing amounting to $27. These items will be distributed through Church World Service.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Reuben Fazenbaker, in the absence of the president. Mrs. Ellis Harvey read the resignation of the president, Mrs. Irvin T. Hughes.

Mrs. Walter DeBerry announced plans for World Day of Prayer to be held at St. Paul's Methodist Church, next March 1, at 1:30 p. m.

Concluding the business meeting the new officers and chairmen were installed by Mrs. Ellis Harvey with Mrs. Frank Mattingly assisting. All new and continuing officers and chairmen of the council are as follows: President, Mrs. Walter DeBerry; Vice President, Mrs. Hope Moon; Secretary, Mrs. Ellis Harvey; Mrs. Edward Callis, Treasurer, Christian world missions, Mrs. W. E. Fox; world day of prayer, Mrs. Walter DeBerry; Christian social relations, Mrs. Gerald Eddy; fellowship day, Mrs. Allen S. Paugh; Christian world relations, Mrs. Clarence Anderson; world community day, Mrs. Fred M. Walley; leadership education, Mrs. R. S. Fazenbaker; public relations, Mrs. Eldon Shingleton, church woman's magazine, Mrs. Ernest Spoerlein; finance, Mrs. Kenneth Biser, nominating committee, Mrs. Jane Tucker and Mrs. Paul Calderwood.

Refreshments were served by the host church following the business meeting.

The next executive meeting will be at the Oak Park Church of the Brethren on January 19, 7:30 p. m.

Farm Bureau Leaders Attend Workshop

Garrett County Farm Bureau leaders attended a workshop on November 1 in College Park.

Techniques on how to better communicate to do a more effective job, with the same time and effort, were studied at the one-day session by Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Aiken, Ellwood Sanders and Cecil Bittinger.

This workshop, part of the 1967 expanded Farm Bureau program in Maryland, was designed to help inform volunteer leaders on ways to make their organization more effective in serving the needs and accomplishing the goals of rural people.

Eight subject areas were covered in the workshop conducted with the assistance of the Department of Information and Publications, College of Agriculture, University of Maryland.

Aurora High Tells All

Juniors To Present Play

The Junior Class will present a 3-Act play entitled "Miss President, Please" on Friday, November 17, in the Aurora High School auditorium at eight o'clock. Why Borrow the Worst?

"Why do we borrow the WORST from countries instead of their best?" This question is asked in an advertisement of Warner and Swasey, precision machinery makers since 1880, in the October 30 issue of U. S. News and World Report.

Their answer is a real gem. They said: "We talk about Guaranteed Income for everyone, whether he works or not. The British called the same thing The Dole, and it helped make England Socialist and destroy the British Empire.

"We complacently watch unions demand and force unearned wage increases which destroy profits vital to national growth. That's only one step from the Russians, who abolished profits in favor of the Workingman's Soviet.

"We watch our central government seizing more and more power, destroying the authority and self-respect of cities and states. That's what Germany did—and out of it came Hitler.

"More and more of our income is taken in taxes to support indolence by people who won't work but who will support whoever gives the most from the public trough. That's what supports Cuba's Castro.

'Criminals are pampered, police attacked. Success is suspect, poverty perpetuated. Government runs amok in spending money it doesn't have and in destroying thrift and hard-won security. All this is the very opposite of what built America. And, continued, this won't be America long".

Next Week's Issue To Be Published On Wednesday

Next week's issue of The Republican will be published and distributed on Wednesday, November 22, in order that subscribers and others may obtain their copies in the immediate area prior to the Thanksgiving holiday. The office will remain closed all day on Thanksgiving, Thursday, November 23.

Although the newspaper will be mailed to other towns Wednesday afternoon, this will mean no change in the time that subscribers away from Oakland will receive their weekly paper.

Local correspondents and advertisers are urged to send in their material one day earlier than usual. All others who desire to have news items published are requested to do the same, in order to insure publication in the week's issue.

Parents Seeking School Addition At Bloomington

A group of parents from Bloomington appeared before the Board of Education, at a regular meeting on Tuesday, in the interest of the planned addition for the elementary school in that town.

The board members told the delegation they had completed arrangements with the state for the state's share of the cost of the addition and could proceed with construction plans if the County Commissioners would provide the county's share by borrowing from the State School Construction fund.

The Board has requested the county commissioners to borrow $100,000 from the State School Construction fund for the project. Two letters requesting that they borrow the funds needed have been written to the commissioners but no answer has been received from either letter.

Willard Hawkins, county superintendent, explained to the Bloomington delegation that to borrow the money and pay it back to the state over a fifteen year period the cost would be 1½ cents on the tax rate

The delegation indicated that a larger delegation would appear before the county commissioners in the near future.

In other action at the board's regular meeting a report was

$7,500 Is Awarded In Condemnation Case On Thursday

A Garrett County Jury last Thursday night awarded $7,500 to Blaine Joseph Friend in a condemnation suit brought against him by the State Roads Commission.

The property involved 11.51 acres along U. S route 219, across the highway from Friend Stockyards. An offer of $3,500 had been made by the SRC for the property and a review board had increased the figure to $3,850.

Mr Friend had placed a price tag of $16,000 on the property The jury was out some 45 minutes before bringing in the verdict.

Student Seriously Hurt In Crash

Two Southern high school students were injured, one seriously last Saturday afternoon when the automobile which Arlie Lilley was driving skidded out of control on the Herrington Manor road and overturned. Accompanying him was Valerie Smouse.

The students were enroute to a home to pick up some "props" for a school play. The automobile was owned by Michael Posey, instructor at Southern High school.

Lilley suffered head injuries, possible fracture of the skull and possible internal injuries. Miss Smouse sustained abrasions, contusions and was released from the emergency room at the local hospital after being treated. The car was badly damaged.

Lilley is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lilley. Miss Smouse is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smouse.

Trooper S. M. Russell, who investigated said charges were pending against both operator and owner.

Another Wreck Friday

There was another accident Friday morning about 9:45 two miles east of Table Rock on U. S. route 50, with two cars involved.

Norman A. Wilt, Oakland, was driving one car. With him were Paul DelSignore, Charles Dennis Lucas, of Gormania. Operator of the second car was George W. Ross, Weston, W. Va.

Trooper S. M. Russell, who investigated said both vehicles were traveling west on highway. Wilt attempted to pass Ross, saw an oncoming car and while attempting to cut back the right front of his vehicle hit the left rear of the Ross car causing the Ross vehicle to overturn on the highway. Mr. Ross sustained a neck injury and was admitted to the Garrett County Memorial hospital. Mr Wilt was charged with improper passing.

Asks For Review Of 30-Yr. Sentence

A petition of Carl Andrew Trenum, asking for a review of his recent sentence in the Circuit court here, was received by the court last week and a hearing has been set for Friday, November 17, at 2 p m

Trenum was sentenced by Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill to thirty years in the penitentiary September 25, after pleading guilty to two indictments of kidnaping. A charge of robbery with a deadly weapon was dropped by order of the state's attorney, Fred A. Thayer.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Michael, star route, Frostburg, were kidnaped early Sunday, August 13.

Trenum had escaped August 4 from the House of Correction where he was serving an 8-year term He was arrested by state police as he was leaving a tavern at Barton. His record dated back to 1961.

Maximum sentence for kidnaping is death or thirty years. The state had asked for the 30-year sentence. Trenum had been held without bond in the county jail since his arrest on August 16.

A review board was recently named to review sentences imposed and included Judges Harold Naughton James S. Getty

Recommend Legal Action If Needed

At a meeting of the Garrett County Council of Parents and Teachers last night at Northern High school, the junior college was one of the chief items on the agenda and resulted in a decision to underwrite the cost of legal action against the County Commissioners to compel them to put up the share of the money for the college.

Specifically the group went on record as:

1. Being willing to appear as a large delegation before the County Commissioners on Monday, November 27, at 10 a. m.;

2. If the Commissioners fail to agree to put up the county share of the money for the junior college at the site selected by the Board of Trustees and site committee, to support the Board of Trustees to the extent of recommending to each local PTA, that they underwrite the cost of legal action against the County Commissioners to compel them to perform as agreed, in regards to the establishment of the college.

Two Judges Deny New Trial Motion

Two judges who convicted Gary Lee Miller, Pocahontas, Pa., of first degree murder in the death of Judy Lee Ziegler, 20, last week denied a defense motion for a new trial

Associate Judges Harold E. Naughton and James S. Getty heard arguments on the motion by court-appointed defense attorney, Julius E. Schindler and State's Attorney Donald W. Mason.

At the conclusion Judge Naughton announced that the judges felt the rulings they made during the recent trial were correct and the motion for a new trial was denied.

He was convicted October 30 of the murder of Miss Ziegler, whose cut and bruised body was found May 28 near an old dump near Eckhart. Her car was found the next day partly submerged in a dam in the Pocahontas area Miss Ziegler also was from Pocahontas.

Youth Appreciation Week In Progress

Two young people, a boy and a girl, were named outstanding youth of the week, in observance of Youth Appreciation Week which is under way this week by Optimist clubs all over the country.

The Oakland Optimist club named John Crowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Crowe, route 2, Oakland; and Linda Schmidt, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Harry Schmidt, Swanton, to be honored at a meeting of the club at Red Run lodge this evening, November 16.

They are to receive a trophy at the meeting and will also compete for state honors at Baltimore on November 18. They will have a tour of Washington, D. C., on the 19th.

Members of the club selected the two on merit alone. Names were not known. The students were chosen to represent the entire portion of local youth deserving credit for their achievements and not for the purpose of receiving credit for their own achievements.

Purpose of the Youth Appreciation Week, according to Optimist club officers, is to help redeem the reputation of a generation, today's teenagers. Only a minority of today's youth ever become involved with the law but criticism received by this minority has turned public opinion against the majority of youth, it was pointed out. The week is to let teenagers know that adults appreciate their achievements, understand that they have special problems and respect them both as individuals and as an age group.

Plan Christmas For Mentally Ill

All churches in the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park area are being asked to assist with the annual "Operation Santa Claus". The purpose is to provide Christmas gifts for the 81 Garrett County patients in Springfield State Hospital, Sykesville. In many cases this will be the only Christmas they will know, said the Rev. W. Shelby Wallthall.

Churches having Thanksgiving Day services will receive items which will be taken to Baltimore to the Maryland Association for Mental Health. All articles must be wrapped and tagged to designate whether they are for a man or a woman. Suggested gifts for women include stretch hose, cosmetics, scarfs, handerchiefs, note paper, ball point pens, cigarettes, playing cards, etc. For men gifts might be ties, belts, wallets, pipes and tobacco, shaving articles, etc.

In addition to the local churches serving as collecting points, persons may also take gifts to the Ruth Enlow Library. All gifts from churches, individuals, or civic clubs must be at St. Matthew's Episcopal Church no later than 2:00 p. m Sunday, November 26th. They may be left in the vestibule of the church - corner of Liberty and Second streets.

Mt. Lake Resident Charged In Wreck

City policeman Hobart Shillingburg investigated a two car collision which occurred Friday night at approximately 10:30, and charged a Mt. Lake resident with failure to keep right of center line. Thelma Jean Noel, Oakland, was proceeding east on Oak street when a car driven by David Claude Ridings, of Mt. Lake, swerved to the left of the center line and struck Mrs. Noel's car, according to officer Shillingburg.

Damages were estimated at $80 to Ridings car, and $200 to Mrs. Noel's vehicle. Neither person involved was injured

Mr. Ridings is scheduled to appear in Trial Magistrate Court November 16.

Mandamus In Prospect If No Site Approved

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Junior College, on Tuesday, the members agreed that a writ of mandamus should be brought against the County Commissioners, compelling them to act if they continued to refuse to put up the county's share of the money for the purchase of land and construction of the building.

Upon consultation with the board's attorney the trustees were advised that following the referendum on the junior college, the law directed the Board of Education, acting as the Board of Trustees for the college, to proceed to establish the college.

The board had decided to adhere to the Glotfelty-Wagner site for the college. The site was approved or rated the best by not only the board of trustees but the Superintendent of Schools, the lay site committee, representatives of the Department of Public Improvement, representatives of the State Department of Education in charge of buildings and planning, and representatives of the architectural firm of Johannes and Murray.

The County Commissioners have failed to agree on the site, one commissioner, Allen S. Paugh, favoring the original site, Hubert Friend wanting the Yoder farm used, and Ross Sines favoring the use of the White Face farm.

The citizens of the county voted in favor of establishing a junior college last June 13 by a vote of 2,194 to 933.

Parade and Tree Lighting Plans Are Now Complete

Plans for the parade and tree lighting ceremony to mark the beginning of the Christmas shopping season in Oakland, have been completed.

They will take place on Friday evening, November 24, at 7 o'clock. Participating in the parade will be the Southern High band, the Terra Alta High school band, model automobiles, and Santa Claus riding on a unit of the Oakland Fire department.

The parade will form at the Center street school, and will journey down Second, up Alder, follow Third street to Green and thence to Liberty street.

Also participating in the parade will be the Harige clowns of the Ali Ghan Shrine club of Cumberland who will distribute pop corn balls. There will be numbers in the pop corn balls which will indicate numerous prizes that will be provided by a number of stores The distribution wil probably take place at the corner of Second and Liberty streets.

There will be a tree lighting ceremony on the Episcopal lawn, corner of Second and Liberty streets The street dec-

Man Charged With Theft of Ginseng

Two persons were brought before Trial Magistrate Robert Maroney during the past week. In the first case, Donald Friend, Sand Flat, was charged by John Evans, Jr., deputy sheriff, with robbing Henry S Friend of approximately 100 lbs of ginseng root, valued at $4,000, Sept. 6

Henry Friend, Deer Park, contended that three men entered his home on the pretext of having some ginseng for him; roughed him up; bound him, and left him face down on the ground outside. He also alleged that the men threatened him with harm if he should call the authorities.

Donald Friend waived his right to a preliminary trial because he would not allow local lawyers to represent him His bond, set at $6,000, was furnished by his mother, Mrs. Ann Kahl. His case is now scheduled to come before the Grand Jury.

In the second case, Mary Jane Albright charged Eugene Albright with non-support of herself since October 20. Albright pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 60 days in jail. His sentence was suspended pro-

Shown above are two members of the crew of "Project Fish House" preparing to sink the wired-together old tires which will provide fish protection in Deep Creek Lake.

Old Tires Will Give Fish A Home In Deep Creek Lake

Building fish houses isn't the favorite pastime for Nick Carter, fish research biologist of the Department of Game and Inland Fish in Annapolis, but it could be an important event to happen to fishing at Deep Creek.

The project, designed by Carter, is simple. According to studies made by the Department, fish will seek some type of shelter. By using a mass of old tires tied together, a fish house has been constructed. Each one of these units will offer more than 50 square feet of shelter for the fish.

The idea has been hailed by the Pennsylvania Electric Company, owners of the lake and by the Department of Game and Inland Fish. The electric company feels that Carter's idea will help even the novice become a successful fisherman

Crews were working last week to complete the first phase of the project. The target is to sink 15 of these units this fall and another 10 next spring, making a total of 25 at various spots around the lake.

Each spot has been marked by a buoy to make them easy to find. On each buoy is written these words . . . "Below this buoy is a fish attractor. Try here for bass, perch, and sunfish".

Being a biologist for the Department has brought Carter to realize the need for additional development in this area. It is Carter's feeling that people are attracted to this area by the lake, and he feels that many

Grantsville Area Emergency Ended

Residents of Grantsville were able to take a deep breath of relief last Sunday without inhaling the odor of gasoline fumes after experiencing a week-end of concern for possible fire and explosion after 1,200 gallons of gasoline had leaked into the town's sewer system.

On Sunday, hoped-for rain had helped wash away remnants of the gasoline which had leaked into the sewer lines from a State Roads Commission gasoline tank truck at the state roads garage at the west end of Grantsville. It was not determined how or why the value on the tank was opened

Firemen had been notified of the leaking tank and had washed down the gasoline. SRC employees scattered sand in the area, and it was believed the danger had been eliminated.

However, a short time later, an explosion damaged the home of William Leasure, who lives in Grantsville. Firemen, police and other officials immediately notified all residents, especially those who live on the north side of Route 40, to turn off furnaces, not to smoke and to use no fire at all.

Mayor Charles C Bender said 100 per cent cooperation probably prevented the whole town from being blown up Fire companies from Grantsville, Salisbury, Pa., Meyersdale, Pa., and Accident were on duty up to 24 hours helping to flush the sewer with water. The men also attached fire company smoke exhaust fans, which are normally used to pump smoke from burning buildings, to manholes to literally pump the fumes from the lines.

During the emergency, a number of homes in the contaminated area were evacuated and people stayed in their cars or went to the homes of their neighbors and friends in outlying or unaffected sections.

Union Thanksgiv'g Services Scheduled

The annual union Thanksgiving service will be held this year at the Oak Park Church of the Brethren, near Southern High school, Oakland, on Thursday morning, Nov. 23, at 10 o'clock, it has been announced.

The service is sponsored by the Mountain Top Ministerial association, and a number of area churches participate in the program.

This year the Rev. Eldon Shingleton, pastor of the Oak Park church, will be in charge of the liturgy and Rev. Thomas Graham director of the Mt. Top Youth for Christ will be the speaker. There will be special music by the Oak Park choir.

Con Con Report Given By Grant

The Constitutional Convention has set the size of the General Assembly at 120 members in the House of Delegates and 40 members in the Senate. Each delegate and senator will be elected from districts which will be set up independent of county lines. A delegate district will contain approximately 33,000 people and senatorial district will contain 100,000 people A report of activities was given this week by William W. Grant Jr., the County's Convention delegate.

The practical effect of the action of the Constitutional Convention is that counties with less than 33,000 people will not have their own delegate. One proposal would have had only 80 members in the House of Delegates, which would have meant a delegate district of 50,000 people.

There was a determined effort by the delegates from the rural counties to retain one delegate per county However, because of "one man one vote", ruling by the Supreme Court, this would mean 277 delegates in the House of Delegates in 1980. Being defeated on the one delegate per county, the rural delegates then worked to get as big a House of Delegates as possible, in order to get small election districts for the delegates. The smaller the district, the more opportunity that a county will have to elect the delegate from the district that includes the county.

The figure finally came out at 33,000. This means that the 20,000 people in Garrett County will probably be combined with 13,000 in Allegany County to form the westernmost district for the election of a delegate. Thus, a man from Garrett County should stand a good chance of election if everyone in the county would get behind him, Mr. Grant points out.

Missing in Action

Randall Shaffer, second lieutenant in the U. S. Marine corps, serving in Vietnam, was reported missing in action on Tuesday. He is a native of Aurora, W. Va.

Word was brought to the area personally by a Marine corps officer. The soldier, who entered the service in January, 1966, completed Officer Candidate school and received his commission.

He is the husband of Judy Shaffer, who is employed by A. D. Naylor and company in Oakland, and the son of Mr and Mrs. Ernest Shalter, Aurora

He was operating with a helicopter unit at the time he was reported missing in action No further word has been received.

St. Committee Approves First Site Selection

Glotfelty-Wagner Area Is Deemed Best Of Three Considered

The committee from the State Department of Public Improvements, sent to this county on November 1 to evaluate three proposed sites for the construction of the county's community college, has unanimously recommended the site originally selected by a special site committee, the combination of properties currently owned by Gerold Glotfelty and Claude Wagner, near McHenry

The committee included Roland Piel, State Department of Public Improvements; Jim Smith, John Bamberger and George A. Myers, coordinator of school facilities planning and members of the State Department of Education. They were accompanied to the site by the three county commissioners, Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools; Lee Murray and several of his assistants from the architectural firm of Johannes and Murray.

The proposed sites were evaluated by each member of the party individually and the evaluation party met as a group on Wednesday, Nov. 8, to discuss their findings. Mr. Myers, who wrote his letter to Mr. Hawkins, said the group was limited in making comparative evaluation of the three sites by the absence of two complete and formal appraisals of each of the three properties, so no comparison was made relative to cost.

Sites Evaluated

The group based its findings and final evaluations upon the following:

That the size of site A is 55-60 acres, the amount deemed necessary for adequate site; that the five acres contiguous to western boundary of site A, although not necessary for construction of facilities, are highly desirable to prevent possible unwanted encroachment; that the general location is not subject to question; that it be located centrally in the county in general vicinity of McHenry.

That the majority of the students would be arriving from northern and southern points via route 219 and that some students would arrive via Mosser road; that for next twenty years Mosser road and Bumblebee road would be maintained at present location and would not

Maryland Hi'ways' Need $2.5 Billion For Next 20 Years

A "very tentative and preliminary" State Roads Commission study has put the cost of Maryland's highway needs for the next 20 years at $2 5 billion, with today's prices.

If construction costs continued to rise at the current rate of 5 per cent a year, costs would be double 20 years from now.

The survey excludes the interstate highway system, Baltimore City streets, and the national freeway to be built in Garrett, Allegany, and Washington counties as part of the federal Appalachia program

The study, intended as a guide for legislative action, listed $793.4 million in critical needs and $1 7 billion in other projects for a total of $2 53 billion Critical needs are those projects which should be built within four to six years.

Garrett County critical needs and over-all needs are $16 6 million and $66 6 million, respectively.

Road Program For 2 Years Discussed

Plans for carrying out the balance of the six year roads program in the county were discussed at a meeting Monday with the County Commissioners, Delegate B. O. Aiken, and N. B. Freese, a representative of the State Roads commission.

The plans covered projects on U. S route 40, and three projects on state route 135 It was pointed out that the 219 improvement already had been approved and that improvements to state route 495 would probably be next in line after completion of the six-year program.

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

Law VS. Irresponsibles

Addressing the International Association of Police Chiefs in September, President Johnson spoke out concerning the riots that the nation has suffered this summer. "Much can explain", he said, "but nothing can justify the riots of 1967". He pointed out that "they damage the respect and the accommodation among men on which civilized society ultimately depends and without which there can be no progress toward social justice."

The public can be thankful that Mr. Johnson at last had firm words for the rioters, but Americans cannot ignore the fact that the condemnation comes very late. Moreover, Mr. Johnson's words would be more meaningful if the Justice Department and other agencies of the federal government had been advised to take the same line.

It happens, however, that the Justice Department, under Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, has taken a very soft line toward the rioters and others who preach strife or engage in civil disobedience. When Stokely Carmachiael was raising the roof earlier this summer, triggering violence around the country, Mr. Clark and his associates apparently couldn't find a law to cover his unAmerican activities.

When the South was going through some turmoil a decade ago, the Justice Department always seemed able to find some obscure post-Civil War statute that effectively shut up people the Department didn't favor. Now that the Black Power movement is busy burning cities and causing riots, the Justice Department is strangely helpless.

Many Americans may conclude that Mr. Johnson's speech to the police chiefs is only the smallest of beginnings. What is needed is for the President to set about creating a wholly new atmosphere regarding law and law enforcement. The police need a good word not once every four years but on a continuing basis. The White House needs to let it be known that no group of Americans, no minority in our country, is above the law or exempt from its provisions.

The riots in Newark and Detroit, for example, resulted in losses totaling many millions of dollars. The rioters achieved as much destruction as an enemy of the U. S. might have achieved with aerial bombardment. Blocks of stores and homes were gutted. Millions of dollars in salaries and profits went up in smoke. Therefore, it is the duty of the President to make it crystal clear that those who burn and loot are enemies of the American people.

The President of the United States also owes it to the people to exert leadership in upholding law and order. This means, for example, that the President should not hesitate to challenge those organizations which foster strife and disorder and give encouragement to civil disobedience. This kind of leadership has to be exercised, not only with respect to the wild Black Power groups that masquerade as respectable — even religious — organizations.

One such organization is the National Council of Churches, which at its recent meeting in Atlanta gave its endorsement to the marches in Milwaukee that have plunged that great middle Western city into strife and disrupted its community and business life.

It is profoundly shocking that the National Council of Churches should lend its weight to the agitators who have spattered Milwaukee with violence. The NCC's endorsement of the Milwaukee street demonstrations and of their leader, the Rev. James E. Groppi, is one of the most reckless actions that organization has ever undertaken. Mayor Henry W. Maier of Milwaukee, a liberal, has denounced Father Groppi in these terms: "Groppi is irresponsible. He is a man of violence, not a man of peace. Groppis kind of stage managed events are doing long-term damage to the city".

Mayor Maier's deunciation should be extended to the national supporters of Rev. Groppi, specifically the NCC. President Johnson, too, owes it to the law-abiding people of this nation to denounce not only the Father Groppis and Rap Browns, but the NCC and other organizations that lend their influence to guerrilla warfare in the streets of America.

Viet Cong have adopted the motto, "We shall die rather than retreat one step".

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Although there is often evidence that some aspects of labor union s leadership political ideologies are detrimental to the nation, there are also ideological differences growing within the unions.

* * *

A good example is the hassle in the United Auto Workers Union. As is well known, production lines are largely manned by unskilled workers who are trained to perform one simple task as the chassis go by.

To keep the plant rolling, there is a certain percentage of the employees who are skilled craftsmen such as machinists, electricians, and others who have either through schooling, or long apprenticeship, become highly skilled people. Without them, any auto plant would shut down.

But the problem developing in the auto union is the fact that there are more unskilled workers than skilled workers, thus there are more unskilled voters in the union than skilled.

Naturally, the leaders of the union realizing the butter on their bread comes from control of the unskilled mass, negotiate proportionately better contracts for the unskilled than they do for the skilled.

This has made the skilled workers most unhappy and they are trying to pull out of the UAW to form their own union.

But despite the size of the national debt, and national social policies indicating to the contrary there are some in Washington who can also understand arithmetic, and they too realize that there are more unskilled than skilled workers.

Hence, the National Labor Relations Board has refused to let the skilled workers hold an election to see if the majority do want to pull out of UAW.

In affect, the pendulum of history is starting to swing, and is only impeded by the action of government bureaucrats. The old American Federation of Labor was composed of craft unions, which made it the target of the old IWW, and then the Russian backed union movement in the early '30's which then led to a domestic organization called the CIO. This was the genesis of the so-called vertical union in this country whereby one union would represent all the workers in a given industry.

Eventually the AFL and CIO merged, but the marriage has shown signs of progressively becoming strained. It is perhaps a situation that results when a competent, hard working man marries and then learns that he is also being called upon to support hordes of his wife's less able relatives.

Career Welfarists

While the anti-draft demonstrators are reaping the biggest harvest of publicity this month, organized welfare recipients have been busy making their own angry noises in recent months. Taxpaying, self-reliant citizens certainly should inform themselves of the rambunctious, ugly mood of those who believe a federal handout is a "right."

Earlier this year, for example, a thousand singing, shouting welfare recipients from more than 50 cities gathered in Washington and mocked the Congress. These demonstrators were attending a convention of the National Welfare Rights Movement.

The character of the gathering may be discerned from the speeches made by the convention leaders. One welfare "rights" leader denounced members of Congress as "lousy, dirty, conniving brutes." Threats of violence were clearly implied, even openly stated. One "welfare mother' from New York City, vice chairman of the national organization, told the rally that its money has paid for the Capitol and the group should "go in there and tear it down if they don't listen to you."

George A. Wiley, director of the Poverty-Rights Action Center in Washington, told the group: "If this country does not listen to poor people after what has happened in Detroit and Newark and New Haven, you haven't seen nothing yet." Responsible citizens certainly should get the message from that plain statement.

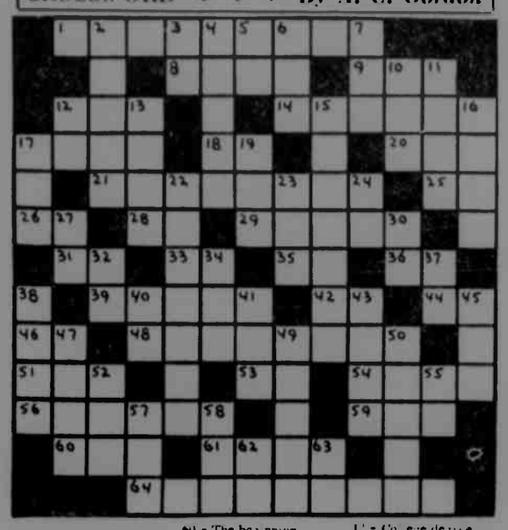
The rally was a shocking affair that should have had better national coverage. The tone of the gathering can be gauged by the comment by one delegate, who got into the Senate Caucus Room. Pointing at the hangings, she said: "That stuff costs money, baby, so they must have some money somewhere."

The looter mentality was grimly apparent in this rally of welfare recipients. It was more than a case of "gimme," for the underlying threat was that if the federal government didn't pay off to welfare recipients the country would be made to pay in general havoc.

It is shocking, of course, that such groups should have come into existence. Certainly, it is bad enough that any citizen should think that the government owes him a living. But even worse is the notion that those whom hard-working Americans often refer to as "handout hounds" should believe they can virtually hold up the Congress for bigger benefits. People who organize in this manner obviously are more interested in making a career of welfare than they are in supporting themselves.

The most dismaying thing about the organization of welfare recipients is that church groups have gotten into the act. The Newsletter of the Urban Institute of the Council of Churches in Washingon furnishes revealing clues on church participation—participation that may not be known by most laymen.

One issue of the Newsletter revealed, for example, that the Urban Institute of the Council of Churches was "a charter supporter of the Welfare Alliance" in the nation's capital. This Alliance was founded, according to the Newsletter, to "protest actively" for the "rights" of welfare recipients.



The Newsletter let the cat out of the bag in one issue describing the objectives of welfare organizers in the Washington area. It described the overall goal of the organizers as "a national movement demanding economic redistribution of our country's wealth."

If the Council of Churches of Greater Washington believes that rallies of shouting, angry welfare recipients is the way to redistribute the nation's wealth, it takes a curious position for a group of churchmen. It is highly unlikely that the people in any American church denomination approve of Congressmen being called "lousy, dirty, conniving brutes." Congress, elected by the people, is a representative body.

When the churches lend aid to groups that want to redistribute the nation's wealth through mass protest movements, in effect they condone revolutionary action. And a revolution cannot be accomplished without hatred and strife, which are the things churches are supposed to struggle against.

Many T. V. stations now broadcast anti-smoking coming commercials.

Tragedy Brings Out People's Generosity

Even amidst the clangor against today's generation of young people, some actions speak up in defense.

Take, for example, the efforts of Fairfax high school students, who, completely on their own, have begun two scholarship funds in the names of the Lindstrom twins. The two-year-old boys, the only children of Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Lindstrom, were killed two weeks ago when gasoline fumes caused an explosion in the basement of their Fairfax home.

Not to be outdone, the people of the community dug into their pockets to help defray the immediate expenses incurred by the tragedy. Even people who used the pool where Kurt Lindstrom was swimming instructor last summer also began a fund for the Lindstroms.

Jehovah's Witnesses Will Attend Elkins Meet

Members of the Oakland congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will attend a semi-annual assembly meeting in Elkins, W. Va., to be held December 8, 9 and 10. The National Guard Armory in Elkins will be turned into Kingdom Hall for the three days to accommodate the 600 delegates who are expected to attend.

of Allegany County; and Stuart F. Hamill, of Oakland.

In his request for a review Trenum, through his court appointed attorney, Jack R. Turney, he said the sentence was "unreasonable and excessive in view of the circumstances, disclosed by complaining witnesses who indicated the defendant was courteous, did no physical harm to anyone and provided witnesses with money with which to buy gasoline for the trip home. The case was not an aggravated instance of the offense charged and certainly does not warrant maximum sentence".

In correspondence earlier Judge Hamill had termed the man a "menace to society".

of the people coming here are not familiar with the lake and do not know where to fish. With this idea, there can be no mistake, as each 'fishing hole' will be plainly marked.

Carter stated that game fish such as bass, perch and sunfish are usually caught in an area where the water provides all things necessary to their survival. One of these things is protection. The protection could be in the form of a large rock, a log, a stump or something of this type. Carter says that in the developed areas of the lake, such as McHenry, such natural shelter is not available. Much of this part of the lake is barren on the bottom and offers no shelter, or if the shelter does exist, it is often too deep under water for fish to have enough oxygen to survive.

This project is expected to help the fisherman. It is hoped that local residents will respect the idea and help preserve the life of the fish attractors and the buoy markers.

given on other building developments. Architectural plans for additions at Dennett Road, Southern and Northern High Schools were scheduled for completion by March 1, with the additions scheduled to be placed under contract in time for construction during early spring.

Low bids for a school bus for the outdoor education program operating under Title I were approved. Teets garage presented the low bid for the chassis and the Truck Equipment company gave the low bid for the body.

The Board requested a price quotation on a portion of the Sweitzer property adjacent to the Dennett Road school but due to budget limitations had to reject the quotation.

Resignaion of Miss Kathy Gonder, due to illness, as teacher in the Title I program at Northern High school was accepted. Mrs. Helen Kahl was named to fill the vacancy.

Mr. Hawkins reported that school principals had said a record number of parents visited the schools of the county during the recent American Education week, with favorable reports received on the work being done in the county schools.

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
President—National Education Program
Searcy, Arkansas

American citizens, at this grave moment in history, have the right and the responsibility to demand of their Federal officialdom (including the Congress and the President) the establishment of a policy of "frugality" in all non-military governmental activities. Unless this is done, heaver and heavier taxes will be levied on the people and the fiscal and monetary problems of the nation will worsen, threatening runaway inflation, bankruptcy and ruin.

On the other hand, if the colossal waste were stopped and Federal programs shelved that are not absolutely necessary in today's crisis situation, the present awesome gap between government income and government spending could be closed, our fiscal house put in order, inflation halted, and the families of America spared another whacking from the Federal tax collectors. On the basis of voluminous evidence, much of it accidently disclosed to the public, it could be estimated that at least 10% of Federal appropriations (not counting salaries) is wasted, squandered. In the 1967-68 Federal Budget, cutting out such waste would save probably $12 billion — more than the surtax would be expected to produce.

If waste were abolished from the absolutely necessary functions of Government and at the same time the unnecessary programs and activities were discontinued at least for the duration of the Vietnam war, Federal income would outstrip spending by a comfortable margin, the Federal debt now soaring toward $340 billion could be reduced, inflation quelled, and a powerful soundness established in a U. S. Treasury now forced to practice frantic and frightening fiscal maneuverings.

Let's look at some of the circumstances that must be considered in any person's judgment on whether we need a tax hike or some drastic non-defense budget cuttings:

We are at war. The monetary cost is nearing $25 billion a year. The death and casualty toll in lives of American fighting men is staggering. As the war now is being waged, U. S. forces are entrapped in a conflict promising no date for victory, against an enemy they are not permitted to defeat.

The 1967-68 Budget, as submitted by the President, is $172 billion, largest in our nation's history; and the non-military expenditures represent a higher rate of growth (over previous budgets) than the growth rate of war-time military expenditures.

Various programs and agencies of the Government, in addition to Budget requests, have a total of unspent authorizations of $125 billion — to be spent in addition to 1967-68 requests.

The Federal civilian payroll has now jumped over the 3,000,000 mark; in the last month reported, 74,457 new civilian employees were placed on the Federal payroll; in the last 12 months more than 22,000 new civilian employees have been added each month (average). Average salary: $7,000-plus.

The Federal military personnel, as budgeted for 1967-68, is 3,464,000.

Salaries for the 6,464,000 persons on the federal payroll: $40 billion a year!

A Federal indebtedness (with the incomes of every family mortgaged) soaring beyond $335 billion. A demand for a new debt ceiling of $360 billion.

Delegates Give Tentative OK To Governor Plan

Maryland's Constitutional Convention gave overwhelming tentative approval yesterday to its committee recommendations on local government by a vote of 117-7.

As adopted by the delegates sitting as a committee of the whole, the article will make mandatory home rule for all counties, preserve in municipalities all powers they now have but leave final determination disputes to the legislature.

The article now goes to the committee on style and drafting and then will be considered again by the convention before gaining a final okay. It was the first complete article to clear the convention.

Before adopting the recommendations a series of amendments, most of them aimed at giving municipalities more authority, was defeated. An amendment that would have made referendums mandatory before any law could take effect establishing or altering the boundaries of multi-county governmental units was defeated.

NEWS FROM THE Ruth Enlow Library

BY EDITH BROCK

A color movie, "The Vatican," will be presented at the Ruth Enlow Library on Monday evening, November 20 at 7:30.

An interview with Pope John XXIII, views of the interior of the Pauline Chapel, an opportunity to examine the historic articles and sacred vestments connected with the Papacy and to hear the Sistine Chapel choir in rehearsal are among the unusual features included in this filmed tour of the Vatican originally presented on television.

Now available at the Ruth Enlow Library is a special news reference service—"Facts on File"—which puts significant news events at fingertip reach, making it possible for users to locate specific news items as easily as looking up a word in the dictionary.

"Facts on File News Digests"—which are issued weekly—record tens of thousands of items annually, spanning all categories of news from world and national affairs to sports, finance, education, religion, science and the arts as well as the activities of newsworthy individuals.

A Cumulative Index, issued twice monthly and consolidated throughout the year, tells the user exactly where to find the details of a news event in the "Facts on File" News Digests. The Index also specifies the date of the event, thus making it possible to find additional background information in newspaper and periodical files.

St. Mark's Lutheran church will have a special Thanksgiving day service on Thursday, November 23, at 10 a. m. There will be special music by the Adult, Youth and Children's choirs, with the Thanksgiving sermon by the pastor, the Rev. Wm. Ernest Fox.

Mr. and Mrs. David Malm, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, and Mrs. Ruth Shaffer, Akron, O., visited in the area recently with Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Parsons and Mrs. Ola Shaffer, Kingwood, W. Va., and Mr. and Mrs. John Hels and family, of Morgantown, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Gideon and daughter Machon of Alexandria, Va., and Mrs. Grover Adair and daughter Dolly of Arlington, Va., spent Monday and Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Wade Meese. While here, they visited with Mrs. T. E. Meese, who is a patient in Garrett County Memorial hospital.

Mrs. Ruth Calderwood, Mrs. Reuben Fazenbaker, Mrs. Jonas Beachy, Mrs. Allen Duckworth, and Mrs. Freda Denison left yesterday for Washington, D. C., where they will attend the annual fall meeting of the Maryland State Council of Homemakers Clubs. All the ladies will return today with the exception of Mrs. Denison, who will remain for another meeting on Friday.

James D. Moreland Is Now Captain

James D. Moreland has recently been promoted to the rank of Captain in the United States Army while serving at Ft. Hood, Texas.

Captain Moreland received his commission through ROTC at West Virginia University in 1964.

He has attended the Armor Officer's Basic Course at Ft. Knox, Ky., the Combat Surveillance Course at Ft. Huachuca, Ariz., and the Communications Officers Course at Ft. Sill, Okla.

Presently Captain Moreland is serving as Battalion Executive Officer and will be reassigned to Vietnam in February of 1968.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Moreland of Mt. Storm, W. Va., and the grandson of Mrs. Ina Moreland of 114 2nd Street, Oakland.

Authority In B&O Case Won by PSC

The Maryland Public Service commission asserted yesterday its authority to say whether the Baltimore and Ohio railroad may consolidate passenger trains even though they cross state lines.

The PSC said that since the B & O had not applied to the Interstate Commerce commission for approval of a series of changes in passenger train schedules, it had in effect elected to subject itself to the state agency.

The railroad announced last month that for the sake of economy it was tailoring its schedules. It maintained that some of the service would be more convenient for passengers.

Among changes was proposed the merger of the National and Capitol Limiteds, operating through the Cumberland area with the National Limited operating through Oakland. It crosses from Maryland to West Virginia and back into Maryland.

Shopping Deluxe...

Write for the catalog and quit your job. Tell the boss what you think of him. If he heard of the catalog first, he may have quit already. Don't let that worry you. The pleasures available since the government has made irresponsibility a way of life will more than offset the joy of telling him off.

Key to this Utopia is "Catalog of Federal Assistance Programs", issued by the Office of Economic Opportunity, Washington, D. C. It compares favorably with the biggest mail-order catalog in size. It is rather weak on pictures, but they aren't really necessary to recount the virtues of the riches offered.

To make the most of your opportunities, it is necessary only to sell the worldly goods you have accumulated through perspiration that kept you ahead of the tax collector, and choose your favorite transportation to that foreign land you have always wanted to visit. Now, now, don't fret. There is nothing to worry about. Why shouldn't you exact the most that you can in fun, frivolity and cultural advantage from your hard-earned shekels. It would be unfair to yourself to do otherwise. And when it is all gone? Just turn to page 253 of the catalog.

There you will find the OEO's program will provide full reimbursement for assistance given US citizens who have to leave a foreign country because of destitution, illness, war, threat of war, invasion or other crises. Lee Harvey Oswald got home from the USSR didn't he? Assistance, the catalog says, includes money, temporary housing, temporary care, transportation, and all goods and services necessary for the health and welfare of the citizen.

When you have returned safely to your native land, you can begin a careful perusal of the 143 pages of the master index. There you can find provision for anything that any reasonable person could possibly desire.

Only one thing is missing in this wonderful outlook. No place in the 459 programs and 701 pages is there any program to take care of the taxpayer faced with jail as the Internal Revenue Service bears down on him.

All the more reason for getting out of the country before it does.

But order the catalog first. And guard it with your life.

With the catalog and your passport you have a visa to Utopia.

The tourist traffic abroad is going to be terrific when word of this gets around, so book your transportation early, and order your catalog before the present supply is exhausted. Reprinting a 701-page catalog takes time. —U. S. Press Association, Inc.

Fifty Hitlers...

Hitler and Mussolini were pikers. How those two unimaginative gentlemen ever rose to power is beyond understanding.

Hitler used to reward German women with money, and sometimes medals, for having children—fodder for his war machine. And Mussolini copied the system. It was a practice which horrified civilized nations watching the menace of Fascism grow in Europe.

As we said, Hitler and Mussolini were unimaginative pikers. Only a few days ago the Ford Foundation sponsored a conference of "experts" in business, economics, labor, civil rights and government. No less than fifty authorities were brought together for three days in Warrenton, Virginia. Not even Hitler or Mussolini would believe what the conferees recommended: That the United States government undertake a program to give every child in the United States a cash allowance of $10, $15 or $25 a month.

Dr. Eveline Burns, who was chairman of the conference, and is a professor of "social work" at Columbia University, put it this way: "The advantages of a children's allowance are that it could move a large number of children out of poverty; it would assist them as 'right' and it would carry no stigma".

"Even Bobby Kennedy's children would get an allowance", said Dr. Burns.

How much would it cost? Well, a spokesman for the conference said that a $25 a month allowance for every child in the country would cost $10 to $20 billion a year.

It is not reported how long it took the Ford Foundation to locate fifty "experts" who could out-Hitler the architect of the Third Reich in 3 short days. But if tax-exempt foundation funds can be used for sponsorship of such pie-in-the-sky plans as this one, then mark it down that this country has a Hitler or a Mussolini in its future, and not very far down the road. Indeed, it may have a whole committee of them.

The day that Junior and Missie wait in the doorway for the postman to deliver the monthly spending money is the day that Big Brother in Washington imposes a totalitarianism that will make Hitler and Mussolini look benevolent.

Fifty Ford Foundation Hitlers! Round up a posse, men. —U. S. Press Association, Inc.

Five Births Occur

Four boys and one girl were born during the past week at Garrett County Memorial hospital, the lowest number since October 26, when two girls and three boys were born.

On November 10, a son to Mr and Mrs. Ernest Harold Dumire, Horse Shoe Run, W. Va.

On November 12, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Edward Hinebaugh, of Deer Park.

On the 14th, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Donald William Carr, of Sang Run, and a son to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Franklin Kitzmiller, Oakland.

On the 15th, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Allen Leroy Bowman, Mt. Lake Park.

The hospital admitted 39 patients during the week. A total of 35 were discharged, which left the census this morning at 50.

Twenty-Eight Die On State Highways

Twenty-eight persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the State Police. Fifteen of those killed were drivers, ten were passengers, and three were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in six of the deaths, speed in seventeen, and driver error in twenty-five.

"The number of persons killed on Maryland highways this year has now climbed to thirty-three more than for the same period in 1966", said Lt. Col. George Davidson, Chief of Operations of the State Police. "The only good thing that can possibly come from this terrible situation is that it might shake many persons loose from their apathetic attitude about the seriousness of the highway safety problem. Unless we want the situation to continue getting progressively worse, each of us must make a constructive effort toward correcting it.

"Very rarely do we come across the spectacular accident with an out-of-the-ordinary cause. Thoughtlessness, inattention, over-confidence, impatience - these simple every-day attitudes cause accidents day in and day out. Ignoring the most elementary rules of the road, like failing to yield right-of-way or passing when unsafe to do so, takes a tremendous toll in human life. Drinking and driving is too frequently a menace on our highways. Excessive speed for conditions is present in far too many accidents".

Lt. Col. Davidson concluded: "It seems rather improbable that we will ever completely eliminate tragedy on our highways. However, it is certainly within our power to control the situation so that a minimum number of lives are lost".

Friday Sees Two Auto Accidents

Two accidents occurred Friday, November 10; both within town limits. Marshall S. Johnson, of Terra Alta, was proceeding east on Oak Street at approximately 7:20 a. m., when he was struck in the left rear fender by Emerson Fike, who was coming down Eighth Street. No injuries were reported in this accident, which was investigated by Officer Charles Wendlandt.

In the second accident, Mrs Nellie Ball, Oakland, was attempting to pull out of the alley near the railroad tracks into Second Street when she collided with a pickup driven by Fred W. Hardy, of Petersburg, W. Va. Mr. Hardy had apparently been waiting for an unidentified driver to make a right turn into the alley occupied by Mrs. Ball when he heard a train approaching.

In his attempt to get his vehicle off the tracks, he passed the driver in front of him at the same instant Mrs. Ball pulled onto the street. No injuries were reported, and no damage other than locked front bumpers was apparent. Police Chief Percy Lawton was the investigating officer.

Speech Class To Present 3 Plays

Characters include Randy Overdroff, Susan Boniece and Harriett Geroski in the first; Carol Skiles, Kim Frederick, Sherry Frantz, Jim Jones, Jack Alvarez and Chris Reckart in the second; and Bruce Paugh, Barbara Snyder, Bill Buchanan, Patty Cogley and Leah Stoney, in the third.

Extension Meetings Set For Next Week

There will be an Executive Board meeting of the Garrett County Council of Homemakers Clubs, Tuesday, November 21, at 1:00 p. m. It will be held at the 4-H Camp in Pleasant Valley. Each club is expected to be represented.

There will be a meeting of the officers of the "College Week for Women" Club at the home of Mrs. Carrie Shaffer 322 E. Alder St., Monday, November 20, at 7:30 p. m.

What's New

Tips on what's new were told by Mrs. Freda Denison, extension agent.

She says home sewers can buy washable Suede Yardage.

Genuine white Suede, made of New Zealand lamb hides that can be handwashed like fine lingerie, is now sold as yard goods. The manufacturer states that this leather will not become discolored even after numerous sudsings, and that it can be finger-pressed or even ironed to eliminate wrinkles after laundering.

Homemakers are so pleased with no-iron, durable press tablecloths that the basic cloths are being virtually ignored, say market observers. And the forecast is that these homemakers, who like to display fresh, clean cloths with a minimum of care, will be even more enthusiastic about the very newest durable press cloths made with a soil-releasing finish so that even oily and other stubborn stains come out during regular machine washing.

Post Offices To Close

All post offices in the county will be closed on Thursday, November 23, Thanksgiving Day, it was announced. The lobby in the Oakland office will remain open from 8:30 to 9 o'clock with similar hours for other offices in the county.

There will be no deliveries by city, rural or star route carriers. Special delivery mail, however, will be delivered. Holiday schedule for the collection, receipt and dispatch of mail will be observed.

Model Car Raceway Ready

By Lil Scoop

"Wanna run 'em?" Next time someone says that to you, why not say "Okay", then run on over to Inscoe's, where you can marvel over a Camaro, Mustang, Porsche, Ferrari, 'Little Red' wagon, rail jobs or what-have-you and save wear and tear on your or your family's car.

As of Friday, two eight-lane tracks will be ready, or nearly so, for racing in the model car raceway located in the basement of the A&P building in Oakland. Track No. 1, already completed, is 85 feet long, the other expected to encompass at least 100 feet of track. Lanes may be rented for one-half or one hour periods, any time from 2 p. m. until 9:30 p. m.

Besides chassis, you can purchase bodies, hand controls, decal numbers, spare parts, wheel spinners, tool kits, wire wheels, pro stripes. Inscoe's even have clear plastic bodies that you can paint to suit your own self's really custom look.

The car bodies made of soft, flexible plastic, are 1:24 scale models of sports cars or formula stock cars. Most of the models are painted with metal flake paint. Controls are available which registered either ohms or the m.p.h.

The Inscoes, Jim, Fern and Jimmy, all became interested in cars several years ago, when Jim drove the "real thing" on Daytona's raceway. Now, each member of the family has his or her own models, and although the majority of model cars can wind up to 60,000 rpm's (which is really turning one), Jimmy has souped his up even further, to an astounding 80,000 rpm rate. The mighty miniatures can attain comparable speeds of 215 mph, which requires a "driver" to have some know-how to enable him to get the car around the twisting track.

The Inscoes plan to schedule real races a little later, with handicaps, father-son teams, and powderpuff derbies as a few of the features. "Can't you hear the girls squealing now"? They also plan to print a weekly letter called 'Pit Stop', which will list winners of the week.

There's plenty of action—and your car would be very grateful.

Is Your Name BUCKLEY?

Buckley, an old and honored name, is of English and Irish origin. In the former category it is the equivalent of Bulkeley and is said to have been applied when surnames first came into vogue, to newcomers from communities who came from Bulkeley, a place in Cheshire County, England. Bulkeley is translated literally as "field or meadow of bullocks".

In its Irish aspect, Buckley is obtained from the Gaelic 'Buachill' which means "boy or youth". The Irish branch of the Buckley family was established in Cork and Tipperary Counties during the 16th century and its coat-of-arms bore the motto 'Neither Rashly Or Timidly'.

As a private in the Connecticut line Job Buckley (1719-1786) served troops during the Revolutionary War.

The first census of the United States, taken in 1790, has eight listings of persons by the name of Buckley who were residents of Maryland and heads of families at that time. Six of them lived in Talbot County and one each lived respectively in Queen Annes and Worcester Counties.

There are fourteen references to persons by the name of Buckley in the latest directory of Phi Beta Kappa, the honorary scholastic society.

James Monroe Buckley (1836-1909) was editor, New York Christian Advocate for thirty-two years.

Benjamin Lord Buckley (1871-1932) was the founder in 1913 of The Buckley School for Boys in New York City. Starting with five boys, he developed the school to one of the leading institutions of its kind in New York City. Sons of President Hoover and Franklin D. Roosevelt were among the pupils at the school.

Albert C. Buckley (1873-1939) was professor of psychiatry at the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine.

Jerome Hamilton Buckley is professor of English at Harvard University.

Scott Buchanan Buckley is president and general manager, Revere Copper and Brass, with offices in New Bedford, Mass.

Joseph Paul Buckley is professor and head of the department of pharmacology, University of Pittsburgh.

Sgt. Oakly White Gets Commendation Award

Sergeant Oakly C. White, Jr., 21, whose parents live on Rt. 1, Aurora, received the Army Commendation Medal while serving with the 424th Signal Company at Fort Bragg, N. C., on Oct. 20.

Sgt. White earned the award for meritorious service during his last assignment with Company C of the 4th Infantry Division's 124th Signal Battalion in Viet Nam.

Sgt. White, a radio relay and carrier attendant, entered the Army in June 1966. He is a 1964 graduate of Southern High School.

More Models, Fewer Critics...

As we review the continuing reports of youth disturbances and unrest indicated by riots, demonstrations, sit-ins and what might be termed as a "pursuit of pleasure", it would be well for the adult community to temper immediate reactions and gain a more objective perspective.

True, our younger generation is not the same as the one we knew, but today's world is also different. In our on-rush to urbanization, the steadying influences of family and community life which many of us knew are no longer prevalent. Too many of us are "parents by proxy". The drive for material gain leaves little time for more than passing salutations to our neighbors.

At the same time, we must realize that news reports focus upon the unusual. Consequently, the more newsworthy items seldom reflect the daily, responsible activities of the majority of our youth. Our perspective should not be altered by the reported behavior of fringe elements.

A quote made by the French moralist Joubert in the early 1800s reflects a comment which is equally apropos today. "Children have more need of models than of critics".

The Optimist clubs of the United States are saluting our young people at this time during Youth Appreciation Week, and we join with them in this effort.

Big Explosion...

The population explosion is a phenomenon that's discussed on every hand, but there's another explosion that is much larger but much less in the limelight. It's the bursting-out-at-the-seams growth of government workers at the state and local level.

The Tax Foundation, Inc., reports in a recent survey that from 1956 to 1966 the number of state-local government employees increased at a rate about four times as fast as the population, and the cost of paying them increased at a rate nearly nine times the population growth rate.

In the survey of state-local government employment, the research organization pointed out that from 1956 to 1966 state-local government employees increased from 5.3 to 8.6 million, or sixty-three percent. The monthly cost of paying them increased from $1.566 million to $3.808 million, or by 143 percent. Meanwhile the population of the country rose from 168 million to 196 million, or an increase of 17 percent.

The Foundation stated that ten years ago there was one state-local government worker for every 32 members of the population at large; today, there is one for every 23. Not only have the numbers expanded in relation to population growth, but the average salaries of state and local government employees have increased more than in private industry.

These research figures should be alarming to every taxpayer. The time to weed out unnecessary state and local employees is now.—Industrial Press Service.

USS Garrett County News

The USS Garrett County sailed from the Bassac River in Vietnam after spending 20 consecutive days under the operational control of the Commander of Naval Forces in Vietnam according to a monthly report received from officers on shipboard.

The ship sailed for Subic Bay October 18 one year and three days since she was recommissioned into the Navy. Following an unkeep period in Subic Bay, the USS Garrett County will spend five days in Hong Kong on a rest and recreation visit. The port visit will be the first scheduled R and R period for the ship since she sailed from San Diego in January.

After her port visit, the ship will return to Vietnam to take station in the Ham Luong River area.

Bittinger 4-H Girls Meet

The how and why of [illegible] aging was the topic of the Bittinger 4-H Girls November meeting. Ralph Bucker showed slides on packaging.

Mrs. Ralph Buckel, local leader, Vicki Teets, and Doris Opel attended a meeting recently with the North Star 4-H Club on dried flower arrangements.

Plans are being made by Susan Brenneman, Cindy Beachy, Linda Glotfelty, Doris Opel, and Vicki Teets, for the club to go roller skating.

For service projects this year, the Club is planning to contact soldiers in Vietnam, and also to take care of the Bittinger Community Building grounds.

Musical Comedy Set For Northern High November 17

Arrangements are complete for the presentation of the musical comedy, "The Prince and I", on Friday evening, November 17, at 8 o'clock at the Northern High school cafetorium. The play is under direction of Mrs. Lucile Sines.

Leading roles are being assumed by Patty Ault and Steve Myers with Dottie Sines and Steve Reese holding the second spots.

Other characters include Geraldine Glass, Dorothy Mosser, Louise Bowser, Lanny Savage, Ronald Slagle, Jim George, Randy Thomas, George Tasker, Gary Bowser, Marvin Kolb, Randall Wiley, Lee Coddington, Charles Rinker, Gary Hinebaugh and Randall Wiley.

Rehearsals have been conducted over the past few weeks. Seventeen musical numbers are interspersed through the six scenes of the two-act performance.

Trio Apprehended In Garrett County

Three men apprehended in Garrett County on charges of theft from vending machines appeared before Cumberland Trial Magistrate Lee Barnett on Tuesday, November 14. The state prayed a jury trial and they were committed to the Allegany county jail in default of $2,000 bond each.

The men, Alfred C. Olino, 56, Jacksonville, Fla.; Alvin Rubin, 47, Miami, Fla.; and Richard George Lewin, 53, of Chicago, were taken into custody in connection with the theft of money from Harry's Truck Stop, U. S. Route 40 east, and for questioning in several other cases. Trooper W. D. Grose made the arrest shortly after the alleged theft was reported.

The men were spotted driving through Garrett County in their late model Pontiac bearing a Florida license plate. The trio had in their possession a set of burglary keys.

Deer Season Will Open November 24

For the fourth straight year there will be an eight-day deer season, begining the day after Thanksgiving, November 24.

The season is one day less than four years ago but one day more than five years ago. There has been speculation whether the hunters will be reduced, the season coming as it does so soon after the Thanksgiving holiday and with more deer appearing in other areas of the state. The record kill of 804 was reached in 1960 which was a six-day season. Last year there were 597 bucks killed, 53 less than the previous year.

The season will run from Friday morning, November 24, to Saturday evening, December 2, excluding Sunday, November 26.

During the period of the buck season it will be lawful to kill a male deer with two or more points to one antler and spike bucks with three inch antler. The small game season will be suspended during the deer season but will be resumed on December 4. The limit is one buck per year per hunter and if a hunter was successful in getting a deer during the bow and arrow season he would be ineligible to hunt during the regular buck season.

Game wardens announced that during the antlerless season on December 15 and 16 no special permit would be required, just the regular hunting license and the special deer stamp.

The four deer checking stations are the same as last year, at Edwards garage, Grantsville; Matt Storey's on Deep Creek Lake, near McHenry; Yough Motor company, Friendsville; and Bob's Mt. Top Tire and Sport shop, in Oakland. Deer must be checked as soon as possible after being killed. It is unlawful to remove the head or hide or other parts except the internal organs, or cut up the meat until the deer has been checked.

Your Federal Income Tax

The Republican, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service, Baltimore District, will publish each week in this column, tax information that will enable taxpayers to become more familiar with the Federal income tax laws.

Questions and Answers

Q. I'm already claiming all my exemptions. Can I reduce my withholding any further? I could use the money to pay some of my medical bills.

A. Additional withholding allowances may be claimed based on your actual itemized deductions last year. Ask your employer for Form W-4 and a Schedule A.

To claim such additional withholding exemptions, the taxpayer must expect his itemized deductions for the current year to be at least as much as they were last year. For someone in the $4-6,000 wage bracket, an additional exemption is allowable if itemized deductions were at least $1,200 for 1966 and are expected to be at least that much in 1967. Taxpayers in the $8-10,000 wage bracket must have had and expect to have at least $1,705 in deductions to be entitled to an additional withholding exemption.

Q. I'm working for part of my room and board at college. Is there any chance I'd have to pay tax on this?

A. A general rule is that any credit you receive towards your room and board as compensation for work is counted as taxable income. If this plus any other income you have amounts to $600 or more for the year you have to file a tax return.

Remember that if your earnings were less than $600 but any Federal income tax was withheld, a return must be filed to obtain a refund.

Q. I just got a bill for additional tax. Can I pay this off in installments?

A. There is no provision for the payment of taxes in installments. Payment is due upon receipt of the bill. You will also find that the bill includes interest on your unpaid taxes at the rate of six percent a year.

Q. What form do I use to report tips to my boss? I want to get credit for them for Social Security purposes.

A. Use Form 4070 and give it to your employer by the 10th of the month following the month the tips were earned. Do not give any of your tip income to your employer for withholding, however. He will make the necessary withholding from the wages he pays you.

The general rule on tip income is to report it when it amounts to $20 or more a month earned while working for one employer. IRS has a diary that can be used to keep a daily record of your tips. Send a post card to your district director and ask for Document No. 5635.

Q. When I retired I was given some shares of stock in the company by my fellow employees. Will this be taxable to me?

A. If you received the shares as a gift from your fellow employees then they won't be taxable to you. However, you will have to report as income any dividends you receive from them.

Q. I already paid my tax bill but I just got another bill for it anyway. What should I do?

A. Return the bill with the notation that you already paid it. Give the date the payment was made and the office to which it was sent to help identify your payment.

The computer system used for the processing of tax returns operates on a sequential or step by step basis. Information can only be fed into the system at the beginning and not at any particular stage in the processing cycle. In your case, this could mean that the data on your tax payment had not reached the stage where bills are issued before it was time for a reminder notice to be sent to you.

Q. What's the provision of the law that allows a deduction for losses suffered as a result of street riots?

A. Losses stemming from riots are handled under the same provisions as those providing tax relief for casualty and theft losses. If a personal property loss qualifies under these provisions, that part of the loss exceeding $100 may be deducted. Qualifying business property losses are deductible in full.

A casualty is defined as the complete or partial destruction of property resulting from an identifiable event of a sudden, unexpected nature. Losses resulting from hurricanes, tornadoes, floods, storms, fire as well as from riots qualify under this provision.

For more details a copy of Document No. 5174, "Disasters, Casualties and Thefts" may be obtained at your local IRS office.

Q. Where can I get a copy of an estimated tax declaration?

A. Send a post card to your district director asking for a copy of Form 1040ES.

The next quarterly installment on estimated tax payments is due January 15. A taxpayer amending his declaration or filing an estimated form for the first time, should also do this by January 15.

Q. I've been supporting my uncle for some years. Will I lose my deduction for him if he goes into a rest home?

A. A close relative does not have to be a member of your household to qualify as your dependent. As long as other tests are met, you will still be able to claim your uncle as a dependent even though he no longer lives with you.

Q. I take care of my neighbor's child while she works. Do I have to pay tax on what she pays me?

A. The money you receive for this should be added to your other income for the year. If your gross income from this and other sources amounts to $600 or more then you must file a return. If you file a joint return with your husband then this income must be reported even when it is under $600.

If net income from taking care of your neighbor's child totals $400 or more you also may be liable for a self employment tax. Be sure to check this when you add up your income for the year.

80 Attend YFC Skating Party

Two bus loads of area teenagers attended the first "Impact", sponsored by Mt. Top Youth For Christ Emile Germain, owner of the buses, and driver, D. E. Riley provided transportation. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Eary, Bob Shaffer, Bus Harvey, Mrs. Karen Crogan, and Miss Janet Sisler served as the chaperons. After two hours of skating at Hi-Lan Roller Rink at LaVale, a balloon blowing contest was won by Lee Sweitzer, Swanton. Gary Durr, director of Tri-State Youth For Christ, Cumberland, spoke. The group returned shortly after 11:00.

The next "IMPACT" is the Holiday teen convention at Bethlehem, Pa., for the first twenty teens to contact the director and have the $5 regisration fee.

"Without Onion", a teen film in color will be the feature of this week's Campus Life Rally, 7:30, Northern High School. Southern will host the second YFC Rally of the month at 7:30, presenting the film: "I Hear a new Song". The Crestmen will be the feature of the all musical rally at Northern on Dec. 2nd.

Radar Area Snares Three Oaklanders

A radar speed area resulted in three persons forfeiting collateral and costs to the office of Trial Magistrate Robert Maroney during the past week.

Helen Lucile Dice, Oakland $10; Gary Wayne Sell, Oakland, $15; and Ruth Geraldine Martin, Oakland, $15.

In other cases, James Edward Patton, Deer Park, pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving, and was fined $15 and costs.

Jerry Alfred Calhoun, Mt. Lake Park, forfeited collateral of $15 and costs for operating at a speed too great for existing road conditions.

In The Dog Pound

On Monday, a light tan and white male full grown collie was impounded in the Oakland dog pound. The dog has no collar. Anyone claiming ownership, or wishing to have the collie, may contact Ellis Cogley, Town dog warden.

Mr. Cogley warned the owner of a brown and white female collie that he must shoot the dog unless the owner comes forward to claim her and her puppies. The dog is annoying Mr. and Mrs. John Doppel, underneath whose garage the collie has her litter of pups.

Youth Fellowship Meets

The Youth Fellowship of Swanton EUB church met at the home of Mrs Glenn Teets November 5 and prepared Christmas packages for service men.

On November 6 the members attended a youth rally at Paradise EUB church.

The December Youth Rally will be held at the Swanton church and will be a Christmas program. Each attending church groups will participate. The group attended a skating party November 9 at LaVale, held by the Mt. Top Youth For Christ association.

Approved Check List Used

The group used an approved check list for community college sites and made the following conclusions:

Site A: provides adequate acreage, has a good road network already in being, with primary and secondary access and egress points at any desired place along the two sides of site; has best accessibility for majority of students; will have site-development costs much less than site B or C; no clearance costs; is on high ground overlooking surrounding terrain; is an attractive site, providing view of Deep Creek Lake; is adjacent to developing residential - type neighborhood; is limited only by its irregular shape.

Site B: limited on north by right of way of high voltage electric transmission line; would require building of secondary access road on right of way obtained from hospital board; consists of land in northern third of site which is of little value to college and which could be a liability; will have site development and clearance costs higher than Site A, to include the one-fourth mile of primary entrance road; has a swampy condition in Southern portion of site which would require extensive drainage operations; faces the swampy condition along Bear Creek, a permanent condition over which the college has no control.

Site C: is not served by an adequate road network; to obtain sufficient useable acreage, additional adjacent land would need to be acquired such as Duckworth property; airfield is not a desirable neighbor for a community college; site-development and clearance costs would be much higher than for either site A or B; control over immediate surrounding area would be difficult; overall topography is not considered equal to either Site A or B.

Architects Also Recommend

A letter to the Board of Education and Mr. Hawkins, from Johannes and Murray and Associates, architects had the following: "We feel as architects that a college can be designed on any of the above sites that may be selected. However, in developing a group of buildings to fit a site, important factors are to be considered. We mention as examples, orientation, distance to roads, approches, utilities, parking, location of buildings on site and outside circulation between buildings.

"After a great deal of discussion we arrived at the one presented to the authorities". (The Glotfelty site). To adapt this scheme to the Yoder or the White Face site, would require re-examining of these considerations above mentioned.

On that basis the architects made the following observations: The Yoder and White Face sites would require extensive road work to provide access from three directions which the Glotfelty site provides; a new design grouping would be required on both of these sites for location to approaches and in considering orientation and views, we feel that these two sites are less favorable. Utilities would be required to run a greater distance; grading of site for buildings and play field can be expensive and would be more extensive on these two sites.

The letter from Mr. Myers, school coordinator, suggested that "as soon as the site location has been agreed upon by the Board of Trustees that the two formal appraisals be obtained for the properties involved. New option to purchase documents should be drafted so that the specific terms of the proposed purchases can be reviewed. Appraisals and the drafts should be forwarded as soon as possible for review in the state department of education and in the State Department of Public Improvements. Hopefully the appraisals will support the options and your proposal can then be presented to the State Board of Public Works for approval. When approved, the purchase can be consummated and the appropriate portion of the State grant can be transmitted to Garrett Couunty".

The County Commissioners have thus far failed to agree on a site. The Board of Trustees of the proposed college is of the opinion that the Commissioners have nothing to do actually with site selection. However, the commissioners, who signed resolutions to approve the construction of a college, have refused to appropriate any money which would be used for preliminary expenditures. Should the appropriation not be forthcoming a mandamus action is contemplated which would force the commissioners to carry out their commitments.

The following resolution was signed by all three commissioners, Allen S. Paugh, Hubert Friend and Ross Sines shortly after the special election when voters approved the proposed college over two to one:

WHEREAS, the Board of Education of Garrett County is desirous of establishing a public community college to serve the higher educational needs of many of the youth and adults of Garrett County; and

WHEREAS, before final steps may be taken by the Board to reconstitute itself as the Board of Trustees of the proposed community college, assurance must be received from the Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County that it endorses the propsal and will assume responsibility for providing the necessary financial support for the college in accordance with existing law and with cost estimates as provided by the architect and Garrett County Board of Education;

NOW, THEREFOR7, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County hereby endorses the proposal to establish a community college in Garrett County and agrees to provide the County's share of the capital and operating costs of said communiy college, commencing not later than the 1969-70 academic year.

Another resolution which sought the state grant of $947,500, for the junior college in this county, had been adopted previously by the commissioners.

Visit Hospital Patient

Several persons from the area recently visited Mrs. Kurt Lindstrom in the Fairfax Hospital, Fairfax, Va., where she is recuperating from burns received in a gasoline explosion in her home.

Mrs. Joe Powers and Mrs. Clyde Gnegy traveled to Fairfax last Wednesday to spend some time with Mrs. Lindstrom, who is Mrs. Power's daughter. While in the area, Mrs. Gnegy visited her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Crowe, of Fairfax. Mrs. Powers and Mrs. Gnegy returned to Mt. Lake Park on Friday.

On Friday, Mrs. Victoria Ingram and Mrs. Robert Bess, of Keyser, drove to Fairfax to visit Mrs. Lindstrom. They returned to their homes on Sunday. Tom Powers, who is currently stationed at the Marine base, Camp Pendleton, Calif., has returned to his post after being called home due to his sister's accident.

Work-Training Program Continues At McHenry

Arthur Rounds from Avilton (foreground), a Work-Training enrollee, and Lonnie Long, instructor, from Oakland, laying brick at McHenry Fire Hall-Community Building.

Arthur Rounds, 27, and father of four, told a Community Action staff member this week that he has new hopes of acquiring a skill which will be of great value for the future.

Mr. Rounds, like sixty-one other unemployed or under-employed men in the county, has taken the opportunity of increasing his earning capacity by enrolling in the recently funded program, "Operation Mainstream" through the Department of Labor.

The program, administered by the county's Community Action Committee is designed to provide training experience in park construction and building trades, for unemployed or under-employed men, ages twenty-two and over.

According to his instructor, Lonnie Long, Arthur Rounds is showing progress toward becoming a skilled block and brick mason. Arthur admits, however, that it's going to be a tough struggle. In a period of approximately thirty working days he has reached the point where he can now story out his own blocks and bricks.

In the estimation of Mr. Long, that is quite an achievement for a man who knew little or nothing about masonry only a few months ago. "I have great hope for the men in my crew", said Mr. Long. "I know they have what it takes to learn this trade and I believe they will".

The Fire Hall is a 50' x 100' split level type building, built almost exclusively by the "Operation Mainstream" men. Besides the 8,000 blocks laid by Mr. Long's men, the fifty-one trusses and roof work were done by Darrell Wotring's carpentry crew, also under "Operation Mainstream".

Work on the McHenry Fire Hall-Community Building is now about half finished. Both crews will continue work on the building until it is completed.

The United States has resumed, in a limited way, deliveries of arms to Israel and Five Arab countries.

Receives Word of Brother's Death

Claude Wagner, Sr., of McHenry, received word Tuesday that his brother, James N. Wagoner, of Green Spring, W. Va., had died at Hampshire Memorial hospital, Romney. His brother was 89.

Claude is the only surviving brother of the deceased, who was a retired track foreman for the B and O Railroad.

Services will be conducted at the Shaffer Funeral Home, Romney, today at 3 p. m. by Rev. Charles V. Starkey. Burial will be in Forest Glen cemetery.

With Our Men In The Service

Marine Pvt. Douglas E. Liller, brother of Mrs. Carolyn Moore of Deer Park, was meritoriously promoted to Pvt. First Class upon graduation from recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C.

His promotion recognized his outstanding performance of duties during recruit training.

He has been sent to Camp Lejeune, N. C., for four weeks of infantry combat training and four weeks of basic training in his military occupational specialty.

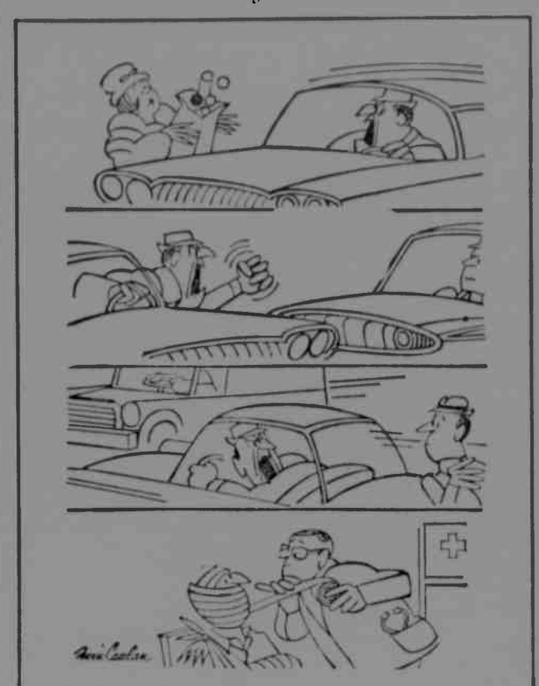
Union Of Non-Workers

There is a movement under way to organize "welfare clients" into a union to get higger unemployment checks and unspecified fringe benefits. Those promoting such a union point out that the reliefers represent a highly potent political force and they intend to use it to get everything that is coming to them.

Where "welfare clients" have banded together, their front men have been able to get more people on welfare rolls and obtain higher handouts for all the "clients". Government officials are dismayed at how this has boosted relief costs and say that a powerful welfare union could mean a welfare state in short order, with a back-breaking load placed on the non-bum element.

While it is alarming to realize that there are millions of parasites in this country who are greedily demanding more, we think there is an antidote.

No, we don't advocate a taxpayer's strike or any kind of a sitdown aimed at getting the freeloaders off the backs of people who work for a living. We think the antidote can be found in something that is happening right now — the tremendous amount of mail being sent to Washington and to State Capitols telling the politicians that taxpayers have had enough.



It's a truism that he who pays the piper calls the tune, and it's the working people of America who pay the piper, not the indigents. Politicians know this and that fact will not be changed by a union of "welfare clients".

One of these days the people whose earnings are being increasingly taken from them to support "welfare clients" may demand, and get, something that would strike terror to those who toil not, neither do they spin. They may insist that "welfare clients" do more for their money than go to the bank to cash their checks. They may insist that these people do some sweat-producing toil, like shoveling snow, raking leaves or washing the windows of public buildings. So far politicians have not hurt the feelings of "welfare clients" by setting such conditions, but taxpayers may get riled enough to demand this fringe benefit for the welfare union said to be aborning.

Incidentally, apart from not voting for politicians who won't give them what they want, we wonder what members of a welfare union would do in case of a strike.

Cold Air Changes Weather Pattern

Blasts of colder air have definitely cooled if not frozen—the weather picture for the county. The highest temperature recorded for the past week was 56, noted last Friday.

Saturday brought mostly sunny skies, although a chilling wind kept temperatures in the 50's.

Sunday set a stormy pattern, with high winds blowing intermittent hail and rain. Monday began with a 32 degree temperature reading and clear skies, but became overcast and snowy by nightfall.

Tuesday was a mostly cloudy day, with the mercury hovering in the middle 20's. Snow began to fall during the late afternoon, and continued during most of Wednesday. By afternoon approximately four inches of the white flakes covered the ground. Wednesday's temperature varied from 18 in the morning, to 20 in the afternoon, to 15 at 5 p. m.

Thursday's sunny skies brought a rise in the mercury, which climbed from an overnight low of near 2 degrees to 16 at 8 a. m.

A University of Maryland newspaper editorial asked for a halt in the bombing of North Vietnam.

Junior Civic Club Has Fashion Show

A Wig and Fashion show was the highlight of the Junior Women's Civic Club's November 2 meeting, held in St. Paul's Methodist Church social room, Oakland

Thirty-one members and 38 guests were present to view nine models as they paraded the latest fashion styles in clothing, from a Frostburg shop, and wigs, from the Wig Shoppe in Cumberland. The outfits ranged from sportswear to cocktail fashions Mrs. Elizabeth Randol, home economics teacher at Southern High School, served as narrator for the affair, while Mrs. Mary Dawn Buckley described the wigs and answered questions the girls posed on the care, fit and styling of wigs.

Those serving as mannequins were Mrs. Brenda Butscher, Mrs. Joan Browning, Mrs. Annis Colaw, Mrs. Carole Gregg, Mrs Donna Hodgson, Mrs. Sue Loflin, Mrs. Pauline Parrack, Mrs Joanne Rinaca, and Mrs. Phyllis Teets.

Mrs. Marianna Green was program chairman and those helping with arrangements were Mrs Elaine Marple, Mrs. Karen Wilson, Mrs Pauline Parrack and Mrs. Phyllis Teets.

Governor Seeks Budget Reforms

Gov. Spiro T. Agnew urged a constitutional convention committee, October 30, to "consider a provision broad enough to allow the executive budget to be submitted in several separate bills".

In a memorandum delivered to the committee on State Finance and Taxation Agnew said the present constitution implies that the governor should submit a single budget bill to the General Assembly.

He said supplemental items are inserted as amendments to the original bill and the whole package is generally passed during the last five days of the session.

He said the "legal difficulties resulting from the fiscal reform program enacted by the 1967 General Assembly clearly demonstrate the need for constitutional clarification in this area".

And he said the governor should be given line item approval over the final budget enacted by the General Assembly.

"This would assure maximum consistency in the final budget", he pointed out. Agnew said he favors a provision that would require the governor to include in his executive budget, without change, requests for appropriations from the legislative and judicial branch of government.

But he indicated the governor should retain the traditional right to make recommendations to the General Assembly concerning such budget requests. And he declared he was firmly opposed to any stipulation mandating expenditure for education.

The governor recommended a constitutional provision authorizing the General Assembly to establish a reserve fund to absorb the inevitable fluctuations in both revenues and expenditures to act as a depository for small surpluses and to serve as a source of money to finance deficits.

County Science Teachers To Meet

Today, the Garrett County science teachers will hear a talk on forest resources of Appalachian Maryland A discussion period will follow The meeting is being held in the biological science room immediately after school.

The National Science Foundation has granted funds to conduct Sessions with Scientist Seminars in Depth. These sessions are specifically for Garrett County teachers. The main purpose is to offer these teachers concentrated examination of very specific subjects.

Kent B. Fuller, Conservation Education Specialist of the Natural Resources Institute University of Maryland, is the man in charge.

On November 2, the geography and geological aspects of Western Maryland were discussed.

Coaches Meet With Candidates

Varsity basketball coach William Watson and Junior Varsity coach Tom Kuhn conducted a meeting of all boys in grades 9-12 who are interested in basketball. This meeting was held after school in the gym on Nov. 13.

Thirty-one boys reported. There were 2 freshmen, fourteen sophomores, seven juniors, and eight seniors. There are only four varsity lettermen returning this year. They are Bill Hawkins, Harvey Speicher, Bob Evans, and Andy Cosby. However, there are several promising underclassmen who may compensate for the quantitative lack of experienced seniors.

Southern hopes that its varsity will win several games this year. The players are in such high spirits that they won't settle for anything less than a winning season. You hear Southern speaking, but will you see them winning? Only time will tell.

F.T.A. Members Are Active

A filmstrip, "Laboratory of Life", highlighted the meeting of the F.T.A. on Monday, November 6. This was a story of the teaching profession as told by Lawana Trout who was chosen the 1964 Teacher of the Year.

The Future Teachers of America held a bake sale Friday evening after school in downtown Oakland The group also worked with the Student Council last week with the observance of American Education Week.

Two more names were added to the membership roll at the last meeting. The new members are Chris Naylor and Jeannie Rentschler. The next regular meeting is scheduled for November 20, following school dismissal.

THEY PRAYED and SANG

And at midnight Paul and Silas prayed, and sang praises unto God: and the prisoners heard them. Act 16.25.

What had occurred in their lives to make them pray and sing at a time like this? Only hours before they were free men; men walking the streets of the city They had performed a deed of mercy in bringing healing and wholeness to a woman who was being used by her masters. Her masters seeing their source of revenue destroyed caughht Paul and Silas and took them before the rulers. They were accused; they were beaten, they were thrown into the inner prison without trial

Being concerned for their neighbor and doing something about it had gotten Paul and Silas in trouble. In correcting an injustice they themselves suffered At midnight Paul and Silas prayed and sang. It was dark in the prison, but all was bright within their lives. It was miserable and dirty in the prison, yet their hearts were beautiful. They sang because Christ was with them They could not keep from singing for they knew that they were serving their Lord Jesuus Christ.

God has given each of us many gifts for service. God uses many means whereby we may do good Paul and Silas were bound, yet they could pray and sing. Their words were free even though they were bound in body. Their words pierced the gloomy darkness and sank into the hearts of startled prisoners. It is when we least expect to affect other people that we are touching the lives of our friends and neighbors for good.

God desires that we surrender our lives to Him in simple obedience. God has called us through Jesus Christ to walk surrendered lives before Him and our fellow man. A surrendered life is a committed life. God uses surrendered lives in order that the prisoners of this world might hear and see the redeeming love of Jesus Christ. Into every life comes the midnights of despair, sorrow, pain and failure. In such times believe that God can be trusted to strengthen and comfort you Take hold of the power of God and let Him flow through your life. Then you, too, will truly sing God's praises at midnight.

Having surrendered our lives to Jesus Christ let us then look for the midnights in the lives of other people. Be alert' With a prayer in your heart and love on your lips sing and the prisoners of this life will hear. You will be able to offer hope, love, mercy, a word of kindness, a pleasant "Thank You". For it is these things that become opportunities of service to God and neighbor. In doing so we lift up our neighbor and make them important as a child of God.

Christ understands people; when we understand the "inner person" of people then we are ministering to the needs of people as Christ ministered. In so doing we reflect God's love, compassion, and justice. Believing in God as revealed through Jesus Christ is not enough. Believing and living are necessary. Paul and Silas were not concerned with their lives for they had found the power of God's love in Jesus Christ, this they reflected in their lives. May we live in such fashion that the lives of people around us will become more beautiful for the sake of Jesus Christ. Will the prisoners of this life hear our song at midnight praising God for His love given to us

And you don't have to figure out how much the extras will add to the price of the Volkswagen you buy. We already figured them in.

By building them in.

Things like heater defrosters, windshield washers and adjustable bucket seats are part of the car. You can't own a VW without owning them, too. (Tring like whitewalls are extra, as you might expect But we tell you that in the *.)

A Volkswagen won't only cost you less to drive out in, it'll cost you less to drive around in.

VW sedans (even the 65 hp Fastback and Squareback) get up to 27 miles to a gallon. Even the biggest VW, our boxy station wagon, gets up to 23.

They all take oil by the pint. (Even the expensive-looking Karmann Ghia.)

And never cost you a cent for antifreeze because VW engines are aircooled.

But if you still don't care to sell out so cheap, there is one way to raise the price of a Volkswagen. Get a sunroof. With the beetle, Fastback or Squareback.

There is something about a candle . . . something about a flame . . . something about fire itself . . . that has fascinated man throughout the centuries. Despite the fact that you can translate fire, these days, into a known chemical formula, it is still a mystery, a wonder, and sometimes a fear.

It is an elemental thing that this little girl is studying as she watches the candle flicker. And, like so many of the elemental things—like Nature itself, and like Faith, for that matter—it is awesome.

Faith, too, is a mystery and a wonder. Yet the only fear that Faith engenders is the fear, deep within one's heart, that it might be lost.

So that this essential ingredient of life does not elude you and does not diminish during misfortune, make it a habit of attending the church of your choice regularly. Here you will be given spiritual strength and inspiration and kindle the mystery of love and joy within your heart.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE COSTLY GIFT

Lesson for November 19, 1967

Background Scripture: Hosea 11; 14:4.
Devotional Reading: Jeremiah 31:1-6.

A well-known artist was commissioned to paint the portrait of a very haughty woman. "Mine now," she commanded, "make sure you do me justice." Later in his journal he recorded this reaction: "With a face and personality like hers, what Madam needed was not justice, but mercy!"

Rev. Althouse

One should always be careful in demanding justice, for we might get precisely what we deserve and what we deserve may hardly be what we really want. Some time ago I saw a group picketing a particular institution. One of the pickets carried a sign that read: "WE ONLY WANT WHAT'S COMING TO US!" "God forbid!" was the thought that came to my mind. What most of us need, I reflected, is not justice, but mercy.

Conditional Love

The people of Israel spoke much of their covenant with God. He promised to be their God and they promised to be his particular people. To modern ears this may sound like a legal contract, but it was certainly much more than that. If it had been but a contract, it would have been null and void from almost the very beginning. The people of Israel were constantly breaking their part of the covenant and justice alone would have declared that God was released from his promises.

What the people of Israel needed and received, however, was not justice from God, but grace: God's undeserved love. This kind of love is difficult for men to understand. Human love is often conditional. It is a promise to give love in return for being lovable. "I'll scratch your back if you scratch mine." "Buy me what I want," "treat me nicely," "live up to my expectations," and then I will love you.

What God offers his children is not a contract, a deal or a provisional promise of something to come, but the declaration of an existing fact: He loves us now, even in the midst of our unlovableness. Though we break our part of the covenant, though we have utterly forsaken him, nevertheless he says to us as he did the unworthy people of Israel: "I will heal their unfaithfulness; I will love them freely, for my anger has turned from them." (Hosea 14:4)

Cheap Grace?

Some people misjudge the meaning of the grace of God. Because he offers us his undeserved love, some have concluded that his grace is a cheap, inexpensive commodity. The grace of God, however, is not a matter of God ignoring our unworthiness, but of his bearing the pain of it himself. "The more I called them, the more they went from me; they kept sacrificing to the Baals, and burning incense to idols", (Hosea 11:2 RSV) This is not the condemnation of an angry judge so much as the cry of a rejected father. The pain is not a concern for a broken law or contract, but grief for a broken relationship.

"How can I give you up, O Ephraim!

How can I hand you over, O Israel!" (Hosea 11:8)

No, the grace of God is not cheap; it is very expensive. It is a love that survives the extreme pain of rejection. It prevails, not because man's sins are harmless — they are not — but because God's love bears the pain of those sins and is victorious. It is not evil overlooked, but evil overcome.

Repent!

Who among us could afford to ask for justice? What all of us need is grace, the expensive love of God that none of us deserve. If we want this precious gift, he will offer it but not force it upon us: "Return, O Israel, to the Lord your God, for you have stumbled because of your iniquity". (Hosea 14:1 RSV) Time has not changed the formula: repent and receive the gift of grace. Justice comes upon us "ready or not," but the grace of God is too precious, too expensive to be delivered at the door with the morning milk.

Charles "Mac" Mathias

Congressman 6th District, Maryland

Toward Better Representation

One of the most drawn out and frustrating debates in Congress over the past few years has been focused on how, and whether, Congress should shoulder the responsibility placed on it by the Constitution to provide for fair and equitable methods of electing Congressmen.

Why these decisions should be so difficult is impossible for me to understand. The House is intended to be representaive of all the people, but for years this goal has been a distant one. For too long we endured the spectacle of having Members sent to the House from Congressional districts of widely varying size — some as large as a million people, others as small as one hundred thousand. Members have also been sent from strangely shaped districts, districts gerrymandered to achieve not representation but some selfish political purpose.

It was perfectly obvious to everyone in the country that this kind of unequal "representation" would not be tolerated indefinitely. It was also perfectly obvious, even from a casual reading of the Constitution, that the Congress itself has the primary responsibility and power to insure that the people will be fairly represented in their national legislature.

But Congress has failed to act. In some cases perhaps that failure was the result of personal reluctance, based on local political considerations. Sometimes it has been simple inertia. When Congress abdicated, the task fell to the state legislatures which traditionally have drawn district lines — and they too could have acted, saving the country a considerable embarrassment and turmoil, but when neither the national legislature nor state legislature responded, the duty finally fell, under our system of checks and balances, to the courts.

The courts for years have declared their reluctance to enter the "political thicket". But when no one else took any initiative, the courts were compelled to. On an emergency basis, I can't quarrel with the action of the courts. But I do quarrel with the concept that the judiciary should be forced by legislative inaction to live in the "political thicket" indefinitely. Rather, they should be relieved of the responsibility of bailing out the legislative branch.

I was hopeful that in this session of Congress we were finally going to do the job. I hoped that Congress would finally lay down reasonable standards for Congressional districting, and that we would finally insist that all districts be compact, made of contiguous territory, and very close to equal in population. I also hoped that the House and Senate could pass interim procedures, to be effective until the 1979 census has been taken, to guide those states which now have very unequal and inequitable districts but do not want to draw new lines based on population data now seven years old.

The House and Senate had both passed legislation toward these goals. Going into conference between the two bodies, we were hopeful that the differences could be resolved and that the country could be presented with sensible and comprehensive legislation.

Unfortunately, we have apparently failed to go the final mile. At this writing, no compromise on long-range provisions appears to be possible. Ideally action should be completed this year, before the approach of the 1968 elections introduces partisan tensions into our deliberations. But right now it appears that we will fail in 1967 to reach a goal which should have been attained at least a decade ago.

Teaching Needs Is PTA Panel Topic

The Southern High P.T.A. will hold its third meeting of the school year on Monday, November 20th at 8:00 p. m. in the school cafetorium. A brief business meeting will be conducted by Courtney Tusing, vice president, followed by a panel discussion on Meeting the Needs for an Adequate Teaching Staff in the Garrett County Schools. Panelists will be: Clinton Englander, Mrs. Herbert H. Leighton, Dr. Joseph Alvarez, and Robert Rodeheaver, principal.

At present there are still two teacher shortages at Southern High School in the drafting and music departments. At the Executive Board meeting held November 8, president Owen Stultz announced that Rev. Rodgers Fike and Nordeck Shaffer will represent Southern P.T.A. at County Council meetings and that Mrs. Ruth Martin had accepted the appointment of magazine chairman. Anyone interested in receiving either the State or National P.T.A. magazine may contact Mrs. Martin for details.

DON'T NEGLECT A SORE THROAT

Even a minor sore throat can be extremely dangerous to a child if neglected. It might be one of the early symptoms of rheumatic fever and this disease causes more deaths than polio did before Dr. Salk.

The cause of rheumatic fever is the strepto coccus germ which can be easily identified by your physician. The diagnosis must be as soon as possible. Beginning symptoms are the innocent looking minor sore throat, a feeling of fatigue and mild joint pains. Don't wait for the severe stages when the sore throat develops with a high fever, sore neck glands, red and swollen joints. By this time irreparable damage may have been done to the heart.

WARMTH

As autumn chills the hills and winter causes us to gaze into snow, we are concerned with the warmth which has departed. Warmth! All the thoughts it brings to mind, like the colloquial expression of pioneers, "Come in and have a warm", left to us from days of the hearth, always a symbol of hospitality. A snug feeling of security and peacefulness, as we see the logs igniting, being consumed, and glowing afterward, as they send off an odor characteristic of each wood, envelops our spirits and surrounds us with contentment. No matter how icy the tempests sound, it gives a warm glow to check and heart to be near a hearth fire on the coldest day. Gathering by it when holidays are here means great cordiality, for our exchange of words and love is as warm as the blaze. Vitality flows from the reds and oranges of the flames.

It is fascinating to see how colors can create the illusion of warth or its absence. Make the four walls blue, and they move out from you and cool you thoroughly; make them beige and you have a warm company in which to live. So seldom do we fathom how the eyes, and skin of a person, are enhanced by the colors next to his face, that it is not always possible to know if we see the real person or the sensual image he has created. But one feature contradicts the law of coolness and blue, for who has never experienced at least one look into some eyes that say "blue" but reflect all the smiles of warmth and friendliness? Some blue eyes emanate as much glow as brown eyes ever can.

Hunters must especially love warmth, which touches them at the return to camp or home—such a vast change from the crispiness of the outdoor world, and yet not the same in kind, for the crowns of trees and needled branches of evergreens bend to protect the human journeyer from fierce temperatures above and without the woodland. From swiftly moving air outside to the quiet inside of the forest goes the hunter, finding there a relative warmth which has been sought by animals that know the value of a cover, even as they are pursued.

Two boys swinging down the lane on an afternoon jaunt need tell no one that they have a treasure in the warmth of friendship. A great peril to full living is the busy activity which we think we must maintain, often at the expense of losing contact with our friends. How we long, when distance deters the realization of it, for the gay response spreading across someone's face as he warmly greets us who bring the happiness of past and future companionship through the door!

One person in our homeland retains an image of a father dressed in a fur coat with large fur gloves; this is the memory of a young child who sees this picture of many years ago. Perhaps the child's mind was impressed by the beautiful fur, but maybe, too, there was the feeling of the warmth involved in it to add to the gentle warmth of the devoted parent.

Mothers, too, if they had not warmth would surely have made a world of human beasts long ago. From the first months of natural attachment, when an infant knows that this warmth in the arms enveloping it belong to one whose care is real, a mother's embrace gives to it the finest, purest warmth of life.

Such a small thing, and yet momentous—warmth.

PUBLIC NOTICE!

Many complaints have been made to us of litter being strewn along the Sang Run Road leading to the County Dump. To correct this condition we have supplied our garbage and trash collector with the necessary means and equipment to prevent any littering.

We want through this notice to request the many private and individual haulers who use the county dump to exercise more care in the loading and transporting of their trash and refuse and in so doing eliminate this littering condition.

Your cooperation in this matter will avoid possible fines being assessed for littering.

Thanksgiving Services Planned By St. Matthew's

St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, Oakland will observe Thanksgiving Day with a service of Holy Communion, special music and a sermon by the Rector, the Rev. W. Shelby Walthall. The service, which is open to the public, will begin at 10:30 a. m. November 23rd.

Persons attending the service are asked to bring Christmas gifts for patients in Springfield State Hospital, Sykesville. There are 81 patients from Garrett County in the hospital. Each gift must be wrapped and designated whether it is for a man or a woman. All articles must be new. Gifts will also be received on the Sunday after Thanksgiving. Items may be brought to the local Episcopal Church - corner Liberty and Second streets - up to 2:00 p. m. Sunday, November 26th. They may be left in the vestibule of the church.

This Sunday, November 19th, St. Matthew's Church will conduct its annual Every Member Canvass. As in the past the canvass is being conducted by mail. During the past week all members of the church were sent letters and pledge cards. The cards will be presented at the 8 a. m. service of Holy Communion, and the 11 a. m. service of Morning Prayer.

To Present Program

The Laughlin Church of the Brethren Youth Fellowship will present a Thanksgiving program at the church on Wednesday, November 22, at 7:30 p. m. under the direction of Mrs. Orpha Wiseman. "Thanksgiving Ann", a one-act play with a lesson in Stewardship, will be presented with Paul Durst, Willis Younkin, Helen Bittinger, Gene Platter, Phyllis Hutzel, and Harold, Minnie and Charlie Bittinger participating. The offering will be placed in the Building Improvement Fund and be used by the Youth to complete the work on the vestibule. The church is located five miles south-west of Grantsville on the Amish Road. Rev. Vernon Shanholtz is pastor. The public is invited.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Clarence A Friend, Jr., who died November 18, 1965.
We do not need this special day
To bring you to our minds.
The days we do not think of you
Are very hard to find.
They say time heals all sorrows
And helps us to forget.
But time so far has only proved
How much we miss you yet.
Missed by Mom, Dad and Sisters

Large Group Hears Past Commander American Legion

Some 275 or more persons attended the 30th annual Pig Roast last Friday evening at the American Legion Home in Oakland and heard General Paul Griffith, national commander of the American Legion in 1946, extol the basic principles of the organization and cite numerous instances in which the legion is still battling to preserve the democratic way of life.

General Griffith, orginally from the Uniontown area and elected to his national office from Pennsylvania, is now a resident of Potomac, Md. General Griffith was on the original commission which met in Paris after World War I to effect the legion organization and held responsible posts in government especially during the years when Louis Johnson was secretary of defense.

In pointing out activities which his group supported were the GI bill of rights and the educational program attached to it; national security program, child warfare, oratorical contests which stress citizenship, the junior baseball program, Boys' State and Boys' Nation, many boy scout troops, the Back to God movement with encouragement for public worship, private prayer and religious education of children. He said over 100 million boys each year take part in the junior baseball program.

He stressed the need of continued responsibility for leadership and defense of the principles of the present form of government. He pointed out that the American fighting men of World War I were the only ones to return to their own country and strive to continue the form of government for which they fought. He emphasized this thought, that "only with a strong defense can we prevent another yar".

General Griffith also mentioned numerous other programs in which the Legion cooperated such as child welfare, mental illness, heart disease, and pointed out that the Legion auxiliary had been instrumental in the construction of 25 churches along the iron curtain.

Legionaires were present who had fought in World War I, World War II, the Korean War and the Vietnam conflict. They also heard brief remarks by Lonnie Marsh, of Oakland, a state department executive, who introduced other legion guests including Robert Eaton, national executive committeeman; Tom McCall, alternate national executive committeeman; Stanley King, state commander; Charles Griffith, Cumberland, grand chef de guerre of the Forty and Eight organization, Russell Smith, mayor of Oakland; and B. O. Aiken, house of delegates member.

There were representatives from legion posts at Grantsville, Accident, Kitzmiller, Frostburg, Barton, Lonaconing, Westernport, Frederick, Havre de Grace, Aberdeen and other areas and officers of the local national guard unit. Rev. W. Shelby Walthall and Rev. William E. Carlson pronounced the invocation and benediction. A social hour preceded the dinner which was served at 7 o'clock. Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill served as master of ceremonies.

Gentlemen

We have examined the statements of receipts collected and expenses disbursed and related cash accounts of the Garrett County Board of Education for the year ended June 30, 1967. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly, included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary under the circumstances.

In our opinion, the accompanying statements and exhibits fairly present the Garrett County Board of Education's cash position at June 30, 1967 and income collected and expenses disbursed by the Board of Education for the year then ended on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Respectfully submitted,

No. 5631 Equity In The Circuit Court For Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure a divorce A Vinculo Matrimonii by the plaintiff from the defendant
The Bill recites that the marriage of the parties was performed in Garrett County, Maryland, on November 23, 1949, and that the plaintiff is and has been a resident of Deer Park, Garrett County, Maryland, that the defendant's whereabouts cannot be discovered; that one child was born of said marriage, to-wit: David Gale Albert, age 17, that the defendant did, without just cause or reason desert the plaintiff, and they have not lived together as man and wife since 1954 that the separation is deliberate and final and beyond expectation of reconciliation.
It is thereupon this 13th day of November, 1967, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ORDERED that the plaintiff, by having a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 8th day of December, 1967, giving notice to the said absent defendant, Daley Nelson Albert, of the object and substance of the Bill of Complaint filed herein, warning him to be and appear in this Court, either in person or by solicitor on or before the 8th day of January, 1968, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

FHA Committeemen At Regional Session

The need for improved housing in many area rural communities is appalling, Chester J. Tyson, Jr., State Director of the Farmer Home Administration in the three-state area told County Farmers Home Administration Committeemen at their annual meeting.

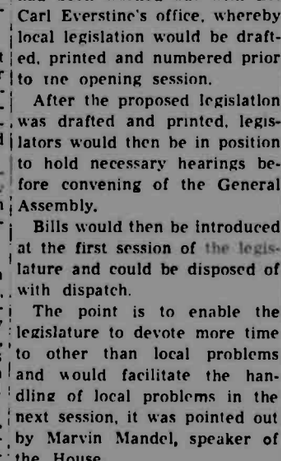
These Committeemen attended the annual training meeting to review the policies of the Farmers Home Administration loans and to discuss problems associated with the administering of the program in their respective counties, which was held at Frederick, on November 14. Members of the FHA County Committee in this County are Wayne B. Hamilton, Rt. 2, Oakland; Claude Wagner, Jr., Star Rt., Oakland; and Robert O. Glotfelty, Rt. 1, Accident.

Mr. Tyson pointed out on his trips throughout the rural areas of Delaware, Maryland, and New Jersey, he has observed families living under crowded conditions, many rural families without running water and bathroom facilities. "In this day and age, safe and sanitary housing is within the reach of a majority of the rural residents through Farmers Home Administration housing loans", Tyson said.

Though we hear much about urban ghettos, few realize that a disproportionate amount of bad housing is located in the rural areas, Tyson pointed out. County Committeemen were charged with the responsibility of assessing the need for better housing among rural people and to assist in making the Farmers Home Administration rural housing loans available to those who need them.

Farmers Home Administration housing loans are designed to help families in small towns and in the country to up-grade their housing.

Plans To Alleviate Log Jam In Legislature Set



In an attempt to alleviate the "log jam" occasioned by local legislation in previous sessions of the General Assembly, Delegates and Senators were notified this week that arrangements had been worked out with Dr. Carl Everstine's office, whereby local legislation would be drafted, printed and numbered prior to the opening session.

After the proposed legislation was drafted and printed, legislators would then be in position to hold necessary hearings before convening of the General Assembly.

Bills would then be introduced at the first session of the legislature and could be disposed of with dispatch.

The point is to enable the legislature to devote more time to other than local problems and would facilitate the handling of local problems in the next session, it was pointed out by Marvin Mandel, speaker of the House.

U. S. population is expected to hit 250 million in 2015.

Lesson of Thanksgiving--

It was 347 years ago this month that the Pilgrims arrived off Cape Cod after two months of the stormy Atlantic in the small and heavily laden Mayflower. Under terms of their creditors they were obliged to undertake a communal form of organization and to establish a joint stock. Various troubles and unforeseen expenses had substantially increased their borrowings from the speculators who financed the colonizing. The Pilgrims were heavily in debt.

Before landing the 41 adult male passengers signed the famous "Mayflower Compact", providing for the enactment of laws and promising "all due Submission and Obedience". They landed at Plymouth December 31, 1620.

During the remainder of that winter and the next the Pilgrims followed the terms imposed by their creditors, with everything owned in common and put into a "common store". By the end of the winter of 1621-22, more than half of the colony had died of starvation and illness accentuated by malnutrition.

Then in the words of Governor Bradford. ". . . . that they might still thus not languish in misery", it

Christmas Lighting Ceremony Ready For Friday Evening

Over 300 prizes will be awarded to the possessors of lucky popcorn balls during the parade and tree lighting ceremony to be held Friday evening, November 24, at 7 o'clock in Oakland. The Harige clowns from the Ali Ghan Shrine club of Cumberland will distribute some 2,000 popcorn balls at the corner of Second and Liberty Streets during the parade. Distribution will be made to children of the community, limited to those under twelve.

Fifty business places from the local area are participating in support of the event. Active participants will include the Southern High School band and the Terra Alta High School band, and Santa Claus who will be perched on a unit of the Oakland Fire department.

Other highlights will be the lighting of the Christmas decorations strung above Oakland streets and the tree lighting ceremony which will take place on the Episcopal lawn, on the corner of Second and Liberty streets.

The parade and lighting ceremonies are in charge of the Merchants Association of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce. Tom Butscher is parade marshal.

This is an annual event which officially marks the opening of the Christmas season among Oakland merchants. The parade will form at Center Street school and march through the business district.

Weather Is Varied

There were some wintry blasts during the week's weather offering but no large deposits of snow. There was some sleet and fog. About one inch of snow fell on Monday night and early Tuesday morning but this quickly disappeared as the 26-degree weather soon moved to above freezing.

Last Thursday the thermometer got up to 33 degrees. Friday began with a 34-degree reading with rain falling. Mercury got up to 37 degrees that day at 4 o'clock but rain continned most of the day.

Temperature was cold on Saturday with gusty winds and snow flurries throughout the day. Snow flurries continued Sunday morning with some clearing later but the wind continued. Skies were clear on Monday with temperature at 28 degrees and rising to 31 during the day.

There was a sprinkling of rain on Wednesday morning with temperature in the 40s. Colder weather was forecast for later in the week.

Juvenile Confesses To Overturning Barrels

One of four juveniles confessed to authorities this week that they had overturned a number of cinder barrels in the Oakland community over the past week-end but disclaimed any knowledge of the persons who overturned the compact automobile of Fred A. Thayer.

Mr. Thayer's Fiat was discovered overturned by neighbors on Sunday morning while Mr. and Mrs. Thayer were in Akron, O. The neighbors called in a wrecker who placed the car back on its tires. There were some dents on the vehicle.

Sheriff James E. Frantz said he planned to question the other three persons involved. No charges have been placed up to the present.

Special Services Of Thanksgiving Set For Thursday

Annual Thanksgiving services will be held Thanksgiving day, November 23, at various churches throughout the Oakland area.

The union Thanksgiving services are to be held Thanksgiving day at 10 a. m., at the Oak Park Church of the Brethren. The service is sponsored by the Mountain Top Ministerial association, with various churches participating. Rev. Eldon Shingleton, pastor of the Oak Park Church, is in charge of the liturgy, and Rev. Thomas Crogan, director of Mt. Top Youth for Christ, is to be the speaker. Special music will be furnished by the Oak Park girls' quartette singing "Thanksgiving" and a piano-organ duet during the offitory. Rev. J. Samuel Moore of the Gormania Methodist Charge and Rev. Vaughn Taylor of the Red House Lutheran Church will alparticipate in the services.

Crogan, a graduate of Potomac State College and Frostbuurg State College, was pastor of the three-church Bayard, W. Va., charge for six years after graduating. He taught high school English at Elk Garden for the past three years. On July 31, of this year, he was named director of this area's Youth For Christ endeavor.

St. Matthew's Episcopal church will highlight its Thanksgiving Memorial service with Holy Communion and special music. Rev. W. Shelby Walthall, rector, will give the sermon. Persons attending are asked to bring Christmas gifts for the 81 persons in Springfield State Hospital. Service is at 10 a. m.

St. Mark's Lutheran Church is having its special Thanksgiving day service November 23 at 10 a. m. Appropriate music will be presented by the Adult, Youth, and Children's choirs. The sermon will be delivered by the pastor, Rev. Wm. Ernest Fox.

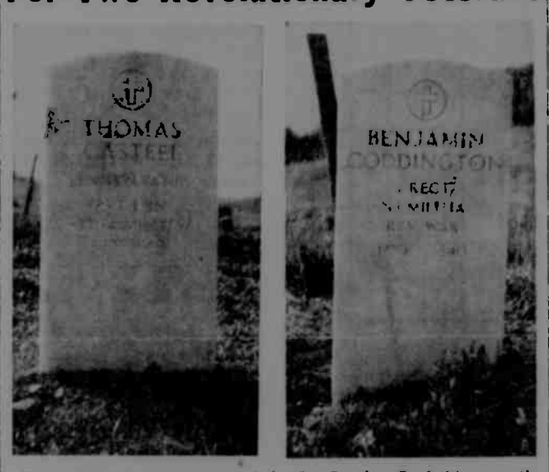
Glade View and St. John's Lutheran churches are holding a joint Thanksgiving service on Thursday at 7:30 p. m. This year the program will be held at St. John's Church, Red House.

Bloomington to Get Addition to School

Citizens of Bloomington will get an addition to their school, it was announced this week.

The County Commissioners, at a meeting on Monday morning at 10 o'clock, passed a motion unanimously, to provide the county share of $100,000 by borrowing that amount from the State School Construction fund.

Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools, said the state would match the county funds approximately dollar for dollar, which would provide some $200,000 for the addition. Mr. Hawkins said the firm of Altman and Altman had been secured to provide the architectural plans for the construction.



He said the plan for the addition would include four classrooms, a small gymnasium and improved toilet facilities.

The county would repay its share of the construction fund loan over a fifteen year period with funds derived from no more than one and one-half cents on the county tax rate.

The action of the County Commissioners came after a sizeable delegation of interested parents had appeared before them on Monday morning.

The crowded condition of the Bloomington school had been apparent for some months.

Place Government Markers For Two Revolutionary Veterans

It probably is a surprise to most people to learn that there are 18 Revolutionary War Veterans buried in this county.

Cpt. Charles E. Hoye, founder of the Garrett County Historical Society, compiled the list in 1942 and initiated a program of obtaining government grave markers. From 1942 to 1951 three of these markers were erected, for the following: Pvt. John Friend, Sr., Friend's Cemetery, near Friendsville; Lt. James Drane, Zion Lutheran Cemetery, at Accident; and Ensign William Armstrong, McCarty's Acre, south of Oakland.

Since that time the program was inactive until Mr. and Mrs. Randall Kahl, of Mt. Lake Park, became interested. Mr. Kahl is Sergeant-at-Arms of Proctor Kildow Post No. 71, American Legion.

On October 7 of this year the Kahls placed two such markers, one at the grave of Thomas Casteel, Friend's Cemetery, near Friendsville, the other at the grave of Benjamin Coddington, on what was his farm "Rich Hill", near Selbysport.

This activity of locating and marking veterans' graves is not confined to those of the Revolutionary War, but includes veterans of all wars. In this effort the Kahls have visited 151 cemeteries, and have located the graves of 950 veterans from 8 wars.

The Garrett County Historical Society is assisting in this program. The assistance of every interested person is welcome. Persons knowing of an unmarked veteran's grave, are asked to contact Mr. and Mrs. Kahl.

Judy Simpson Is Finalist In Program

Judith Simpson of Southern High School has been selected as finalist, one of fourteen candidates with the highest test scores, in a contest to become one of the two students selected to take part in the U. S. Senate Youth Program as a Maryland representative.

She was notified by Andrew W. Mason, Regional Coordinating Supervisor, State Department of Education, that she was to report for an interview in Baltimore on Tuesday. Seven hundred students took the test.

"The United States Senate Youth Program was created for outstanding high school students to help broaden their knowledge and understanding of Congress and the legislative process in the nation's Capitol; to demonstrate the importance of a freely elected legislature in the perpetuation of an effective democratic system of government; and to dramatize in particular the crucial role the Senate performs in the maintenance of government".

Students eligible must be serving in an elected capacity as a student government officer or a grade or class officer.

The William Randolph Hearst Foundation has made available the necessary funds so that politically-minded high school student leaders throughout the United States will be able to participate in a program designed by the United States Senate.

Plan Head Start Again for Summer

The Community Action Committee along with the Board of Education, is again planning a Summer Head Start Program for several localities throughout the County, it was announced by Brad Rinard, CAC director.

This week the CAC Board of Directors and the Policy Advisory Committee of last year's Head Start program will be reviewing the proposed application which will then be submitted to Washington for OEO approval.

Summer Head Start is designed to provide additional preparation for five and six year old children of low-income or under privileged families, before entering public schools. The program is concerned with the total needs of each child, providing for both physical and social development, Mr. Rinard said.

Michigan's Gov. Romney announced his candidacy for president at a news conference Nov. 18.

Judge Per County Is Guaranteed

Marvland's Constitutional Convention tentatively adopted Friday, November 17, a proposal that would guarantee each county its own lower court judge, then beat back a move to reconsider.

Proposed by Del. Frederick C. Maklus, Jr., of Cambridge an avid defender of small county rights in the convention, the recommendation was made an amendment to the report of the Committee on the Judicial Branch which is under consideration.

It changed a section of the composition of district courts, which will replace trial magistrates and people's courts, to read that "there shall be at least one district court judge resident in each county."

The original wording, as suggested by the committee, would have provided for "at least one district court judge resident in each district," with a district possibly composed of several counties.

The amendment was adopted 69-60. A motion to reconsider lost 72-58. Opposing the proposal was Del. Hal C. B. Clagett of Prince Georges County, who argued that if a district judge was imposed on each county along with a superior court judge, some counties would have superfluous judicial material.

Library Will Show Final Film Monday

Ruth Enlow Library of Garrett County will present a color film, "I, Leonardo da Vinci", on November 27 at 7:30 p. m.

This will conclude a series of six film programs borrowed from the Enoch Pratt Free Library in Baltimore. Previous shows, all admission free, have attracted large audiences, according to Miss Edith Brock, lihrarian.

Shoe Company To Locate in Kingwood

The Kinney Shoe Corporation, makers of women's dress and casual shoes, has announced plans to establish a pilot plant in Kingwood's Community Building

The firm expects to begin a training program by December 1. Plans call for a 125-man work force, which will be screened from the 1900 persons who registered during the three day survey conducted last August.

The Preston County plant will be Kinney's third operation in West Virginia and its eighth manufacturing facility in the United States.

Give Reasons For Delay In Choosing Site For College

An explanation as to why the majority of County Commissioners had been slow in the selection of the site for the proposed Community college was pointed out this week by Hubert A. Friend and John Ross Sines.

They declared "We feel that this is a matter of great importance and that ample time should be given to selection of the site, in order to give much careful thought and use our best foresight so that the final selection will show that due consideration was given all properties considered or proposed.

"It is our belief that most people think the college should be located at or near the geographical center of the county which is thought to be near McHenry."

The three sites that are available in the McHenry area were listed in detail by the two commissioners, and a map of the three sites appears in today's issue.

1. The Board of Governors of Garrett County Memorial Hospital now own over 600 acres of good, desirable land in this area. We feel that we should mention at this point that this entire farm of 600 acres or more along with cattle and machinery was an outright gift with no strings attached, to the Board of Governors of Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Up to this time, about all that has been done with this farm has been the building of Garrett County Airport comprising approximately 200 acres, leaving a remainder of over 400 acres of desirable land to be developed.

The Hospital Board voted to make this land available at a very, very low price. This farm is accessible by way of the Bumble Bee Ridge Road. This road

Judge Dismisses Juvenile Cases

At a hearing in juvenile court last Friday for fourteen young men and women, mostly teenagers, Associate Judge Harold Naughton, dismissed all cases after delivering a lecture to parents and those involved.

Warrants had been served against the fourteen who were in the home of one of those involved when City Policeman Hobart Shillingburg and county officials entered the home. It had been apparent that numerous other youngsters had been at the home previouusly but had left before the "raid".

There had been charges of having alcoholic beverages in possession and consuming it, for immoral conduct, disturbing the peace, and encouraging minors under 18 to engage in conduct which tended to make them delinquent.

Judge Naughton, following his lecture, then dismissed all cases and ordered them erased from the juvenile court records. Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill had disqualified himself from the case, thus bringing in one of the Allegany County judges to preside.

Hunter Influx Due Friday; Seek Bucks

Woodland areas are expected to resound with the blast of rifle fire starting Friday and continuing through Saturday, December 2, with a pause during Sunday, November 26.

Hundreds of hunters from the metropolitan areas will join local sportsmen in stalking the white-tails. The numbers in this county have decreased since the deer are more widespread throughout the state than in former years.

This year the State Department of Game and Inland Fish plan to conduct a survey of deer kills by pulling jaw bones so that necessary data can be compiled for the management program.

Pulling the jaw bones does not destroy the head and hunters still may have their trophy mounted if desired. Jaws are to be pulled in this county at Oakland and Grantsville stations. The checking stations: Matt Storey's, Deep Creek Lake; Edwards Garage, Grantsville; Bob's Sport Shop, Oakland, and Murphy's, Friendsville.

Trenum's 30-Year Sentence Is Affirmed

Sentence To Run Concurrently With One He Is Now Serving

A review panel composed of three judges affirmed the 30-year sentence passed on defendant Carl Andrew Trenum on September 25, and stated the fact that said sentence was to run concurrently with an eight-year term Trenum is presently serving.

Associate Judges Harold Naughton and James S. Getty, of Cumberland, and Associate Judge Stuart Hamill of Oakland handed down their decision after approximately 30 minutes of deliberation following the hearing on November 17. Trenum had previously pleaded guilty on two charges of kidnaping.

The defendant's court-appointed counsel, Jack R. Turney, had termed the 30 year sentence unreasonable and excessive in view of the fact that the defendant was courteous, did no physical harm to anyone, and provided the victims of his August 13 kidnaping, Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Michael, with money with which to buy gasoline for the return to their Frostburg home. Turney contended that the case was not an aggravated instance and therefore did not deserve the maximum sentence of 30 years, which Judge Stuart Hamill had decreed in the September 25 trial.

To Make Attempt To Get Removed Voters To Register

A concerted effort is to be made by the political groups of Garrett County to get back on the voting registers, the names of 1,153 citizens that were removed for not voting for the five year period 1962-1967.

A list of 684 names of Republican voters was sent to Homer L. Bennett, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, and to Mrs. Ethel Kelly, president of the Garrett County Women's Republican Club.

A list of 467 names of Democrat voters was sent to Karol O. Rush, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, and to Mrs. Clarence A. Penman, president of the Federation of Democratic Women's Clubs.

An effort will be made by the committees and women's clubs to contact the voters whose names were removed, and to encourage them to reregister, in order for them to be eligible to vote in the 1968 special, primary and general elections.

A voter whose registration has been cancelled is not eligible to vote except by registering again, according to election laws of Maryland, Article 33, Section 3-20. Voters who were removed may register Monday through Friday from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. at the office of the Supervisors of Elections located in the Knights of Pythias building on 12 S. Third Street, Oakland.

The Board of Supervisors of Elections has made an effort to obtain addresses of voters whose cancellation notices have been returned marked "moved, left no forwarding address". These voters, if they can meet the voter requirements, may vote where they reside, it was stated.

Sentenced to Year In Hit-Run Deaths

Lawrence Lambert was sentenced to one year in the Preston County jail after he was declared guilty of the hit-and-run deaths of two Reedsville youths October 13. Lambert was charged on two counts of involuntary manslaughter and one count of hit and hun, in the deaths of Daniel Enlow, a former Oakland resident, and Franklin Swanjos.

Judge Melvin C. Snyder passed sentence on Lambert last week after Lambert changed his plea from not guilty to nolo contendere (no defense.)

Pro-College Group to Confront County Officials Monday

Parents and interested citizens in this County who voted to support the junior college will appear in numbers before the County Commissioners Monday, November 27 at 10:00 a. m. The purpose of this group meeting with the Commissioners is to insist that they put up the county's share of the money for the land and college building, in order that further costly delay can be avoided.

The College Board of Trustees adheres to the original site selected as the best one available for the college and this action is supported by the Lay Site Committee and the State officials who must give final approval. Gordon Douglass, chairman of the Lay Junior College Committee, will be the spokesman for the group. Parents and citizens interested in the junior college for Garrett County are invited to be present.

This meeting was originally set for the past Monday but a Bloomington delegation had arranged for a hearing at the same time.

County Invests In Short Term Notes

At the November 13 meeting of the Garrett County Board of County Commissioners, the Board took action to put county funds to work by placing certain sums in Oakland banks.

There had been discussion of investing County funds in short term notes with local banks before the step was taken. Funds not earmarked for immediate use will be invested in short-term, interest bearing Certificates of Deposit. If needed, funds can be made available for use at any time, it was pointed out.

A motion was made by Hubert Friend that the funds totaling $500,000.00 be invested in Bank Certificates with Garrett National Bank at 4½ per cent interest for a period of 90 days, and $100,000.00 to be invested with the First National Bank of Oakland with a similar interest rate for 90 days.

The motion was carried by a unanimous vote.

Also Discuss Roads

Also at this meeting, the Commissioners met with Mr. Freese of the Maryland State Roads Commission and B. O. Aiken, Garrett County delegate, to discuss and plan completion of the suggested program of state roads for Garrett County. After some discussion, the following, listed in the order of priority, were agreed upon:

Route 135—from Maryland Route 38 to Route 495, reconstruction of 3.2 miles.

Route 135—project over B & O railroad tracks.

Route 135—2.74 miles west of Allegany County line to 0.02 miles west of Walnut Bottom Lane, resurfacing.

The above listed projects complete the roads program for the present year program ending in 1970. The present status of Route 219 is not affected by the above.

Dies in Wreck In Ohio Region

Donald Donitzen, 30, a former resident of Oakland, was instantly killed in a two-car automobile accident in Ohio on Sunday, November 12. He was the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tennant, of Oakland.

His wife was hospitalized with injuries sustained in the mishap. Mr. and Mrs. Donitzen had resided in Windham, Ohio, for about eight years. The couple has three children.

The wife, Martha, 29, was a patient at Suburban Communjty hospital, Wardensville Heights, O.

The accident occurred on West Aurora road, Ohio, 82, on Sagamore hill. It was a head-on collission with a 16-year-old boy who crossed the center line and struck the Donitzen car.

Funeral services were conducted last Thursday with interment in a cemetery at Jerome, Pa.

A Trans World Jet crashed near Cincinnati, O., with 69 passengers and seven crewmembers.

Death Sentence Pronounced On Gary Lee Miller

Scheduled To Die In Gas Chomber In January; Appeal Is Filed

Gary Lee Miller, 17, convicted murderer of Judy Lee Zeigler, 20, Pocahontas, Pa., was sentenced to death in the gas chamber last Thursday, the sentence to be carried out the week of January 1 at the Maryland penitentiary.

The sentence will be appealed by Defense Attorney Julius E. Schindler.

Associate Judge Harold E. Naughton pronounced the sentence in the Allegany County court room. He and Associate Judge James S. Getty had found Miller guilty of first degree murder on October 30 at the close of a four-day trial. The sentence was signed by both judges.

It was the first time in more than 16 years that a death sentence was imposed in Allegany county, on Noah Earl Beeman, Lonaconing, for the knife murder of his wife in Frostburg. Governor McKeldin later commuted that sentence to life imprisonment. He was paroled last summer and is residing in Salisbury, Md.

Miller was taken to the penitentiary last Thursday. He was ordered to be moved to a cell on death row November 17.

Miss Ziegler's body was found May 28 near an old dump in the Eckhart area. Her car was found the next day partly submerged in a reservoir near Pocahontas. Mr. Schindler appealed last Thursday to the court to spare the life of his client, send him to Patuxent institution for psychiatric and medical treatment to possibly rehabilitate him.

In arriving at a sentence Judge Naughton said the court, besides hearing all the evidence had been aided by an excellent and thorough pre-sentence report.

Judge Naughton read Miller's sentence:

"Gary Lee Miller, you have taken the life of a highly respected girl who forfeited her life rather than submit to your immoral demands. You have committed a brutal and heinous crime. The punishment must now fit the crime.

"The sentence of the Court is that you, Gary Lee Miller, shall suffer death by the administration of a lethal gas, and the sheriff is hereby directed to hold you in confinement until you shall have been delivered to the warden of the Maryland penitentiary. And the warden of the Maryland penitentiary is hereby directed to execute the sentence during the week beginning January 1, 1968, upon some day within the said week."

Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill, of Oakland, had sentenced Miller to a term not to exceed four years in December,

Is State Winner In Bread Baking

Joanny Jones, of Bowling Green, Allegany county, and a former 4-H club member from this county, was recently named a state winner in bread baking and will be among those attending the national 4-H club Congress in Chicago the latter part of this month.

She will accompany the thirty-one Maryland delegates to the 46th annual conference following a send-off luncheon on November 24 at College Park.

She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayman Jones, who formerly resided near Oakland.

The Maryland youths will represent the most outstanding participants in this year's 4-H programs ranging from citizenship to community beautification, conservation in car safety, health to home improvements.

At the Congress the young people will analyze domestic issues and world affairs, explore career opportunities and visit museums of art, science and history. Various sponsors of 4-H projects will fete the delegates at breakfasts, banquets, receptions and get-acquainted parties in the Conrad Hilton and others hotels.

CAPITOL COMMENT

by

Charles "Mac" Mathias

Congressman, 6th District, Maryland

The Information Gap

"Credibility gap" may be a somewhat tired phrase, but it has become the shorthand for one of the most serious problems plaguing American government today—a crisis of confidence. On one hand, the people are losing faith in what government spokesmen say. On the other hand, popular suspicion and mistrust are intensified every time officials refuse to make hard information available, or persist in offering only vague, generalized or contradictory statements.

To some extent these failures of candor and clarity by official spokesmen are generated by political considerations. But sometimes an official will simply withhold or distort information because releasing it would create problems of explanation which he would prefer to avoid. In either case, the American people and our entire representative system of government are hurt.

The Congress has already taken a long step toward guaranteeing that the public will have access to information about public business. The Freedom of Information Act, which went into effect on July 4th of this year, provides that only certain types of government data—such as personnel records and material classified for security reasons—may be withheld from the public and the press.

Recently the Freedom of Information Committee of the honorary journalism fraternity, Sigma Delta Chi, published a report on the operation of this Act. The report cited the progress which many agencies have made in giving the public more information than ever before. However, the committee also found that at the very highest levels of government, speciticaly in the White House and at the Pentagon, there is still a great reluctance to make accurate, full information available.

Recently I myself have encountered in two cases an excessive reluctance on the part of Federal officials to provide facts to me and my constituents.

In a recent speech, the President, citing signs of progress in Vietnam, declared that 65% of the South Vietnamese population was now under the control of the Saigon government. A week ago, retired General James Gavin stated that of the 12,500 hamlets in South Vietnam, only about 5000 were in "friendly hands," while some 7500 were "assumed to be" subject to the Viet Cong. These two figures—one based on population, the other on numbers of towns regardless of their size—may or may not be contradictory. But when I asked Defense Department and State Department officials whether the two measurements could indeed be reconciled, I was told that no figures beyond those used by the President were available for public discussion.

Again, last month I read a press report, based on "reliable new evidence gathered by American intelligence sources," which indicated that small numbers of North Vietnamese army regulars for the first time were being trained in Red China to fight in South Vietnam. This would be a development of some importance, so I sought to secure official comment on the reports, to be relayed to my constituents. Although the report had been publicly discussed in the first place, I was denied any quotable material to confirm, deny or qualify the statement.

These two cases are extremely discouraging. Such nervous, restrictive and defensive Administration policies are not only inconsistent with the spirit of the Freedom of Information Act hailed by the President last year. More basically, they are incompatible with the principles of a free government. While legitimate boundaries of national security must be respected, it is self-defeating to try to stretch the cloak of secrecy over material which it is simply not convenient or advantageous to release.

The crisis of confidence has already become so great that some Americans, unable to believe what they hear from government, have simply stopped listening. Clearly we need a new spirit and a conscientious effort—at every level of government—to halt the decline in trust and insure real communication between the people and their national leadership on the most important issues we now face.

PHARMACY PHACTS

Clinton W. Englander

Question

Why is activated charcoal so much more effective for deodorizing and decolorizing than ordinary charcoal?

Answer

The reason that activated charcoal is so much more effective than ordinary charcoal lies in the fact that it affords a much greater amount of usable surface. Ordinary charcoal gives only 5 to 50 square meters of surface per gram, and this surface is generally non-porous. Activated charcoal, on the other hand, has a much greater surface area per gram, which can be as high as 1000 meters, and it also has the advantage of being porous. For this reason activated charcoal is able to absorb and bind substances to its surfaces a great deal more readily than ordinary charcoal.

Chestnut Rails

Time was when no farmer went to ask another man for ready-made posts and cross parts of fences; instead, he walked out to the woodlot with some neighbors to saw and split the chestnut logs which still give the flavor of Americana to many Maryland farms.

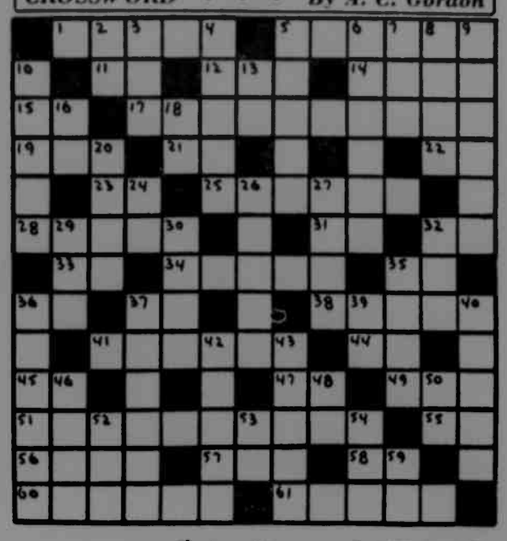
Have you ever seen a pasture enclosed by a rail fence, or stood at the end to watch the zigzag pattern flowing on to the praise of some unknown oldster who had the patience to construct it so neatly? Hidden away in our county are several beautiful specimens of this work; try the Fairview Road south of New Germany, where at the old school site you gaze east to the sources of Bear Pen Run and Silver Bell Run, going on to Savage in the lowland. Perhaps the nicest thrill of all is that those fences need no stiles or parted wires. You just climb your own way over the top, whether you are limber or slow, and in the case of the Fairview location, treat yourself to an unsurpassed view just as you reach the opposite side.

From our preoccupation with fence-building in the 1700's, perhaps because Americans had paid dearly for individual ownership of land, came the epithet of "savage fence-builders" given to us by Europeans, who often left open one corner of a field for the gleaners, the poor. Not such in this nation, where a snake or worm fence, known by both names, kept in stock and kept out intruders. A prime example of the old boundary marks is the reconstructed split-rails line by the Jonathan Hager House in Hagerstown, which must have added to the already substantial value of property in the hands of this famous Western Maryland entrepreneur. By a century later than his time, it was the custom to advertise a farm as "wholly enclosed by fence" so that would sell easier. Often the value was so enhanced by this that even buildings plus land did not equal the value of the fence. One location in 1850 was a 300 acre farm, fenced at a cost of $7,000 according to standards of a century later.

In the days of real subsistence farming, March was the fencing month, for it made farmers prepare for the pasturing to come by getting wood dried by its winds. But timber must not only be cut and dried properly; it also needs to be split at the right time, and like diamonds in their cutting, splits quite easily under the hands of a skilled worker. What many admirers do not know is that a wooden mallet was used to hammer wedges into a felled log, spliting it into rails lengthwise. In some localities, wedges were called "gluts". Each was either of wood topped by an iron ring, or metal with a wood top. Wooden ones were often heated by the fireplace so as to be exposed to a slow, even heat for producing hardness.

A light-weight ax, not a broad ax, was used to fell the tree. Even ax blades told from what background an American had come, with the flatness and width telling their story. Designs of handles evolved into several variations after the Civil War, but the choicest wood for these remained white oak and hickory.

Authorities tell us that chestnut forests once covered millions of acres in the United States. Chestnut predominated in the type of woodland classed as ridge timber in Garrett County, as our century began. One count lists 20,220 acres, for shallow, sandy, and even very rocky soil produced a tree which was our source of tannin for curing hides and bore succulent nuts sought by people and wildlife. Each of us knows of its renown as firewood, furniture material, and the posts and rails which we still see standing.



Then a fungus, Endothia parasitica, entered the United States and after 1904 began the end of all nutting excursions and enjoyment of warmth from this source. When attacked by spores in the cracks and wounds of its bark, the tree develops cankers and its leaves begin to wither, hastening death. Unfortunately the fungus also affects seedlings, and it is virtually impossible to produce a healthy mature tree.

So has passed the era of the chestnut, and fortunate are we who can find, in a nook of country, a place where we can separate the transient from the enduring. Perched atop that split-rail fence, who needs a psychiatrist's couch?

Town and Gown . . .

Traditionally, there has always been a certain amount of friction between the students and faculty of a university and those who live in the community where it is located. "Town and gown", to use the old phrase, have often come into conflict.

In some countries, notably in Latin America, universities are in a definite sense above the law. Police are not permitted on campus, and to all intents and purposes the law is administered by university officials. As a result, students have often run roughshod over nearby communities, and have then made themselves immune to police action by finding sanctuary behind university gates and walls.

Communists have of course made capital of this situation. It is no secret that in the sheltered environment provided by fellow-traveling professors and university officials, they have repeatedly plotted and carried out riots and demonstrations, often involving the loss of life and vast property damage. Then they have thumbed their noses at the police from their privileged sanctuaries.

Until recently this was a foreign phenomenon, restricted to such places as Bogota and Havana. Certainly, we told ourselves, such as outrageous setup would never be countenanced in the United States. However, our Great Society seems to be developing this aspect of permissiveness too. Students at Brooklyn College recently demanded that they be made "untouchables" on campus, and similar demands are being made elsewhere.

There is no need to specify the campus element that is making such demands. You have seen their faces, or some of their faces behind the filth and the beards. You know what these characters stand for because they shamelessly proclaim it. Nor do they make any secret of their utter contempt for law and order, and for the "townsmen" who live by the law's protection. To put such kooks, queers and Commies beyond the reach of the law, by making campuses off-limits to law officials would be the height of folly.

But considering the state of the nation, that too can happen here.

Thanksgiving '67

In the tradition of the Holiday, we at Garrett National gratefully take account of our bountiful blessings . . .

In the time-honored tradition of this Thanksgiving Day, we join with you, our friends and neighbors of the community, to give thanks for countless blessings. For the joys of home and family, for the benefits of health and for the happiness of our abundant way of life, for the prosperity and vigor of our community, we are grateful.

For the daily good fortune which we cherish, our heritage of liberty in this great land of ours, we are both proud and thonkful.

As we gather with family and friends in happy celebration of this day, we pause to remember our forefathers, to be grateful, as they were, for the good things of life, and pledge ourselves, as they did, to honor and preserve the freedoms which are ours.

Lesson Of Thanksgiving . . .

was decided that "they should set corn every man for his own perticular. Every family was assigned a parcel of land, to till and to harvest. This", the Governor wrote, ". . . . made all hands very industrious, so as much more corn was planted than otherwise would have been".

From the bumper harvest the Pilgrims arranged a bountiful Thanksgiving, and gave thanks not only for their material blessings, but also for the system which produced it, and gave them dignity and well-being.

Each of the separate colonies later adopted the New England custom, and the first President, George Washington, at the request of both Houses of Congress issued the first national Thaksgiving Proclamation October 3, 1789.

Let it be remembered on Thanksgiving Day this year, and in every other year that the custom began because a system was changed—from collectivism to private enterprise. And let us rejoice and give thanks that our nation learned so early the merits of a system which "made all hands very industrious". And let us hope that the programs now building up which take away ones initiative be gradually cut back to the barest minimum, and the citizen's dignity restored before we fall right back to Pilgrim days.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

BY C. WILSON HARDER

It still does not make sense. And 72 per cent of the nation's independent businessmen, voting through the National Federation of Independent Business do not think so, either.

* * *

This is the matter of Social Security benefits to the aged. As the law now stands, any person on reaching Social Security age can have unlimited income from property, investments, or other sources, and still draw the full amount of Social Security.

C. W. Harder

But if a less fortunate aged seeks to supplement this monthly check by working, and makes over $1500 per year, part of the Social Security benefits are lost on a sliding scale. If the earnings hit $2700, all benefits are lost.

Of course, if they live to reach 72 years of age, then they can make all they can without sacrificing any part of their Social Security benefits.

Congressman Theodore Kunferman, New York, has a bill before Congress to knock out these restrictive clauses. After all, any private insurance company that received premiums for retirement annuities, and prescribed under what conditions the benefits would be paid would soon be hauled into court.

But now the situation has been further aggravated by the minimum wage-hour law pushed through Congress in 1966 because employers of any Social Security beneficiaries find they cannot meet new requirements for compensation.

For example, a laundromat operator in Kentucky reports that he has been paying women drawing Social Security for their services which comprise no more duty than being present on the premises to discourage vandalism, but cannot afford to pay new minimum wage for this light duty.

The comment is that it is impossible to increase volume to offset the difference, and as the machines are made to take quarters, a price increase is not possible.

Thus, the plight of the nation's Social Security recipients is made even more parlous.

If one hits age 65 a millionaire, there is no problem. If not, then there is the prospect of seven lean years until one can, at the age of 72 start out fresh. Is this the type of thinking that will bring a better life to the Vietnamese? Maybe that is why so many of them seem to continue fighting the U. S.

Death Sentence

1965, after a Garrett county jury had found him guilty of raping a 22-year old Salisbury, Pa., woman on July 12, 1965, in this county.

Witnesses at the trial in November of that year had testified that Miller admitted lying in wait for the woman in the back of her auto in Frostburg, then threatening her with a knife and ordering her to drive to the Finzel road where the attack took place. The woman was finally able to break away in the New Germany area where police were notified and the arrest made. This trial was conducted before a jury which found him guilty of rape and assault with intent to rape, with a recommendation "without capital punishment."

The youth was paroled some 18 months later.

Engagement Announced

Mrs. Mary E. Tusing, route 1, Oakland, announced the engagement of her daughter, Alice Margaret, to Harold Thomas Hauser, son of Mrs. Ethel Hauser and the late Harold H. Hauser, Gormania, W. Va.

Miss Tusing is the daughter of the late Charles E. Tusing and is a graduate of Southern High school, class of 1962. She is presently employed at the Five and Ten cent store in Oakland.

Mr. Hauser, also a graduate of Southern High school in 1962, is employed at the Economy Market in Oakland. No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Swallow Falls

Visitors of William Lee were Bobby and Michael Reams and Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Meyers.

Delbert Friend, Edith Friend and George Paugh were recent visitors of Perry Sines.

A baby shower was held for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wendell, Saturday, at their home in Mt. Lake Park. Mrs. Wendell was formerly Linda Werdebaugh, of Swallow Falls.

Mrs. Edith Friend and Jane, Mr. and Mrs. James Werdebaugh and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fike, Rawlings.

Cuba organized "red beret" revolutionaries in reply to U. S. Green Beret forces stationed in Latin America.

Completes Studies At MMS School

Miss Gloria Jean Pennington daughter of James Pennington Route 1, Box 40b, Oakland, and the late Janet Pennington, completed her studies at Maryland Medical Secretarial School, Hagerstown, on November 17. Miss Pennington received her diploma in the 14-month Medical Secretarial Course. She completed courses in the secretarial sciences as well as training in the terminology of the medical profession and basic medical courses such as anatomy, diseases, medical office practice, and laboratory technique. She also received 13 weeks' internship training at King's Daughters Hospital, Martinsburg, W. Va.

Graduates of the school are prepared to work as secretaries and medical assistants to physicians in private practice, hospitals, government medical installations, and industrial medical positions. Miss Pennington was graduated from Southern High school in 1966 Miss Pennington has obtained a position with Dr. Thomas Cooper, dermatologist, in Hagerstown.

Car Is Rammed

A mishap which occurred at the intersection of Second and Alder streets in Oakland last Thursday caused an estimated total of $125 in damages to the two vehicles involved. Ernest Robert Shiffy, Crellin, was stopped to allow another vehicle to make a left hand turn on to Alder when his car was rammed in the rear by a one-half ton pickup driven by Donald Evans, of Oakland.

Two charges were placed against Evans, who is scheduled to appeal before Trial Magistrate Robert Maroney. Officer Hobart Shillingburg investigated the incident.

Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bowman, of Red House, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with an Open House at their home on Sunday, November 5, when some ninety friends came to their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowman were married November 7, 1917. Mrs. Bowman was the daughter of Marcellus Wolfe, Red House, and Mr. Bowman was the son of Joshua Bowman, Preston County.

Mr. Wolfe was engaged in the carpenter business in Preston County, W. Va., and in the Red House area for years, having been a resident of Red House for the past seventeen to twenty years.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowman have three daughters, Mrs. Harold Holsopple and Mrs. Ezra Rinker, route 2, Oakland; and Mrs. Ross Teets, Eglon, W. Va. They have five grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

The wedding ceremony was performed in the Wolfe home by the late Rev. Ezra Fike of Eglon.

Your Federal Income Tax

Questions and Answers

Q. I do some work at home for my boss in an office which takes up about 10% of my house space. Does this mean I can take 10% of my house expenses as a business deduction?

A. Several requirements have to be met before a business deduction can be taken for office space in a home or apartment. To qualify for any deduction, you must establish that you are required to provide your own space and facilities as a condition of your employment and that you regularly use this space for business purposes.

You also must be able to show the portion of your home used for this purpose and the amount of time it is so used.

If the office space accounts for 10% of your total space as you state and the other conditions are met, then you may take 10% of such items as rent, heat, light, real estate taxes and mortgage interest. Depreciation of the office portion of a home is also deductible.

Expenses attributable only to the personal portion of a house or apartment are not deductible. If you use the office portion only half the time for business purposes then you may deduct only 5% of your house expenses as a business deduction.

Q. How long do I have to hold stock before I can treat profits made on it as a long-term capital gain?

A. The profits on the sale of stock or other capital assets held more than six months are treated as long-term capital gains.

Q. Can I deduct fees paid to an employment agency?

A. Yes, fees paid for obtaining employment are deductible if you itemize your expenses.

Q. I pay someone to look after my children until I get home from work. Can I deduct this expense?

A. Child care expenses may be deducted when certain conditions are met. Be sure to check the instructions that come with the tax forms. They explain what you have to do to qualify for this deduction.

Q. My ex-wife has custody of our children but I claim them as dependents. Do I stlil take their withholding exemptions?

A. Yes, you can if they qualify as your dependents. Generally the withholding exemptions are the same as the exemptions that will be allowable on your income tax return.

Q. I pay social security taxes where I work. Do I also have to pay self-employment tax on what I earn in a part-time business?

A. You may be liable for both social security and self-employment taxes.

The maximum earnings on which social security taxes be paid is $6,600. If your salary or wages subject to social security tax is $6,600 or over then you do not have to pay self-employment tax on any earnings from another source. But if you earned less than $6,600 on your regular job on which social security was withheld, then you should pay self-employment tax on the difference up to $6,600 if the net income from your part-time business amounts to $400 or more. For details on this send a post card to your district director and ask for a free copy of Document No. 50-47, "Self-employment Tax".

Q. I'm a salesman and had to buy a car to cover my route. Can I deduct this cost when I file my return?

A. No. However, you may deduct 10 cents for every mile you used the car on your job up to 15,000 miles. If your mileage exceeds that, additional miles traveled on business may

Cumberland C of C Offers Program of Job Opportunities

For the second straight year, the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with ten of the area's leading businesses and industries is sponsoring a program to offer job opportunities to college juniors and seniors of the area.

R. N. Whitcomb, Chairman of the Operator Native Son Committee and Manager of Office and Technical Personnel at Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, said that the member companies feel that many local college graduates are going outside of the area to look for jobs when actually many excellent positions are available locally. In order to give these young people an opportunity to talk to several companies at one time with the least amount of travel, the ONS Committee has arranged for personnel sections of these companies to be at one place at a time which should be convenient for students home for the Christmas holidays.

The program will take place at the Fort Cumberland Hotel on Wednesday, December 27 from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. "No pre-registration is necessary", Mr. Whitcomb said. An advertisement concerning the program appears in today's issue.

may be deducted at 7 cents a mile. Tolls, parking and similar items are also deductible.

Instead of this method of deducting your business travel expenses, you may figure the actual operating costs of your car for the year. This would include depreciation, gas and oil, insurance, repairs and other operating costs.

Q. Our daughter is thinking about getting married in December. If she does will we lose the exemption we've been claiming for her?

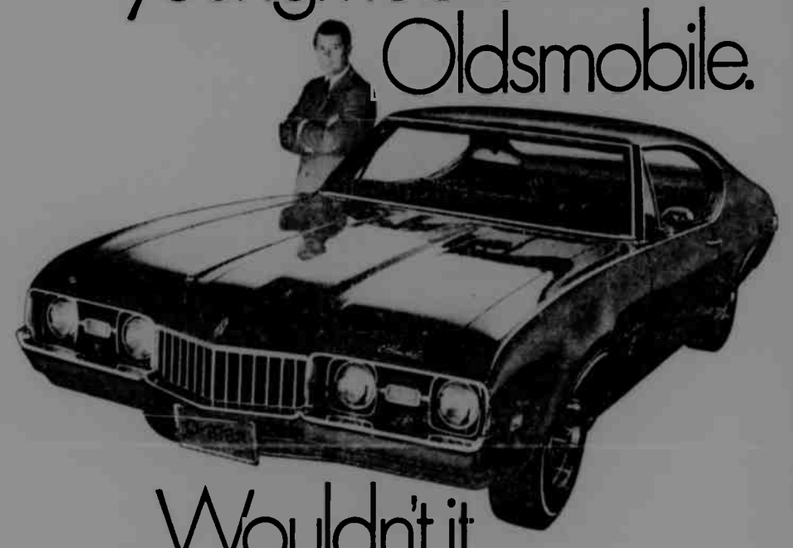
A. You will if she files a joint return with her husband. However, if her husband files a separate return you may claim an exemption for her if she otherwise qualifies as your dependent. In that case, you, not her husband, get the exemption.

Twenty Persons Die On Maryland Roads

Twenty persons were killed on Maryland highways last week, according to the weekly survey published by the State Police. Ten of those killed were drivers, seven were passengers, and three were pedestrians.

Alcohol was a contributing factor in eight of the deaths, speed in thirteen, and driver error in fifteen.

"Quite frequently we hear the comment that the hazards created by the speeding driver are over-emphasized", commented Lt. Col. George E. Davidson, Chief of Operations of the State Police. "Those who go along with this line of thinking would do well to take a good look at the fatal accidents which occurred on Maryland highways last week. Speed was present in two-thirds of the cases.



"Although last week the tragedy caused by excessive speed was greater than average, week after week it is a contributing factor in just about 45 per cent of all fatal accident cases - certainly a very definite warning to all motorists to drive at a safe and reasonable speed. This means always driving within the posted speed limit and, further, reducing speed well below the legal limit when weather and road conditions, traffic problems or other unusual circumstances so indicate".

Look at this '68 "youngmobile" from Oldsmobile.

Wouldn't it look great in your driveway?

This new Cutlass S has a way of making things look younger. Even driveways. That's because of all the young ideas we built into it. A bigger 350-cubic-inch V-8, for instance. (Or, if you prefer, an Action-Line 6.) And a taut coil spring suspension that makes it easy to cut and turn in tight places. And you can order a whole carfull of young-if-up accessories like bucket seats, stick-shift or stereo. But if you think Cutlass S is young all over, don't forget that it is Olds all over, too. Olds quality, Olds engineering and the ne safety features are all standard.

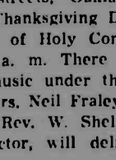
To Deliver Gifts to Mentally Disturbed

St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, corner of Second and Liberty streets, Oakland will observe Thanksgiving Day with a service of Holy Communion at 10:30 a. m. There will be special music under the direction of Mrs. Neil Fraley, organist. The Rev. W. Shelby Walthall, Rector, will deliver the sermon.

Persons attending the service are asked to bring articles to be distributed to the Garrett County patients at Springfield State Hospital, Sykesville. They will be given to them at Christmas, this being the only gifts many will receive at that time. Gifts are to be wrapped and indicated for a man or a woman. Mr. Walthall will take the things to the Maryland Association for Mental Health in Baltimore. He will leave Oakland at 2:00 p. m. Sunday. Items may be brought to the church up to that time and placed in the vestiblue. St. Matthew's church is cooperating with other churches and civic organizations of the area, and is working in conjunction with the Garrett Chapter of the Mental Health Association.



Hold Achievement Night

The Jennings Sweet Clovers held their Achievement night on November 18 in the new community center. Twenty-three persons attended.

Mrs. Hetrick gave the welcoming message and then Nancy Durst gave a demonstration on making throw pillows. A demonstration on "Chocolate Chewies" was presented by Susan Wiley.

The 4-H members participated in relating what the group has accomplished during the past year.

Corsages made by Sharon Wiley, Susan Wiley, Lou Anne Wisor, and Peggy Sell were given to the four mothers who were present.

SENSING THE NEWS

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Inflation: The Cruelest Tax

While talking out of one side of its mouth about the need for economies, the Johnson administration constantly promotes costly programs that add to the fires of inflation in this country.

This inflation, resulting from federal action, is worse than any tax load the government has placed on the people. Inflation is the cruelest tax, for it hits hardest the people who are least able to pay it. Inflation robs the people, and they often do not realize what is happening.

Senator John J. Williams of Delaware, a watchdog of the U. S. Treasury, recently spoke out in vigorous manner concerning inflation and its causes. Charging the White House with displaying little, if any, concern with the tremendous deficits it has consistently built up for the past five years, Senator Williams said: "Not only has the administration been encouraging the expansion of new spending schemes which were initiated by its Great Society Bureaucracy, but the White House has consistently been urging substantially increased expenditures on its own initiative".

The Senator pointed out, by way of example, that the Johnson administration is recommending a social security bill which would pump over $6 billion extra cash into the economy in calendar year 1968. Only $1.3 billion of this would be covered by revenue raised during the year. Under the White House plan, the payroll taxes to pay for the other $5 billion would not go into effect until after the 1968 presidential election.

This sort of federal spending is presented by the administration as a generous gesture to the people. What is ignored is that the government hasn't any money to give away but that which has been extracted from the taxpayers.

The liberals in Washington will reply that wages will rise in 1968. So they may. But the other side of the coin is that the cost of living also is rising. The lesson of history is that costs outrun wage hikes in an inflationary situation.

People are going to be hurt because of the Johnson administration's refusal to clamp down on nonessential federal spending. Thus it is tremendously important that Americans—factory and farm workers, white collar and blue collar employes and small business—realize that they are tossed on a treadmill when the White House allows inflation to proceed.

The average American housewife knows the score. She knows that inflation means higher grocery prices—higher prices indeed for every item used in running a household and keeping a family together.

The truth is that inflation cuts deepest into the budgets of citizens with moderate income. They haven't any investments that they can revise as a check against inflationary trends. While the government says it is conferring a boon on "the people", there are deeper and deeper social security cuts in take-home pay and higher prices on essential items for home and children.

Retired persons are especially vulnerable to the cruel tax of inflation. Senator Williams declared on this point;

"Millions of our retired citizens, who are living on fixed incomes, social security, government and private pensions, life insurance policies, savings accounts, and so forth, have been pauperized as a result of this deliberately planned Johnson inflation represented by the increased cost of living, or the diminishing purchasing power of the dollar".

What the country needs, to be sure, is a bona fide reduction in expenditures, not any claptrap about turning the lights off in the White House. Cuts in spending are needed all along the line. Yet even the most modest efforts to curb spending creates a storm among the liberals. Thus when some Congressmen sought to deny a wage hike to employes of the Office of Economic Opportunity, the boon-doggling "war on poverty" agency, there was a hue and cry in protest.

The American people already are paying for years of fiscal mismanagement by the Johnson administration. The domestic and international give-aways, which have proved to be futile as genuine solutions to real problems, have robbed the American people of needed resources. These programs have caused a swift and dangerous inflation. Only determined braking action by Congress will relieve the American people of the inflation that is the cruelest tax upon their productivity and well-being.

'I Hear a New Song' To Be Presented

The color film: "I HEAR A NEW SONG" will be the feature of this week's Mt. Top Youth For Christ's Campus Life Rally. This film faces the "Modern Music" problem and endeavors to guide youth into thinking for themselves about harmonious relationship with Jesus. It will be shown, 7:30, Saturday night, Nov. 25, at Southern High School.

Some 162 attended the Campus Life Rally at Northern High School last Saturday. Prior to showing "Without Onion", The Underwood Quartet, Darlene Ellis, Ralph Bee, Carl Savage, and Cottie Glotfelty sang: "Day by Day" and Lisa Eary sang a solo: "Follow Me". The quartet and Judy DeWitt served as ushers and usherettes.

The December 2 Campus Life Rally will be an all musical presentation, featuring some local teen talent and the recording group: "The Crestmen Quartet". This rally will be at Northern High School, 7:30 Dec. 2. Southern will host the last rally of the year Dec. 16, featuring Joe King from Washington, D. C.

CAPITOL COMMENT

by Charles "Mac" Mathias
Congressman, 6th District, Maryland

Defense

There is a certain irony in the sequence of recent developments in the field of nuclear armaments.

During the past year, American discussions over nuclear weaponry have focused on the desirability and feasibility of constructing an anti-ballistic missile (AMB) defense system to augment our already great deterrents against hostile intercontinential ballistic missiles. This debate has been prompted by two developments: (1) reports that the Soviet Union is constructing such a defensive system, and 2) evidence that Red China is proceeding rapidly in developing both nuclear warheads and the missiles to deliver them.

On September 18, Secretary McNamara ended long debate by announcing that the Defense Department had decided to build a "light", or "thin", ABM system to defend against a possible nuclear attack from Red China. The total cost of this "thin' system will be at least $5 billion. While it is not intended to provide protection against a massive Soviet attack, this deployment could serve as a proto-type for a "thick" system when and if we decide that the strategic merits of such a defensive network justify its tremendous cost — pegged at perhaps $40 billion.

The irony entered this month when, on the heels of the defensive decision aimed at Red China, the Pentagon declared that the Soviet Union is apparently taking a long step forward in offensive nuclear weaponry by developing a fractional orbital bombardment system (FOBS). As Secretary McNamara described this new weapon, an orbital bomb is fire into a "very low orbit about 100 miles above the earth. At a given point — generally before the first orbit is complete — a rocket engine is fired which slows down the payload and causes it to drop out of orbit". The Secretary noted that because of their relatively low orbit (compared to an ICBM, which reaches a peak altitude of some 800 miles), "some trajectories of a FOBS would avoid detection by some early warning radars". He also said that "the impact point cannot be determined until" the bomb is directed downward from orbit, and that such a bomb could approach the U. S. from the southern hemisphere.

In discussing the FOBS, Secretary McNamara and other Defense Department spokesmen have emphasized that, because of the new weapon's disadvantages and the vast and growing American offensive and defensive capabilities, Soviet development of this new warhead will not disturb the present nuclear balance. But regardless of their military import, the ABM and FOBS announcements have already had a great psychological impact.

First, we have been put on guard that the nuclear arms race is continuing, and that we must rationally consider what steps must be taken, and what investments must be made, to keep pace with arms advances and maintain adequate deterrents. Above all, we must look candidly and carefully at the fundamental factors behind the nuclear arms race, as its impact on other nations and alliances, and at all alternatives to the continued development of instruments of mass destruction.

This is a task which the American people, as well as Members of Congress, must undertake. Although most citizens cannot become experts in the technology of nuclear weapons, all of us can become more informed, more alert and more active in the field of foreign policy. Through perception and patience, we can keep a climate of reasonableness in which it will be possible to maintain and use lines of communication around the world, promote all opportunities for keeping the peace, and insure that effective routes for alleviating friction and eliminating conflict are always available. Such national responsibility is essential if we are to build alternatives to the horror of nuclear war.

DIED

EDWARD E. HOUSEHOLDER

Edward E. Householder, 67, of 1206 Broadford Road, Oakland, died suddenly Thursday, November 16, at his home.

Born at Elizabeth, Pa., he was a son of the late John and Elizabeth (Actor) Householder.

Mr. Householder was a retired lock master of Lock No. 5 on the Monongahela River at Brownsville, Pa. He had been an employe of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers in the Pittsburgh District for 42 years.

He was a member of Brownsville Lodge 60, F & AM, and Bethel Methodist Church at Mt. Lake Park.

Surviving are his widow, Evelyn (Groves) Householder; a daughter, Mrs. Gayle Prentice, Mt. Lake Park; two sons, Richard Householder, Brownsville, and Robert Householder, College Park; three sisters, Miss Betty Householder, Mrs. Margaret Fink and Mrs. Nellie Anderson, all of Elizabeth; two brothers, Walter and John Householder, both of Elizabeth; and seven grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Minnich Funeral Home in Oakland, where a service was conducted Sunday at 2 p. m. by Rev. James F. Remley, pastor of Bethel Methodist church, Mt. Lake Park. Burial was in Oakland cemetery.

Oakland Lodge No. 192, A. F. and A. M., conducted a memorial service Saturday at 7:30 p. m., at the funeral home.

MRS. EDWARD H. MINARD

Mrs. Olga S. Minard, 64, of 926 Massachusetts Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C., and a former resident of Deer Park, died Sunday, November 19, in George Washington university hospital after an illness of four months.

Deceased was born at The Plains, Farquier County, Va., November 1, 1903, a daughter of the late William H. and Serepta Belle Johnson Smith.

Surviving are her husband, Edward H. Minard, Washington; one son, Cecil W. Minard, Rockville; one daughter, Mrs. Rosalie Scaggs, Takoma Park; one brother, Melvin Smith, Halfway, Va.; one sister, Mrs. Ina Pickett, Manassas, Va.; and nine grandchildren.

She retired in 1966 after 20 years with various governmental agencies. She spent much of her spare time in geneological research and was a member of the DAR and of the Colonial Dames of the 17th century.

The body was brought to the Leighton-Durst funeral home in Oakland on Wednesday afternoon. Funeral services will be conducted from the funeral home on Friday morning at 10 o'clock with Rev. W. Shelby Walthall, rector of St. Matthew's Episcopal church, officiating. Interment will be in the Deer Park cemetery.

RICHARD L. HOWARD, SR.

Richard Leo Howard, Sr., 65, of Bloomington, died suddenly Saturday, November 18. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Potomac Valley hospital in Keyser.

Born in Bloomington he was a son of Mrs. Martha O'Neil Howard, Bloomington, and the late James Garland Howard.

Mr. Howard retired from the Luke Plant of West Virginia Pulp and Paper company last July. He was a member of Luke Local 676, UPP, and Bloomington Methodist church.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ada Warnick Howard; a son, Leo Howard, Jr., at home; a daughter, Mrs. Austin Scheermesser, Bloomington; two sisters, Miss Alice Howard, Bloomington; Mrs. James Maybury, Leesburg, N. J.; and two grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Boal Funeral home in Westernport, and later taken to the Methodist church in Bloomington on Tuesday morning for a funeral service Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. Rev. Edgar Cole, Rev. Edwin Smith and Rev. Gene Eaton officiated and interment was in Bloomington cemetery.

SAMUEL RHODES

Samuel Wheeler Rhodes, 87, of Elk Garden, died Thursday, November 16, in Garrett County Memorial Hospital. He had been a patient there 19 days.

He was born in Swanton April 7, 1880, a son of the late Theodore and Mary Elizabeth (Fargey) Rhodes. He was a resident of Elk Garden for 30 years.

Mr. Rhodes was a retired coal miner, with membership in local union 2204, UMWA. He was also a member of the Elk Garden Assembly of God Church; Mineral Lodge No. 102, IOOF; and Eagle Lodge No. 77 of the Knights of Pythias.

His wife, Lucinda (Ward) Rhodes preceded him in death. Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Mary Krouse, Shallmar; a foster daughter, Mrs. Madelan Dishong, Akron, Ohio; two brothers, James E. Rhodes, Elk Garden; and Henry Rhodes, Davis, W. Va.; nine grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Sharpless Funeral Home in Blaine. Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday at the Elk Garden Assembly of God church, with Rev. James Johnson, pastor, officiating. Interment was in the IOOF Cemetery at Elk Garden.

BITTINGER

A parish-wide Thanksgiving service will be held Thursday morning, at 9 o'clock, at St. John's Lutheran church, Meadow Mountain. The public is cordially invited to attend, according to Rev. Stanley Armentrout, pastor.

Members of Emmanuel Lutheran church held a congregational dinner at the Bittinger community building, Sunday evening, at which time the new Constitution was read.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Henson and daughter, Michelle, St. Albans, W. Va., spent the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Glotfelty. Mrs. Henson remained here for several days while her husband returned to West Virginia for deer hunting.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Yoder and family, Greenwood, Del., were week-end visitors of relatives here.

Mrs. Robert Glotfelty visited Mr. and Mrs. Willard Adams and family and her father, Charles Buckle, Cumberland, Friday evening. She also visited her mother, Mrs. Charles Buckle, who recently underwent eye surgery at Memorial hospital, Cumberland, where she remains a patient.

Sheila Buckel attended a students' recital at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Douglass, Oakland, Saturday afternoon. Sheila is currently taking music instruction from Mrs. Douglass.

Sunday afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. John Reckner were William Brenneman and son, of Bloomington.

Robert Glotfelty attended a Maryland ABC regional dinner meeting at Hagerstown, Friday evening.

Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buckel and family were Vincent Canestraro, George Dingle and John Fraternali, of Baltimore, and will be hunting in the area for two weeks.

Mrs. Leah Beitzel, Mrs. Bernard Henson, Mrs. Elwood Glotfelty, Annette Klotz and Mike Bittinger accompanied Mrs. James Glotfelty and family to the spaghetti dinner sponsored by the Northern Jr.-Sr. High band at Northern High school, Sunday evening.

Oliver Beachy, 91, a life-long resident of this community, passed away at Garrett County Memorial hospital on Monday. Funeral services were conducted Thursday afternoon, with interment in the Bittinger cemetery.

Mrs. Allen Brenneman was guest of honor at a dollar shower given by Mrs. Harley Brenneman and Mrs. Robert Hesson at the Bittinger Community building, Tuesday evening, with 32 ladies attending. Games were played and refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Mrs. Leah Beitzel was a Sunday afternoon visitor of Mrs. Sarah Zinkan, Accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Klotz and Doug visited Mr. and Mrs. James Glotfelty and family, Wednesday evening. James Opel was an afternoon visitor. Saturday visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Henson and daughter, St. Albans, W. Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Klotz and family.

Mrs. Carroll Beitzel was shopping in Meyersdale on Monday.

Nancy Teets was a Sunday guest of Sheila Buckel.

Mrs. Lawrence Buckel is recuperating at her home after being a patient in Sacred Heart hospital, Cumberland, for several days last week, where minor surgery was performed.

Negro extremists plotted to poison at least 1,000 Philadelphia policemen in case race riots occurred there.

President Johnson declared 24 South Texas counties a major disaster area after flooding caused by Beulah.

Outline map shows three proposed sites for Community College, all in McHenry area. (See accompanying article for details.)

College Site

runs through and along the property for approximately one mile. We feel that construction of the College on this property would raise the value on remainder of the property.

Adjoining the Hospital property, is the Kenneth Yoder farm of approximately 160 acres and is accessible from the Mosser Road. This property has approximately one-half mile road frontage. The greater part of this farm is presently good, tillable farming ground. The entire acreage along with improvements can be purchased for approximately $328.00 per acre, without any reservations or restrictions, whatsoever. This property is blessed with a good supply of water furnished by an Artesian well and springs. This, in our judgment, would make an excellent College Site.

3. Adjoining the Yoder Property is the Wagner and Glotfelty Properties which were originally optioned by the former Board of County Commissioners. The total acreage of all land under option and proposed for option contains approximately 71.00 acres and the total cost or price is approximately $69,875.00 according to the options as first drawn. This entire acreage is narrowly located between the Mosser and the Bumble Bee Road. In addition to the cramped condition that exists there are several reservations that make this site less desirable. Reservations are:

1. A thirty foot strip on the Gerald Glotfelty Property running the entire width of the property from the Mosser Road to the Bumble Bee Road adjoining the Robert L. Glotfelty Property.

2. On the proposed acreage of the Claude W. Wagner property, the entire frontage along the Mosser Road is reserved for a depth of 200 feet. Also, to complicate this matter of reservations, a lot along Bumble Bee Road has been sold to Jack Wentzel.

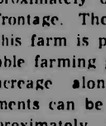
The majority of Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County feel that the Glotfelty-Wagner Properties would not be a desirable location for a College Site and are willing to endorse the property now owned by the County or the Yoder Farm.

The explanation of the three sites was signed by both commissioners, Messrs. Friend and Sines.

It was announced last week that the committee from the State Department of Public Improvements had evaluated the three sites and had unanimously recommended the Glotfelty-Wagner site as the best. It was further outlined that should the Commissioners fail to agree on a site that mandamus proceedings would be instigated compelling them to provide the money for carrying through the project.

Yoder School PTA Wishes For Wise Problem Solving

At a meeting of the Yoder School P. T.-A. on Monday night, a statement was made concerning the hope for wise decisions on the Junior College and selection of a new school superintendent. Sanford Bender is the PTA president.



The statement follows:

"Realizing that the future of our county depends to a large degree upon the decisions of our leaders, and that amid the many voices and confusion, their responsibilities have become very complex and difficult.

The PTA of Yoder School wishes to pledge ouur prayer support to our leaders, concerning the problems that are facing our county. Specifically that of a Junior College and that of obtaining a new superintendent for the Garrett County Schools".

Hillbilly Carries Photo Of Stotion And Glades Hotel

Along with a story of the history of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, being published in serial form in the West Virginia Hillbilly, for the week of November 11, there is an engraving of the Oakland station with the Glades hotel shown across the tracks from the station. It was listed as being 234 miles from Baltimore and 2,500 feet above tide water.

The history was being taken from a book published in 1858 ealled "Great Railway Celebrations of 1857".

The Centennial history published in 1949, carried the same photo of the Glades hotel and railroad station along with an article of the B. and O. railroad through this county.

The history states that in 1843 a reconnaisance was made from the Potomac to the Ohio which proved the practicability of constructing the railroad to Wheeling without passing thru Pennsylvania. The route surveyed was the present location of the main stem of the railroad which passes thru Oakland and Terra Alta and crosses Cheat River a few miles above Dunkard Bottom at Rowlesburg.

Poverty Weaponry . . .

It has been calculated that on an average in the United States, it takes about $20,000 invested capital to provide one job. That investment takes the form of land, buildings, equipment and tools. The $20,000 per job figure indicates that something in the neighborhood of one and a half trillion dollars has been invested in the 75-million jobs in this country. This total investment represents the savings of millions of our citizens, from the widow's mite to the tycoon's millions.

It would seem to an unbiased observer that the nation has been making a pretty relentless war on poverty throughout the 178 years since our Constitution ratified the private enterprise system. Starting with less than four million people bunched along the Atlantic seaboard, our population has spread across a completely undeveloped country to the Pacific. Meanwhile, the population has increased to 200 million, enjoying the highest standard of living, and less poverty, than exists anywhere in the world. The reality of the situation is that even the poorest among us are more fortunate than a majority of the rest of the world's peoples.

This is not to say that something shouldn't be done about the poverty-stricken among us. But it is to point out that what is taxed from the "haves," to give to the "have-nots," as the President expressed it, will not be available as savings to be invested in the land, buildings and tools which provide jobs.

Small business bankruptcies are increasing at an alarming rate. A typical case in point is one reported recently by a CPA who liquidated a bankrupt business and found that "if the business had been able to retain what it paid over a 20-year period in increases in state and city taxes, and for outside accounting services in preparing necessary city, state and federal tax returns" it would still be in business and 23 people would still be employed.

Note that the accountant did not mention what was paid in Federal taxes.

It comes to mind also that not long ago it was calculated that "featherbedding," in just two of our major industries, rail-million annually. That amount of money would create a lot of jobs.

So would that $114 billion in "foreign aid" which we have scattered abroad.

Government can give to some only what it takes from others. If Government takes the $20,000 which would otherwise go into creating a new job, then it is defeating a tried and proved method of overcoming poverty

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON

President—National Education Program

Searcy, Arkansas

The Soviet war-makers, using North Vietnam as a puppet, are bleeding America of its best manhood and other unexpendable resources. They will not permit Ho Chi Minh to accept any "deal" with the United States short of withdrawal of our military forces and the acceptance of the Communist "National Liberation Front" as the "voice" of the people of South Vietnam. The present conflict, with its heavy drain upon America "without loss of a single Russian soldier", suits perfectly the Soviet's plan for world conquest. It is but an episode in the Soviet strategy of small "wars of liberation".

After Vietnam would come, on the Soviet blueprint for conquest, one or even several "wars of liberation" in selected Latin American nations. Pravda, the official Soviet newspaper published in Moscow, in explaining the policy of "co-existence" to satellite Communist parties throughout the world, said last December: The policy of co-existence increases the "opportunities for development of the class struggle through liberation wars". That's plain enough!

The Soviet boss of the Tri-continental conference in Havana, which brought together Communist stategy planners from 83 nations, said essentially the same thing. And in October, the United Press International (UPI) reported from London that the Wilson government, trying to arrange for negotiations between Ho Chi Minh and President Johnson, had found the Red bosses flatly refusing to make "any commitments" regardless of whether the U. S. halts its bombing.

Ho Chi Minh is a part of the Moscow Communist international. Originally named Nguyen Ai Quoc, Ho was brought into Moscow from the French Communist Party in 1925 and after thorough training became the Comintern's official agent for the Far East. He had been born in Vietnam and thus the Comintern used his organizational talents and Communist zeal to consolidate three squabbling Marxist groups into the nation-wide revolutionary Indochina Communist Party. Ho Chi Minh's basic tie always has been with the Kremlin (not with China's Mao). He has been everlastingly responsive to Moscow directives. Without direction, war supplies, guns, mortars, planes, trucks, missiles, and thousands of Russian tacticians and technicians in North Vietnam, Ho's ability to wage war upon South Vietnam and American forces there would be nil.

James Cameron, the British journalist, who was permitted to travel freely about North Vietnam because of the "non-belligerency" of Socialist Britain, said in an interview that the war being waged against U. S. forces in South Vietnam was directed and controlled by Soviet Communists — not Chinese Communism. Cameron said that Russians "are running the war", that Russian military officers and personnel are in North Vietnam in sufficient force to dominate the military scene.

Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin, on September 25, announced in Moscow a redoubling of shipments of war armaments to North Vietnam, vowing to keep expanding the flow until "the bloody, brutal war" is stopped by the Americans. North Vietnam's Prime Minister Pham Van Dong, standing by Kosygin's side, said: "We will defeat the Americans with Soviet weapons".

An examination of these and other painfully visible facts ought to jolt our leaders in Washington into a recognition that "building bridges" to Soviet Red leaders is a futile and dangerous policy and that the one big enemy of America, pulling the strings wherever trouble exists, is international Communism headquartered in Moscow. Since it is on the march to conquer the world, it must be defeated—in Moscow, in Vietnam, in our land.—U. S. Press Asso- ciation.

PTA Votes Aid To Arts Council

At a Parent Teacher Association meeting at Northern High School on November 9, the PTA voted to send $10 to the Garrett County Arts Council to help bring the Touring Maryland Artists' show to Oakland on March 7 through 24.

The program was a continuation of "Back-To-School" night. Parents followed the last four classes of their child's Monday schedule.

The next meeting will be held at the Planetarium.

Refreshments were served by the Friendsville ladies.

County Council PTA met at Northern High School November 15 at 7:30 p. m. This meeting concerned better teachers' salaries.

PTA committees for the year were named. Chairmen include the following: executive, Mrs. Slagle; membership, Mrs. Martha Friend; hospitality, Mrs. Mary Friend; nominating, Mrs. Esther Yoder; publicity, Mrs. Frances Michael; representative to county council, Mrs. Margaret Hershberger and Mrs. Phyllis Buckel.

KITZMILLER

Miss Gladys Hamill is visiting Mrs. Louise Sharpless at Glen Burnie.

Mr and Mrs. Tony Sullivan and family spent the week-end in Washington, D. C., visiting friends and relatives.

Melvin Smith, of Cumberland, visited his aunt, Mrs. Blanche Harvey.

LIBERTY STREET OAKLAND, MARYLAND

THIS LITTLE TURKEY went to the Governor's mansion for Thanksgiving. Maryland turkey growers last week presented this six-months-old broad breasted white turkey to Governor Agnew for his Thanksgiving dinner. Presenting the bird on behalf of the turkey growers was Ross Smith, Thurmont, who grew 15,000 "Thanksgiving dinners" this year. Smith is president of the Maryland Turkey Producers' Association.

Eight Listed As Motor Violators

Eight persons made up the Trial Magistrate Court docket for the past week. Two persons, Donald Evans and David Ridings, were involved in accidents within Oakland city limits.

Donald Manear Evans, Oakland, was charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol and also with reckless driving. He was fined $100 and costs on the first charge, and $25 and costs on the second charge. Both fine and costs on the second charge were suspended.

Robert Herman Schmidt, Swanton, forfeited collateral of $7 and costs for failing to reduce speed to avoid a collision.

David Claude Ridings, Mt. Lake Park, forfeited collateral of $10 and costs for failure to keep to the right of the center line.

Harry Ross Smith, Jr. Barton, pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs for operating a motor vehicle without an adequate muffler. His fine was suspended.

Joseph Jenkins, Jr., Cumberland, pleaded guilty to charges of exceeding the 96" width limit. His $25 fine and costs were suspended.

Albert Lowry Rosenberger, Confluence, Pa., was fined $52 and costs for exceeding the 22,400 pound axle limit by 2,600 pounds.

Glenn Elwood Arnold, Frostburg, forfeited collateral of $208 and costs for exceeding his 40,000 tandem weight by 6,800 pounds.

Cleo Lee Hawk, Scherr, W. Va., forfeited collateral of $72 and costs for exceeding his 22,400 pound axle weight limit by 3,600 pounds.

Five foot drifts of snow blocked highways in New Hampshire, week of September 25.

One Criminal Case Heard Last Week

Russell Welch faced three charges in a hearing on November 18 in the Magistrate Court, presided over by Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney at Oakland. Welch was charged on two counts with malicious destruction of property, and one count of being drunk and disorderly.

Clarence Stemple and Wilma Welch preferred the first two charges, alleging that Welch had maliciously destroyed some property located along the Fingerboard Road, two miles west of Oakland, on October 19 and 22. Magistrate Maroney declared him not guilty of either charge.

Helen Burns brought the drunk and disorderly charge against Welch. He pleaded not guilty, but was found guilty and fined $10 and costs.

W-2 Forms Mailed

It has come to the attention of Irving Maeniz, District Director of Internal Revenue for Maryland, in Baltimore, that employers requesting 1967 W-2 forms (Wage and Tax Statement) for employees are returning them stating they are the wrong type of W-2 forms. Machiz explains this is not the case. In previous years the W-2 form was a four part assembly. This year Optional Form W-2, the only form to be issued provides greater flexibility, since it contains six rather than four copies.

Machiz said the reason for adding the two additional copies is to provide sufficient forms for attaching to state or local income tax forms as required.

John Nance Garner, former vice-president under Roosevelt, died in Uvalde, Tex., Nov. 7. He was 98.

Postmaster Urges Careful Addressing Of Overseas Mail

Oakland Postmaster Guy Wm. Hinebaugh recently urged all citizens to be sure to use the complete address on their letters and packages going to military and civilian personnel overseas, to avoid serious delays in delivery.

There are four essential elements to an overseas military address: 1. The serviceman's identity, including grade, full name, and service number. 2. His military unit, complete. 3. Gateway post office, either New York, San Francisco, or Seattle. 4. APO or FPO, which is always a five-digit number.

Last year, Mr. Hinebaugh reported, over 9 million pieces of mail were delayed in delivery. Three and one-half million of this number did not have the APO or FPO numbers. To avoid time consuming delays, every precaution should be taken by friends and relatives of servicemen to address their letters and packages properly, according to Postmaster Hinebaugh.

County Represented At Ohio Ski Fair

The county took an active part to promote Garrett County winter sports on November 10, 11 and 12 in Cleveland, Ohio, by attending the 8th Annual Cleveland Ski Fair.

The event was held in the Grand Ballroom of the Sheraton-Cleveland Hotel. Over 18,000 people purchased tickets to see the exhibits that ranged from ski equipment and ski areas to automobiles and travel agencies.

Because of the size of the display that was used, the Promotion Council bought two spaces in the show, providing a 20-foot space to display the ski slopes and other facilities.

Vacation Guides, ski brochures, motel-restaurant information, cottage rental information, plus other literature, were distributed.

A road sign, measuring 8x16 feet, was hauled to the show. The sign is now on display in front of the McHenry House at the Wisp Ski area.

The show was attended by Allen McLaughlin, of the Wisp, and Lynn Beckman, executive director of the Promotion Council.

The event is expected to help develop winter traffic to this area. Other areas entering exhibits were located in New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Vermont, Michigan and Canada.

Orders Firm Stand, School Discipline

Gov. Spiro T. Agnew last week asserted that the state must take a firm stand to halt what he termed "a general deterioration of discipline" In junior high and senior high schools in Maryland.

Referring to reports of undisciplined conduct ranging from assaults in schoolhouse corridors to increasing use of drugs by young people, the governor said: "We as adults have the obligation of maintaining law and order, certainly maintaining order with our school system. I intend to see that we make every effort to stop these breakdowns in social behavior among our young people".

He added there had been a general breakdown of discipline in schols and an attitude of permissiveness in homes that contributes to the problem. He appealed to parents to take a firmer hand at home with their children.

Named Pastor of Boston Church

Rev. Carl Kisner was appointed pastor of the Boston Church at Miracle Temple, 17 Worcester St., Boston, Mass., recently by Rev. Frederick J. Eikenkroetter H (Rev. Ike).

The newly named pastor is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Offutt Kisner, of Oakland. He was formerly serving at Fairless Hills, Pa., and studied at Zion Bible Institute, Providence, R. I.

Rev. Ike organized the Boston congregation in September, 1963 and remained as pastor until June, 1966 when evangelistic duties made it necessary to name a successor.

Salary Program Factors Listed By PTA Council

Several factors were pointed out as being significant in the establishment of an effective salary program as one of the ways of meeting the needs for an adequate teaching staff in the county schools, at a meeting of the County Council of Parents and Teachers held last Wednesday night at Northern High school.

These factors included, according to Paul Mateer, President:

"The cost of obtaining a four-year education and a master's degree after ten years runs approximately $24,000, and an additional $30,000 to $40,000 lost in earnings over this four-year period.

"A teacher's day does not end when he goes home. With 7½ hours in school and roughly 2 to 3 hours after school in grading papers, school events, preparation for the next day's classes, etc., the average teacher week would be at least 50 hours.

"The rising cost of living continues to affect teachers of the county as well as those of other areas. We are further deprived of cultural, recreational, athletic events, and no shopping centers where economic advantages could be obtained.

"Salaries were compared to other counties showing the average beginning for the state, $5,754, with Garrett County $5,100, or a loss of $654 per year; the standard professional, state $9,261, this county $7,400, with a loss of $1,861 per year; or an advanced professional of $10,073 state-wide, with this county $8,000, or a loss of $2,073 per year.

"It was shown that teachers here not only receive the lowest salary in the state but take a loss in retirement benefits. Retirement is figured on a maximum salary of five highest consecutive years. Loss in retirement benefits may be as much as $100 to $150 per month.

"Although there has been improvement in physical facilities in the past 20 years, much more needs to be done. Now is not the time to go backward or stand still in our educational program at the expense of the children of the county and a few tax dollars. The old adage that 'you get only what you pay for', applies to schools and government as well as professional people.

"Let's not use the attractions of Garrett County to sell ourselves short. Everyone would not like to teach here. Most people look at salaries first then the good aspects of a community when they consider a job. Garrett County is far below in comparison with other counties in regard to salaries".

In The Dog Pound

On Monday, a full grown, black and brown part hound dog was impounded by Oakland's dog warden. The dog, a male, was not wearing a collar, and was brought in from the area near Dr. Alvin Friend's residence on U. S. 219.

How much corn in a cornfield?

Bobby was raised in the city. It wasn't until recently that he had ever set foot in a cornfield.

Oh, he'd seen hundreds of cornfields from the window of a speeding car. And, shopping with Mother at the market, he'd seen the golden ears peeping through their green jackets.

But when we visited the Stoner's farm Bobby actually set foot in a cornfield. And Bobby looked at our host as though he were a millionaire.

"Gosh, Mr. Stoner," he said, "God sure gave you a lot of corn."

The other day we had a note from the Stoners inviting us to have Thanksgiving dinner with them.

"Please bring Bobby along," they wrote. "He helped us appreciate just how much corn there is in a cornfield —and where it comes from."

WHY THE WILDERNESS?

Lesson for November 26, 1967

Background Scripture: Hosea 2 through 3. Devotional Reading: Hebrews 12:5b-11.

A little boy when asked his name replied: "Willy Don't."

Most of us, like little Willy, remember most vividly the "don't's" of our early lives. Small wonder that even today most of us react negatively to the very word "discipline." At best, we learned to tolerate it because we had no other choice.

Rev. Althouse

Yet, like it or not, who could really do without it? Often it is only through discipline that we learn life's most important lessons and receive its greatest blessings. There must be discipline in life, not because an arbitrary God demands it, but because stubborn men will not learn without it.

For Whose Sake?

While visiting friends, a father quietly told his son that he would be punished for his misbehavior when they got home. Hours later when they arrived home, however, the father confessed to his wife that he wished he hadn't promised to punish the child: "I'm not angry anymore." "Not angry?" the wife exclaimed, "surely that isn't why you were going to punish him?" The purpose of punishment, she reminded him, was not to "even accounts" or retaliate, but to discipline the child, to teach him self-control. Having promised punishment, the father should go through with it for the sake of the child.

We, like the father, often forget the purpose of discipline: to teach, to promote growth. This is no less true with the discipline which God gives to his children. His punishment is intended, not to give us what we deserve or to mete out justice, but to teach us what we reluse to learn any other way. Thus proclaimed Hosea: "And I will punish her for the feast days of the Baals, when she burned incense to them . . . and forgot me, says the Lord". But the purpose of this punishment is not vengeance, nor justice, but to cause Israel to wake up and return to the Lord: "I will allure her and bring her into the wilderness, and speak tenderly to her". (Hosea 2:13 and 14 RSV)

Afterward . . .

As we have previously noted, God does not force us to return to him. He loves us too much to compel our repentance. What he desires is the love of repentant children, not the obedience of helpless robots. Thus, his love is one of persuasion rather than compulsion. He seeks to persuade us with both his pursuing love and the discipline our stubbornness demands. This he does, not to satisfy his anger, but to win us and bring us home by our own choice.

"For the children of Israel shall dwell many days without king or prince, without sacrifice or pillar, without ephod or teraphim. Afterward the children of Israel shall return and seek the Lord their God . . ." (Hosea 3:4, 5a RSV)

It was for this reason that the people of God were sent into the wilderness. In the loneliness and barreness of the desert, people would at last come to their senses. The goodness of God, thus, often comes in the most unlikely places. So Moses heard the voice of God from a burning bush in the desert. So in a lonely mountain cave Elijah heard the "still, small voice." So in the wilderness was Jesus tempted until he emerged victorious and ready for his mission.

Not to Enjoy

We may not like discipline, but we need it. We may not enjoy the wilderness, yet often it is in our despair, our loneliness, our sorrow there that we open our eyes and discover the deepest, most important realities God would reveal to us. These experiences are not sent to pay us back for our sins, but to win us back from them.

"And I will have pity on Not pitied, and I will say to Not my people, 'You are my people'; and he shall say, 'Thou art my God.'" (Hosea 2:23 RSV)

That is the reason for the wilderness.

Classes Present Macbeth

Two senior classes presented scenes from Shakespeare's play Macbeth on November 20, 21 and 22.

The play was presented to the seniors, juniors, and sophomores on successive mornings. Kathy Ridder and Chris Reckart directed the program. It was a reading with costumes and sound effects. Jeff Sincell and Arnold Miller were in charge of lighting and staging.

Harvey Speicher and Chris Reckart had the leading roles as Macbeth and Lady Macbeth. The witches were portrayed by Norma Dilgard, Judy Simpson, and Cynthia Tusing.

Others having parts in the play were Mike Bigler, Rick Beckman, Marvin Beckman, Nancy Glotfelty, Karen Lawson, Linda Weimer, Les McDaniel, John Crowe, Stanley Wildesen, Dave Sweitzer, Paula Savage, Karen Adams, Diana Fitzwater, and Bob Evans.

Kathy Ridder was the narrator.

Christmas Programs Planned

The steering committee made up of senior class officers and homeroom presidents of the senior class met to make plans for the annual Christmas Tea.

Miss Colabrese is making plans for the annual Christmas programs for the school and the PTA.

Hold Turkey Trot Dance

A Turkey Trot Dance was held on Wednesday, November 22, from eight to eleven p. m. It was sponsored by the Southern Speech Association.

On Saturday, Nov. 11, 9 girls, advisor and one mother traveled to Flintstone High School to attend the Region A meeting of the Future Homemakers of America. Before registration the girls had a snack and chat session with the Flintstone Chapter acting as hostesses.

The girls from Southern were in charge of the election of new Region A officers.

A feature was a speech by Miss Marie Gipe, Potomac Edison Company employe who has won the title of "Miss Enthusiasm". She spoke on the topic "Make the Most of Yourself".

Girls who attended from Southern were Linda Reckart, Mary Jane Sharpless, JoDella Sell, Faye Green, Terry VanSickle, Cynthia Sisler, Vickie Knotts, Deanna Bowen and Ruby Brennamen. Accompanying the girls were Mrs. Elizabeth Randol, advisor and Mrs. Harold Sharpless.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Eddie Humberson, who was killed November 23, 1965.
Do not ask us if we miss him,
There's such a vacant place.
Oft' I think I hear his footsteps,
And see his smiling face.
Days of sadness still come to us,
Tears in silence often flow.
Memory keeps him ever near us,
Though he left us two years ago.
Sadly missed,
Mother, Father and Family

CYSTOCELE CAN CAUSE PYELONEPHRITIS

Cystocele (pronounced SIS-toe-seal) means that the bladder has sagged somewhat and instead of emptying completely while urinating, some of the urine is retained. This provides an environment in which germs can flourish and the infection moves up into the kidneys. Pyelonephritis, the most common of all kidney troubles, can develop.

Sometimes surgical correction, which is not difficult, is necessary to cure a Cystocele. If you have any constantly recurring problem in that area, you should consult a physician. We stock the antibiotics and anti-infectives usually prescribed for treatment.

"YOUR HEALTH IS OUR BUSINESS"

Md. 4-H'ers Will Attend National Club Congress

Miss Horner Dunkes Smith Anderson

Four Maryland youths have won top state awards in 4-H Club programs and will go to Chicago for the 46th National 4-H Club Congress, Nov. 26-30.

They are Mary Ruth Horner, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Horner of Sparks, health program winner; John Dunkes, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Royston Dunkes, Reisterstown, tractor; Jerome Anderson, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Anderson of Thurmont, field crops science, and Wayne Smith, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, Jefferson, winner in the safety program.

At the 4-H Congress, Smith will compete for a $1,000 scholarship. The other three qualify for the $500 scholarship competition.

Miss Horner, a college student, prepared a survey on health facilities which was distributed to more than 100 families. Largely because of her efforts, her club won county and state awards for its health program in 1965 and 1966. She also has done a study on the effects of air pollution on Baltimore.

Eli Lilly and Company, health program sponsor, will be her Chicago host.

"Much of the work I have done in health has been carried over into junior leadership," writes Miss Horner. "I have always planned to pursue health studies for my career, and I feel that 4-H has helped prepare me."

Dunkes has found his work with the tractor helpful in other fields. He is a volunteer fireman and ambulance attendant. Dunkes has won five county project awards, and was named "boy of the year."

His trip is sponsored by the American Oil Foundation.

Anderson says he "learns by growing."

He found wheat a champion crop for him last year. The youth pays his own way; profits from cattle sales helped buy the machinery to work his crops. His trip is being sponsored by Amchem Products, Inc.

Smith started on his first safety project after two of his pets met with accidents. Since then the youth has conducted bicycle safety clinics, helped send first aid kits to South America, India, and South Vietnam, and has distributed safety literature and emergency phone stickers in his area.

The busy 4-H'er has also found time to help build the community fire hall, fight fires, and do a championship demonstration on the handling of fire extinguishers.

His 48 safety demonstrations, 40 talks, 40 exhibits and displays, and 50 safety topics written for newspapers all done in one year show a vigorous interest in safety. General Motors sponsors his trip to Chicago.

Eighth Grade Has Party

The eighth grade class had a class party November 18, in the auditorium of the school from 7:00 to 10:30. Eighteen members and two teachers were present.

FFA Field Trip Held

Referendum Set For Open Housing

The open housing law passed by the 1967 General Assembly, Maryland's first statewide prohibition against discrimination in housing was ordered Thursday, November 16, to a referendum vote.

Judge Harry E. Dyer, Jr., of Harford County Circuit Court, granted permission in a writ of mandamus to two segregationist groups whose petitions were ruled invalid on two occasions by Maryland Secretary of State C. Stanley Blair.

Dyer held that, despite a defective financial statement the two groups made a good faith and bona fide efforts to comply with constitutional requirements of the state's referendum statute.

The Maryland Taxpayers Association and the Maryland Petition Committee Inc. filed over 36,000 signatures calling for a voter test of the law, which became effective June 1.

The final form of the law, which was enacted less than hours before the end of the 1967 General Assembly, banned discrimination in the sale or rental of new rental housing constructed after June 1.

Today's decision forcing the popular vote imperils the open occupancy statute.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Stoltzfus and children and Miss Mary Petersheim arrived here from South Carolina. The Stoltzfus family spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Edwin Beachy. Miss Petersheim will be going with her mother and Floyd Petersheim to Delaware where they will attend a wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Beachy, the Atlee Hershbergers, Miss Anna Yoder, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Garber were Sunday dinner guests at Neil Nissley's, on Underwood Rd.

Mrs. Atlee Hershberger, Miss Cora Petersheim and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Petersheim were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sisk, Sunday evening. Mrs. John Bachtel visited them on Monday.

Mrs. Allen Petersheim had the following to dinner on Tuesday: Mrs. Ernest Schrock and daughter, Miriam, Mrs. Richard Hesse, Mrs. Henry Petersheim and Mrs. Lottie Peachy.

The Elmer Yoders, of Springs, spent a day with her sister, Miss Freida Lichty.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Cathell and sons, of Oakland, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Petersheim had as dinner guests, on Sunday, the Jesse Harsh family and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hesse and daughter Ruth.

CRELLIN

Sp5 Donald R. Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Ellis, of Crellin and Miss D'Lane White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim D. White of Orofina, Idaho, were united in marriage on Friday evening, November 17, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Ellis. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles Teets of the United Brethren church in Crellin. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Park and son and Mrs. Effie Sims of Crellin, Miss Ann Friend of Swallow Falls, Douglas Ellis, Miss Darlene Ellis, and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Ellis. Cake, ice cream and coffee were served to the guests following the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Glotfelty and son were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henline and daughter Patsy, Mt. Lake Park.

Mrs. Ellwood Adams returned to her home Saturday after being a patient in Memorial hospital, Cumberland, for a week. She was accompanied home by her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Knotts and family of that city.

Sp-5 Donald R. Ellis arrived in the states November 6, after spending the past year in Vietnam. He spent a week in Orofina, Idaho, before arriving home. Miss D'Lane White, of Orafina, visited Mr. and Mrs. Dale Ellis and family for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Jordan and daughter, of Preston, W. Va., visited Mr. and Mrs Luther Jordan and family, last Saturday.

The annual Odd Fellows and Rebekah Fellowship supper was held Saturday evening, November 18, at the Community building at Aurora. Turkey was served.

The Aurora Pioneer Jr. 4-H club met November 13 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sisler with 28 members present. Dianne Wotring gave a committee report on finance. A taffy pull and Christmas party is planned for December 11, instead of a New Year's eve party. They plan to fix boxes for shutins and give $1.00 to IFYE.

A defensive driving course will be given to interested persons December 6, 8 and 11, at the Aurora High school from 7 to 10 p. m. A fee of $2.00 will be charged. Anyone interested call Mrs. Ben Myers or Mrs. Ernest Shaffer by December 1.

Officers attending the 4-H training meeting held at Kingwood, Saturday, from Eglon, were Gretta Teets, Bruce Teets, Mary Roth, Neva Harsh and Krista Harsh.

The play, "Miss President, Please", presented by the Junior class, Friday evening, was well attended.

One in 14 American homes lacks piped water.

Lions Sponsoring Eye Glasses Drive

The Grantsville Lions Club met Thursday evening, Nov. 16 at the Hill Top Inn. President, Earl Opel presided.

The club is sponsoring a drive for used eye glasses (frames or lenses). The drive will close, Nov. 30. Collection points will be Casselman Motor Co., or Longstretch Market. Any Lions member, and the following schools:

Northern High, Yoder, Grantsville, Friendsville, Accident, and Route 40.

Luther Huff, in charge of the program, had Lion Courtney Tusing, First National Bank, Oakland, to speak on Wills and Trusts.

Six new members have been received into the club recently. They are: Terry Bell, Roy Knepp, Harold Lipscomb, John McKenzie, Robert McKenzie and Perry Edmundson.

Next meeting, Dec. 7, will be Ladies Night at Cornish Manor, Oakland. Following the dinner, the group will visit the Planetarium.

The Annual Christmas Party will be Dec. 21 at the Route 40 School Cafeteria. It will be a family dinner party.

J. W. Engle Rites Are Held Tuesday

Services were held Tuesday in Arlington, Va., for James W. Engle, 77, a native of Oakland and retired expert in utility plant design for the Army Corps of Engineers, who died Thursday, November 16 at his Arlington home from a heart attack.

Last rites were held at 11 a. m., in the Ives Funeral Home in Arlington, and interment was in Columbia Gardens Cemetery there.

Mr. Engle was graduated from Western Maryland College and later studied engineering at Johns Hopkins University.

After serving in the Navy during World War I, he joined the Army Engineers. He retired in 1957 as chief of the utility branch, Office of the Chief of Engineers, after 39 years with the corps.

He designed the water supply system at Fort Benning, Ga., and utilities at a number of Army Installations in the United States and abroad.

He was a past president of the Maryland-Delaware Water and Pollution Control.

He is survived by his wife, Marion G. Engle; two sons, James W. Engle, Jr., Swope, Va., and Lt. Col. Marshall G. Engle, serving in Korea, and a daughter, Mrs. John T. Hazel, Jr., Fairfax, Va.

Mr. Engle also leaves two brothers, Dr. Raleigh M. Engle, Norfolk, Va., and Fred Engle, Kissimmee, Fla.; two sisters, Mrs. William E. Dunkman, Rochester, N. Y., and Mrs. James R. Kennedy, Charleston, W. Va., and ten grandchildren.

Gov. Ronald Reagan believes city problems will overshadow the Vietnam war in the presidential race.

Urges Purchase Of Large Turkey

Go ahead and buy a big one this Thanksgiving. A big turkey looks great on the dinner table. And when the main meal is over, you'll have lots of tasty turkey meat left to use in all kinds of delicious ways, announced Mrs. Freda S. Denison, Extension Agent, Home Economics.

Big turkeys are a good buy. Not only do they usually sell for a few cents less per pound than the smaller ones, but the bigger ones also have a larger proportion of meat to bone. So you get a bargain two ways. As for other uses, here are a few ideas by Mrs. Denison:

How about turkey sandwiches- with tomato, lettuce and mayonnaise? Or a turkey pinwheel? For this, finely chopped turkey with chopped celery and onion is spread evenly over biscuit dough. Roll the dough like a jelly roll, cut into slices, bake the "pinwheels" at 450 degrees F. for 20 minutes.

Turkey meat can also be used for salad. Combine diced turkey with grapes, pineapple chunks, and apple wedges. Chill until just before serving time. Blend the salad lightly with salad dressing and serve on lettuce. Top with almonds if desired.

Turkey turnovers are another treat. . . .a filling of chopped turkey, chopped onion, concentrated cream of chicken soup, and chopped parsley is poured on uncooked pastries cut into circles. The pastries are then folded in half and baked at 425 degree F. for 40 min.

The following Homemakers clubs will meet and the food chairmen will give demonstrations on "Convenience Foods":

Nov. 27, Cove Club at the home of Mrs. Dennis Margroff at 8:00 p. m.

Nov. 28, Bittinger Club at the home of Mrs. Ralph Buckel at 12:30; Sunnyside Club at the home of Mrs. Robert Dodge at 1:30 p. m.

Sunday Nov. 26 at 7:45 p. m. the Cove Homemakers Club will sponsor the Crestmen Quartet, at the Accident Fire Hall. No admission will be charged, but a free will offering will be taken. The public is invited.

Church Women Meet

The LCW of Zion Lutheran Church, Jennings, met with five members in attendance.

Mrs. Ernest Handwerk presented the topic, "The Tender Transplants". The principal aims of the theme were to help the church woman to: Understand the church as a universal fellowship of Christian believers, unrestricted by community or congregational boundaries; recognize the effect of mobility upon life in the family, church and community; and to see the importance of establishing a relationship with the local congregation as soon as possible in spite of frequent changes of address.

Leota Baker presided at the business meeting. The LCW periodical, "Guidelines" was distributed.

The next meeting will be held on December 3, with Mrs. Joe Resh leading the topic, "The Gifting Hour". All offerings for the year are to be submitted by this time. A gift exchange will follow.

Charles McCrobie Lana Fazenbaker Wed November 4

Miss Lana Jane Fazenbaker became the bride of Charles Samuel McCrobie, November 4, during a double ring service performed in the Bloomington Methodist Church.

Rev. Edgar Cole officiated. Organist, Mrs. Helen Hutchinson, accompanied Miss Norma Kay Fazenbaker, vocalist, cousin of the bride.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard F. Fazenbaker, Bloomington. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Catherine McCrobie, Accident, and the late Paul McCrobie.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown with the bodice made of lace, edged in pearls which also trimmed the angel sleeves. The A-line skirt was of white velvet, enhanced by a lace cathedral train. A three-tiered fingertip length veil of English illusion net fell from a cabbage rose headdress studded with pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations with an orchid center and English ivy.

Miss Carolyn Sue Rodriguez was her cousin's maid of honor. Miss Gretchen D. Uber, Oakland; Miss Sally Moran, cousin of the bride, Westernport; Miss Barbara Harvey, Swanton, and Miss Deanna Sutton, Deer Park, were bridemaids.

Flower girl was Miss Rona Stickley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Stickley, Keyser.

Frank McCrobie, Friendsville, was his brother's best man. Ushers were Sam Friend, Reed Rodeheaver and Larry Lewis, cousins of the bridegroom, and Bernard L. Fazenbaker, brother of the bride, Bloomington. Randy Lee Fazenbaker, brother of the bride, was ringbearer.

A reception followed at the American Legion Home in Westernport with Miss Diane Daniels registering guests and Mrs. Mildred Bray attending the gift table. Mrs. Margaret Rodriguez, Mrs. Marylou Moran and Mrs. Margie Brandlen, aunts of the bride, served the cake. Punch was served by Mrs. Mildred Fazenbaker and Miss Sharon Pattison.

For travel through Pennsylvania, the bride chose a three-piece blue knit suit with black accessories and an orchid corsage taken from her bouquet.

A graduate of Bruce High School and Catherman's Business School, the bride is employed by IBMI in Oakland.

Mr. McCrobie, a graduate of Northern High School, is employed by the Department of Forests and Parks, Oakland.

To Sing In Oratorio

Miss Alleta Jane Umbel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel S. Wampler of Route 2, Friendsville, will sing alto with the Bob Jones University Oratorio Society and Orchestra in Bach's "Christmas Oratorio" at the university in Greenville, S. C., on November 25 and 26. Miss Umbel is a freshman at BJU majoring in Political Christian Training in the School of Religion.

Mr. Close-Miss Arbogast Wed In Cumberland Oct. 28

Miss Deborah Lee Arbogast became the bride of David William Close on October 28 during a double ring ceremony performed in the Centre Street Methodist Church, Cumberland. Rev. Owen E. Osborne officiated. Mrs. Kenneth Wolf accompanied vocalist James Hager.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Arbogast, 715 Memorial Avenue, Cumberland. Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Close, Oakland, are the parents of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an opal peau de soie gown, fashioned with an empire bodice and overlay of English net, appliqued in ivory Swiss lace which formed the long pointed sleeves and etched the high neckline in scallops. The crisp flare of the A-line skirt repeated the lace motif and sloped gently to form the chapel train. A raised mantilla of candlelight illusion, bordered in ivory lace, cascaded to the tip of the train. She carried a cascade bouquet of white pompons surrounding a white orchid.

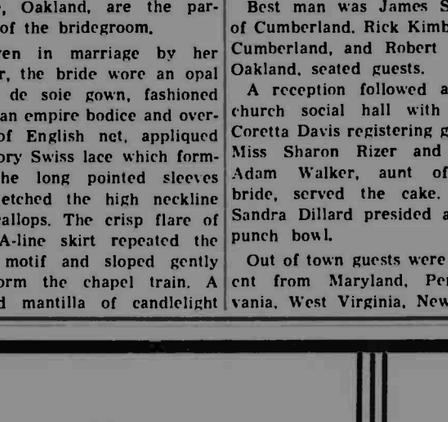
The only jewelry worn by the bride were pearl earrings, gift of the bridegroom.

Maid of honor was Miss Sally Seiler, Beltsville. Bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Arbogast and Miss Paula Arbogast, sisters of the bride, Cumberland.

Best man was James Snider of Cumberland. Rick Kimberlin, Cumberland, and Robert Lohr, Oakland, seated guests.

A reception followed at the church social hall with Miss Coretta Davis registering guests. Miss Sharon Rizer and Mrs. Adam Walker, aunt of the bride, served the cake. Miss Sandra Dillard presided at the punch bowl.

Out of town guests were present from Maryland, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, New Jersey, Virginia, Washington, D. C. and Arkansas.



For travel to Pennsylvania, the bride wore a three-piece brown and beige knit suit with brown accessories and a white orchid corsage lifted from her bouquet.

A graduate of Fort Hill High School, Mrs. Close attended Frostburg State College and is employed by Sacred Heart Hospital.

A graduate of Southern High School, and Allegany Community College, Mr. Close attended the University of Maryland. A member of the Naval Reserve, he is employed by Auto Electric Carburetor in Cumberland.

The couple resides at 511 Washington Street, Cumberland.

Reese, Oester Vows Recited Nov. 4

The United Church of Christ, New Germany, was the setting for the November 4 wedding of Miss Sharon Elaine Oester and Thomas Francis Reese.

Rev. Ernest Rumbaugh, Jr. officiated at the double ring ceremony. Organist, Miss Terri Wengerd, provided traditional music.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Oester, Grantsville, are the parents of the bride. Mr. Reese, Washington, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Reese, Alexandria, Va.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of satin overlay, fashioned with a modified skirt and long tapered sleeves. Her headpiece was a crown of seed pearls and sequins. She carried a white orchid with white satin streamers.

Maid of honor was Miss Sharon Kamp, Grantsville.

Best man for his brother was Jeff Reese, Havre de Grace. Ushers were Wayne Oester, brother of the bride, and Rodney Warnick, both of Grantsville.

A reception followed at the church social hall with Mrs. Delwood Merrill and Mrs. Mildred Durst assisting.

For her going-away ensemble, the bride selected a winter-white wool dress with black patent accessories and an orchid corsage taken from her bouquet.

A graduate of Northern High School, the bride is employed at Walter Reed Medical Center, Washington.

Mr. Reese recently returned from a stint in Vietnam with the Army.

The couple will reside in Washington.

Need Wise Decision . . .

There have been plenty of words spoken and written about the selection of the site for the community college, that it is unnecessary to go over them once again. They point to the fact that the Glotfelty-Wagner land would be the best site available. State officials have indicated it, the Board of Education, the Community college committee and the specially appointed site committee all agree. The architects already have proceeded on the premise that that would be the site and have spent several thousand dollars in the process. They also declared their preference for it. We believe the selection of site No. 1 would be a wise decision for the County Commissioners. They have indicated that some decision would be reached by the end of this week. We hope that they will put aside any personal preference and accept the decision of groups who have looked at the site with a long range view in mind. We hope that the commissioners will decide wisely.

Fair Assets Now Total $23,750.68

Financial Report Given; Directors Named For New Year

Seventy persons were in attendance at the dinner meeting held Tuesday evening by the Board of Directors for the Garrett County Fair.

H. G. Gortner presided over the meeting, at which progress reports and the annual financial statement were heard. At the election of Board members, three were re-elected and two were replaced. John J. Brenneman, Fredlock Schenk, and Claude Wagner, Jr., were re-elected, while Mrs. Robert O. Glotfelty and George Shawley will replace Mrs. O. C. Glotfelty and Dan W. Klotz.

Other directors are Charles Bowman, Harry Collier, Arthur Fitzwater, Mrs. Donald Newman, Hubert Friend, Gerald Glotfelty, Robert L. Glotfelty, Lawrence Glover, H. G. Gortner, Mrs. Leslie Guard, Mrs. Robert Hoffman, James Linginger, F. Ray Mattingly, Allen S. Paugh, and Ross Crowe.

A re-organizational meeting will be held in December, when officers for the Fair will be elected.

Financial report for the year showed a healthy assets total of $23,750.68, an increase of $2,658.17 over the November, 1966, assets. Receipts for the fiscal year from November 1, 1966, until November 1, 1967 totalled $28,185.74, an amount which included the $7,348.96 cash on hand in November, 1966.

Included among the receipts were $141.38 bank interest; $5,500.00 State Fair Allocations; $500.00 Garrett County Commissioners; $2,863.46 carnival receipts; $8,264.54 gate receipts; $150.00 prize contributions; $1,482.60 commercial displays; $1,406.00 advertising; $488.80 lunch stands; $40.00 stock.

Expenses of $1,526.45 for rent; $5,222.50 for premiums; $565.00 for parade prizes; $116.00 for the tractor pulling contest; $619.25 for electricity; $43.01 for telephone; $5,297.13 for capital improvements; $449.80 for insurance and bonds; $73.13 for social security and unemployment; $40.82 for postage and stationery; $934.73 for book and program printing; $1,312.56 for advertising; $870.00 for entertainment; $1,212.50 for labor; $603.60 dinners and judges lunches; $120.00 for honorariums; $35.00 for annual meeting refreshments; $492.20 for supplies; $339.08 for ribbons; and $213.17 for miscellaneous items.

Schools to Open Basketball Season Next Wednesday

Both high school basketball teams will open their seasons next Wednesday evening, December 6. Most of the games are scheduled for Tuesdays and Fridays.

Southern High school will open at home against Valley High school of Lonaconing. Northern High school will journey to Westernport for a game against the Bruce High Bulldogs.

Northern High has a nineteen game schedule, with a home and home series with Bruce, Bruceton, Salisbury, Oldtown, Bayard, Southern, Elk Garden, Terra Alta and Valley, with a single game against the alumni.

Southern's schedule calls for 18 games but this doesn't include a game with the alumni which usually is played during the Christmas holiday period. Bill Watson is head coach of the Highlanders with Tom Kuhn JV coach and Wayne Johnson as Junior high coach. Lilburn Brown will coach the Northern Huskies.

More than forty boys turned out for Southern's first basketball practice held November 15. There were five returning lettermen. Bill Hawkins, Harvey Speicher, Bob Evans, Andy Cosby and Jack Alvarez. Thirteen boys were retained for the varsity by Coach Watson, Evans, Hawkins, Speicher and Cosby and Mike Trickett, seniors; Pat Flanagan, Randy Overdorff, Dave Bosley, Eddy Pay Poling, Steve Severe, juniors; Gene Harmon, spohomore; and Fred McClellan, freshman. Two of them, Overdorff and McClellan, are transfers from other school districts.

Coach Watson said he expected a good season and said the spirit of the boys was higher than ever. Three schools have been added to the schedule with single games with Mountaineer High and Kingwood High, and home games with Aurora. Other home games are scheduled with Valley, Bayard, Bruce, Terra Alta, Tunnelton, Northern, Elk Garden.

Both athletic directors at the two schools announced that the price of admission would be increased to 50 cents for students and $1.00 for adults. Dick Travis, at Southern, said the increase in the price of equipment, officials and transportation necessitated the increase.

The battle of Dak To has been measured to be the most ferocious battle of the war.

A Gateway To Vacation Land

Above is the slogan that won the Judge's award for first place in the contest to determine the winner for the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland award. Cheryl Ashby, 10 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ashby had the winning slogan and received a $25.00 Savings Bond from Mayor Russell Smith at the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions meeting Monday night. Along with Mayor Smith and the Ashbys, the Lions had as their guests two of the Judges at the meeting in the Allegheny Room, Associate Judge Stuart Hamill and Harry L. Stemple. Mrs. Diane Thayer, the third judge, was not present.

The slogan will be placed directly under the "Welcome to Oakland" on the new signs that will be erected at the entrances to Oakland. Thomas Cain was the Chairman for the Lions on this project. The signs are being made and will be erected as soon as possible. All Service Clubs have been asked to have their sign made available for the large sign that will be erected.

Aurora Officer Dies In Vietnam 'Copter Crash

Listed As Missing In Action November 14

First Lt. Randall Dale Shaffer, 21-year-old Army Infantryman of Aurora, W. Va., died in South Vietnam after being a passenger aboard a helicopter which crashed after it was shot down by enemy ground fire.

Lt. Shaffer had previously been reported missing on November 14 when the helicopter went down on a reconnaisance mission.

Born February 20, 1946 in Aurora, the son of Ernest W. and Marguerite (Shillingburg) Shaffer, Aurora, Lt. Shaffer had only been in Vietnam since June 5, 1967. He was attached to the LNO, 1st Battalion, 35th Infantry.

OCS Graduate

A 1963 graduate of Aurora High School, Lt. Shaffer attended West Virginia University and was employed by Seco Steel Products Company, Washington, as a draftsman and detailer. He entered the service on January 4, 1966.

He received basic training at Fort Benning, Ga., and was graduated from Officers Candidate School at Fort Benning December 5 of last year. He was stationed there until being transferred to Vietnam.

Besides his parents, he is survided by his widow, Judith Ann (Adams) Shaffer; 14-month-old daughter Lisa Rence Shaffer, at home; one sister, Mrs. Ronald Freeman, Alexandria, Va.; and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Shillingburg, Aurora.

He was a member of the Aurora Methodist Church. Lt. Shaffer's father is supervisor of the State Roads Commission in Preston County.

The body was returned to the Leighton-Durst Funeral Home in Oakland. A full military service was conducted at the Aurora Methodist Church at 2 p. m. Wednesday by Rev. Frank Snyder. Interment was in Aurora cemetery.

One Of Semi-Finalists

Mark James Small, 17, a Nevada, California high school senior, is among the 14,000 students across the nation who have been named as semi-finalists in the 1967 National Merit Scholarship competition.

His score on the National Merit Scholarship qualifying test was among the highest recorded in California, according to Nevada High School's principal. Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Small and a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Britten Martin, of Mt. Lake Park.

County FFBL Winners To Be Honored At Dinner

The Garrett County winners of the Farming For Better Living program this year, Mr. and Mrs. G. Emerson Bishoff and their son George Bishoff will be honored at a regional meeting sponsored by the Morgantown area chamber of commerce, to be held at the Hotel Morgan on Friday, December 8.

Members of the county's FFBL council are invited guests to the gathering at which time the five 1967 winners will be presented and the regional winner announced.

Members of the Garrett County Mental Health association will meet Thursday afternoon, December 7, at two o'clock in the board room of the First National bank. It was announced by Mrs. Eugene J. Baumgartner, president.

Cor Skids, Overturns

A young Landover girl ran into some bad luck Tuesday morning as she was traveling to Clarksburg, W. Va., from Washington, D. C. to visit a girl friend. Her 1968 Camaro skidded out of control about 6:30 a. m. near State Line, west of Red House, on Route 50, and came to rest on its top.

Miss Robin Selby, the only occupant of the car, was unhurt by the accident, although considerable damage was done to her car, which she had purchased just four days previously.

450 Deer Slain First Five Days Of Buck Ssason

Season Began Fairly Lively But Tapered Off This Week

Four hundred fifty bucks were slain during the first five days of the 8-day season, it was learned this morning from Harold Harman, from the Mt. Nebo game reserve. The number was totaled from the four deer checking stations in the county plus one at Westernport and one at LaVale, in Allegany county.

This was 41 short of the deer kill for the same period last year, when 491 were reported.

Game wardens say definitely that the pressure is off as far as number of deer hunters is concerned. In the Swallow Falls area 245 cars were checked last Friday in comparison to 18 yesterday. In another checking it was shown that a majority of those killing deer were from this county and not from other sections of the state. Of 122 deer checked for the first two days in the Oakland area 63 of them had been killed by local persons.

Mr. Harmon said the average weight of those checked Friday and Saturday was 113.6 pounds.

Largest weighted buck was 178 pounds, a ten-pointer checked at Storey's on Deep Creek Lake. Largest rack of horns was tabulated at Oakland where Paul Sharpless showed up with a 12-pointer weighing 166 pounds. Some other large ones included Ed Park, 10, 175; John Holliday, 11, 156; and Kenneth H. Tichnell, of Washington county, 10, 152.

At least nine women have been successful. Bessie Treadway, Fay Ellifritz, Elizabeth Herman, Isabel Terrant, Bertie Hinebaugh, Wanda Sweitzer, Dorothy Niner, Thelma Calhoun and Ruth Callis reported kills anywhere from 5 points to 10 points and weighing anywhere from 100 pounds to 149 pounds.

The tabulation showed the following: Friday, 154; Saturday, 212; Monday, 48; Tuesday, 17; Wednesday, 19, total 450. The totals by checking station: Oakland, 148; Friendsville, 68; Storey, 83; Grantsville, 121; Westernport, 28; and LaVale, 2.

The Allegany county total for the five days is 481.

The season will continue through today, Friday and Saturday. According to the present law, there will be a doe season on December 15 and 16, unless the Game commission changes the law at the last minute.

The list of deer kill for the first few days at Oakland included the following:

Playhouse Tickets On Sale

The annual Christmas sale of the Garrett County Playhouse subscriptions is now in effect. It will continue until December 31.

Price of subscriptions until the end of the year is $15. After January 1 the price will be $16.50.

Still looking for a home is a black and brown male mixed breed dog, which has been in the pound since last week. The dog, not wearing a collar when found, was picked up in the vicinity of Dr. Alvin Friend's residence along Route 219.

Shirt Makers Plan Extension in Grantsviiie

Flushing Manufacturers To Add 28,000 sq ft. Floor Space

A firm that manufactures uniform shirts for police, firemen, postal employes, airlines and the military services, will expand its operations in Grantsville.

The Flushing Shirt Manufacturing Company, Inc., which moved to Grantsville in 1953 and last expanded facilities in 1956, will add a three-story structure to the building in which it now operates.

The Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department, which owns the building and also maintains the headquarters there, local lending institutions and the firemen agreed last week on the necessity of adding approximately 28,000 square feet of floor space to the present facilities.

The addition will provide more manufacturing space, storage and shipping facilities as well as additional office space.

The Flushing Company is the only manufacturing operation owned by B. Lippman, Inc., of New York. The company has been in operation more than 30 years.

The new structure will be located at the front and southeast end of the present building and will include two floors matching the present top two floors and an additional ground floor. The size will be 159 by 80 feet. The present building is 225 by 60 feet. The shirt company will use the upper two levels for expansion of its manufacturing operation and the inclusion of new equipment to make permanent press clothing.

James Vincent, manager, said the additional equipment and expansion to permanent-press manufacturing will cost the firm an estimated $150,000.

"The firm presently employs 175 persons and will hire at least 100 more when the expansion is completed. Mr. Vincent said as many as 125 new employes may be needed.

Mr. Vincent said the company decided to expand its present facilities because of the ample labor market and the past good relations with the community.

In order to bring about the expansion, a $280,000 rental-lease agreement has been reached between the Flushing firm and the parties involved, with repayment scheduled in 12 years.

Virgil Beachy, fire department president, signed the agreement for the owners. Robert Durst represented the lending institutions; Charles C. Bender, the borough, Mr. Vincent, the firm; and John C. Hershberger, the contractor.

Weather Exhibits Change of Pace

Weather for the past week has had a few tricks up its sleeve, beginning and ending with the most infamous one of all - snow. Thanksgiving day began with snow flurries and cold temperatures, although the day did warm up slightly before all the turkey had disappeared.

Friday dawned with clear skies and a low temperature near 15. During the afternoon, cloud cover began forming, which raised the mercury to 35, but brought sleet, rain and wind for Saturday. Saturday's temperatures ranged around the 40 degree mark, with skies again clearing late in the day.

Like unto a spring day was Sunday, (only slightly colder), with its sunny skies and warmer temperatures. Monday also was comparatively warm, with a 38 degree high and cloudless skies.

The windiness of Tuesday was a topic for comment everywhere; the icy high of 24 contributed to the chill of the day. Wednesday saw a 33 degree high, with clear skies during the day, but (this was the weather's greatest trick of the week) sometime after everyone was sleeping unsuspectingly, snow clouds sneaked into the county and dumped four inches of cold covering before morning. Temperatures were at the 23 degree mark, and snow appeared to be falling in earnest at 8 a. m.

PLEADS FOR DECISION–Gordon Douglass, chairman of the Junior college citizens' committee, explains a point Monday to the large number of interested persons who attended a meeting in the court room in an attempt to get the County Commissioners to agree on a site for the junior college. Each commissioner had a different site picked. Facing him are William Platter, former president of the County PTA council and now chairman of family life committee for the State PTA council; and Mrs. Elsie Brady, former school board member. At left may be seen Hubert Friend with Allen S. Paugh in rear, county commissioners. Ross Sines, the third commissioner, is hidden behind Paugh.

Judge Upholds Decision of Liquor Control Board

Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill heard a petition on Tuesday that the court review the decision of the Liquor Control Board which denied a beer license to E. O. Bosley, operator of Old Mill restaurant at Gorman. Following the hearing Judge Hamill upheld the decision of the Liquor Control Board in denying the license.

The Board, in declaring its reasons for the original decision cited one item in the law which states it "shall be the duty of the Garrett County Board of License Commissioners, before issuing any license hereunder, to determine whether business to be operated by the prospective licensee is likely to enhance the recreational, business and economic development of the county. If the Board in its discretion determines that the issuance of such license will not enhance such development within the county it shall reject the application of such license".

A petition against the issuance of such license also was presented with 78 names attached. There was also a letter from a minister citing the overwhelming vote against liquor in district 8 during two elections held in recent years. Clarence Penman represented Mr. Bosley and W. Dwight Stover represented the liquor board.

Edwards Helped Spark Fairmont Team to Victory

George Edwards, of Grantsville, and former three letter athlete at Northern High school, was given credit along with a Cumberland student for sparking a victory of Fairmont State college's football team over Northern Michigan 21 to 7 in Fairmont last Saturday. The victory entitles the Fairmont team a berth in the NAIA finals for small colleges.

Edwards is a sophomore wingback, scored Fairmont's first touchdown on a 19-yard pass from sopohomore quarterback John Kara of Republic, Pa.

The Fairmont Falcons started the opening drive on their 31-yard line and on the first play Roy Michael passed 38 yards to end Jim Mertens, of Cumberland. Six plays later Edwards caught the scoring pass.

Man Injured In Collision Monday

Forrest Miller, 47, of Pocahontas, Pa., was hospitalized Monday following a two-vehicle accident along U. S. route 40, in this county.

Mr. Miller was admitted to Miners hospital in Frostburg for X-rays and observation. His condition was reported as "good".

Authorities said a coal truck was traveling up the western slope of Big Savage Mountain when Mr. Miller apparently attempted to pass, striking the left side of the coal truck.

Eastern Star To Elect

Members of Oakland Chapter No. 67, Order of Eastern Star, will have election of officers and initiatory work on December 5, at 8 p. m., at the lodge hall, officers have announced.

Joanny Jones Is National Winner In 4-H Contest

Joanny Jones, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Wayman Jones, Bowling Green, last Saturday won a national award at the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

She won one of the $500 scholarships awarded at the Congress by Standard Brands, Inc., New York. Her prize winning effort was for baking bread. Earlier this year she was selected as Maryland's top winner in 4-H bread projects and named as a delegate to the Chicago event.

Joanny said she is glad she tried her luck at baking bread as a 4-H project in 1959. Currently she is a junior at the University of Maryland as a Home Economics major and plans to become a Cooperative Extension service agent so she can continue her work with the 4-H program.

Miss Jones has been a 4-H club member ten years, first joining in 1957 in Marion county, W. Va., where she baked her first loaf of bread.

When her family moved to Oakland she continued her 4-H work in bread, clothing, foods, nutrition, beef and junior leadership and recreation projects. "The first time I mixed, shaped and baked bread by myself, it was a complete success," she said. Since then she has had only two "flops" while baking 10 crumb coffee cakes, 483 loaves of white bread, 219 dozen white rolls, 90 drop biscuits, 49 loaves of Italian bread, and 114 loaves of whole wheat bread.

Joanny said her two flops were because yeast was too old or too warm. She has won many awards at both the Garrett and Allegany county fairs.

Site Decision On Jr. College Expected Soon

Compromise Is Suggested To Break Deadlock On Location

Parents and interested citizens of the county who voted to support the junior college, appeared in large numbers before the County Commissioners on Monday morning to insist that they put up the county's share of the money for the land and college building and agree on a location for the college, but the two and one-half hour session brought no definite answer.

There was agreement that some decision would be made before the end of the week, by the three county commissioners, Allen S. Paugh, Hubert Friend and Ross Sines. Up to the present time each commissioner has favored a different site, all however, in the McHenry area. The site favored by Mr. Paugh is the one which has been approved by the State Department of Public Improvements, the Board of Education, and the Community college committee. A site committee had picked the Gerald Glotfelty farm area, along with a property owned by Robert O. Glotfelty, many months ago. Later arrangements were made for some additional acreage from the Claude Wagner farm which adjoins, when the state officials said some sixty acres would be necessary for them to approve the college site.

It was not until after the special election last June when the citizens voted over two to one in favor of the college, that two other sites were suggested. Ross Sines favored the White Face farm, while Hubert Friend favored the Yoder farm, further down the Mosser road and containing 160 acres.

At the meeting Monday morning some 135 or more persons gathered, necessitating moving the hearing to the court room. Gordon Douglass, chairman of the citizens' community college committee, served as chairman, and when it was apparent that the Commissioners would not bend, a compromise solution was suggested.

The Board of Education had previously agreed if compromise was necessary, to abide

Lost Hunter On Piney Reappears

A deer hunter from Monkton, who became lost in the woods on Piney Mountain last Friday, turned up none the worse for his experience on Saturday, but not before a large scale search had been made by State Police, members of the Sheriff's office, Forestry department personnel and volunteers.

Charles Theodore Cannon, 40, became lost from his party Friday evening. After wandering around most of the night he was found by an official of the Youghiogheny Mountain club, of the Cranesville road section, on Saturday morning. In the meantime an intensive search had been conducted.

The man, after he had been directed to the Cranesville road, joined a member of his hunting party and continued to hunt, but apparently did not notify the sheriff's office immediately, or other member of his party. The searchers continued to hunt until shortly after noon when it was learned that further search was unnecessary.

"Hey, Santa, is it real?" is what one small tyke seems to be whispering into Santa Claus' beard during the parade marking the opening of the Christmas shopping season. Many area children got a chance to tell Santa their wishes for Christmas while he was in town.

Student Debaters Vie In Tourney

Over the Thanksgiving holiday, the Southern High debaters took part in the 7th Annual Central Catholic Invitational Forensic Tournament at Pittsburgh. The debaters had 8 losses and 4 wins. Judy Simpson and Cyndi Mayle winning three debates for the affirmative, Jim Jones and Linda Weimer winning one for the negative.

Accompanying the team were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Simpson, Bill Buchanan, Leah Stoner, Val Smouse, Michael Posey, coach. The debating took place in the Cathedral of Learning of Carnegie Institute, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Schools attending this tournament came from fifteen eastern states. It was the biggest tournament held on the East coast.

The SSA will also start a weekly radio broadcast on WMSG, every Sunday from 12:45 to 1:00. The students will handle the program, featuring examples of various phases of speech.

Hootenanny Held at Northern

Wednesday night, November 29, Northern's second Hootenanny was held. Returning this year, were The Thunderhill Singers, a quartet of folk singers and comedians. Also featured were The Valley Troubadours, a country and western singing group; U S (Nity and Micky), a comedy duo; and The Gross National Product, a group of pop singers. The money made at the Hootenanny will go into the treasury of the Boosters' club.

Student Goes to Chicago

Tuesday afternoon Bonnie Buckel, a senior at Northern, left for her trip to Chicago. During the trip, she will be present at the "Conference on the Atom". Bonnie entered and won a contest which was mainly concerned with scientific aspects, science projects she had made, and her various experiences of leadership.

New Student Council Projects

Recently the Student Council announced plans for two new projects. The first deals with a new alma mater for Northern High. At present the old one is sung to the tune of 'Battle Hymn of the Republic', and has found disfavor among the student body. A contest, to promote the writing of a new alma mater, will be sponsored by the Student Council in the near future. Any student at Northern may enter, and, from those entered, one will be chosen.

The second project is co-sponsored by the Student Council and the Home Economics Department. As a memorial to Mrs. Martha Lawton, the late Home Economics teacher at Northern, a plot of ground will be selected for the planting of daffodils, or jonquils. Each student was asked to bring a bulb from this flower to plant in remembrance of Mrs. Lawton.

The regular cluub meetings were held Tuesday, November 28, with new cluh members participating in initiation.

Senior Class Party

The cafetorium was the scene for the senior's "Early Thanksgiving Party", Wednesday night, November 22, from 7:30 - 11:00 p m. Refreshments, traditional of the season, were served and various games were played.

Mathias Undergoes Surgery Monday

Rep. Charles McC. Mathias, Republican congressman from Maryland's 6th district, had an operation at Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore Monday for a ruptured disc.

The 45-year-old congressman had been treated for the same problem November 2 to 13 at the Naval Medical center in Bethesda.

Mathias' office in Washington said he would be in the hospital for about 10 days. He was given therapy and bedrest during his stay at Bethesda. The ailment was described as a common orthopedic problem.

Mathias is considered a likely candidate for the Republican nomination for U. S. Senate next year. Democratic Senator Daniel Brewster is up for election. Prior to his election to congress in 1960 Mathias was city attorney for Frederick, an assistant attorney general of Maryland and a member of the Maryland House of Delegates. He resides in Chevy Chase but maintains his farm home near Frederick as his legal residence.

★ MERRY CHRISTMAS ★

Since it's never in, it's never out.

Each year the new cars come rolling out with the latest frills.

Wow.

And each year the old Volkswagen rolls out looking just the same.

Ho hum.

But when the year goes by, new fads soon outdate the old fads. And the hottest-looking car last year is just that: the hottest-looking car last year.

But a VW is still just a VW. Not looking up-to-date, but not looking out-of-date either. (So you'll never have a Has-Been on your hands when you want to sell it.)

Instead of wasting time making the VW look better, we spend our time making it work better.

And this year there are dozens of ways it works better. (That makes over 2200 in all since it first started working period.)

In the end, the choice is yours: pay a big price for a year of glory.

Or a small price for a VW.

Hawkins Favors Original Site For Community College

A statement "making clear my stand on the site selection" of the community college was made this week by Willard L. Hawkins, superintendent of schools.

He said:

"During the past thirteen years I have made decisions relative to our schools on the premise of what is good for the schools, as near as it has been possible for me to do so. I do not expect to change this premise during the few months that I have remaining as Superintendent of Schools in Garrett County. I feel that what is best for the junior college in Garrett County is the best site possible. I therefore want the record to show that I am not in favor of any change in site, as the Glotfelty-Wagner site is by any standards the best site for the college and will serve the best interests of the college for years to come.

"I am never adverse to compromise when both sides are dealing in good faith. Compromise at times is necessary and good. But when one side is motivated entirely by petty political spite work, as is the case in attempting to change the site for the college, no compromise is justified.

"In communication with a member of the State Department of Education who deals with buildings and planning, the question was asked whether or not the Yoder farm would be approved if the decision is made to relocate the site of the college on this farm. The answer was that the State Department would cooperate in every way possible, but would need to re-study the whole site, and be satisfied that proper attention would be given to the swamp conditions in front of the farm, as well as to proper access roads.

"To satisfy these demands the Superintendent estimates that this land in the final analysis will end up costing $25,000 more than the Glotfelty-Wagner site, the one originally unanimously chosen by all parties concerned as the ideal site for the college—and voted on by the people.

"The only reason on earth there could be to change the site of the college would be to save the taxpayers a sum of money sufficient to justify it. To move to the Yoder farm just the opposite will result, to say nothing of the loss in dollars due to delay, while building costs soar.

"With this statement as a matter of record for the peope of Garrett County, the Superintendent will willingly use his efforts to get the college project moving at any site finally approved by the Board of Trustees and the Board of Public Works in their efforts to compromise the present impasse with the County Commissioners. With the delay caused by the refusal to provide money for the approved site, it is not likely that construction can start on any site before the early spring of 1969, and then at 1969 prices".

Site Decision

by the decision of the Commissioners, provided they would agree to selecting the Yoder property, which was the No. 2 site approved by the State committee, but that did not receive much favor from those in attendance who were strong for the No. 1 site. It was generally agreed that the nearness of the airport on the White Face farm was not favorable for a college site, and the terrain was not too favorable. Mr Paugh who had declared he had been in favor of the college from the very beginning, still favored site 1, the Glotfelty and Wagner tracts.

The Board of Trustees of the proposed college, which at present is the Board of Education, has been of the opinion that the Commissioners actually have nothing to do with the site selection, but has felt that there must be harmony between the two groups. The Commissioners signed resolutions to approve the construction of a college, and agreed to furnish the funds to take care of preliminary expenditures, but thus far have made no move, pending site selection.

It was also felt that the Board of Trustees could force action by a mandamus suit in the circuit court, but appeared unwilling to make the move due to possible delay in getting the program started.

Some action was deemed necessary to get the project moving, people pointing out that each month's delay would cause a rise in the costs of material and labor.

Another resolution which sought the state grant of $947,500 for the junior college had been adopted previously by the commissioners.

The state committee, following an appraisal, reported: "that site A, the Glotfelty-Wagner site, provided adequate acreage, has a good road network already in being, with primary and secondary access and egress points, has best accessibility, will have site development costs much less than site B or C; no clearance costs; is on high ground, overlooking surrounding terrain; is in attractive site, and limited only by its irregular shape".

Mr. Douglas endeavored to get the Commissioners to agree that once the site was selected, that the commissioners would cooperate in providing the funds as ordered by law, and not harass the officials in plans for construction, etc., but no definite agreement was reached.

Those favoring the college voiced their opinion that the referendum last summer was mandate enough for the commissioners to act; that the site recommended by the site selection committtee had been approved by the Board of Education and state agencies involved and the architectural firm of Johannes and Murray, and there was no further reason for delay.

Assisting Mr. Douglas in presenting information were S. R Pagenhardt, attorney to the Board of Education; Mrs. Elsie Brady, former member of the Board, and William Platter, former president of the County Council of Parents and teachers. Quite a few citizens also voiced their opinions during the lengthy session.

At one time it was jokingly suggested by someone in the audience: "Let's buy all three sites, and then each commissioner will have his own". Mr. Douglass and Dr. Joe Alvarez had spent several hours on the three sites and even made an aerial inspection trip, to confirm their original belief in the No. 1 site as the best available.

"The Crestmen" To Appear

A local recording group, "The Crestmen Quartet," will be the feature of a Campus Life Rally presented by Mt. Top Youth For Christ this Saturday, December 2, 7:30 at Northern High school. This quartet is composed of Dann Tice, Kent Tic, Sam Beachy, Jr. and David Puffinburg, with Gary Engle as pianist. They have recorded the long play album "Cleanse Me" on the Sunrise label and are from the Springs, Pa. and Cumberland areas.

The program will include folk singing by the "Lost Chords" from Eglon W Va and a teen octet from the Northern area, made up of Dottie Riley, Ginny Wakefield, Ernie Umbel, Rick Workman, Nevin Umbel, W. K. Umbel, Judy and Pat Brannan.

One hundred and two attended the last rally on Saturday at Southern High school. The Ken Anderson production of "I Hear a New Song' was the featured film. Special music for the program was provided by Karen Fisher of Mt. Storm, W. Va., singing "Overshadowed," a piano solo during the offering by her brother, Jack Fisher, playing "For All My Sin," and the Fulk Sister Trio singing "Someone to Care". Lee Sweitzer, Lisa Eary, Sharon and Mike Friend served as ushers and usherettes.

Southern High will host the last rally of this year featuring speaker Joe King of Washington Bible College, Washington, D. C., and Christmas theme for the program, on Saturday, December 16 at 7:30.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Views on College

To The Editor:

Senator George Hughes and I put forth a great deal of effort to get the State share of the money for the Garrett County Community College. Many obstacles had to be overcome.

Early in February last year we met with the Board of Public Works and secured their approval to recognize Garrett County as a special area for a Community College. This meant that the Board would approve the State share of funds for our college, provided that the State Superintendent would also approve it.

Later, I met with Dr. Sensenbaugh, our State Superintendent of Schools, and secured his approval. Senator Hughes introduced Senate Bill 643 which gave Garrett County the right to establish an area Community College provided that the people approved it through a referendum. I introduced House Bill 873 which authorized and empowered the Garrett County Commissioners to borrow the funds necessary for our share toward the College. This bill also provided for a referendum.

We were disappointed to learn, almost at the end of the Session, that the Senate Finance Committee was about to give our plan an unfavorable report. We went before that committee and secured their approval to make a special appropriation for the Garrett County Community College of up to $175,000 00. This was done to put us on a par with other area community colleges of the State.

Senator Hughes secured the Governor's approval to permit the special appropriation to be included in the Supplementary Capital Budget. (The main Capital Budget had already been approved.)

When the matter came before the Ways and Means Committee, Senator Hughes and I strongly supported it, and it received a unanimouus approval.

It is very embarrassing to us to see an unnecessary hassle develop over the selection of a site for the college. (I have not consulted Senator Hughes directly on the matter of the selection of a site). For my own part, I feel that this matter should properly rest with the Site Committee, the Garrett County Board of Education and the Planning Commission which is under the Board of Public Works. Neither Senator Hughes, nor I nor the County Commissioners should become involved in the selection of a site for the College. I will accept any site in the McHenry area which meets with the approval of the duly constituted groups as described above.

The citizens of our County have responded favorably by means of a referendum concerning the Community College. Everyone involved should accept this as a mandate and move forward.

Delays and bickerings cost money and cause us to lose prestige with important officials of our State. It is time to get on with the job and save money and embarrassment.

Prepares For Evaluation

Southern will begin making committee reports to the faculty on each of the twenty-six areas, of evaluative criteria in preparation for evaluation by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary schools.

The school and Community Committee will be the first to report on November 30 after school. The reports will continue until February 1. In December the teachers will meet two evenings per week. For the month of January the faculty will meet four evenings per week.

Since the opening of the school the faculty members have been meeting in committees three evenings per week to complete the questionaires.

The committee from the Middle States Association will arrive in Oakland on March 26 to begin the evaluation.

Miss Englander To Speak

Marilyn Englander, an eleventh grade student at Southern High School will speak to a home economics class at Northern High School today, Thursday, November 30.

Marilyn spent last summer in Mexico where she engaged in the program of The Experiment in International Living. Marilyn will speak on how to make Mexican dishes.

Mr. Rodeheaver, principal, will accompany her to Northern.

Sponsors Dance

The National Honor Society will sponsor a dance on December 1. The dance will have a contest between two local dance bands, The contestants are the Southern High School Dance Band and the Bad News.

Admission is 50 cents. Refreshments will be served.

Attend Science Seminar

Quite a few teachers of Southern have been attending a session with Scientists' Seminar in Depth. The Seminar is being presented by the Maryland Academy of Sciences under a grant from the National Science Foundation.

The Seminar was developed to give teachers the opportunity to examine certain subjects. This Seminar is entitled "Geology and Ecology of Appalachian Maryland," and will include a field trip to Cranesville Swamp, and a discussion of geography and geological aspects of Western Maryland.

The new planetarium located at the Green Street School in Oakland is being put to good use by the students at Southern. These students from the lower grades are experiencing a series of lessons concerning the Constellations. On November 4th, they viewed 13 models of man-made satellites that were set up at the planetarium.

Several weeks ago, a few classes of the eighth grade, under the instruction of Mr. Burcaw, observed the sunspots. The main purpose of these sessions was to learn the use of the telescope and to study astronomy. This telescope was constructed by Mr. Burcaw with an overall cost of $60 when it normally costs about $350. It took him about a week to build it.

State 4-H Leader Is Appointed

Richard R. Angus, an assistant professor in Agriculture Cooperative Extension Service at the University of Maryland, has been named state leader of the 4-H Youth programs in Maryland.

Professor Angus has been the acting state leader since the retirement of W. Sherard Wilson last year. As state leader, Professor Angus will coordinate activities of the 4-H programs in 23 counties working closely with the youth agents of each county.

A native of Farmington, Minnesota, Professor Angus came to the university in 1965 as program leader of the 4-H organization. He received his bachelor of science degree in agricultural education at the University of Minnesota in 1953 and his masters degree in agricultural economics at the same school in 1957.

Since 1957, he has been affiliated with Extension Service or 4-H work. From 1963 to 1965 he served as leader of the 4-H Peace Corps Program in Uruguay for the National 4-H Club Foundation.

In 1956, he served as a delegate for the International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE) to Italy.

This year he is a member of the International Program Committee of the 4-H Club Congress to be held in Chicago this month.

OLD DEER PARK ROAD OAKLAND, MARYLAND

Rehabilitation Officer Addresses Lions Club Group

John Cobun, Supervisor of Training for the State Vocational Rehabilitation Service, was the speaker at a regular meeting of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club on Monday evening. Mr. Cobun stated that in 1929, when this Service started in Maryland, only one employee headed the Agency. Today there are 146 employees doing a complete medical and psychological diagnosis in order to determine the extent of the applicant's disability. Counselling is then done by the Counselors, one of which, operates in Garrett and Allegany counties to determine the need for Medical help, artificial appliances if needed, training for the right kind of work if they are not able to continue in the line of work they normally do, and if the disabled person needs it, board and room and travel during rehabilitation. Mr. Cobun stated that plans for a Rehabilitation Center, to be built in Baltimore are in the making. This would enable Marylanders to secure the necessary training in their own State. As of now applicants have been sent to Virginia and other States for these Services.

Mr. Cobun is well known in the Oakland area. He came here from Kingwood, W. Va., after receiving his Master's Degree from the University of West Virginia. He was Guidance Counselor at Northern High School prior to becoming Counselor for Garrett and Allegany Counties for Vocational Rehabilitation. After some 10 years in this work, he moved to Baltimore where he continues in his job. Accompanying Mr. Cobun to Oakland was John Folk, who is now the Counselor for the two Counties and who is in Oakland every Friday at the Employment Security Office.

Aurora - Eglon

The Rev. and Mrs. Galen Fike and sons, of Eglon were Wednesday dinner guests of the former's brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Jacob Huffman, Dayton, Va. They were joined there by two other brothers-in-law and sisters, the Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Life and a nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Myers and family, all of Virginia. The Rev. Fikes then went on to Harrisonburg where they were overnight guests of their daughter, Miss Judy Fike. They also visited Mrs. Fike's mother, Mrs. Texier and brother, H. G. Texier. They returned home Thursday.

Relatives here were notified of the serious illness of Melvin Fike, of Ypsilanti, Mich. His wife is the former Lola Pennington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Pennington, of Cash Valley.

Mrs. Marion McGinnis, Washington, came last week-end to visit her mother, Mrs. Laura Stemple, Aurora. She had fallen in her home and underwent surgery this week at Garrett County Memorial hospital, Oakland.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Fike, Eglon, were Mr. and Mrs. Wade Beckman and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Beckman, all of Sabraton, and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Beckman and sons of Martinsburg, W. Va.

Memorial rites were conducted Wednesday afternoon in Kingwood for Miss Daisy Beatty, 84. Mrs. Donald Hughs, of Aurora, is a sister. Interment was in Terra Alta cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. David Martin, of Sabraton, spent the holiday with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Fint, Aurora.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Knotts and children, Staunton, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Hank Bachman and Miss Shirleen Knotts, Glen Burnie, Md., spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Dale Knotts and Anita, and Ira Harsh, Eglon.

A large turnout apoeared to receive popcorn balls as they were distributed by the Harige clowns of Cumberland. Three hundred prizes were given out to those with lucky popcorn numbers.

Mr. and Mrs. James Stanton, New Jersey, spent a few days recently with the former's mother, Mrs. Harvey Stanton and grandmother, Mrs. Jesse Stemple., in Aurora.

Holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Teets, Eglon, were Mrs. Teets' brother, Dennis Faw, of Winston-Salem, N. C., their son Leland Teets, student at Morgantown, and their daughter, Mrs. James Maye, Collinsville, Va. Mrs. Maye's husband is in Vietnam.

The Rev. and Mrs. Galen Fike went Sunday to Westernport Church of the Brethren where the Rev. Fike licensed Bill Shimer into the ministry.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Fike and Roy Teets, Eglon, and Claud Wilhelm, Aurora, went Sunday afternoon to Elkins where they visited the latter's father, David Wilhelm, who is a patient in Nella's Nursing home. In Parsons they visited Mr. Fike's sister-in-law, Mrs. Georgiana Fike, 96, who is being cared for in White Gables Nursing Rest Home. She is the widow of the late Washington Fike, of Brookside.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Loughrie and family, Grantsville, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Thrasher, of Cumberland, were holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Arnold, Eglon.

Miss Martha Bolyard, Beverly Wilt and Kirk Lantz, all of Aurora, attended an MYF Leadership conference, Friday and Saturday, in Buckhannon.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Teets and family, Woodbridge, Va., were week-end guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Teets, Eglon, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Myers, Aurora.

Recent guests of Mrs. Emory Wotring, Brookside, were Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Wotring and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Baker.

Miss Barbara Miller, student at Connecticut University, Hartford, and Don Miller, student at Carnegie Tech, Pittsburgh, were Saturday guests of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Berand Wilt and family, Brookside. They are the children of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Miller, Idaho Falls, Idaho. They also visited their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Selby Adams, of Limestone.

Mrs. Grace Ashby, Aurora, spent the holiday with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kight.

Mrs. May Beckman and daughter, Mrs. Shirley Lipscomb and daughter, of Brookside, were Sunday evening guests of Mrs. Elza Bland, Eglon.

Memorial rites were held Saturday afternoon in Thomas for Mrs. Effie Bland, 67, who passed away November 22, in a Parsons hospital following a lingering illness. Her husband, Foster Bland, passed away November 9 in the same hospital of heart failure. Immediate survivors are three sons, Charles K., Thomas; M Sgt. Carl R., Georgia; and June D., Parsons; six grandchildren, one sister and one brother. Interment was in Rose Hill cemetery, Thomas.

A Welcome party and Housewarming were held Monday evening for Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bonner and daughter, Mrs. Leora Teeter and sons, who moved recently from Canaan Valley to their property at Eglon, which is the former Dr. Miller property.

In Singing Group At Frostburg State

Two students at Frostburg State college were selected as members of the Noteables singing group at the college. They are Don Frantz, route 2, Friendsville, senior, pictured above; and Charles Strauss, of Pinto, a junior.

The Noteables plan an extensive program of Christmas concerts this year, the main one being December 11, at 8:15, in Compton auditorium, at the college. They will also sing for Frostburg Rotary club December 4; Lions club, December 6; Allegany Community college December 7, and the Potomac Edison Christmas party.

Charles is a graduate of Northern High school, Accident. Don is also a graduate of Northern. In addition to singing in the Noteables, he is a member of the Madrigal Singers, a group chosen from the Noteables.

HAVE YOU A DEPENDABLE PERSONAL PHARMACY?

Everybody should have one personal pharmacy which they can call their own. They should be sure to get all their prescriptions filled only in their own personal pharmacy. There are important reasons for this.

Every pharmacy records each prescription they fill. Some people are allergic to certain drugs. Others may be getting prescriptions from more than one doctor and the medicines may conflict with each other. When one pharmacy fills all your prescriptions, the record file contains all the information needed for the pharmacist to help protect you. If you will permit us to be your personal pharmacy your prescription record will always be completely available.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

For 1968, Mercury's got it! The Fine Car Touch inspired by the Continental.

Mercury is rolling again. We've got cars. With plenty more on the way. Each features the Fine Car Touch inspired by Lincoln Continental. Our mood is, "Let's catch up." So you'll find us very friendly indeed—ready to make it easy for you to own a great new Mercury:

Mercury's got it. The Fine Car Touch. Mercury is the closest any car can come to the ride and feel of the Lincoln Continental.

With the Fine Car Touch in the rich nylon carpeting. And in quiet created by 123 pounds of sound insulation.

Totally new: 3 sweptback models like the Park Lane 2-Door Hardtop shown.

Cougar's got it. The Fine Car Touch. So much of it, in fact, that pound for pound and dollar for dollar, Cougar is the best equipped luxury sports car in America. New 302 cubic inch V-8 engine—bigger than ever. Bucket seats. Concealed headlamps. Sequential rear turn signals. New Wide Tread tires. All standard. News: 4 Cougars to choose from in '68!

Montego's got it. The Fine Car Touch. In Montego, it's the combination of Cougar excitement with full 6-passenger comfort.

Luxuries include a 5-pod instrument cluster with walnut-grain vinyl inserts, deep-foam padded seats, wall-to-wall carpeting, curved-glass side windows.

302 cubic inch V-8 (or a "6" if you prefer).

If someone asked you which you would rather have for a pet, a leopard or a pussycat—you would probably think they were crazy. Why? Because to you a pussycat is a soft cuddly animal — a leopard, a ferocious beast of prey. But suppose when you were small, someone had taught you that both animals are similar? Then, the question would not seem absurd.

So much depends upon how we've been taught. A mistaken interpretation of a particular word can distort our thinking. Take for instance, the word Christian. Some people think of a Christian as a fanatical do-gooder. Others see him as a hypocrite, praying loudly on Sundays while ignoring religious responsibility. Still others, know of the spiritual riches to be found in following the examples of Jesus.

Your church teaches and interprets God's truths. The spiritual values you learn there can illuminate your entire life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
. . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

POINTLESS QUESTIONS

Lesson for December 3, 1967

Background Scripture: Micah 1 through 6.
Devotional Reading: James 1:22-...

One day several years ago I was challenged by a situation of injustice that was afflicting someone who was a stranger to me. Because I feared that my involvement might be criticized, I delayed. At last I prayed that God might reveal his will for me. The answer that seemed to come to me was a sharp reprimand: "You ought to be ashamed to even ask that question; you know what my will is!"

Rev. Althouse

I hesitated to admit it, but it was true. I really did know what God required of me, though I had put off the admission to myself. In truth, my problem was not ignorance, but reticence. Often, I'm afraid, that is the case with me: God does not hide his will from me so much as I might like to think; it is I who do not like to face up to the realities of that will and salve my conscience by pretending ignorance.

Not in Ignorance

To be sure, there are times when I sin against God through ignorance, when I fail to realize the implications of certain choices that confront me. Far more often, however, I sin because, whether or not I will admit it, I do know God's will and refuse to do it.

I know that in this I am hardly unique. How often we make a mockery of prayer, asking God for his "guidance" for a body of men whose minds are already "made-up"! Meetings frequently will begin with a prayer for God to disclose his will, yet we have all observed that in reality most of us did not really want to know what God wanted so long as we got what we wanted.

The governing body of a certain congregation was holding its monthly business meeting. There were two items on the agenda: an appeal for funds for the migrant ministry of the local council of churches, and a proposal to buy cushions for the church pews.

Too Late for God

The appeal by the council of churches was turned down because, as one official put it, "The treatment of those foreign workers isn't a concern for the church." In a subsequent action the governing body authorized the expenditure of several thousand dollars for pew cushions. Asked for a "closing prayer," the minister declined, exclaiming that there was "no point bringing in God at this late hour!"

The people of Judah were no less shocked by the stern words of the prophet Micah. The people of this nation, he said, made a great show of worshipping God, ever seeking to discover his will.

> "With what shall I come before the Lord, and bow myself before God on high? Shall I come before him with burnt offerings, with calves a year old?" (Micah 6:6 RSV)

The question seemed sincere enough. What did God want of his people— What would please him? Ah, if only they knew!

Micah's response must have come as a jolt: "He has shown you, O man, what is good!" God brought to them no new commandment. They do not have to search for God's word, for it has been already revealed to them many, many times. The only real question is whether they will do it.

> "And what does the Lord require of you but to do justice, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with your God—" (Micah 6:8)

The Obvious Answer

It was a familiar message that had been given them by many of the prophets who had preceded Micah: unless you champion justice for the helpless, your worship is meaningless hypocrisy; unless you respond to the cries of your fellow man with kindness, your religion will be a judgment against you.

Will we never learn? Must we continue to ask: "With what shall I come before the Lord, and bow myself before God on high?" These are pointless questions for we already know the answer if we will admit it: ". . . do justice, . . . love kindness, and . . . walk humbly with your god."

In The Service

Army Pvt. Thomas W. Sines, is assigned to Company C, 19th Battalion, 5th Brigade, at Fort Knox, Ky., the United States Army Training Center, Armor (USATC(A)).

He will spend the next two months learning the fundamental skills of the soldier in today's modern, action Army—firing live ammunition under simulated combat situations, learning protective measures and first-aid for chemical, biological and radiological attacks, as well as being schooled in the use of modern arms.

Following the completion of basic training, Pvt. Sines, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow T. Sines, Rt. 1, Box 60, Friendsville, will receive at least an additional eight weeks of either advanced instruction or on-the-job training to qualify him in a specialized military skill.

Various Changes In Government Set By Con-Con

A number of significant changes in the State and County officials in Garrett County has been made in the new Constitution, according to William W. Grant, Garrett County's representative to the convention.

The present County Commissioner system of government used in most of the counties will be discontinued. Under the present system, the General Assembly first passes legislation, called Public Local Laws, to set up various functions of the county government. The County Commissioners then administer these functions.

Under the new system, sometimes called "home rule", each county will have its own constitution which is usually called a Charter. This charter will establish the basic elements of a county government and the officials to run this government. There are two basic types of county government in use in Maryland among the counties already having home rule. One system, similar to a "mayor and town council", has an elected County Council for passing laws and an elected County Executive to carry out the laws. The other system has an elected County Council for passing law which then hires a County Manager to carry out the laws.

The County Charter will provide for the election and terms of office of all county officials such as council members, treasurer, etc. All the counties not already having home rule will be given a period of time to 1972 to prepare their charter. If a county does not have a charter prepared by 1972, the General Assembly will then impose one on the county.

The Courts will also be changed. The Circuit Court will be re-named the Superior Court. It will remain the same as it is now except for absorbing the functions of the Orphans' Court and the Register of Wills. It will also absorb the court related duties of the Sheriff's Office. Garrett County will be entitled to one judge, who will be appointed instead of elected. The State's Attorney will continue to be elected, as will the Clerk of the Court.

The Trial Magistrates will be discontinued and their place taken by a new court called the District Court. Garrett County will be entitled to one judge in the new District Court. All District Court personnel will be appointed.

The office of Sheriff will be discontinued as a statewide type of office and each county will provide its own individual method of law enforcement: possibly with some type of coordination with the State Police.

Question

The mouthwash I'm using is doing a good job purifying my breath, but shouldn't it help me with the occasional cough or sore throat, too?

Answer

Let's face it. Your mouthwash is obviously fulfilling the purpose for which it was manufactured, freshening of your oral area. Although your mouthwash does carry an antiseptic, it may not carry an analgesic or pain reliever to relieve cough and sore throat. There may be the possibility your mouthwash is actually not reaching the site of throat irritation since even gargling with a mouthwash may not reach the affected area of your throat. Our advice would be to SPRAY with Chloraseptic. Spraying will reach the area of infection. In addition to its antiseptic properties, Chloraseptic also contains an anesthetic to numb the painful throat area, so that both infection and pain will be eased. Please remember, however, that a continuing sore throat indicates a consultation with your doctor because this can be a symptom of a more serious condition.

Thomas-Martin Wed In Florida

Miss Sandra Kay Martin became the bride of James Ransdelle Thomas in a candlelight wedding in the First Baptist Church of Lake Worth, Fla., Friday, November 24. Rev. John C. Walters officiated at the 8:00 p. m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Carl Martin, formerly of this area, now residing at 6692 Westview Drive, Lake Worth.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of bridal satin, beaded with a scoop neckline and beaded wrist point sleeves. The sheath skirt was beaded with crystals and pearls. Her full chapel train was designed with three matching bows. Her veil of silk illusion fell from a matching satin Dior bow. She carried a Bible with an arrangement of white orchids and jack frost roses.
